The township chairmen will be expected to take over the work in their own particular section. It has been suggested that they aid the school teachers as far as possible and appoint such other helpers as they may deem necessary. The appointments follow: Bray, Emil Larson; Black River, Chas. W. Johnson; Cloverleaf, C. W. Nelson; Deer Park, Osmund Mandt; Goodridge, A. O. Halvorson; Highlanding, Karl Korstad; Hickory, H. T. Hanson; Kratka, Rev. Bjornson; Mayfield, T. O. Weeks; city of Thief River Falls, postoffice, banks, hotels, newspaper office and citizens generally.

Good Work of Schools.

County Superintendent Mostue and City Superintendent Hay stated that the teachers in their charge have been advised to urge the purchase of saving stamps to their pupils at least once each week during the year. The teachers will also be expected to help the work along in any other manner possible, the necessity for such action on their part having been very strongly presented. Mr. Hay stated that on behalf of the commercial students at the high school he would promise the general committee would be relieved of any clerical work with which these students might be entrusted. The schools have enthusiastically taken hold of anything that has been suggested whereby they might help along the war activities and teachers and scholars alike are entitled to much credit for the good work already accomplished.

COMMITTEE.

NEW OWNERS TAKE CHARGE NEXT WEEK

INVENTORY OF PRICHARD LUMBER COMPANY STOCK IS ALMOST COMPLETED.

The Nortz Lumber company, purchasers of the stock and business of the Prichard Lumber company, will assume charge of the yards in this city next week. W. N. Nortz, a member of the firm and manager of its Devils Lake business, has been in the city during the week and is getting acquainted with the conditions. The taking of inventory has been progressing for some days and will be completed by Saturday night.

The local branch of the new concern will be in charge of E. E. Liebenstein, formerly of Sisseton, S. D., who is expected to arrive the latter part of the week. Mr. Liebenstein is a lumberman of long experience and comes highly recommended both as a citizen and business man.

The Nortz company is one of the largest concerns in the business in this section of the country, owning 13 yards besides the one now acquired from the Prichard interests. These are located at the following points: Breckenridge, Barnesville, Campbell, Doran and Kent, Minn., and Abercrombie, Galshutte, Walcott, Annette, Tolna, Lakota, Devils Lake and Bismarck, N. D. The concern has been very successful and enjoys the very highest standing in business circles everywhere.

VALLEY TEACHERS HOLD CONFERENCE

PROBLEM OF TEACHERS' SALARIES PRINCIPAL BUSINESS UP FOR DISCUSSION

Representatives from one-half dozen of the leading schools of the Red River valley held a conference at the Crookston high school on Thursday morning for the purpose of discussing the question of teachers' salaries and other school problems. This meeting was initiated by the board of education of Thief River Falls and proved to be a very interesting and profitable gathering. The feeling of those present indicated that teachers are poorly paid, especially when vocations are taken into consideration, and the rise in the cost of living and the abnormal conditions created by the war have accentuated the problem. The consensus of opinion, however, favored leaving salary schedules pretty much as they are at present, but that a bonus be granted at the end of the school year to all teachers who remain through the term. It was thought that about ten per cent of the salary should be about the sum the districts would be able to pay. Some board members reported that departments requiring men in many cases would be compelled to be closed because of the inability to secure competent male instructors.

The general opinion was that pupils should not be excused for enlisting, with the expectation that a diploma or final grades would be granted, in view of the fact that the government needs older men and that boys would be serving their country better by remaining in school and completing their school tasks.

The problem of fuel for the present and next year also received considerable attention. The State Aid question also was discussed at considerable length and the recent decision of the supreme court thereon. It was the prevailing opinion that a certain tax rate should be fixed for state aid to make it more permanent and dependable, so that the amount schools would receive would not be dependent upon the caprices of the legislature.

H. S. Dahlen of Thief River Falls was elected president of the conference, and Jas. M. Hanson of the Crookston board of education was made secretary. F. F. Haynes of this city also was present at the meeting.

FAREWELL PARTY IN BOYS' HONOR

PARTING SOLDIERS TO BE GIVEN ROUSING SEND-OFF FRIDAY NIGHT.

EASTERN STARS HOSTESSES

PROCEEDS WILL GO TOWARD PROVIDING SMILAGE BOOKS FOR EVERY MAN.

The citizens of Thief River Falls, under the leadership of the members of Winslow lodge, Order of the Eastern Star, will give the 73 men who leave for Camp Dodge on Saturday a fitting send-off. The affair will take the form of a dance and will be given at the Auditorium on Friday night. All the men of the national army who are in the departing quota from this county have been especially invited as guests of honor, the party being for their benefit from beginning to end.

Will Purchase Smilage Books.

For the citizen who is not among those going into training for the purpose of becoming a soldier of Uncle Sam, the attendance at this party will mean the outlay of one dollar, with 25 cents extra per plate for supper. This latter will be served in the lodge rooms of the Eastern Stars. It has also been decided to charge ten cents for admission to the balcony, except in the case of relatives of the departing soldiers, who will be admitted free of charge. This is a good plan as it will give those who for any reason do not care to dance an opportunity to contribute something toward the good cause.

Home Guards Will Drill.

Capt. W. B. Fuller of Company C has announced that there will be a short exhibition drill by a portion of the company during the evening. Having had actual service experience himself as a soldier in the Philippines, Capt. Fuller will also make a short address to the boys, giving them such advice as may be of value to them when they reach camp. Mayor G. A. Penney will express the appreciation of the people of the city to the boys for the work that they are about to do.

The Commercial club has procurred a fine football and this will be given as one of the momentos to be carried off. The Red Cross ladies have completed comfort kits for every man on the list and these will be presented, together with the smilage books. It will, in fact, be one great evening, and those who do not attend will not only be missing an opportunity to display their regard for the soldiers, but will also miss hearing and seeing a number of things that it will do them good to witness.

Let's Take the Lead.

Other cities in the neighborhood are going to do the best they can toward giving their boys a good send-off. Let us make this event in Thief River Falls the outstanding feature of the entire war up to date. A long time is liable to elapse before we see these men again and many things may happen to them. Some we may never see. Let us therefore make this, the last evening that they will spend with us, one they will remember with pleasure wherever they may be called.

Dr. Hieber to Return.

Friends in the city have received a letter from Dr. H. G. Hieber, who has been spending the winter in the South, informing them that he expects to return to Thief River Falls and again take up his practice about the first of May. Dr. Hieber went to California early last fall, later going to one of the southern states where he has been connected with one of the large hospitals. At the time of leaving he was in rather poor health, but his letters state that he has now fully recovered and is feeling as well as ever.

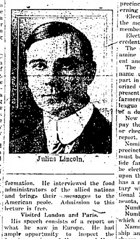
TRAVELER WILL LECTURE

DR. JULIUS LINCOLN TO LECTURE AT AUDITORIUM NEXT WEDNESDAY

Dr. Julius Lincoln, one of the foremost authorities on the food situation as this affects the United States and its allies, will speak at the Auditorium in this city next Wednesday evening, Feb. 27, at eight o'clock. Dr. Lincoln was a member of the commission sent to Europe by this government to study food conditions and visited England, France and other countries in his quest for information. He interviewed the food administrators of the allied nations and brings their messages to the American peole. Admission to this lecture is free.



Julius Lincoln.

Visited London and Paris.

His speech consists of a report on what he saw in Europe. He had ample opportunity to inspect the farming regions of France and England; the conditions in London and Paris, and, later, accompanied the commission on a tour of the battle front in France.

Knows All the Needs.

In America Dr. Lincoln was deeply interested in this nation's task of saving food for the allied nations. In Europe he was able to ascertain how American food is used, why it is needed and what will happen if our shipments stop.

Not only does he know the food situation among civilians of virtually all classes but he has found out how the great armies in France are supplied and fed, having visited all fronts and the encampments of American troops, where he met and conferred with soldiers and staff officers.

Dr. Lincoln is a man of broad interests. His viewpoint on the economic and military situation abroad will be one of the first of its kind presented to an American audience.

Two More to Camp Dodge.

Preceding their comrades by just a week, William H. Peterson and Clarence Aga left Saturday afternoon for Camp Dodge for the purpose of entering the service. These young men are among the best known in the city, both being prominent in business affairs. Mr. Peterson is a member of the McFarland Auto company, while Mr. Aga has been associated with his father and brothers in conducting the Aga Boiler works.

ATTENTION, HOME GUARD

It is suggested that members of Company C who can arrange to do so should appear at the Commercial club supper this evening in uniform in order that the regular drill may be taken up with as little delay as possible.

NON-PARTISANS TO HOLD CAUCUS

WILL MEET FRIDAY AND SELECT DELEGATES TO LEGISLATIVE CONVENTION

ONLY MEMBERS MAY VOTE

NO REPRESENTATIVES FROM CITIES OR VILLAGES WILL BE RECOGNIZED

The first caucus of the 1918 political season will be held tomorrow (Friday) when the National Non-Partisan League members will select delegates to represent the different counties in a convention to be held a few days later for the purpose of nominating legislative candidates.

For League Members Only.

No one who is not a member of the league will be permitted to have a hand in the proceedings. The caucus will be safeguarded from outside interference by the officers in charge, who will read aloud the names of the men entitled to vote. Each member will come to the meeting prepared to present his membership card and no one who is not able to produce such credentials need be recognized.

Not only must all those voting at the caucus be league members but they must also be farmers. For this reason there will be no caucuses held in the cities or villages of the state. Retired farmers who have moved into cities may vote at the nearest country precinct meeting. Other rules governing the caucus are:

Elect a chairman and secretary of the meeting. Both must be league members and farmers.

Elect three league members as a credentials committee.

The credentials committee will examine the credentials of those present and report to the chairman.

The chairman will read aloud the name of members entitled to take part in the meeting. Meeting is authorized by a vote of the members present to receive memberships of farmers present who want to join the league and take part in the election of a delegate.

New members to be admitted must pay the $16 membership fee in cash or check to the secretary, who will report.

Nominate by ballot candidates for precinct delegate. Precinct delegate must be a league member and a bona fide farmer. Only one delegate shall be elected from your precinct. Vote upon the three highest until someone has a majority. The chairman-secretary will report at once to the National Non-Partisan League of Minnesota, Box 655, as follows:

Number of legislative district.

Number or name of precinct from which delegate is chosen.

Name and address, including township and range, of precinct delegate chosen.

Names of all members present.

Names of new members admitted. Report by registered letter. (As soon as this report is received, precinct delegates will get notice of time and place of legislative convention.)

Appointed Educational Director.

Morlan Bishop of this city, who a short time ago went to Camp Dodge with the intention of taking up Y. M. C. A. work in the barracks, has been appointed educational director of division No. 95. This is a decided recognition of ability and places Mr. Bishop near the top of the ladder as far as work in the army Y. M. C. A. goes. He is particularly well equipped to hold down a position of this kind, being a graduate of the university of Minnesota and having since leaving that institution been an instructor in the high school here. His success was to be expected and is very gratifying to the many friends in his home town.

A Wise Move.

Warren Sheaf: The Thief River Falls Times announces in last week's issue that owing to increased cost of printing and paper it is compelled to raise the subscription price from $1.50 to $2.00 per year, the new rate to begin April 1. It is a wise move and one that many other weekly papers will have to take soon or go under.

"THE MAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY."

The Times this week begins the publication of the remarkable story by Edward Everett Hale, "A Man Without a Country." The tale having a particular bearing upon events similar to those we are at present experiencing in this country, it will have an added interest. The story has long been regarded as one of the classics of American literature and is well worth the reading. The concluding chapters will be run next week.

THIRD LOAN ASKS DEFINITE AMOUNT

NEW PLAN TO BE FOLLOWED WHEREBY ALL WILL PARTICIPATE

Elaborate business system will be used in floating the third Liberty Loan according to Arthur Rogers, in charge of the entire Ninth Federal Reserve district.

Each owner of real and personal property in the ninth district, he said, will be apportioned a definite amount of the loan for which he will be expected to subcribe. This amount will be ascertained by the valuation committee of real estate men and financiers in the district working through county, township and city sub-committees. In making these assessments, credit will be given the prospective subscriber for subscriptions to the 1st and 2nd Liberty Loans, Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. and Knights of Columbus funds. Mortgages upon the property will be taken into consideration in deciding the amount of bonds to be apportioned to each property owner.

The chairman in charge of the next Liberty Loan campaign for Pennington county is George G. Johnson, vice president of the First and Peoples State bank. He has as yet received no notice of the plan to be followed or the amount to be raised. The general impression is that the drive will not be ordered until about the first of May.

URGE SOLDIERS TO PROTECT FAMILIES

OPPORTUNITY FOR PROVIDING INSURANCE TO BE FULLY EXPLAINED

No stone is to be left unturned between now and April 12 to have every soldier and sailor in service insured under the provisions of the act of Congress passed last fall, and but recently extended to the above date so that those who have not so far availed themselves thereof may have the opportunity.

This work is going to be looked after to a great extent everywhere by the Red Cross, and for this purpose a meeting of the local members of the Civilian Relief committee of the Pennington county chapter was held on Tuesday afternoon in the Commercial club rooms.

It was decided that the members of the committee as far as possible meet with the drafted men on Friday afternoon of this week at the time they are to confer with the county auditor at the court house. The men will then have explained to them the provisions of the insurance bill and be given an opportunity to take out insurance.

Following the departure of the drafted men there will be another meeting of the general committee of the county and efforts will be made to have those who have already enlisted and gone to the front also take out insurance.

The terms are so liberal that no one of the boys can afford to pass up this insurance. Protection will be thus offered the families of the soldiers and should be taken out by every man enlisted in the service.

COMMITTEE ON MILITARY RELIEF.

WILL SEND MEN NEXT SATURDAY

REMAINDER OF FIRST DRAFT QOTA TO ENTRAIN AT THAT TIME

PENNINGTON'S SHARE IS 71

FAILURE TO REPORT WHEN NOTIFIED CONSTITUTES MOST SERIOUS OFFENSE

The local registration board has notified the men who have been selected as making up the first increment of Pennington county troops under the order calling them into service to hold themselves ready to entrain on the regular Great Northern passenger at 3:25 o'clock next Saturday afternoon.

Notices have been sent out to the men selected and assurances have been received from practically all that they will be on hand when wanted.

Failure is Serious Matter.

The notices sent to each of the men from the office of County Auditor T. P. Anderson under orders from the adjutant general read as follows:

"The day and hour specified on the classification list of this local board, and on the order and notice of induction into military service which accompanies this notice, for you to report to this local board for military duty is the time that marks your actual obligation as a soldier of the United States.

"Failure to report promptly at the hour and on the day named is a grave military offense for which you may be court-martialed. Willful failure to report with an intent to evade military service constitutes desertion from the Army of the United States, which, in time of war, is a capital offense."

No Frills Wanted.

No surplus baggage will be permitted. The government has specifically laid down just what a soldier is to take along and nothing else goes. The paragraph dealing with this feature reads as follows:

"Upon reporting to your local board you will not need and you should not bring with you anything except hand baggage. You will not be permitted to take trunks or boxes with you on the train. You should take only the following articles: A pair of strong, comfortable shoes to relieve your feet from your new regulation marching shoes; not to exceed four extra suits of underclothing; not to exceed six extra pairs of socks; four face and two bath towels; a comb, a brush, a toothbrush, soap, tooth powder, razor, and shaving soap. It will add to your comfort to bring one woolen blanket, preferably of dark or neutral color. This blanket should be tightly rolled, the ends of the roll should be securely bound together and the loop of the blanket thus formed slung from your left shoulder to your right hip.

"You should wear rough strong clothing and a flannel shirt, preferably an olive-drab shirt of the kind issued to soldiers."

Called in Rotation.

No partiality will be shown in the matter and the men will be called as they appear in the list printed in The Times last week. In case this rotation cannot be followed out because of the failure of any to show up on the day specified, the one next in order will be sent and the tardy party forwarded as soon as possible. In two or three cases the men will be unable to appear in their exact turn as they are living at a distance and will not be able to get here in time. In such event the local board members are empowered to use their own judgment as to the length of time to be allowed. No man coming under this order can be exempted, however, and so far as Pennington county is concerned, none are asking exemption.

The men from all the northwestern counties of the state will meet at Crookston in time to leave on a special train from that city on Sunday evening. Following is the quota of each primary assembling point: Thief River Falls, 71; Hallock, 65; Warren, 81; Roseau, 10; Red Lake Falls, 56; Bagley, 57.

Local Men Honored.

At the winter meeting of the Red River Valley Stockbreeders association, held in connection with the farm crops show at Crookston last week, Pennington county men were recognized by being selected for important positions. Fred Beerbower was placed on the committee having in charge the affairs of the Holstein breeders' division, and F. B. Conklin was accorded the same honor with regard to the Guernsey breeders. Frank Jeffers of Red Lake Falls, was elected president of the association.

CONCERNING WHEAT PRICES

There seems to be a mistaken notion in some quarters to the effect that no matter to what heights prices on other commodities may go, the sum of two dollars per bushel for wheat, established as fair by the government for the 1918 crop, cannot be changed to a higher figure regardless of conditions. There is of a certainty no good reason for entertaining such a view.

The final price of agricultural products, and particularly of grain, depends practically not at all upon the cost of production. The law of supply and demand operates to a certain extent, of course, but very often the price received by the farmer is the result of manipulation and is but slightly affected by natural conditions and in no measure commensurate with the labor and machinery outlay involved, to say nothing of any interet on the money the farmer has invested in the land itself. Measured by the returns in other lines of endeavor, he has never received enough for his product.

The claim is made that two dollars a bushel must at this time be a very high price for the reason that a few years ago one dollar a bushel was considered exceptional. No attempt seems to have been made to find out whether or not the one dollar paid at that time was sufficient. All that is recognized is that the farmer accepted it and somehow lived through the year when that price prevailed, and that as a consequence he must now be making an exorbitant profit.

As a matter of fact the price fixed for last year's crop was not high enough. The labor cost was fully fifty per cent higher than at any previous period, while machinery and other necessary expenses increased in at least the same proportion. It is doubtful if the $2.20 price of last year was in fact much better than the dollar price of ten years ago.

A movement has been started at Washington to secure a higher guarantee for the 1918 crop. This is opposed on various grounds, but principally for the alleged reason that the price has been fixed and cannot now be changed. Concerning this view of the matter the Fargo Courier-News has the following to say:

"There is a very evident desire in some quarters to in the national capital that the 'minimum price' for this year's wheat crop fixed by act of congress shall be regarded as a 'fixed price.'

"The law which created this 'minimum price' did not contemplatee any such state of affairs. The minimum price was intended as a guarantee. At the time it was fixed it was not understood, either by congress or the general public, that the food administration had and would exercise through its power to buy wheat the function of establishing an abbsolute fixed price for the wheat growers. This price was established through the action of the 'fair price commission,' which established a basic price of $2.20 for No 1 Northern of the 1917 crop, a reduction of nearly a dollar from the market price prevailing at the time announcement was made by the food administration that the 'fair price commission' would be expected materially to reduce the wheat price.

"The guarantee by congress of $2 a bushel does not at all preclude action through the food administration to establish a higher price, nor does it preclude action by congress with the same end in view. Yet there seems to be in some quarters a very careful and concerted effort to make it appear that the fixed price for wheat of the 1918 crop has been established and ought not to be changed. The fact is that the price has not been established and any effort to convert the minimum guarantee into a fixed price without careful inquiry into the costs and into the need of stimulating production will be—not merely an injustice to the farmers—but a serious mistake."

IT'S RESULTS WE WANT

To judge by the howl that went up all over the country when the Monday closing order of the fuel administration went into effect, the common citizen who did not know any better than to obey without kicking or abusing the administration would certainly be justified in believing that something so detrimental to the welfare of the nation had been proposed that it would take at least a half century to get over the effects. The kickers look rather ridiculous now.

It was predicted that the plan would in no way help the fuel administration and was only adopted for the purpose of covering the shortcomings of Dr. Garfield. The idea that five days of complete shutdown and the curtailment of output for ten Mondays thereafter would in any way affect the situation was foolish, from the point of view of the critics. Now note the results as these were given out last week:

"As a result of the closing order 480 ships, carrying more than 2,000,000 tons of food, fuel and munitions under the war supplies, which had been tied up in Atlantic ports, were bunkered and sent to sea from January 17, the day the order became effective, to January 29. A normal number of the ships only remained at anchor and the flow of supplies necessary to the American expeditionary forces and the allies had been re-established. In addition the rails were cleared for important shipments of steel and other commodities to factories, without which the most essential war industries inevitably would have been closed, but not in 'orderly fashion.'"

The fuel administration's order caused some inconvenience, of course, but a failure to issue the order would in all probability have caused something far worse. The winning of the war is now the principal business upon which the country is engaged and all other matters must be subordinated to this one end. It is altogether likely that before we are through quite a number of inconvenient things will have happened to us. If compliance in any manner aids toward the achievement of the final aim, we had better learn to bear these slight troubles without grumbling. Our view as to the necessity for issuing the orders is very likely a mistaken one anyway.

YOU MIGHT READ THIS

(Gunnar B. Bjornson in Minneota Mascot.)

"If you buy a Liberty Bond drawing four per cent interest, I do not call that a sacrifice, I call that an investment." This statement was made by Lieut. Perigord in his speech in Minneota last evening.

The business intelligence of the average American has, of course, figured this out long ago.

Every American knows that lending money at four per cent, with the resources of the United States as security, is no particular sacrifice. And yet a man who can well afford to lend his country money thinks that when he buys a bond he has done something worthy of exceptional commendation.

There is the great trouble with our American people. We think that when we do something that helps our country we are making some big sacrifice.

Buying a Liberty Bond is no sacrifice, and can not by any stretch of the imagination be distorted into one. It is an investment, pure and simple, and a mighty good one at that.

The war, as a whole, is an investment in the cause of freedom and democracy. The result is going to be worth all it costs.

That the ends sought may be attained, sacrifices of men and money will have to be made.

Liberty for mankind is the coveted goal—sacrifice is the price that must be paid.

This is what the American people have not begun to realize. This is what is so difficult to make them realize.

When you support the religious and moral work among the soldiers you are not making a sacrifice.

When you do the things that your government asks you to do, in order that the war may be won soon, you are not making a sacrifice.

In all these instances you are just making an investment. You are merely giving of the things that your country and Providence have so richly bestowed upon you, in order that you may be assured of a continuance of the blessings that you are enjoying.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING

Next Wednesday evening the people of Thief River Falls will have the opportunity of listening to one of the most authentic reports thus far coming from the battlefields of Europe. Dr. Julius Lincoln, a member of the commission sent abroad by the government for the purpose of studying conditions in allied countries, has returned and will appear under the auspices of the Federal Food Administration for the purpose of giving the results of his observation to the American people. His lecture will be illustrated by stereopticon views and moving pictures, all of which have been endorsed by the Washington authorities.

Outside of the message he brings, Dr. Lincoln is himself worth hearing. He is pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church at Jamestown, N. Y., which has the largest congregation composed of people of that nationality in this country. He was selected as being thoroughly representative of his race and denomination, the same plan having been followed in the naming of every other member of the commission, which was composed of men of varied interests and differing viewpoints. They all returned from their tour of inspection with this one idea uppermost: America must feed its allies or the cause in which they are fighting will be endangered. Dr. Lincoln explains the duty of every American citizen at this time and his position and standing is such that his words will carry great weight.

There is no admission charge and every citizen of the city and adjacent territory is invited to be present. The invitation extends particularly to the women of the community, as in the matter of food conservation it is realized that their attitude will be of the greatest importance.

SHOWS SENSE AT LAST

After about a year and a half of ceaseless hammering at the Non-Partisan league movement, the St. Paul Dispatch has decided that the tactics employed are wrong and that the thing to do is to meet the issue squarely. It is therefore proposed that speakers be sent out in the wake of League organizers for the purpose of anwering the charges made by the latter.

The Dispatch is willing to go much farther than this. The editor has reached the conclusion that tactics such as have been used against League speakers in certain sections of the state can only result in strengthening the organization with the farmers, and is almost inclined to regret the employment of what has amounted almost to mob rule in many instance.

Leaving everything else out of the consideration, there is no doubt but that officials have in many instances overstepped their authority in their treatment of League speakers. This has only had the effect of uniting the farmers still closer, they claiming—and not without reason—that their rights of free assemblage and free speech have been interfered with.

It is safe to say that if the plan of the Dispatch is followed out no attempt will be made to prevent anyone opposing the League from speaking, even in the communities where the members of the farmers' organization are greatly in the majority. The farmer would be the last person on earth to deny any person the right of peaceful assemblage.

NEWS from the RAILROADS

Items of Interest Regarding Activities on the Soo Line and the Great Northern

May Soon Return.

The Russian railway corps, recruited chiefly from the railroads of Minnesota, quite a number of them being from Thief River Falls, will be in St. Paul again within a few weeks, it has been authoritatively reported.

A United States transport is reported to be crossing the Pacific with the contingent. It is understood the recent Russian peace pact with Germany has been considered by the American government as making it impossible to send the railway unit to Vladivostock.

It is believed the contingent will pass through St. Paul by rail on its way to early service in France.

The corps left St. Paul Nov. 12 under command of Gen. G. H. Emerson, formerly general manager of the Great Northern.

Approximately 300 men have already volunteered for service in the new railway unit being recruited for service in France.

Clow, who has been acting as his relief, was transferred to Fordville, where Emil Schulte has found it necessary to lay off temporarily because of illness.

Attend's Father's Funeral—O. Isaacson, agent at Mahnomen, left on Wednesday for Detroit to attend the funeral of his father.

Visited at Henning—J. T. Goodbar, agent at Richville, passed through this division headquarters Tuesday, enroute to Henning, where he visited with relatives and friends.

New Accountant Here—H. C. Durrin, formerly of Minneapolis, has been appointed accountant in the office of Supt. W. A. Barnard, assuming his duties on the 15th. Mr. Durrin will move his family to this city about March 1.

Has New Job—Miss Ella Northrup, who has been a member of the clerical staff in the division superintendent's office for the past three months, has been transferred to the freight offices, where she takes the position of bill clerk.

Is Back at Work—T. W. Martindale, brakeman, who has been laying off for some time, has been assigned to the run between Overly and Kenmare.

Successor to Husby—Oscar Eggerud, a young man who has been employed as car repairer, has been promoted to clerk in the office of Car Foreman S. J. Conklin, succeeding G. H. Husby, who leaves on Saturday to become one of Uncle Sam's fighting men. Mr. Husby has been a painstaking and efficient assistant to Mr. Conklin and the latter is both glad and sorry that he is leaving—glad because this young man will make as good a soldier as there is to be found anywhere and sorry because his departure will sever the friendly relations that have existed for a long time. In selecting Mr. Eggerud for the position Mr. Conklin has followed the excellent rule of promoting the worthy young men from among those under his observation.

Berg Goes Also—Arthur Berg, night repair man at the Soo round house, leaves with the Pennington county quota of selected men on Saturday. The boys who are leaving to enter the service have been notified that their jobs will be waiting for them whenever they return.

Night Car Inspector—Nels Oswold of Minneapolis has been added to the round house crew, taking the position of night car inspector.

Visits at Chicago—Joseph Peterson, car repairer, paid a visit to friends and acquaintances in Chicago last week, returning Tuesday morning. John Kassa of the same department has resigned and left the city.

Two New Men—Hans Hermanson and Ed. Severson, both of this city, have been added to the round house crew during the week.

Visit the Cities—G. H. Husby, L. Veva, John Reed, Arthur Johnson and Victor Polman were among the Soo employes who spent Sunday in the cities. Joseph Gulden also went down on Sunday evening, accompanying his daughter, who will attend business college in Minneapolis during the remainder of the winter.

Inspector in City—M. Padden of Enderlin, traveling boiler inspector for the Soo, was looking after matters pertaining to his office in this city on Tuesday.

Moved to Kenmare—Engineer John Anderson has been transferred from this city to Kenmare.

Boys All Back—Since the old rule of assigned runs for engine and train men went into effect a number of the regulars have returned to this city. Among those who were scattered along the line and who have returned are Engineers H. J. Troyer, H. F. Loomis and John Linth, all of whom have been working out of Glenwood.

NORWAY NOW SEES EFFECT OF KULTUR

VISITORS TO THAT COUNTRY URGE NORWEGIANS HERE TO FIGHT.

Lars J Siljan, who is in Norway studying conditions for the Fram and Normanden of Grand Forks writes that conditions are very bad there. Prices are very high and the country is facing a near starvation period. He says: "The people of the northwestern states have all the reason in the world to thank God that they live in the United States. If they could see the results of German Kultur at close range they would give every ounce of energy—and give it gladly—to see the Hun beaten to a frazzle. I think that I shall be able to preach a good sermon or two to our people. I feel more than every that every German sympathizer ought to be hanged, wherever he lives. And let me tell you, the stories about organized and well paid German espionage—all over the world—is by no means a myth. It has been shown in the courts here of late. I shall deal with that in one of my first letters. I hope to be able to get away from here before I starve to death."

WAR STAMP SALES WILL BE BOOSTED

GEORGE G. JOHNSON IS PLACED IN CHARGE OF COUNTY CAMPAIGN.

The sale of war-saving certificates and stamps in the county of Pennington is to be boosted from now on. These little baby bonds are proving very popular with the people on the farms as well as in the city. The high interest rate is but one of the many features going to make up the desirable features of these securities. In the first place they are so easy to acquire that there is no excuse for practically every citizen not owning one. Every citizen, whether in the city or country, may secure the stamps or certificates during the month of February from his or her mail carrier at $4.13 cents for the certificates, while the stamps costs 25c apiece no matter in what month they are purchased. These stamps do not carry any interest, being simply intended to provide a convenient means of saving enough for a certificate. When sixteen stamps, or four dollars worth, have been accumulated, the book may be exchanged for a certificate by the payment of the few extra cents going to make up the rate for the current month. For instance, during February, 16 stamps and 13c will entitle the holder to a certificate paying four per cent compound interest and redeemable on Jan. 1, 1923, being at that time worth $5.00.

The government is particularly anxious that these certificates shall receive as wide a distribution as possible as this will furnish an excellent lesson in saving for every man, woman and child who participates and besides will provide a large sum with which to meet the expenses necessary in carrying on the war. These certificates would be gobbled up by the large moneyed interests because of the high rate of interest paid, but the amount any person or company may secure has been limited to $1,000. The plan makes it possible for everyone to come to the aid of the government in fighting this war for democracy and will give people of small means an opportunity to show their patriotism.

The campaign for the sale of stamps and certificates will be in charge of George G. Johnson, vice-president of the First and Peoples' State bank, which means that an energetic canvass will be made. In the larger cities business houses are contributing freely toward the advertising of this movement and are using the matter provided by the government for this purpose. Their aid in this respect has been requested and the response is general.

When her older brother allowed the kitten to fall from his knee Alice was deeply touched and told him to be careful or he would hurt the kitten. But mother told her a cat had nine lives, and so she need not fear. She meditated a moment and then replied: "Yes, but maybe this is the ninth life."

FACE the FACTS

LET us face the facts. The war situation is critical. Unless the Allies fight as they never yet have fought, defeat threatens. Hungry men cannot fight at their best; nor hungry nations. France, England, and Italy are going hungry unless we feed them.

Wheat Savings—They must have wheat. It is the best food to fight on. It is the easiest to ship. We alone can spare it to them. By saving just a little—less than a quarter of what we ate last year—we can support those who are fighting our battles. And we can do it without stinting ourselves. We have only to substitute another food just as good.

The Corn of Plenty—Corn is that food. There's a surplus of it. Providence has been generous in the hour of our need. It has given us corn in such bounty as was never known before. Tons of corn. Trainloads of corn. Five hundred million bushels over and above our regular needs. All we have to do is to learn to appreciate it. Was ever patriotic duty made so easy? And so clear?

America's Own Food—Corn! It is the true American food. The Indians, hardiest of races, lived on it. Our forefathers adopted the diet and conquered a continent. For a great section of our country it has blong een the staff of life. How well the South fought on it, history tells. Now it can help America win a world war.

Learn Something—Corn! It isn't one food. It's a dozen. It's a cereal. It's a vegetable. It's a bread. It's a dessert. It's nutritious; more food value in it, dollar for dollar, than meat or eggs or most other vegetables. It's good to eat; how good you don't know until you've had corn-bread properly cooked. Best of all, it's plentiful and it's patriotic.

Corn's Infinite Variety—How much do you know about corn? About how good it is? About the many delicious ways of cooking it? And what you miss by not knowing more about it? Here are a few of its uses:

There are at least fifty ways to use corn meal to make good dishes for dinner, supper, lunch or breakfast. Here are some suggestions:

HOT BREADS	DESSERTS
Boston brown bread.	Corn-meal molasses cake.
Hoecake.	Apple corn bread.
Muffins.	Dumplings.
Biscuits.	Gingerbread.
Griddle cakes.	Fruit gems.
Waffles.

HEARTY DISHES

Corn-meal croquettes.	Corn-meal fish balls.
Meat and corn-meal dumplings.
Italian polenta.	Tamales.

The recipes are in Farmers' Bulletin 565, "Corn Meal as a Food and Ways of Using It," free from the Department of Agriculture.

THIEF RIVER BOY IS SAFE IN FRANCE

MAKES TRIP ON FORMER GERMAN BOAT AND MEETS NO MISHAP.

First Sergeant Frank I. Satre, son of F. T. Satre, residing in the town of Rocksbury, has written a letter from "somewhere in France" just to let the folks know that the German subs did not get him on the way over. This is Sergt. Satre's third term with the army, he having re-enlisted just after the outbreak of the war. Concerning his trip he says:

"Just a few words to let you know I have arrived safely in France after a long and tedious journey. Of course in spots things were kind of interesting, but as a whole it was tiresome.

"It took us five days to make the journey from Los Angeles to Camp Merritt, New Jersey, and we stayed there seven days. During that time I had an opportunity to take a look at New York and that is about all—just a look. I attended the evening performance at the Hippodrome at the rate of $2.00 per, and I didn't have a good seat at that. But as it is supposed to be the largest show in the world it must have been worth the money.

"We embarked on the 12th of December on one of the steamers given to us by the kaiser who has been very kind to us in the matter of boats as our entire fleet was made up of ships formerly German—and they are very good boats too. I do not think we would ever have gotten our men across without them.

"We sighted land on the 24th of December, but just where is more than I am able to tell you until this war is over. As yet we have not seen very much of the country but we expect to be moving soon and we have a long stay ahead of us so I suppose we will see some of it yet. I will write more fully in a day or two and let you know just how I am making out."

Sergt. Satre's address is 3rd Anti-aircraft Battery, A. E. F., via New York City.

Thoughtlessness Rebuked.

My sister came to make us a visit and Peter, a neighbor's small boy, was an interested spectator when her trunk was being unpacked. Timidly he asked her if she had brought any candy with her and upon receiving a negative answer, inquired if she had any gum. This also producing no results he said: "Didn't you fink there was going to be any wittle boys in this town?"—Chicago Tribune.

HEATLESS MONDAYS ABROGATED EARLY

BUT FOUR OF THE PROPOSED TEN WERE FOUND NECESSARY.

There will be no more heatless Mondays—for the present at least. The Minnesota Fuel administration, acting under advice of the national body, last week abrogated the order and business may now be conducted on all six days of the week as usual. The matter was left to the discretion of the fuel authorities of the different states and in every case the order was suspended. The government however, has sent a warning that it may still be necessary to enforce the prohibition but that this will not be done unless all other means for keeping the seaboard supplied with fuel fails.

In Thief River Falls at least the closing order did not cause a great deal of inconvenience. Business men simply complied and none, so far as has been learned, found it any particular hardship. The saving of fuel was not very great, perhaps, but everyone showed their good intentions by obeying the edict.

Amusement places closed on Tuesdays during the four weeks the order was in effect, are again permitted to run as usual and the regular weekly program has been resumed at the picture houses. Nobody has been hurt by the closing down of their business for one day and if the aims of the government have been achieved everyone will be glad that they were able to help by complying with this very simple request.

FIVE MINNESOTANS LOST ON TUSCANIA

NAME OF OKLEE MAN DOES NOT APPEAR ON LIST OF MISSING.

The first reports giving the names of those who lost their lives when the Tuscania was torpedoed by a German submarine last week contained the name of Gundar Austad of Oklee. Late reports, however, lead friends of the family to believe that he may have been saved. The first authentic list of those who were lost appeared in Sunday's papers, but the Oklee young man's name did not appear. The total given, however, was only 82 and it is thought certain that the number of missing was greater than this.

It was at first thought that one Homer L. Anderson, who was known to have perished was Omer Anderson of this city, as he was also on the torpedoed ship, but it turns out that the young man referred to belonged at Cumberland, Wis.

The five Minnesota men in the published list are as follows: Fred D. Allen, Ada; James J. Buckley, Minneapolis; Walter Crellin, Virginia; Frank Dahota, Jackson; John C. Johnson, Big Falls.

Get Rid of Fleas.

The flea is one of the most annoying of household pests. In many cases fleas are bred on dogs or cats, and the first thing to be done is to eliminate the source of supply. If the animal is not badly infested, insect powder, well rubbed into the hair, or creolin wash, may be effective. Remove all carpets and similar articles and scrub the floors thoroughly with hot soapsuds or lye, being careful to get into every crack and crevice. Fleas thrive on dirt and do not like to be disturbed.

A Bit Mixed.

"Muvver," said a little city girl visiting in the country, "just listen to that poor cow mewing for her colt."

Chas. Schuster, 622 St. Paul Ave., Thief River Falls, says: "From my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills I can say they are just as advertised. Some mornings I couldn't get out of bed, my back was so sore and stiff and I was obliged to get up nights on account of kidney weakness. PERHAPS YOUR NEIGHBOR CAN USE IT

NEARLY every farmer in the country has small machinery and implements of one kind and another about his place which for various reasons cannot longer be used by him. The articles are often perfectly good but do not fit exactly into his plan of farming.

Why Not Try Selling Them?

Your neighbor may have use for just the thing you do not need. He is willing to pay a fair amount for it, but at the present high prices he does not feel as he is able to make the investment. Why not get together? A small advertisement in the classified columns of The Times will inform him of just what you have to offer. These columns form the cheapest and surest exchange agency in northwestern Minnesota. The paper goes into nearly 4,000 homes in this section and there are few departments so carefully read as the classified ads.

Try it once. It will prove the best investment you ever made.

THIEF RIVER FALLS - - - - MINNESOTA

TALES OF THE FAR NORTH

Being an Account of My Experiences During the Three Years I Was Employed by the Government in Alaska.

By Dr. F. H. Gambell, Thief River Falls.

The Long-Day Period.

The days were long enough in May but when June came there was no darkness to divide one from the other. Our camps had been put away and it seemed that eternal day had come. In fact it was difficult when the sun did not shine to tell whether it was day or night. One thing was noticeable, though, the children were playing till past midnight and though man went about his work, nevertheless the song birds hushed their music as the midnight hour approached and perched themselves in some evergreen tree, hid their heads under their wings and as far as they were concerned, all nature slept. Suddenly some one of them would begin to warble a morning lay, when another and another would join in till the whole forest was rejoicing in the beginning of a new day, while man was just finding sleep, tardy in having sought his bed.

Longing For News.

It seemed that June would never come to an end. I was so glad that there was one day less in June than in May, longing as I was for letters from home from the time I got up till I forced myself to bed. I would go out and watch the radishes and lettuce grow. When the first little plant with two leaves became a plant with three it was worthy of note in my diary.

Geese were plentiful and I spent hours of the night time in shooting them. After the snow had melted I gathered quarts of the little red cranberries which were still eatable. While gathering them, I stumbled upon the remains of an Eskimo with his gun rusted and broken by his side. I came home and wrote exhaustively of the incident; noting the vacant stare of the orbetless skull, the glistening whiteness of the bones so in contrast with the bright red berries hanging so carelessly from the little green plants that had chosen such strange surroundings in which to bear their fruitage. I wrote of the wild rhubarb growing on the hill-side, which, when cooked was as the rhubarb at home, yet in appearance while growing, bore not the least resemblance to that sturdy plant of ours. All my spare time was occupied in doing things that the day might come as quickly as possible when I should receive my home letters. The high bluff would be climbed that I might gain a view of the ocean and watch for the movement of the ice making it possible for boats to enter.

An Unfordable Stream.

Toward the last of June I was able to see patches of blue in the great expanse of ocean ice and I knew that we would soon be frozen in no longer. Hurriedly, I prepared myself and started to walk to Unalakleet. When I was nearly half way, I came to the North river over which I could not cross. I had heard the natives say that it was fordable at a distance up stream so I went through the underbrush hunting for the ford. When I reached a point where the water ran swiftly over the rocks I thought it possible I had found a fordable place so removed my clothing and placed it under my arm and stepped into the cold water and began feeling my way across. Soon the stream not only grew deeper but the water was flowing stronger—so strong that I was so nearly taken off my feet that I thought I would have to swim. I lost part of my clothes in the swift current managed to keep my feet and then worked my way back to the bank from whence I had started. I gave up trying to find a ford after traveling for two more hours and decided to strike for the station. This I reached after great hardships where I changed my clothing and took passage in the boat of a prospector who had just reached the station from a point farther up the stream and was on his way down the river.

The First Messenger.

When we came near the sea we saw a small schooner lying outside the shore ice, but unable to get in. This proved to be a schooner from one of the other missions and had brought Mr. P. H. Anderson with them. I read in my diary; "The news comes that the war with Spain is over and that we are not at war with Germany." All that he had learned we listened to with great avidity. He told us that 'the ships were in at St. Michael. This was too much for me. To think that the mail which had been gathering for me for the last nine months was probably lying at St. Michael, only sixty-five miles away, made me put the proposition up to Mr. Anderson that we walk. He hesitated a moment, probably thinking of the long hard trail over the moss grown tundra; a trail so soft that for miles at a stretch a person would sink to the knees in the soft green moss.

A Memorable Hike.

But he did not hesitate long before he said he would go. We decided to leave at once and to take very little with us—no blankets, only some food, dry foot-wear and a cup from which to drink. I carried my slicker on account of the danger of rain and we started off accompanied by a native. How little I appreciated the strength of young manhood and the power of endurance necessitating the completion of such an undertaking. The joy of anticipation in getting word from home would act as a buoy to our depressed spirits and would prompt us to look lightly upon our weary, footsore condition after a day's long, hard travel.

Travelling—Good and Bad.

I read from my diary; "I am dressed with native water-boots reaching above the knees, a slicker and my every-day clothes. I am in prime condition for walking and enjoy the prospects. To eat we have bread and butter packed in a walrus stomach to keep it dry. It is thrown over my back. The native carries our dry shoes and stockings, some tea, sugar, a can of condensed milk, and a can of meat with a little dry salmon. Mr Anderson has his own individual frock. We cross the Unalakleet river at 10:30 a. m., pass the natives in their tents, go through their grave yard, notice a slaughtered dog on one new grave, and the wooden face of the devil hanging on a stick from another. The trail for "the first five miles is good. No moss, no brush, just a narrow trail winding along the beach. We leave the froth and walk on the pebble beach. Thousands of star-fish are winnowed by the waves near the water's edge with here and there a sea biscuit. Soon we are forced to take to the tundra and it is so tiresome to walk upon the moss, through the brushy willows and up and down ravines, with no path to follow. Then we come to a small river over which we cannot cross. We follow it down to its mouth trusting that there is enough drift wood washed in to make a bridge which will permit of our crossing. Finding the mouth filled with logs, we pick our way across. Mr. Anderson falls in but succeeds in getting out without my help. He wrings out his wet clothes, puts fresh dry grass in his native boots and then we are on again.

"We travel a few miles farther and finding a tin bucket washed up by the sea, we make an open fire and use it for the purpose of making tea. I fish out the tin cup I had put in my pocket and we all three drink two cups of tea around, eat some of the bread and butter from the walrus stomach, take a piece of the dry salmon and after resting a few minutes are pushing ahead on our journey.

At six we stopped to eat again. "We were still six miles from Golsovia, a native village we had planned to reach that night.

Ran Across Friends.

"As we were nearing Folstoi point, we saw a camp in the distance. Upon reaching it we stopped to get news and to give any that might be of interest, for we saw that this was a white man's camp. I was agreeably surprised to find two men composing the party who were prospectors that I knew. Mr. Charlie Ross, one of the men, was so pleased to see me that he insisted on us eating another supper. He had no trouble in persuading us to do as he wished although it had only been thirty minutes since we had finished the one before. We were persuaded to stay with them for the night and I can assure you that there were more than two men under each blanket.

A Serious Predicament.

"June 27th. We had an early breakfast this morning and started out feeling rested by the night's sleep. All day long I have been thinking of what Mr. Ross told me last night regarding his experiences. He spoke of how he and his partner in attempting to reach Nome, had been adrift in an open boat in the great ice floe, where the ocean ice is breaking and is being shifted hither and thither by the winds and the tides.

"For six days had they given up hopes of ever reaching land. They had nothing to eat but hard tack. They had jumped on the ice once, hoping that it would carry them somewhere, as their boat was so in danger of being crushed by the moving ice that they thought it death to remain longer in it. This is what impressed me so; his acknowledgement that what ever might happen in the future, he would never complain, as he had had enough to be thankful for all the rest of his life in being saved and safe on shore again.

Mr. Anderson Gives Out.

"We stopped an hour in Golsovia as Mr. Anderson had worn holes in the soles of his native boots and he wished to have one of the native women patch them. After this delay we continued our journey until noon, when we came upon another miner on his way to Nome and he insisted on us eating with him.

"Mr. Anderson's knee bothered him so that he acknowledged his willingness to give fifty dollars could he find any one who would take him by boat to St. Michael. All our walking now is over the tundra and it is, oh, so tiresome. The native does not keep up with us. We left him away out of sight. We reached Clickatarich at 8:30 p. m. of the second day. We were feeling tired for we had gone a long, long way and the walking had been so heavy. As I was nearing the village I noticed that Mr. Anderson was lagging so I looked back to see what was the matter. He was bent over and was forcing the foot of the right leg to keep moving. He stated that it had absolutely refused to move and if he had not been in sight of the village, he would have given up. As he came near me there was a cracking and creaking in the knee joint as of a dry wagon wheel and at the risk of friendship I suggested that we might grease it with seal oil when we reached the village. He took it all in fun, although it is a dangerous thing to try to joke with some men on the trail when they are supertired.

Running Out of Grub.

"Our food supply is getting low. The walrus stomach is almost empty. I ate fresh king salmon fried in seal oil for supper and am willing to state that I prefer it somewhat to starving to death. There is not much preference.

"Mr. Anderson is getting discouraged and is making arrangements with the native to take him the rest of the way in a boat in the morning. I am going to walk as I started out to do. Our bed tonight will be the floor with one thickness of a 12 oz. muslin tent under us to make the boards soft and one thickness over us to keep us warm. My rain coat is my pillow."

(I notice in my diary for the following day that I have put down, "Slept some last night." Surely the "joy of anticipation" is bearing fruit.)

Continued Trip Alone.

"Mr. Anderson had almost hired the native this morning when I told him flatly that I would not go in a boat as I had started out to walk and that I had no confidence in the native reaching St. Michael with the head wind. He took my stand kindly and as his knee had limbered up during the night, he came along after me. After we had gone three or four miles he wished that he had not started. When we had gone five miles we came across a boat load of natives in their large skin omeak heading for St. Michael. This was Mr. Anderson's chance, so he and the native embarked and were surprised that I did not do likewise. I divided up the remaining food keeping for myself only two pieces of bread. It was not nearly enough under such a strain.

Kept Up With Boat.

They laughed at me as they shot off into the water, crossed a bay and were soon far ahead of me. Then they struck a head wind, I crossed a point and our relative positions had been changed. This kept up for a while, see-sawing back and forth till I was steadily gaining on them. I could see Mr. Anderson and Constantine, the native, pulling with all their might at the oars that they might not lose out. I must confess that I also, felt that I was in a race, and walked as rapidly as the moss would permit. Knowing the King Island natives who were in the boat, as I did, made me feel confident that I would win out in the long run.

THE WEEK'S FOOD FACT

Wheatless means wheatless or it means nothing. Graham bread, whole wheat bread, mixed breads that are part wheat, macaroni—all are on the list of foods to be avoided on Wheatless day.

Meatless means without any beef, mutton, pork, veal or lamb.

Toast as garnish and bread croutons with soup should be a thing of the past from now on.

Changing the food habits of the household is the big task that falls upon the housewife under the requirements of war time and necessary food conservation. Eleven meals during the week are required to be wheatless—three on Monday, three on Wednesday and the evening meal for the remaining five days. Planning the meals under the new conditions is a serious tax on the ingenuity of the person who prepares the meals. The food administration is offering this suggestion for a wheatless day with the recipes for some of the dishes contained in it:

Breakfast
Cornmeal mush with dates.
Potato and Meat Cakes (very little chopped meat.)
Coffee. Milk for children.

Dinner.
Mutton stew.
Macedoine of vegetables.
Boiled potatoes.
Lettuce Salad.
Rice pudding.

Supper
Soup with potato croutons.
Puffy Omelet with tomatoes.
Baked potatoes
Scotch Fancies.
Chilled fruit.

Rice Pudding.

4 cups milk, 1-3 cup rice, ½ teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup corn syrup, grated rind ½ lemon. Wash rice; mix ingredients, and pour into oiled pudding dish; bake three hours in very slow oven, stirring three times during first hour of baking to prevent rice from settling.

Potato Croutons.

To one cup of mashed potato add one egg yolk and beat well together. Spread half an inch thick on a flat oiled platter and when quite cool cut in two inch squares, then each square diagonally across to form triangular pieces. When ready to use, brush over with milk and brown lightly in the oven or in very little fat in the frying pan.

Scotch Fancies.

2 cups rolled oats, ¼ cup milk, ¼ cup molasses, 1½ tablespoons cooking oil, ¼ teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt. Grind the oats, mix with the other materials. Roll into a thin sheet and cut in squares. Bake 20 minutes in a moderate oven.

'Twas Twenty Years Ago.

That steamboating was something of a business on the river twenty years ago is evidenced by the following, taken from the columns of the Crookston Times, which paper daily reprints these little interesting squibs from its files of that ancient period:

"George Sebastian left for Thief River Falls, to prepare for a summer's steam-boating on the upper river and Red Lake. There was to be daily steamer service on the river between the upper falls and the agency, by means of three passenger steamers, while two boats would ply continuously on the lake."

MAZOLA
—the pure oil from corn for better cooking
WHEN housewives first adopted Mazola they found the deep frying, sautéing and shortening medium which they have been seeking for years.
Mazola browns food quickly, preventing any penetration of oil—and gives crisp, delicious dishes free from sogginess, easy to digest.
The results are so much better than with lard or compounds that Mazola is used in thousands of American homes.
And now when Food Administrator Hoover asks us to save butter, lard and suet, the housewife knows that she has a really good vegetable oil.
With Mazola she can help save the country's resources and at the same time give her family the best of food at a notable saving in cost.
Unlike other mediums Mazola does not transmit taste or odor from one food to another—can be used over and over again—a great factor in economy.
And when you want an especially delicious salad dressing, use Mazola. There is no need to give up salads because of the uncertain supply or high prices of olive oil.
Mazola can be had from your grocer in pint, quart, half-gallon and gallon tins. Ask him for the free Mazola Book of Recipes, or write us direct.
Your money refunded if Mazola does not give entire satisfaction.

Letters from the BOYS

Hugh Writes Home.

Hugh Bottleson, who enlisted a short time ago, is at present at work in the offices at Camp Dodge. He has met a number of the boys from this city at the camp, and records the different meetings in the following sprightly fashion for the benefit of Times readers:

"Fort Riley—My last day there was the time I saw Ralph Werner and Herbert Hanson. Ralph is a horseshoer in Ambulance Corps No. 18 and Herbert is a cook in the same company but in a different division. Ralph is having trouble with his feet but is otherwise all right, while Herbert is fatter than a pig.

"When I saw Chester Tvedt I asked him where Ralph was. He had seen him and also Wesley Smith, but as I was in detention I was unable to get to see him until that morning when I was marched over to get another issue of clothing. Got over to the storehouse and knew I was near the place where Ralph was supposed to be. Ran about half a block looking for him and in the meantime Ralph was in the bunk house right next door. While I was gone he saw the bunch and, sticking his head out the window, hollered to the crowd asking if there was anyone in that bunch from Minnesota. Somebody said: 'Yes, Bottelson.' The fellows told me afterwards how he came running out in only his underwear, shouting, 'Where's Bottelson, let me at him.' He was night guard and up all the night before, so he was still in bed. When they told him that I had gone out looking for him he went in and dressed.

When I came back I heard someone shout, and I started to run, supposing my sergeant was yowling at me. Meanwhile I was trying to think of an excuse for breaking ranks. I did not recognize the old duffer of a Werner until nearly upon him. Well, we had some lil' chat. He brought out pie, nabiscos, candy and cigarettes. Herb. Hanson and he promised to come over and see me but when I got back to camp I had my name called for shipment.

"Fort Des Moines—Was notified after supper last night that I was to work in the office here. How long I do not know, but suppose right along.

"The office is in the post hospital here. Right across the hall is the dispensary, to the left is the dining room; one ward is also down stairs back of the dispesary. The big bugs' office is right off from ours. Access is only through our office. We have a major or two, a colonel and a few lieutenants hanging around all the time.

"We sure do have fine meals here and a first class place to sleep. We are quartered in brick barracks, with steam heat and all the modern conveniences.

"This is some change from rustling freight in the supply depot, which until today I have been doing. I was picked out with nine others as the ten huskiest men and sent down there to work up an appetite, which I surely did.

"Have to quit. Lights off at nine and it's 8:55 now."

From J. L. Sether.
U. S. N. Air Station, Miami.
Feb. 14 1918.

Editor and Friends of the Service:

Since my last letter I have made a great change in branches of service. Radio was too slow, so aviation was my next aim. After passing a severe physical examination, I was detailed in charge of 24 other students to go to Miami, Florida. Arriving here we found the camp still under construction, but such an enormous contract I have never seen before. I cannot tell of how the camp is located because of the strict censorship which it pleases the government to work with.

Everything down here is great. The weather and the scenery are exactly the way I had expected—a semi-tropical region—to be.

In building the targets the boys waded in water and jungle waist deep to where they were placed. Mosquitoes are fierce around the swamps also. So is poison of all kinds. But great precaution has been taken to prevent any serious cases. A little danger will just tend to harden you. The navy slogan is: "A preventative is worth four-fold the weight of a cure."

My duties have been supply officer in the motor supply department. Some job to keep the 2800 parts of a motor in place and issue and receive stock at the same time. A good system was established between the pay and supply departments and everything runs along fine. Last Thursday, the 7th, I was placed in charge of the sixth division of students and ordered to detail them to the departments which needed orderlies, mess cooks, target builders and deck hands. Of course some of them were very indignant over the duties they had to do, but it all blows over when discipline is taken in mind. This is an officers' training school and any slight or heavy misdemeanor is dealt with accordingly.

Every precaution and protection is taken against internal attack of any kind. We have bluejacket guards and electrified wire fences 15 feet high. We also have sea patrol boats, a cruiser, two destroyers, and also one machine that is prepared for scouting. At Key West we have the southern fleet to protect us.

All we hear around here is the drum of large motors and propellers, dredges and carpenters' hammers. The niggers—negroes as we call them in the north—work fourteen hours a day for 15 cents an hour. White labor is scarce and very high priced. The white laborer goes north for the summer. All are like our nomadic farm laborers. Everybody moves very slow—except a foreman who is from the north, and he is kept busy keeping his "shines" at work. Some job to keep them from wandering off for a snooze.

The water here is clear and swimming is great. But sometimes a shark comes too close to shore for it to be safe. An 800 pounder was caught last night by the crew of the S P. boat on watch and was trawled in this morning. It could spread its jaws only three feet—just enough to swallow me and I'm not so small. There is a place here called the "Curio," where sharks and other sea monsters are kept, while another place, called the "Sea Zoo," has only shells and fish. The sea cow is kept in the "Curio."

The only people here are northern people spending the winter—at least eighty per cent of them are. Many have great palatial homes and motor and sailing yachts. The winter homes are all dance halls and parlors of the open air style.

Looking out over the bay I can see five planes and hundreds of boats of all descriptions. It sure is a pretty sight in the twilight when the channel lights are lit. Not a boat enters or leaves the harbor without permission from the district naval commander. All boats have numbers to go by. A tower has been erected to accommodate two watchmen to watch the seaboard and report all passing ships.

I want to hear from some of the boys, preferably all of them, who read this dope. I also send greetings and wish them good luck.

Sincerely,
J. LELAND SETHER.

RED CROSS NOTES

A Red Cross convention was held at Crookston Feb. 12. Those attending from here were Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Way, Mrs. Melgaard, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Spink, Mrs. Gambell and Mrs. Sether. They report a very interesting meeting.

Mrs. H. H. Spink is in Warren this week giving a class instructions in making surgical dressings.

Several ladies from the new Sanders branch called at the Red Cross work rooms Saturday afternoon to get information regarding the work that they can do.

The Larson Furniture company this week furnished the Red Cross sewing room with a large, well made storage box in which to keep finished articles.

Mrs. G. A. Penney, chairman of the cutting committee, turned over to the hospital committee this week 30 hospital shirts all cut and ready for making.

Miss Olive Booren turned in twelve hospital shirts made by the Sophomore girls. They are all very well made. The high school girls have made over forty of these garments.

Last Saturday afternoon two workers made 110 2x2¼ sponges in the surgical dressing room. One afternoon the naval unit had twelve workers present and made 40 T bandages.

Several organizations are planning to be at the work rooms on special days. On Monday evenings the Eastern Stars go to the surgical dressing room; on Tuesday afternoons the Presbyterian ladies work at surgical dressings. Wednesday afternoon the naval unit goes to the sewing room. Friday afternoon the Woman's club will be at work in the sewing room, while on Monday and Tuesday evenings the Normal girls will be there. The fact that these organizations have selected these times to work in the Red Cross rooms does not mean that others are not welcome too. Everybody is welcome at any and all times every afternoon from 2:30 to 5:30 and from 7:30 to 10 in the evening. If you find you have only a little time to spare, come and help us. You might work a buttonhole or sew on a button—it all helps. All work done by any society is credited to them if they wish it.

Last Saturday afternoon several little girls and boys offered their services and were put to work snipping scraps for comfort pillows.

We have 24 suits of pajamas to be made before March 1. Will you help?

We have a large quantity of yarn on hand for sweaters Let us see how many we can send in this month.

We want to make a shipment to Red Cross headquarters March 1, so please finish all the pieces of work you can and turn them in before that date.

SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. White's appointment as Pennington county agent necessarily permits his successor, Grant Wells, to devote all his energies to agricultural matters immediately related to this city, the local school district and the four associated schools. War conditions in large measure control the school's agricultural activities this spring. These will take the direction of increased food production. Acting under the direction of the Washington authorities, Mr. Wells will make a drive in the spring for home gardens in and about the city. Later, arrangements will be perfected to can the garden products on a community scale. So far as possible the government desires food raised and cured in the neighborhood of its consumption, in order to help reduce transportation troubles. The columns of this paper will later be used by Mr. Wells for his home garden and other agricultural propaganda and the public is urged to co-operate in this important and patriotic movement.

Stephen high school fell before the prowess of the local basket-ball players last Saturday afternoon. Next Saturday the boys meet their old antagonists of Fosston on the Fosston floor This game is always considered the classic of the season and the district.

Mr. Geo. Gunderson, one of the rural teachers, gave a penmanship demonstration at chapel Wednesday which was both interesting and instructive. His work is of the highest type of writing and his method practical and easy. The students expressed surprise that a farmer-teacher could acquire and maintain such remarkable skill as a penman.

Rev. R. L. Barackman will deliver an appropriate address at the Lincoln on Washington's birthday, Friday, Feb. 22. Patriotic exercises will also take place in every school room in the city at 9 a. m. on this date. The public is invited to attend.

School officers from the high schools of the Valley met at Crookston during the Farm Crop Show last week and discussed the salary proposition for the approaching school year.

Thrift stamp sales in the local schools last week footed up $27.00. Wednesday of each week is designated as stamp day, at which time collections are made.

As compared with the large enrollment in the high school, the failures are comparatively few—a trifle over three per cent. These can be laid to the following causes, and they are named in the order of their influence upon the pupil: Poor effort, social affairs, lack of home control, and weak mentality. Parents are urged to study the report cards and make inquiry of the teachers and school office as to poor standings.

No school effort in recent years has been more successful and more satisfying than the Junior Red Cross entertainments recently presented by the various schools. They netted approximately $600, all of which now is in the hands of the Red Cross treasurer, Mr. Melgaard, and will be expended under proper supervision. The teachers worked most diligently and successfully, and their work is duly appreciated.

Rev. I. T. Aastad delivered a patriotic address at the Lincoln high school on the occasion of Lincoln's birthday anniversary. This was the leading feature of a two hours' program in keeping with the event. The address was forceful, clear and aggressively patriotic and found a sympathetic reception on the part of the high school students.

ONLY FIVE ENEMY ALIENS REGISTER

EXPECTED, HOWEVER, THAT FRIENDLY ALIEN LIST WILL BE MUCH LARGER

There are but five enemy aliens in the Thief River Falls postoffice territory, and one of these did not know he was an enemy. The registrations closed last Wednesday evening and Postmaster John Morgan had but the above number to report. The registration proved quite a formality. Each registrant had to submit two photographs of himself, have his finger prints taken and fill out a blank giving all information concerning his previous history and present mode of gaining a livelihood.

One man, a resident of the city for many years, had always considered himself an American citizen. He had two sets of papers and supposed that one was the regulation citizenship certificate while the other was the declaration of intention. Through some error of the examining clerk he had been given two sets of the latter, and thus found himself still an alien.

All Must Register.

During the three days, Feb. 25, 26 and 27, all men not citizens of the United States must register. It makes no difference whether they owe allegiance to an enemy nation or not. Unless they are citizens of this country they must be recorded. First papers will not answer the purpose—a man must be a full fledged citizen or submit to registration. No excuse for disregarding this order will be accepted. Failure to be present on one of the three days designated may result in the delinquent being interned for the period of the war.

The fact that a person is thus required to register does not mean that he is under suspicion of disloyalty. In war times, however, the state authorities feel that they cannot be too careful and the precaution is taken for the protection of friendly aliens as much as for Americans.

IS SENT BACK AS ARMY INSTRUCTOR

ROY LEE STEVENS OF THIS CITY NOW LOCATED AT CAMP DEVINS, MASS.

Roy Lee Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Stevens, residing in Rocksbury township, is a member of a small force of men—25 in number—who have been sent from France for the purpose of acting as instructors at army encampments. This young man has been promoted to sergeant and has twice been decorated for conspicuous conduct on the battlefield. He will give instructions in sharpshooting or "sniping."

Serg. Stevens enlisted with a Canadian overseas battalion in the spring of 1915 and has seen service on the western front almost continually since that time. In one of the big battles of that region he was wounded three times in one day and has been recommended for higher honors than those he has yet received.

When instructors for the young men of the American army were wanted he was among the first to be picked out, which goes to prove that he is highly considered by his officers.

Next week The Times will publish a letter written by him describing one of the battles he was in.

COMPLAINT BRINGS RESULTS AT ONCE

ACTION OF GREAT NORTHERN EMPLOYES IS LOOKED INTO AT HEADQUARTERS.

One of the vice-presidents of the Great Northern railway company was in the city the first of the week for the purpose of smoothing out the hard feeling against the company entertained by certain Thief River Falls citizens because of treatment accorded them by employes of the line.

A short time ago nine business and professional men of the city, members of the home guard company, attempted to reach Ada for the purpose of attending the funeral of H. L. Anderson, the first soldier from Pennington county to die in the service. Through a neglect to properly transmit orders to hold a certain train at one of the stations, although this would only have occasioned a delay of two minutes, the men were unable to make connections and returned without attending the funeral. They were naturally pretty sore.

This state of affairs being brought to the attention of headquarters and an inquiry started. As a result the division superintendent at Crookston has been removed, the dispatcher transferred and a general reprimand administered to everyone in any way responsible for the inconvenience caused. A personal apology has been tendered each one of the men in the party by the road's vice president and the incident is closed.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Marion Reynolds had her tonsils removed at the hospital Saturday and has nearly recovered.

Mrs. John Zutz of Red Lake Falls entered the hospital the latter part of last week for medical treatment.

Dr. Olson, a veterinary surgeon of Holt, is recovering from an operation performed the first of the week.

Miss Myrtle Thompson of Plummer was discharged from the hospital on Saturday of last week, having fully recovered from an operation for appendicitis.

MAKES SURE THAT SONS WILL REPORT

FATHER DOES NOT WISH BOYS TO APPEAR IN LIGHT OF SLACKERS.

While attempts to evade the service made incumbent upon many of our men by reason of the draft have not been numerous in Pennington county, such instances have been found. From the eastern part of the county comes the story of one father who is not going to have his two sons appear as slackers, even unintentionally, however. A notice to the effect that both boys were included in the bunch that is to leave for Camp Dodge on Saturday was this week sent out by County Auditor T. P. Anderson. The boys were both working in the lumber woods near Redby on the reservation and the father feared that they might not get word in time if he trusted to the mails. He therefore hitched up his team and started across country after them in order to make sure that they would be on hand when wanted. Although there would undoubtedly be a valid excuse for exempting one of them, neither will put in a claim for exemption and the father says he will somehow get along without their help if the government requires their services. "Father and the Boys" are all right. The former is Severt Nelson of Mayfield township and the boys are Morris and John.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Princess.

Opening the week at the Princess, Margery Wilson appears tonight as the wife of the bigamist in "Without Honor." The ending is different from anything you might expect. appears in "Mrs. Dane's Defense" one appears in Mrs. Dane's Defense," one of those powerful emotional plays this actress knows so well how to interpret.

Mary Taliaferro is always a favorite and the play in which she appears here on Saturday night is said to be one of her best. It is called "The Jury of Fate," and is a story of the Canadian woods.

Sunday is extraordinary feature night and the offering is William Farnum in "The Heart of a Lion." This is one of those big-men productions made famous by this really great actor. The admission for this evening is 20 cents for adults, the management paying the war tax, and eleven cents for children.

On Monday night the headliner is "Man Above the Law," starring Jack Richardson and Anna Reubens. The play abounds in highly intense situations.

Viola Dana appears on Tuesday night in "Lady Barnacle," a five act drama in which love triumphs over apparently unsurmountable difficulties. The scenes are laid in India.

And then comes Dorothy Dalton. She appears Wednesday night in her latest success, "Love Letters," and those who saw her in "The Flame of the Yukon," will have no difficulty in believing that this last play is a wonder when it is noted that it is even more dramatic than that masterpiece.

Miss Laura Norman of Warroad arrived the latter part of last week and is now operator in the office of the Northwestern Telephone company.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank the friends and neighbors for their aid during the illness of our husband and father and also for the beautiful floral offerings. Mrs. Sigrid Peterson and family.

REV. NICOL GOES TO LOWER PALESTINE

FORMER PASTOR HERE IS MEMBER OF RED CROSS RELIEF COMMITTEE

An announcement of considerable interest to the older residents of the city is contained in a communication to former parishioners and friends of Rev. J. H. Nichol, who some 10 or 11 years ago was pastor of the Presbyterian church in this city. The call to the pulpit in Thief River Falls was the first received by Rev. Nicol upon his graduation from the seminary and he has always kept in touch with the progress of the community by means of correspondence with friends here. For many years Rev. Nicol was a missionary to Syria and he has again been assigned to active duty in that land, going as a member of the Syrian and Armenian Relief commission of the Red Cross.

Mrs. J. M. Bishop of this city is one of the recipients of these announcements, which were dated at Auburn, N. Y., and read as follows:

"Another opportunity has come for me to turn toward Syria, this time with a party commissioned by the Red Cross in co-operation with the Armenian and Syrian Relief committee, to do relief work in lower Palestine. You all know how I have longed to have some connection with the great work in our adopted country and will rejoice with me because the opportunity has come.

"We are still uncertain whether Mrs. Nicol and the children will be permitted to go, but it now seems doubtful. If they do not, they will remain at 108 North street, Auburn.

"This will serve to express my thanks and appreciation for all the kindness I have received at your hands, in your churches and at your homes, and the memory of it will serve to nerve and cheer me as I work in your stead 'out there.'"

UNUSUAL TREAT AT BANQUET TONIGHT

SOMETHING OUT OF THE ORDINARY IS PROMISED BY COMMERCIAL CLUB.

Something unique and interesting is promised all those attending the annual banquet and meeting of the Commercial club this evening. The meal is to be served at half past six sharp and seats will be provided so that all may be served at the same time.

The supper and meeting which follows are not to be confined to members alone, for it is the desire of the club's officers that the merchants, professional men and citizens generally should get together for the good of the city at this time.

Inasmuch as there is so much of importance and interest in the program of the evening, those who possibly can should make it a point to take in the talks.

Plates for 100 have been provided and more can be accomodated at the last moment if necessary.

OBITUARY

Mr. John Dablow.

The death of John Dablow of this city occurred at his home on the morning of February 9th, at 10:30 o'clock. Death came after an illness of about six months, the last month of which time he was bed-ridden. Mr. Dablow returned about five weeks ago from Rochester where he was under the care of the Mayo Brothers for some time, but returned unable to be cured, and gradually his condition grew more serious until he passed away. He was a middle aged man of about forty-six years and was born in Red Wing on February 10th. He married Miss Judith Swanson about seven years ago and has since lived on a farm northeast of this city in the town of North until about six months ago when they moved to this city and rented their farm. His immediate relatives left to mourn his death are his wife; his mother, Mrs. Fred Gieseke, of Morris; four sisters, Miss Annie and Mrs. Carl Buckentin of Morris, Mrs. G. E. Grovedal, Duluth, and Mrs. John Altmire, Goodhue. The three surviving brothers are Fred of this city; Carl of Wahpeton, N. D., and Edmond of Camp Cody, N. M.

Funeral services, with Rev. G. O. Parish officiating, were held Monday at 2 o'clock in the Larson undertaking parlors and burial was made in the Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Walfred Carlson.

Mrs. T. J. Rustad and daughter, Miss Marguerite, left Friday afternoon for Grand Forks to attend the funeral of Mrs. Walfred Carlson, who before her marriage was Miss Julia Osmundson and made this city her home. Mrs. Carlson's death occurred Feb. 12 after several months' illness.

The Ladies' Aid of the United Lutheran church will serve lunch in the church basement on Friday, Feb. 22, 1918. The proceeds will go to the Red Cross and the soldiers' mission.

LIBRARY NOTES

New fiction: "The Red Planet," William Locke; "Ranney," Howard Brubaker; "Sudden Jim," Clarence B. Kelland; "Dominie Dean," Butler; "Pip," Ian Hay; "Anthony Grey, Gardener," Leslie Moore.

Do you know that Uncle Sam is strongly urging the keeping of bees to help solve the problem of our shortage of sugar? We have three new books on bee keeping in our library: "How to Keep Bees for Profit," by Lyon, and "How to Keep Bees," by Comstock—the best for beginners. Also "Bee Keeping," by Phillips. Besides these there are many new pamphlets sent out by the government.

"Trees Every Child Should Know" will teach the town child especially much interesting knowledge that he is not taught in school.

"Better Meals for Less Money," by Mary Green, will be of great assistance to the housewife in these times of careful planning and close economy, and will repay study.

Of candy we should use little but if we do use by the recipes taken from "Candy Making Revolutionized—Confectionery From Vegetables," by Mary Elizabeth Hall, it will cost less and be more wholesome. "The Candy Cook Book," by Alice Bradly, also contains many economical recipes for popcorn and nut confections.

Every woman who has either a mother or a daughter is advised to read "Autobiography of An Elderly Woman," more especially those who are, to quote James Whitcomb Riley, "Middle aged—to be exact—very middle aged in fact."

There is no one thing which more enriches the life of man or woman than the love for the lesser creatures, our little brothers in fur and feathers, and that love must be planted in childhood or not at all. "He prayeth best who loveth best, all things both great and small; for the dear God who loveth us, He made and loveth all." The person who does not love pets and has not been allowed to keep them when a child is to be pitied and for this reason is recommended to both mother and child the new book, "When Mother Lets Us Keep Pets," another of the well known "When Mother Lets Us" series.

A FEW COMPLAINTS ON FOOD CHARGES

PRICE-FIXING COMMITTEE WILL MAKE INVESTIGATION IN EVERY CASE.

The fair food price committee did not meet last Monday on account of there being practically no changes in the market conditions. However, they will meet next Monday and every other week hereafter but in case any radical changes should occur between the meetings the changes will be noted upon the lists on display in the various grocery stores, meat markets and other food supply places.

Complaints have been made to the committee that certain purveyors are charging more than the published prices. This may have been done and the committee will gladly receive these complaints and take the matter up with the stores charging over the published rate. For instance, sugar should not be sold at over nine and one-half cents per pound in the city at the present time. However, city customers cannot receive more than 5 pounds nor those in the country more than 10 pounds, and it is desired by the food administration that but half this amount be purchased.

The latest ruling as to flour substitutes is 60 per cent of the amount of flour, this relieving the situation considerably.

Kid Band Concert.

The kid band will give a concert at the Auditorium on Sunday afternoon, March 3. The boys are also preparing for a big variety show to be put on in the near future. This will be under the direction of Joe Greenfield and Miss Una Nelson and will be one of the amusement features of the season. Further details will be available later as well as the exact date.

For Alien Registrants.

In order that those who come under the provisions of the alien registration order shall have the opportunity of complying with the requirements with the least possible inconvenience, T. H. Bjerke, registration official for the town of North, will be at the Commercial club rooms in this city from 12 until 3 o'clock on each of the three days, Feb. 25, 26 and 27.

Jacob Pfeffer left last Saturday afternoon for Crookston on a business trip.

LUTHERANS MAKE A GREAT SHOWING

COLLECT $813 DURING FIRST DAY OF SOLDIER-FUND CAMPAIGN IN COUNTY

The Lutherans of the state of Minnesota started this week on a campaign to raise $150,000 for the purpose of administering to the spiritual welfare of the 150,000 soldiers and sailors of that denomination now in the military camps of the country, and the indications are that the sum will be largely oversubscribed. Pennington county was expected to raise in the neighborhood of $1,000, this figure being regarded as very liberal, but the first day's work by the canvassers netted $813 for the fund, with practically none of the outlying districts touched.

Rev. I. T. Aastad of the Norwegian Lutheran church in this city, chairman of the county campaign, is very much pleased over the ready response and naturally proud over the showing made. The high record thus far is held by the team composed of I. K. Aaseby and John Gullingrud of Rev. Aastads church, who reported $144.50 as the result of the first day's work.

Another team, composed of Lars Backe and Carl Christofferson, turned in $82, while still another team reported $65. A fourth team has yet to report.

From St. Hilaire comes the report that K. O. Gigstad and Dr. Swanson have collected $80; C. Oien and A. A. Odegard announce $55 as the result of their first day's drive, and $21 was collected by St. Paul's congregation. Rev. A. F. Nelson of the Swedish Augastana synod in the same village reports that $92.50 has been secured by his workers.

Rev. A. N. Skogerboe, in charge of the work for his congregation, collected $71 the first day out, and Rev. George Larson of the Norwegian Free church $68.50.

Rev. Albin A. Larson of the Swedish church in Thief River Falls announces a total of $39; Rev. G. A. Tungseth, Norwegian, Goodridge, $40, and the German Lutheran church $64.

DELICIOUS CORN MUFFINS.

Here's an old fashioned recipe for corn muffins that has recently been revived and used with unusual success in several of the larger New York hotels: To make three and a half dozen muffins take one quart milk, six ounces butter substitute, twelve ounces of light syrup or honey, four eggs, pinch of salt, two ounces baking powder, one and a half pounds cornmeal and one and a half pounds rye flour. The butter and syrup should be thoroughly mixed; then add the eggs gradually. Pour in the milk and add the rye flour mixed with cornmeal and baking powder.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Mogensen left last night for Minneapolis, where the latter will remain for a several weeks visit with friends and relatives. Mr. Mogensen will go to Chicago and Milwaukee on a ten days' buying trip. On his return trip he will visit for a few days at Camp Dodge.

FORMER SCHOOL BOYS IN ARMY AND NAVY

There are over one hundred former students at the Thief River Falls high school at present serving with the colors. The list has been most carefully compiled and is as nearly correct as it is possible to get it. The showing is rather remarkable and it is believed to be the best made by any school in the state for a city the size of Thief River Falls.

MORE RED CROSS BRANCHES STARTED

FARMING DISTRICTS ARE DISPLAYING GREAT INTEREST IN THE WORK

Still further interest in Red Cross work is being manifested by the country districts and within the past week two more branch chapters have been organized—one in the town of Numedal and the other in the town of Mayfield.

Olaf Larson was chosen chairman of the former branch and Louis Olson secretary, while in the latter branch J. R. Larson was made chairman and Mrs. Jas. Evenson secretary.

Each organization starts off with over ten charter signers and a membership campaign will be undertaken by each one. No doubt a considerable number will be enrolled before long in these newly created bodies.

On Friday afternoon a committee from the local chapter expects to meet with residents of Highlanding township and assist them in perfecting their organization.

Brokke, will hold the examinations at any time or on any day providing a class of three or four applicants are present. Further information regarding this matter may be secured from Mr. Brokke at the postoffice.

WHEATLESS BISCUITS.

Parched cornmeal is the feature of these excellent wheatless biscuits. First, the cornmeal—one-half a cup—is put in a shallow pan placed in the oven and stirred frequently until it is a delicate brown. The other ingredients are a teaspoon of salt, a cup of peanut butter and one and a half cups of water. Mix the peanut butter, water and salt and heat. While this mixture is hot stir in the meal which should also be hot. Beat thoroughly. The dough should be of such consistency that it can be dropped from a spoon. Bake in small cakes in an ungreased pan. This makes 16 biscuits, each of which contains one-sixth of an ounce of protein.

We Are Anxious to Help

A War Memento

By George Elmer Cobb

(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)

"Where's the sunshine gone to, little woman?" cried Bruce Manton, as he entered the house, home on the minute, as usual, from work.

"The room was full of it, outside all nature was bathed in it. Lettie Manton responded to the query in a half-puzzled manner. Then she understood that it was the seriousness in her thoughtful face that her husband had referred to. She arose and greeted him with an enforced smile, but her kiss was as fervent as ever.

"I was just thinking, dear," she explained, "I received a letter from my mother's half-brother an hour ago. He is in New York city."

"Good—grand!" sincerely jubilated Bruce. "Then he has escaped from Belgium?"

"He writes so," responded Lettie, "but his property there has been destroyed and he is still suffering from a wound he received. He writes that he is too old and feeble for army work and has come back to his native country to die."

"Have you answered the letter?"

"Oh, no. I wished to consult you about that first, of course."

"I don't see any need of consulting," declared Bruce. "He is your only relative. He is a victim of the war, helpless, probably robbed of everything he once owned. Write him at once, Lettie. This is his natural haven, with us. Tell him to come on and be sure of a glad welcome."

"Bruce," said Lettie, in broken tones quivering with emotion, "I think you are truly and grandly God's good man!"

Bruce kissed and kissed the lovely face upturned to his own. He understood fully that Lettie had been worrying at the thought of saddling him with the care of a relative. He never did things half way. He set all details of the present situation completely at rest now.

"I'm glad your Uncle Vance is coming," he said. "In the first place it's our duty to look after him, under the circumstances. In the next, he will be company, yes, and maybe some help to you. I am always worrying while at work about your being alone way out here all day. Your uncle will be company for you. He can potter around the garden and do little errands for you, and what a lot that is interesting he can tell us about the war!"

Lettie wrote a heartsome letter to the refugee in the East forthwith. She took pleasure in fixing up their spare room and each succeeding day looked for the arrival of their expected guest. A week passed by.

* * * * * * *

"I hope Mr. Vance has not met with delay or accident," said Bruce, and Lettie was growing anxious. She would go outside and look across the half-mile expanse between their humble little home and the city's limits half a dozen times a day. Their place was quite isolated, except for several houses in the same remote group as themselves. They formed the nucleus of a new subdivision of slow development. The roads were as yet unpaved and they had to use well water, but the house and lot had been offered to them cheap on long payments, so they had decided to pioneer and made the task more hopeful, then certain, for Bruce had a position that brought in a very moderate income.

One morning Bruce went out, as was his routine, to let the chickens out for the day's foraging, when he came to a dead stop with a stare. A man was just stepping from the shed. He was old and bent, poorly clad, unshaven, and the loose straws clinging to his hair and clothing indicated that he had been sleeping in the shed all night.

"Sort of late for your breakfast, aren't you, friend?" bantered Bruce in his natural jolly way.

"It's got to seem so good to sleep without a lot of shells exploding all about you," responded the intruder, whom Bruce had at once put down as a tramp, "that I could sleep anywhere and enjoy it. I got here late and the house was all dark and I didn't want to disturb you, so I bunked in among the fresh straw."

"Why!" shouted Bruce, enlightened, grabbing the old man and giving him a friendly hug, "you're Hubert Vance!"

"What's left of me," asserted his visitor, grimly, swinging a bandaged arm and pointing to a lacerated ear. "You act as if you were really glad to see me."

"Don't you ever doubt it!" said Bruce briskly. "Lettie!" he called towards the house, "Here's the good old friend we've been expecting for over a week."

Uncle Hubert Vance slipped into harmony with the domestic economy of the family readily and comfortably. He had been for ten years a commercial agent in Belgium, had acquired quite some property, had shared in the frightful descent of the enemy upon that country, and had narrowly escaped with his life. The lads of the neighborhood learned all this, and many a breathless juvenile audience he entertained with stories of the conflict that had robbed him of his wealth.

One thrilling incident in his adventurous career he loved to dwell over. It was where a shell came through a window in a room where he was sitting. Just in time he sprang at the messenger of death rolling across the floor, seized its spluttering fuse and snipped off and extinguished its burning end.

"I've kept that shell as a memento," the old man would continue loquaciously. And then he would take them to the old shed and show them, high up on a special shelf, the round black object, the sight of which aroused their fertile fancies, later dwelling upon the frightful havoc an accidental explosion would create in the peaceful subdivision tract.

The old man was failing fast. Bruce and Lettie noticed it, and he himself was aware of the fact.

"I'm not going to stay long with you, children," he told them one evening, "and I hope when I'm gone there will be something left to repay you for all your great kindness to me. You see, there's a big indemnity covering my destroyed property in Belgium; if it is ever paid. I'm going to have a talk with you all about it in a day or two," but the next day the old man was found seated in his favorite porch chair, dead, but with a peaceful smile on his old, furrowed face.

Never a word did Bruce utter as to the expense the old man had been to him, and Lettie loved him all the more dearly for it. Their little one had come along the first month of Mr. Vance's stay with them. They had named the child after him, and rapturously he had hinted at the provisions he should make for his namesake, "when he got his business affairs in shape."

One morning, a few weeks later, Lettie was at a neighbor's with the baby. She had placed the little one asleep on a cushion, when her hostess came hurrying into the room where she was.

"Oh, Mrs. Manton!" she cried, excitedly, "the high grass of your lot is all on fire. Some of those mischievous boys, I fear—and your shed is ablaze!"

Lettie ran out to the door to share the agitation of her informant. She could see, half a mile away, the flames sweeping about the shed and darting over it toward the house.

"Mind the baby!" she cried sharply, and started across the prairie in the direction of home. Half the distance accomplished, Lettie halted with a vivid shock. Of a sudden, a frightful detonation rent the air. She saw the shed scattered in fragments in every direction and some of the burning debris hurled to the roof of the house.

"The bomb!" she fluttered. "The bomb that Uncle Hubert stored in the shed! Oh, the house is doomed, too!"

An hour later no trace of the cherished little home was visible. Lettie wept bitterly and Bruce looked grave and worried, as they stood regarding the ruin about them.

"Don't despair," Bruce tried to tell her cheeringly. "You know 'through heart-wreck and home-wreck the happy sparrows build—'"

"Oh, Mr. Manton! here's a funny little iron box Ned Devon just poked out of the ashes of the old shed," announced Lettie's small brother, who was one of the crowd of curious youngsters attracted to the scene.

"H. V.," traced Bruce, inspecting the box. "Why, those are your uncle's initials, Lettie. He must have hidden it in the shed. It's strong and solid and can't be opened without the key."

"I wonder what is in it?" murmured Lettie.

They took it to the house of a neighbor where they were to pass the night, and Bruce made an attack on the box with chisel and hammer. At length he succeeded in battering off the cover. A card showed first. "For my niece and her baby," it read.

Bonds, bank notes, some diamonds and a bag of gold pieces, an old watch, in turn amazed Bruce as he examined the contents of the box—a timely legacy that meant that Uncle Hubert had not boasted vainly when he had hinted at repayment for their unselfish kindness.

Old North English Dialect.

A strange set of numerals was used by the elder generation of farmers in one of our northern dales, especially for counting sheep, says the London Chronicle, and the procedure was as follows: A gap was made in the wall just wide enough to admit one sheep at a time, and as the sheep were driven through the farmer counted them, making a notch in his stick at every 15. Phonetically the numerals sound like "yann, tane, tether, mether, pip, sax, sane, catterer, wheeler, dick, yanner-dick, tane-er-dick, tether-dick, mether-dick, boomfit." "Boomfit" was fifteen, and so a notch was made in the stick, and the strange chant began all over again.

MUMMIFIED SNAKE IN LOG

Reptile Hermetically Sealed in Heart of Walnut Timber Discovered at Sawmill.

Trapped in a chamber in the heart of a walnut tree, which had evidently been its winter home, a blacksnake was found mummified in the hermetically sealed tomb after a lapse of 20 or more years. The layers of new timber formation indicated the period of the reptile's imprisonment.

A handsome walnut log two and one-half feet in diameter, shipped to a mill at Johnson City, Tenn., from Waynesville, N. C., held the imprisoned coil of the dead snake. To the eye the log was perfect. After the carriage had passed back and forth a time or two the saw uncapped a beautifully polished vacuum, with a dark coil lying within. Lifted out, the coil proved to be the preserved form of a snake. Exposure to air caused a sudden shrinkage.

"The snake had undoubtedly crawled into the tree through a hole made by a broken limb that had decayed at the base," said M. L. Seifers, a member of the company operating the mill. "The new layers of timber, which had enveloped the opening, were of a thickness to indicate a growth of probably 20 years since the snake entered the cavity to find the exit suddenly closed against its escape, probably due to the dropping of a small piece of bark which covered the opening."

ALCOHOL FROM BANANAS NOW

Culls of the Fruit to Be Distilled by Americans, Who Will Erect Plant at Honduras.

Bananas suitable for export must always be of a certain size or number of hands. The rejection of smaller bunches by the fruit companies has always been a source of complaint and also of loss to the planters. It is now proposed to use them in the manufacture of alcohol, says a report made by Consul E. M. Lawton at Tegucigalpa, Honduras.

By executive order, the president of Honduras, has signed a contract by which an American of long experience in the fruit business in the tropics, representing a company of American capitalists, is granted the right to erect a distillery at San Pedro Sula, Honduras. The concessionaire has deposited $25,000 with the government as an earnest of good faith, which is to be credited toward export duties on the alcohol at three cents gold per gallon.

The company proposes to supply planters with funds for planting sugar cane on the worn-out banana lands, and will also distill from the cane, the bagasse of which is to be used in the manufacture of paper. Experiments will be made in the manufacture of paper from banana waste.

Irishmen at the Front.

The first American officer to be killed in France was Lieutenant Fitzsimmons of Kansas City, who lost his life when German airmen bombed hospitals in the rear of the British line where he was stationed as a medical officer in charge of wounded. The first American noncommissioned officer to lose his life in the overseas expedition was Sergt. Patrick Cassidy, of Syracuse, N. Y. The first American private soldier to give up his life for his country in France was Private James Tracy of Philadelphia. The first American soldier to win the French war cross with palms, awarded for conspicuous gallantry, was Private John McClain of Peekskill, N. Y. All these young men, as their names indicate, were Americans of Irish descent which is a fair enough record, says the San Antonio Light, for the descendants of the Emerald Isle. All of them are said to have been native-born Americans, too.

Verdi Instead of Joseph.

Some years ago one of the members of the Trieste council was informed by a secret agent that, within a few hours' the city would be faced by a demand on the part of Austria for the erection of a statue of Emperor Francis Joseph in its principal square. A meeting of the city council was immediately called. It sat during the night hours, and passed a resolution affirming the intention of the city to put up a statue to Verdi on the very spot chosen by the hereditary enemy. On the following morning the demand of Austria was received, but the council replied that their decision was already taken, and that it could not be revoked. The people of Trieste see in the statue of the great Italian composer, observes a correspondent, a symbol of Irredentism, not only because of Verdi's nationality, but because the five letters of the name Verdi stand for "Viva el Re d' Italia."

The Ruse.

"Carl Liebknecht, the German socialist," said a socialist at Cooper Union, "had, before the war begun, many wily ways of bamboozling the German government, but, of course, after the war started, a man of his liberal views couldn't possibly keep out of jail.

"I once heard Liebknecht make a fiery speech against the kaiser in Berlin. A police official, seated on the platform, rose in the middle of the speech, and whispered in the orator's ear. Liebknecht turned to the audience and said:

"'The police official on the platform commands me to retract the words I have just spoken. True words should never be retracted. Let us, however, make a concession. Let us retract the word, but keep the idea.'"

The Man Without a Country

By

Edward Everett Hale

This Story Is Furnished This Newspaper Through the Publicity Department of the Commission of Public Safety.

[No document in actual American history conveys a more powerful lesson of what citizenship in this republic means, none delivers a more searching appeal to loyalty, than this fanciful recital of the Man Without a Country. The unhappy creature whose living death it has graved upon the memory of mankind was but a figure born of a writer's imagination. Yet, the account of his passionate outburst and of his dreadful expiation stirs the dullest soul, and will awaken emotion in the minds of readers of generations yet unborn. There can be no more arresting lesson for the disloyal or the heedless, no more inspiring appeal to the spirit of true Americanism, than this memorable work of literary art and high-souled patriotism.]

I suppose that very few casual readers of the New York Herald of August 13th observed, in an obscure corner, among the "Deaths," the announcement:

"NOLAN. Died, on board U. S. Corvette Levant, Lat. 2° 11' S., Long. 131° W., on the 11th of May, Philip Nolan."

I happened to observe it, because I was stranded at the old Mission-house in Mackinac, waiting for a Lake Superior steamer which did not choose to come, and I was devouring, to the very stubble, all the current literature I could get hold of, even down to the deaths and marriages in the "Herald." My memory for names and people is good, and the reader will see, as he goes on, that I had reason enough to remember Philip Nolan. There are hundreds of readers who would have paused at that announcement, if the officer of the Levant who reported it had chosen to make it thus: "Died, May 11th, 'The Man without a Country.'" For it was as "The Man without a Country" that poor Philip Nolan had generally been known by the officers who had him in charge during some fifty years, as, indeed, by all the men who had sailed under them. I dare say there is many a man who has taken wine with him once a fortnight, in a three years' cruise, who never knew that his name was "Nolan," or whether the poor wretch had any name at all.

There can now be no possible harm in telling this poor creature's story. Reason enough there has been till now, ever since Madison's administration went out in 1817, for very strict secrecy, the secrecy of honor itself, among the gentlemen of the navy who have had Nolan in successive charge. And certainly it speaks well for the esprit de corps of the profession and the personal honor of its members, that to the press this man's story has been wholly unknown, and, I think, to the country at large also.

I have reason to think, from some investigations I made in the naval archives when I was attached to the bureau of construction, that every official report relating to him was burned when Ross burned the public buildings at Washington. One of the Tuckers, or possibly one of the Watsons, had Nolan in charge at the end of the war; and when, on returning from his cruise, he reported at Washington to one of the Crowninshields—who was in the navy department when he came home—he found that the department ignored the whole business. Whether they really knew nothing about it, or whether it was a non mi ricordo, determined on as a piece of policy, I do not know. But this I do know, that since 1817, and possibly before, no naval officer has mentioned Nolan in his report of a cruise.

As I say, there is no need for secrecy any longer. And now the poor creature is dead, it seems to me worth while to tell a little of his story, by way of showing young Americans of today what it is to be

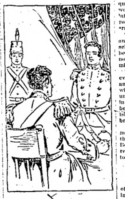
A MAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY.

Philip Nolan was as fine a young officer as there was in the "Legion of the West," as the western division of our army was then called. When Aaron Burr made his first dashing expedition down to New Orleans in 1805, at Fort Massac, or somewhere above on the river, he met, as the devil would have it, this gay, dashing, bright young fellow, at some dinner party, I think. Burr marked him, talked to him, walked with him, took him a day or two's voyage in his flatboat, and, in short, fascinated him. For the next year barrack life was very tame to poor Nolan. He occasionally availed of the permission the great man had given him to write to him. Long, high-worded, stilted letters the poor boy wrote and re-wrote and copied. But never a line did he have in reply from the gay deceiver. The other boys in the garrison sneered at him, because he sacrificed in this unrequited affection for a politician the time which they devoted to Monongahela, sledge, and high-low-jack. Bourbon, euchre, and poker were still unknown. But one day Nolan had his revenge. This time Burr came down the river, not as an attorney seeking a place for his office, but as a disguised conqueror. He had defeated I know not how many district attorneys; he had dined at I know not how many public dinners; he had been heralded in I know not how many Weekly Arguses; and it was rumored that he had an army behind him and an empire before him. It was a great day—his arrival—to poor Nolan. Burr had not been at the fort an hour before he sent for him. That evening he asked Nolan to take him out in his skiff, to show him a cane-brake or a cottonwood tree, as he said, really to seduce him; and by the time the sail was over, Nolan was enlisted body and soul. From that time, though he did not yet know it, he lived as "A Man without a Country."

What Burr meant to do I know no more than you, dear reader. It is none of our business just now. Only, when the grand catastrophe came, and Jefferson and the House of Virginia of that day undertook to break on the wheel all the possible Clarences of the then House of York, by the great treason trial at Richmond, some of the lesser fry in that distant Mississippi valley, which was farther from us than Puget Sound is today, introduced the like novelty on their provincial stage, and, to while away the monotony of the summer at Fort Adams, got up, for spectacles, a string of court-martials on the officers there. One and another of the colonels and majors were tried, and, to fill out the list, little Nolan, against whom, heaven knows, there was evidence enough, that he was sick of the service, had been willing to be false to it, and would have obeyed any order to march anywhither with anyone who would follow him, had the order only been signed, "By command of His Exc. A. Burr." The courts dragged on. The big flies escaped, rightly for all I know. Nolan was proved guilty enough, as I say; yet you and I would never have heard of him, reader, but that, when the president of the court asked him at the close, whether he wished to say anything to show that he had always been faithful to the United States, he cried out, in a fit of frenzy:

"D——n the United States! I wish I may never hear of the United States again!"

I suppose he did not know how the words shocked old Colonel Morgan, who was holding the court. Half the officers who sat in it had served through the Revolution, and their lives, not to say their necks, had been risked for the very idea which he so cavalierly cursed in his madness. He, on his part, had grown up in the West of those days, in the midst of "Spanish plot," "Orleans plot," and all the rest. His education, such as it was, had been perfected in commercial expeditions to Vera Cruz, and I think he told me his father once hired an Englishman to be a private tutor for a winter on the plantation. He had spent half his youth with an older brother, hunting horses in Texas; and, in a word, to him "United States" was scarcely a reality. Yet he had been fed by "United States" for all the years since he had been in the army. He had sworn on his faith as a Christian to be true to "United States." It was "United States" which gave him the uniform he wore, and the sword by his side. Nay, my poor Nolan, it was only because "United States" had picked you out first as one of her own confidential men of honor, that "A. Burr" cared for you a straw more than for the flatboat men who sailed his ark for him. I do not excuse Nolan; I only explain to the reader why he damned his country, and wished he might never hear her name again.



"I Wish I May Never Hear of the United States Again!"

He never did hear her name but once again. From that moment, September 23, 1807, till the day he died, May 11, 1863, he never heard her name again. For that half century and more he was a man without a country.

Old Morgan, as I said, was terribly shocked. If Nolan had compared George Washington to Benedict Arnold, or had cried, "God save King George," Morgan would not have felt worse. He called the court into his private room, and returned in fifteen minutes, with a face like a sheet, to say:

"Prisoner, hear the sentence of the court. The court decides, subject to the approval of the president, that you never hear the name of the United States again."

Nolan laughed. But nobody else laughed. Old Morgan was too solemn, and the whole room was hushed dead as night for a minute. Even Nolan lost his swagger in a moment. Then Morgan added: "Mr. Marshal, take the prisoner to Orleans in an armed boat, and deliver him to the naval commander there."

The marshal gave his orders, and the prisoner was taken out of court.

"Mr. Marshal," continued old Morgan, "see that no one mentions the United States to the prisoner. Mr. Marshal, make my respects to Lieutenant Mitchell at Orleans, and request him to order that no one shall mention the United States to the prisoner while he is on board ship. You will receive your written orders from the officer on duty here this evening. The court is adjourned without day."

I have always supposed that Colonel Morgan himself took the proceedings of the court to Washington City, and explained them to Mr. Jefferson. Certain it is that the president approved them, certain, that is, if I may believe the men who say they have seen his signature.

The plan then adopted was substantially the same which was necessarily followed ever after. Perhaps it was suggested by the necessity of sending him by water from Fort Adams and Orleans. The secretary of the navy was requested to put Nolan on board a government vessel bound on a long cruise, and to direct that he should be only so far confined there as to make it certain that he never saw or heard of the country. We had few long cruises then, and the navy was very much out of favor; and as almost all of this story is traditional, as I have explained, I do not know certainly what his first cruise was. But the commander to whom he was intrusted—perhaps it was Tingey or Shaw, though I think it was one of the younger men—we are all old enough now—regulated the etiquette and the precautions of the affair, and according to his scheme they were carried out, I suppose, till Nolan died.

When I was second officer of the Intrepid some thirty years after, I saw the original paper of instructions. I have been sorry ever since that I did not copy the whole of it. It ran, however, much in this way:

"Washington," (with the date, which must have been late in 1807).

"Sir—You will receive from Lieutenant Neale the person of Philip Nolan, late a lieutenant in the United States army.

"This person on his trial by court-martial expressed with an oath the wish that he might never hear of the United States again.

"The court sentenced him to have his wish fulfilled.

"For the present, the execution of the order is intrusted by the president of this department.

"You will take the prisoner on board your ship, and keep him there with such precautions as shall prevent his escape.

"You will provide him with such quarters, rations, and clothing as would be proper for an officer of his late rank, if he were a passenger on your vessel on the business of his government.

"The gentlemen on board will make any arrangements agreeable to themselves regarding his society. He is to be exposed to no indignity of any kind, nor is he ever unnecessarily to be reminded that he is a prisoner.

"But under no circumstances is he ever to hear of his country or to see any information regarding it; and you will especially caution all the officers under your command to take care that, in the various indulgences which may be granted, this rule, in which his punishment is involved, shall not be broken.

"It is the intention of the government that he shall never again see the country which he has disowned. Before the end of your cruise you will receive orders which will give effect to this intention.

"Respectfully yours,
"W. SOUTHARD,
"for the Secretary of the Navy."

If I had only preserved the whole of this paper, there would be no break in the beginning of my sketch of this story. For Captain Shaw, if it was he, handed it to his successor in the charge, and he to his.

The rule adopted on board the ships on which I have met "The Man without a Country" was, I think, transmitted from the beginning. No mess liked to have him permanently, because his presence cut off all talk of home or of the prospect of return, of politics or letters, of peace or of war—cut off more than half the talk men like to have at sea. But it was always thought too hard that he should never meet the rest of us, except to touch hats, and we finally sank into one system. He was not permitted to talk with the men unless an officer was by. With officers he had unrestrained intercourse, as far as they and he chose. But he grew shy, though he had favorites: I was one. Then the captain always asked him to dinner on Monday. Every mess in succession took up the invitation in its turn. According to the size of the ship, you had him at your mess more or less often at dinner. His breakfast he ate in his own stateroom, he always had a stateroom, which was where a sentinel, or somebody on the watch, could see the door. And whatever else he ate or drank he ate or drank alone. Sometimes, when the marines or sailors had any special jollification, they were permitted to invite "Plain-Buttons," as they called him. Then Nolan was sent with some officer, and the men were forbidden to speak of home while he was there. They called him "Plain-Buttons," because, while he always chose to wear a regulation army uniform, he was not permitted to wear the army button, for the reason that it bore either the initials or the insignia of the country he had disowned.

I remember, soon after I joined the navy, I was on shore with some of the older officers from our ship and from the Brandywine, which we had met at Alexandria. We had leave to make a party and go up to Cairo and the Pyramids. As we jogged along some of the gentlemen fell to talking about Nolan, and someone told the system which was adopted from the first about his books and other reading. As he was almost never permitted to go on shore, even though the vessel lay in port for months, his time, at the best, hung heavy; and everybody was permitted to lend him books, if they were not published in America and made no allusion to it. These were common enough in the old days, when people in the other hemisphere talked of the United States as little as we do of Paraguay. He had almost all the foreign papers that came into the ship, sooner or later; only somebody must go over them first, and cut out any advertisement or stray paragraph that alluded to America. Right in the midst of one of Napoleon's battles, or one of Canning's speeches, poor Nolan would find a great hole, because on the back of the page of that paper there had been an advertisement of a packet for New York, or a scrap from the president's message. I say this was the first time I ever heard of this plan, which afterwards I had enough, and more than enough, to do with. I remember it, because poor Phillips, who was of the party, as soon as the allusion to reading was made, told a story of something which happened at the Cape of Good Hope on Nolan's first voyage; and it is the only thing I ever knew of that voyage. They had touched at the Cape, and had done the civil thing with the English admiral and the fleet, and then, leaving for a long cruise up the Indian ocean, Phillips had borrowed a lot of English books from an officer, which, in those days, as indeed in these, was quite a windfall. Among them, as the Devil would order, was the "Lay of the Last Minstrel," which they had all of them heard of, but which most of them had never seen. I think it could not have been published long. Well, nobody thought there could be any risk of anything national in that, though Phillips swore old Shaw had cut out the "Tempest" from Shakespeare before he let Nolan have it, because he said, "The Bermudas ought to be ours and, by Jove, should be one day." So Nolan was permitted to join the circle one afternoon when a lot of them sat on deck smoking and reading aloud. People do not do such things so often now, but when I was young we got rid of a great deal of time so. Well, so it happened that in his turn Nolan took the book and read to the others; and he read very well, as I know. Nobody in the circle knew a line of the poem, only it was all magic and border chivalry, and was ten thousand years ago. Poor Nolan read steadily through the fifth canto, stopped a minute and drank something, and then began, without a thought of what was coming—

Breathes there the man, with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said—

It seems impossible to us that anybody ever heard this for the first time; but all these fellows did then, and poor Nolan himself went on, still unconsciously or mechanically—

This is my own, my native land!

Then they all saw something was to pay; but he expected to get through, I suppose, turned a little pale, but plunged on—

Whose heart hath ne'er within him burned,
As home his footsteps he hath turned
From wandering on a foreign strand?—
If such there breathe, go, mark him well.

By this time the men were all beside themselves, wishing there was any way to make him turn over two pages; but he had not quite presence of mind for that; he gagged a little, colored crimson, and staggered on:

For him no minstrel raptures swell;
High though his titles, proud his name,
Boundless his wealth as wish can claim,
Despite these titles, power and pelf,
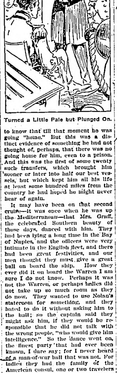
The wretch, concentered all in self,— and here the poor fellow choked, could not go on, but started up, swung the book into the sea, vanished into his stateroom, "and by Jove," said Phillips, "we did not see him for two months again. And I had to make up some beggarly story to that English surgeon why I did not return his Walter Scott to him."

That story shows about the time when Nolan's braggadocio must have broken down. At first, they said, he took a very high tone, considered his imprisonment a mere farce, affected to enjoy the voyage, and all that; but Phillips said that after he came out of his stateroom he never was the same man again. He never read aloud again, unless it was the Bible or Shakespeare, or something else he was sure of. But it was not that merely. He never entered in with the other young men exactly as a companion again. He was always shy afterward, when I knew him, very seldom spoke, unless he was spoken to, except to a very few friends. He lighted up occasionally, I remember late in his life hearing him fairly eloquent on something which had been suggested to him by one of Flechier's sermons, but generally he had the nervous, tired look of a heart-wounded man.

When Captain Shaw was coming home—if, as I say, it was Shaw—rather to the surprise of everybody they made one of the Windward islands, and lay off and on for nearly a week. The boys said the officers were sick of salt junk, and meant to have turtle soup before they came home. But after several days the Warren came to the same rendezvous; they exchanged signals; she sent to Phillips and these homeward-bound men letters and papers, and told them she was outward bound, perhaps to the Mediterranean, and took poor Nolan and his traps on the boat back to try his second cruise. He looked very blank when he was told to get ready to join her. He had known enough of the signs of the sky to know that till that moment he was going "home." But this was a distinct evidence of something he had not thought of, perhaps, that there was no going home for him, even to a prison. And this was the first of some twenty such transfers, which brought him sooner or later into half our best vessels, but which kept him all his life at least some hundred miles from the country he had hoped he might never hear of again.



Turned a Little Pale but Plunged On.

It may have been on that second cruise—it was once when he was up the Mediterranean—that Mrs. Graff, the celebrated Southern beauty of those days, danced with him. They had been lying a long time in the Bay of Naples, and the officers were very intimate in the English fleet, and there had been great festivities, and our men thought they must give a great ball on board the ship. How they ever did it on board the Warren I am sure I do not know. Perhaps it was not the Warren, or perhaps ladies did not take up so much room as they do now. They wanted to use Nolan's stateroom for something, and they hated to do it without asking him to the ball; so the captain said they might ask him, if they would be responsible that he did not talk with the wrong people, "who would give him intelligence." So the dance went on, the finest party that had ever been known, I dare say; for I never heard of a man-of-war ball that was not. For ladies they had the family of the American consul, one or two travelers who had adventured so far, and a nice bevy of English girls and matrons, perhaps Lady Hamilton herself.

Well, different officers relieved each other in standing and talking with Nolan in a friendly way, so as to be sure that nobody else spoke to him. The dancing went on with spirit, and after a while even the fellows who took this honorary guard of Nolan ceased to fear any contretemps. Only when some English lady—Lady Hamilton, as I said, perhaps, called for a set of "American dances," an odd thing happened. Everybody then danced contredances. The black band, nothing loath, conferred as to what "American dances" were, and started off with "Virginia Reel," which they followed with "Money-Musk," which, in its turn in those days, should have been followed by "The Old Thirteen." But just as Dick, the leader, tapped for his fiddlers to begin, and bent forward, about to say, in true negro state, "'The Old Thirteen,' gentlemen and ladies!" as he had said, "'Virginny Reel,' if you please!" "'Money-Musk,' if you please!" the captain's boy tapped him on the shoulder, whispered to him, and he did not announce the name of the dance; he merely bowed, began on the air, and they all fell to, the officers teaching the English girls the figure, but not telling them why it had no name.

But that is not the story I started to tell. As the dancing went on, Nolan and our fellows all got at ease, as I said, so much so that it seemed quite natural for him to bow to that splendid Mrs. Graff, and say:

"I hope you have not forgotten me, Miss Rutledge. Shall I have the honor of dancing?"

He did it so quickly that Shubrick, who was by him, could not hinder him. She laughed and said:

"I am not Miss Rutledge any longer, Mr. Nolan; but I will dance all the same," just nodded to Shubrick, as if to say he must leave Mr. Nolan to her, and led him off to the place where the dance was forming.

Nolan thought he had got his chance. He had known her at Philadelphia, and at other places had met her, and this was a godsend. You could not talk in contredances, as you do in cotillions, or even in the pauses of waltzing; but there were chances for tongues and sounds, as well as for eyes and blushes. He began with her travels, and Europe, and Vesuvius, and the French; and then, when they had worked down, and had that long talking time at the bottom of the set, he said boldly, a little pale, she said, as she told me the story, years after:

"And what do you hear from home, Mrs. Graff?"

And that splendid creature looked through him. Jove! how she must have looked through him! "Home!! Mr. Nolan!!! I thought you were the man who never wanted to hear of home again!" and she walked directly up the deck to her husband, and left poor Nolan alone, as he always was. —He did not dance again.

I cannot give any history of him in order; nobody can now; and, indeed, I am not trying to. These are the traditions, which I sort out, as I believe them, from the myths which have been told about this man for forty years. The fellows used to say he was the "Iron Mask;" and poor George Pons went to his grave in the belief that this was the author of "Junius," who was being punished for his celebrated libel on Thomas Jefferson. Pons was not very strong in the historical line. A happier story than either of these I have told is of the war. That came along soon after. I have heard this affair told in three or four ways, and, indeed, it may have happened more than once. But which ship it was on I cannot tell. However, in one, at least, of the great frigate duels with the English, in which the navy was really baptized, it happened that a round shot from the enemy entered one of our ports square, and took right down the officer of the gun himself, and almost every man of the gun's crew. Now you may say what you choose about courage, but that is not a nice thing to see. But as the men who were not killed picked themselves up, and the surgeon's people were carrying off the bodies, there appeared Nolan, in his shirt sleeves, with the rammer in his hand, and, just as if he had been the officer, told them off with authority, who should go to the cockpit with the wounded men, who should stay with him, perfectly cheery, and with that way which makes men feel sure all is right and is going to be right. And he finished loading the gun with his own hands, aimed it, and bade the men fire. And there he stayed, captain of that gun, keeping those fellows in spirits, till the enemy struck, sitting on the carriage while the gun was cooling, though he was exposed all the time, showing them easier ways to handle heavy shot, making the raw hands laugh at their own blunders, and when the gun cooled again, getting it loaded and fired twice as often as any other gun on the ship. The captain walked forward, by way of encouraging the men, and Nolan touched his hat and said:

"I am showing them how we do this in the artillery, sir."

And this is a part of the story where all the legends agree; that the commodore said:

"I see you do, and I thank you, sir; and I shall never forget this day, sir, and you never shall, sir."

And after the whole thing was over, and he had the Englishman's sword, in the midst of the state and ceremony of the quarterdeck, he said:

"Where is Mr. Nolan? Ask Mr. Nolan to come here."

And when Nolan came, the captain said:

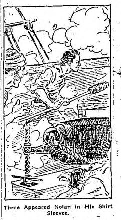
"Mr. Nolan, we are all very grateful to you today; you are one of us today; you will be named in the dispatches."

And then the old man took off his own sword of ceremony, and gave it to Nolan, and made him put it on. The man told me this who saw it. Nolan cried like a baby, and well he might. He had not worn a sword since that infernal day at Fort Adams. But always afterward, on occasions of ceremony, he wore that quaint old French sword of the commodore's.

The captain did mention him in the dispatches. It was always said he asked that he might be pardoned. He wrote a special letter to the secretary of war. But nothing ever came of it. As I said, that was about the time when they began to ignore the whole transaction at Washington, and when Nolan's imprisonment began to carry itself on because there was nobody to stop it without any new orders from home.

I have heard it said that he was with Porter when he took possession of the Nukahiwa islands. Not this Porter, you know, but old Porter, his father, Essex Porter, that is, the old Essex Porter, not this Essex. As an artillery officer, who had seen service in the West, Nolan knew more about fortifications, embrasures, ravelines, stockades, and all that, than any of them did; and he worked with a right good will in fixing that battery all right. I have always thought it was a pity Porter did not leave him in command there with Gamble. That would have settled all the question about his punishment. We should have kept the islands, and at this moment we should have one station in the Pacific ocean. Our French friends, too, when they wanted this little watering place, would have found it was pre-occupied. But Madison and the Virginians, of course, flung all that away.

All that was near fifty years ago. If Nolan was thirty then, he must have been near eighty when he died. He looked sixty when he was forty. But he never seemed to me to change a hair afterward. As I imagine his life, from what I have seen and heard of it, he must have been in every sea, and yet almost never on land. He must have known in a formal way, more officers in our service than any man living knows. He told me once, with a grave smile, that no man in the world lived so methodical a life as he. "You know the boys say I am the Iron Mask, and you know how busy he was." He said it did not do for anyone to try to read all the time, more than to do anything else all the time; but that he read just five hours a day. "Then," he said, "I keep up my notebooks, writing in them at such and such hours, from what I have been reading; and I include in them my scrapbooks." These were very curious indeed. He had six or eight, of different subjects. There was one of history, one of natural science, one which he called "Odds and Ends." But they were not merely books of extracts from newspapers. They had bits of plants and ribbons, shells tied on, and carved scraps of bone and wood, which he had taught the men to cut for him, and they were beautifully illustrated. He drew admirably. He had some of the funniest drawings there, and some of the most pathetic, that I have ever seen in my life. I wonder who will have Nolan's scrapbooks.



There Appeared Nolan in His Shirt Sleeves.

Well, he said his reading and his notes were his profession, and that they took five hours and two hours respectively of each day. "Then," said he, "every man should have a diversion as well as a profession. My natural history is my diversion." That took two hours a day more. The men used to bring him birds and fish, but on a long cruise he had to satisfy himself with centipedes and cockroaches and such small game. He was the only naturalist I ever met who knew anything about the habits of the house fly and the mosquito. All those people can tell you whether they are Lepidoptera or Steptopotera; but as for telling how you can get rid of them, or how they get away from you when you strike them, why, Linnaeus knew as little of that as John Foy, the idiot, did. These nine hours made Nolan's regular daily "occupation." The rest of the time he talked or walked. Till he grew very old, he went aloft a great deal. He always kept up his exercise and I never heard that he was ill. If any other man was ill, he was the kindest nurse in the world; and he knew more than half the surgeons do. Then if anybody was sick or died, or if the captain wanted him to on any other occasion, he was always ready to read prayers. I have remarked that he read beautifully.

WAR CAMP DRIVE A GREAT SUCCESS

RESPONSE TO REQUEST OF KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS IS GENERAL.

TOTAL NEAR SIX HUNDRED

ENERGETIC COMMITTEE CLOSES WORK UP IN VERY SHORT TIME.

The committee having charge of the war camp fund drive of the Knights of Columbus have reported that the total sum secured as a result of their efforts amounts to $573.50 which has been sent to district headquarters in Crookston. The campaign was carried on by volunteer solicitors and they closed up their work in record time. The officers having the campaign in charge were F. C. Nicial, president; Joseph Perdzock, secretary and M. C. Harlow, treasurer.

At the organization meeting the list was circulated and $245 was secured before the solicitors began work. The result is highly satisfactory and the Knights as well as the committee directly in charge wish to thank those who aided by their contributions in this most important cause.

Minnesota

Dear Uncle Sam:-
In the land of my birth I was oppressed and I had nothing. I heard of the freedom in America and of the opportunities and I came here.
Now I have a home of my own and a family. We enjoy the freedom here and we are glad we are Americans
You gave me ALL I have;
now you are welcome to it.

GENUINE LOYALTY

AND NOW THEY ARE COOKING TOBACCO TO MAKE IT BETTER

For a good many years The American Tobacco Company have been conducting a series of experiments, having as their object the improvement of smoking tobacco.

And it is interesting to know that one of the greatest of their discoveries was one of the simplest, and that was, that cooking or toasting tobacco improved it in every way, just as cooking most foods improves them.

They took a real Burley tobacco, grown in this country; toasted it as you would toast bread; moistened it to replace the natural moisture driven off by toasting; made it into cigarettes, called them "LUCKY STRIKE, the toasted cigarette," and offered them to the public.

The result has been the greatest demand ever created for any tobacco product in a similar length of time.

The change produced by toasting is not only most wholesome, but the flavor is greatly improved, just as cooking improves meat, for example.

MINNESOTA TAKING LEAD IN RECRUITS

MORE THAN 600 MEN ENLISTED IN REGULAR ARMY DURING JANUARY.

"Minnesota is slowly but surely climbing to the head of the list, in the matter of securing recruits for the United States army," said Major John D. Yost, recruiting officer of the Minnesota district, recently in discussing recruiting activities in the state. During the month of January about 600 men were enlisted from this state for service in the regular army. Indications at the present time are that the month of February will produce an even greater number. Up to the middle of the month 350 men had been secured, and recruiting was quite active at all stations.

The gradual climb in Minnesota started, according to Major Yost, with the inception of Civilian Recruiting committees. About 30 committees have been organized in the district, and they have proved untiring in their efforts to secure men for the army. The sinking of the Tuscania with the loss a hundred Americans, acted as a stimulus to recruiting and the active participation of U. S. forces, is holding the sector of the line in France has done much to arouse the fighting spirit of all. Dozens of men who already have passed the three score year mark have applied for enlistment at the various stations in the state and were genuinely disappointed when informed by the officers that their age was the only thing that barred them from service.

The needs of the army, which can only be supplied by men, men and more men, are increasing daily. Every branch of the service is calling for men. Mechanics, farmers, horsemen, clerks—in fact men of every known trade or profession are needed immediately if America is to emerge from the present struggle victorious.

An exhibit of war relics picked up on the battlefields of Europe, which was recently displayed at the army booth during the Minneapolis auto show, and is now being shown at the Duluth auto show, will be used by Major Yost to awaken further interest in recruiting. The exhibit in charge of a competent man will be sent to all parts of the state to acquaint the public with some of the devices used in modern warfare and also with the general equipment of the U. S. Infantryman. It proved one of the biggest drawing cards at both the Minneapolis and Duluth shows, and will doubtless do much to aid recruiting in the state.

LIBRARY NOTES

In order to meet the demand for information concerning the national service work the Carnegie library has secured from the committee on public information at Washington the National Service Handbook for the use of those who would become better acquainted with their duties to their country at this time. This book is issued under authority of the secretary of state, secretary of the treasury, secretary of war, secretary of the navy, and George Creel, and is the authentic publication of the government on this subject. The committee finds it impossible to send copies of this book to all who might wish it and has decided that the best way to reach the people is through the public libraries.

Croup

"I don't think there is a more anxious time for parents than when their children have croup. Without they are prepared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they must wait for the doctor and listen to the choking, metallic cough and watch their little one gasping for breath.

You know the great danger of croup is the formation of a false membrane in the larynx, and until this is expelled relief cannot be obtained, and the spasmodic choking continues. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in frequent doses. It will loosen this membrane and cause the child to expel it by vomiting.

"Gramy" Chamberlain

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is an absolutely safe and certain remedy for croup, and if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack."

A VISIT TO THE OAKLAND PARK SANATORIUM

While in Thief River Falls the other day, your correspondent thought it would be a wise way of spending a little time visiting our Tri-County Sanatorium, which is now called, we believe, "The Oakland Park Sanatorium." We also have a relative at the sanatorium whom we wished to see.

The Sanatorium is located about a mile south of Thief River Falls. About half way down there to our great surprise, we were met by this very relative, in company with the Superintendent, Miss Fletcher. After being introduced we were cordially invited to proceed to the Sanatorium, which invitation we gladly accepted.

In approaching we were greatly impressed by the mansion-like and impressive architectural appearance of the building constructed of dark brown brick, with all the wood-work trimmed in pure white. It certainly has a most beautiful appearance.

Located on a point where the river flows around it almost entirely and with a beautiful oak grove surrounding it, the finding of a better location for an institution of this kind would certainly have been a difficult matter.

Entering the building we came first into what is called the reception room. This is a big and very striking apartment, equipped with many conveniences for the patients. Among the most noteworthy, we found a nice big open fireplace, which certainly added greatly to the comfortable looks of the room.

We were now met by one of the nurses, Miss Meliander, who, after the usual introduction ceremony was ended, most cordially invited us to a look through the entire building, and also offered herself as a guide, which offer we gladly accepted.

The first division to be visited was the mechanical department, located in the basement and also the laundry. In entering this department we were met by an old acquaintance, Mr. Christ Rundtom, who takes care of the machinery. We do not hesitate in congratulating the institution in securing Mr. Rundtom as the man for this job as we feel assured that this department will be perfectly taken care of by such an able mackinist.

From there we went up on the first floor, looking through the different rooms and apartments, all of which were found in the highest state of cleanliness and sanitation.

Having finished our inspection tour on the first floor, we were taken by our genial guide to the upper floor which is mainly arranged as sleeping rooms for the patients, with the exception of the Superintendent's office and the nurses' apartment. Both these last mentioned we were invited to inspect, and permit us to say that as far as equipments and accomodations to servants go, in order to facilitate their several duties, nothing with good reason could be added.

The house is brilliantly lighted with electric lights. A very powerful light is installed in every room and in every sleeping room a smaller light was conveniently arranged at every bed. This was called the reading light and was within easy reach of the occupant of the bed.

With the exception of the nurses' apartment, the floors of the entire building are of stone. We are unable to say just what kind of stone, but it was fine, granite-like and glossy. Besides being much more sanitary than a wooden floor, it certainly in a great measure adds to the cleanliness and attractive appearance of the interior.

At present there are only six patients at this sanatorium, but there is room for twenty-four.

Speaking to some of the patients, none had anything but the highest praise for the institution and its nurses, superintendent, doctors and the accomodation in general. Not a single complaint was heard.

At this time, when the whole world, we might say, is bent on so much of destructive work, it is certainly a pleasure to find some people inclined to lending the sick and ill-fated, a helping hand, and towards this, the people of Roseau, Marshall and Pennington counties, certainly have done all that could be expected.

To one and all who has the slightest idea that his or her condtion is not just right with reference to tuberculosis, I would say: by all means do not wait, but take the necessary steps to assure you of a place in this sanatorium and if your case is not too far advanced, you will in all probability, return to your home permanently cured.

More could be said and more credit given to this sanatorium for its endeavor to stamp out this dreadful disease, but seeing our article is getting rather lengthy and fearing that if too long, nothing of it will be seen, we have only one more word to say. When you are in Thief River Falls, go down and visit this sanatorium, speak to the patients and to the employees of the place, show that you are interested in what they are doing and I am sure your visit will be welcomed. With the best wishes for the success of the Oakland Park Sanatorium, I am yours truly,

ALFRED FORSLUND.

WAR TALKS

By UNCLE DAN

Number Four

Military Training Necessary for Safety and Defense.

"Say, Uncle Dan," said Billie, "Jimmie and I have been looking up about war in the encyclopedia at school. We found that in the war between Germany and France in 1870-71, Germany lost in killed and wounded 28,000 soldiers while France lost about six times as many, and besides that, she lost every battle. We asked Professor Slocum why this was. He said that the German army was highly trained and ably commanded, while the French soldiers were poorly trained; and that their war department was honeycombed with jealousy and politics; that the officers were not much good, and that's why France lost the war and so many men. What do you think about it, Uncle Dan?"

"Well," said Uncle Dan, "Professor Slocum is right. By inefficiency France lost that war, together with two of her best provinces—Alsace and Lorraine—and had to pay a billion dollars indemnity money. France today learned her lesson by that sad experience, so she put in universal military training, and as a result, her soldiers now know how to fight and how to protect themselves. They are losing less men in the war than the Germans. France also put politics out of her war department, so that expert authority, instead of bureaucratic stupidity, now directs the army. The result is, France has one of the best and most efficient armies every assembled, and this shows what thorough training and good leadership means in warfare. This saved France in this crisis, as well as the liberties of the world."

"As war is now conducted, there is no place for an untrained man. A body of 10,000 well trained soldiers properly handled could defeat five times their number of raw recruits and do it every time with comparatively small loss to themselves. Proper training alone will reduce the death and casualty rate one-third of what it otherwise would be, and right here is an unanswerable argument for universal military training.

"Our government has no moral right to force her men into war service without properly training them for it. To do so is simply murder, hence the frantic effort that is now being made to give her soldiers some training before they are sent to the front. If we are to win this war, it will take trained men to do it, and it will take trained men to win any other war that may come upon us in the future. If we must fight, let us fight to win and not to lose."

"That's the stuff," said Billie.

Continuing, Uncle Dan said: "Our government has expended about $300,000,000 to put up cantonments and training stations in order to train the men called by the selective draft. When these men are trained the training stations should be immediately filled with younger men, say those in their nineteenth year, to receive six months of intensive military training along the lines of the Chamberlain bill. This will be of immeasurable benefit to them individually. It will do them more good than any other two years of their whole life; it will make them strong, manly, self-reliant, quick to see and quick to act; it will equip them for a successful life. In short, it will rebuild American manhood and will also give the government a body of trained men to draw from in case it is necessary to defend our flag and country. We must settle this question of universal military training immediately, otherwise these training camps may be demolished. The adoption of universal military training will be notice to the world that from then on we will be prepared to defend ourselves promptly and efficiently, and this will do more to keep us out of war in the future than anything else we could do."

"Do you think, brother," said Mrs. Graham, "that there will ever be another war?"

"I have no doubt about it," said Uncle Dan. "So long as men are selfish, so long as nations are ambitious to acquire territory, so long as population presses and demands more room, so long as there remains a scramble for world trade—so long wars will be. When the time comes that we reach the high plane for which we hope and dream, when all will recognize the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, then, and then only, will wars cease. When that day comes doors will need no locks, banks will need no vaults to protect their treasures, but that day is a long way off.

"The only safe and sane plan is to be able to defend ourselves at all times. Therefore, every citizen should insist that senators and congressmen shall provide for universal military training, so that never again shall the country be caught so completely unready as this war found us. Fortunately, in this case, our enemy has been held back, so we have had a few months in which to prepare. This advantage probably will never come again. It is however our salvation today.

"Because she was ready, Switzerland is an island of peace in a sea of war. Safety first is good, but safety always is better. In strength there is safety. You never saw a tin can tied to the tail of a bulldog. There is a reason."

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

SOCIETY

Club Meeting Monday—

The regular meeting of the Woman's club was held at the Commercial club rooms on Monday afternoon. The matter of using the $19 made at the Hetland entertainment in the purchase of thrift stamps was approved and it was decided to take $10 from the clubs Red Cross fund to buy material with which to make clothing for Belgian women and children. The work is being attended to by the women of the club at their homes. Work done in the Red Cross rooms on Friday is accredited to the Woman's club, which is an auxiliary of the Red Cross, but any woman doing work in the Red Cross rooms any day in the week who wishes the club credited for her efforts will be granted the request. After the business meeting the club listened to a splendid piano solo, "Kamnenoi-Ostrow," by Rubenstein, played by Miss Ethelyn Gaylord, and a very interesting paper was read on "The Russian Revolution," by Mrs. F. H. Gambell.

B. R. E. Lodge Social—

The monthly social gathering of the local B. R. E. lodge was held last Wednesday evening in the form of a box social in the I. O. O. F. hall. Dancing commenced at 9:30 and continued until midnight, when delicious refreshments prepared by John C. Bird were served. Mr. and Mrs. H. Peterson furnished the dance music for the evening. The great success of the social is accredited to Bros. Vevea and Williamson, who endeavored to the utmost of their abilities to show the members and guests an enjoyable time. No definite arrangements have as yet been made for the next meeting but it is very probable that another social evening of this kind will be planned for the very near future.

For Mrs. Warner—

A parcel shower was given at the home of Mrs. Leon Babcock, 306 Red Lake boulevard, Saturday evening by a number of girls in honor of Mrs. Alfred Warner, nee Miss Rose Moran, who was married Feb. 12. The guests were: Mesdames Julien Provencher, Ernest O'Neill, Elmer Ohm, Ole Offerdahl, Olaf Erickson, Martin Lundgren, and Mrs. Fisher, who is a guest at the Olaf Erickson home; the Misses Gertrude Nelson, Anna Brokke, Blanche Chittick, Sophia Hoyum, Lillian Provencher, Gladys Fellman, Olga Knutson and Elsie Bundhund.

Miss Zella Zeh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Zeh of this city, who is attending the North Dakota State university, has been chosen as a first soprano in the "U" glee club and will accompany the club on a concert tour of the state. By severe competition twenty-two young ladies were selected for the tour and the honor of being chosen is thus a distinct recognition of Miss Zeh's ability as a vocalist.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT HELPS PAY FOR BREAD

There has been much misunderstanding about the bread program in England. It is true that the Englishman buys a loaf of bread for less than an American can, but it is poorer bread, and the British government is paying $200,000,000 a year toward the cost of it.

All the grain grown in Great Britain is taken over by the government at an arbitrary price and the imported wheat purchased on the markets at the prevailing market price. This is turned over to the mills by the government at a price that allows the adulterated war bread loaf of four pounds to sell at 18 cents, the two pound loaf at 9 cents and the one pound loaf at [illegible] cents.

In France, under conditions somewhat similar, but with a larger extraction, the four pound loaf sells for 16 cents.

MAKING MEATLESS DAYS PERMANENT.

In the meatless menu there is a fertile field for developing new and nourishing dishes, according to E. H. Niles, writing in the Hotel Gazette, who believes that the present shortage of meat and fats will not end with the coming of peace, but may grow more acute and continue for five or six years, thus making it worth while to develop menus of grain, vegetables and fish on a more or less permanent basis. Meat can be replaced by cereals and other protein foods, or may be served in very small portions as a flavoring for other food. In making up meatless menus this author finds our American Creole and southern cuisine a broad field for investigation.

PRIME MINISTER'S DAY OFF

Lloyd George Has Been Known to Dig Out a Badger Just as a Holiday Pastime.

The picturesque account which has been given of the prime minister's agricultural activities on the Sussex farm on the occasion of his recent vacation is probably suggestive only of the versatility displayed by him in the matter of holiday making.

Mr. Lloyd George has been even known to dig out a badger, says London Tit-Bits. In the vestibule of his official residence may be seen a magnificent stuffed specimen which he helped to bring to the surface some years ago on Lord Cowdray's estates in the same county.

It is doubtful, indeed, whether, except in the matter of arboriculture pursuits, the present prime minister has derived a precedent from any of his predecessors. The nearest approach, perhaps, is Mr. Balfour, who goes in for farming at his Scottish home at Whittingehame, where some splendid cattle have been turned out.

The late Lord Salisbury found his principal source of recreation away from the cares of office in his laboratory at Hatfield house, where he followed the peculiar bent of his family in scientific and electrical pursuits.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, who was an omnivorous reader, was never so happy as when staying at his beloved Dover; Mr. Asquith is credited with a passion for novel reading; Lord Rosebery, whose literary tastes are well known, spends most of his time between Mentmore and his Scottish seat; while Mr. Gladstone, when not at Dollis hill, enjoyed a sea trip or a sojourn at some east coast resort.

GREAT CANAL IS PLANNED

Forth and Clyde Waterway Has Been Under Consideration by British for Several Years.

There has been vaguely before the public for some years a great scheme—the Forth and Clyde canal—writes a correspondent of the London Times. Germany did not declare war until the Kiel canal was completed. There can be no question that if—during these last three years—we had been able to move ships quickly and safely from one side of Scotland to the other it would have been to our benefit. That benefit will always obtain, but I am not now talking of mere transit, but of new town planning possibilities—a calculated incentive to expansion for those who wish to live under the most modern conditions, unhampered by what we now consider the mistakes of the past.

Seven years ago the government was given powers to make a road where it pleased and acquire the land on either side of it for development. Let them now consider taking their courage in both hands and themselves driving across Scotland a canal for ocean-going ships. Along its banks there would arise during its construction roads and rails and power stations, together with the houses of the men making all these. Later would follow the factories, and we should eventually have a lineal state garden city, seaport, manufacturing, residential, up-to-date and uncongestible. It would be a governmental experiment in spreading the people for their advantage.

Submarine's Lifeboat.

For a long time attempts have been made to evolve some sensible scheme for permitting a crew to escape when a submarine sinks, gets ensnared in a net, or for some reason becomes unmanageable while under water. An invention that has lately been protected by patents is described in Popular Mechanics. It is a lifeboat and, in reality, a small auxiliary submarine that normally is held in a concave seat constructed in the top part of the large craft. Water-tight hatchways are provided in each of the vessels, so that access from one to the other of them is possible. It is intended to offer a safe retreat for some thirty persons. Electric and gasoline motors would propel it and give it a radius of action estimated at about 500 miles. In the event of accident, members of the crew would enter the lifeboat, close the hatchways, free the small craft by unscrewing two large bolts that anchor it to the larger one, and rise to the surface.

She Obeyed Orders.

Some time ago, before we all got so dreadfully economical, a mistress told her new Scandinavian kitchen girl never to leave in the refrigerator anything old or left over, but to keep it clean and fresh by throwing away the old things every morning.

On the day following, the mistress happened to look out of the window and she noticed something peculiar in the yard. Calling Hulda she asked: "What is that and how did it get there?"

"That's the old ice, ma'am, left over from yesterday," answered Hilda. "I threw it away lak you tol' me."—Boston Transcript.

Automatic Electro Plating.

A machine that automatically electroplates 100,000 doorknobs or other metal parts a day is described by the Scientific American. It consists of a series of tanks arranged in an oval 60 feet long, over which passes an endless chain from which rods carrying racks are suspended. The racks are filled with the objects to be plated, and these are dipped successively into the tanks containing the solutions to be used. The average time required for the complete process is one hour.

NEED BIG HERDS

Europe's Meat Supply Must Come From America.

Warring Nations Have Depleted Live Stock at Enormous Rate, Even Killing Dairy Cattle For Food.

American stock breeders are being asked to conserve their flocks and herds in order to meet Europe's tremendous demands for meats during the war and probably for many years afterward.

The United States food administration reports that American stock raisers have shown a disposition to co-operate with the government in increasing the nation's supply of live stock.

Germany today is probably better supplied with live stock than any other European nation. When the German armies made their big advance into France and then retreated virtually all the cattle in the invaded territory — approximately 1,800,000 head—were driven behind the German lines.

But in England—where 2,400,000 acres of pasture lands have been turned into grain fields—the cattle herds are decreasing rapidly. One of the reasons apparently is the declining maximum price scale adopted by the English as follows: For September, $17.76 per 100 pounds; October, $17.28; November and December, $16.08; January, $14.40. The effect of these prices was to drive beef animals on the market as soon as possible.

In France the number of cattle as well as the quality have shown an enormous decline during the war. Where France had 14,807,000 head of cattle in 1913, she now has only 12,341,000, a decrease of 16.6 per cent. And France is today producing only one gallon of milk compared to two and one-half gallons before the war.

Denmark and Holland have been forced to sacrifice dairy herds for beef because of the lack of necessary feed.

Close study of the European meat situation has convinced the Food Administration that the future problem of America lies largely in the production of meat producing animals and dairy products rather than in the production of cereals for export when the war will have ceased.

Perseverance.

The tendency to persevere, to persist in spite of hindrances, discouragements and impossibilities—it is this that in all things distinguishes the strong man from the weak.

BABY BOND SALE ON IN EARNEST

HOUSE-TO-HOUSE CANVASS TO BEGIN NEXT SATURDAY MORNING

WOMEN IN FULL CHARGE

CITY WILL BE DIVIDED INTO ZONES FOR PURPOSE OF CONVENIENCE

After the woman's division of the Pennington County War Savings committee gets through there may still be a few persons here and there who are not owners of baby bonds, either in the shape of certificates or stamps, but it will not be because of lack of opportunity to buy them. Every person in the city who can in any manner be suspected of haboring a sum between twenty-five cents and a five dollar bill will be approached with a plea that he or she part with the coin and receive therefore Uncle Sam's certificate of indebtedness bearing interest at the rate of four per cent, compounded annually for five years.

Will Visit Every House.

The ladies will start out Saturday under the direction of Mrs. H. A. Pratt, general chairman, assisted by Mrs. A. S. Sapero, who has been appointed to look after the matter on behalf of the Womans club. Working with these two will be all the teachers of the public schools and such others as it may be deemed advisable to add to the force of canvassers. Every home in the city will be visited before the campaign ends and all will be asked to buy at least a 25 cent stamp at the time and more of the same at certain stated periods until enough have been accumulated to secure a certificate, which will be when four dollars' worth have been pasted on the little card provided for the purpose. A few cents will then be paid and the card converted into an interest-bearing certificate.

Plan Makes it Easy.

A war saving certificate will not only be a profitable investment but will constitute a sort of badge of honor the same as a service flag or a Liberty Bond. Every possessor will be proud of the fact that he or she has been able to come to the aid of the government at this time when the money is so badly needed. It is deemed inadvisable to start the third Liberty Loan drive until later in the spring and the money to continue the war must be found in some way. The government could easily sell the entire amount available to a few men and banks, but this would throw this highly desirable investment into comparatively few hands. It is considered very much better to scatter it among the people as far as possible and for this reason the denominations have been made very small.

Do Not Hesitate.

The country needs every dollar that can possibly be gathered by this means, and needs it at once. The sale has not been as brisk as it should have been, this being principally for the reason that the people have not thus far thoroughly understood the need for participating. This is now to be explained to everyone and no refusal will be entertained except on presentation of the very best excuses.

The teams will be in charge of the following captains:

Mrs. A. S. Sapero, Atlantic Ave. and Red Lake Blvd.
Mrs. F. H. Herrick, Horace Ave.
Mrs. H. W. Froehlich, LaBree Ave.
Mrs. G. Howard Smith, Main Ave.
Mrs. Scott Laird, Knight Ave.
Mrs. N. J. Silk, Duluth Ave.
Mrs. Emil Zeh, Riverside Ave.
Mrs. L. G. Larson, Conley and Markley Aves.
Mrs. George G. Johnson, St. Paul Ave.
Mrs. L. M. Rayson, Kendall and Tindolph Aves.
Mr. E. F. Dolan, Third St.

[illegible] is All Right.

County [illegible] P. Anderson this morning re[illegible] [illegible]gram from his nephew, Omer [illegible] who was one of the survivors of [illegible] Tuscania, stating that the young man is now in England and in the best of health and spirits. It has for some time been known that he was among those saved but nothing from him had been received since he landed with the members of the expedition who were set ashore at Londonberry, Ireland.

LINCOLN SPEAKS TO IMMENSE AUDIENCE

MOST INTERESTING WAR TALK YET DELIVERED IN THIS CITY

More than fifteen hundred people crowded into the Auditorium last evening to hear Rev. Julius Lincoln of Johnstown, N. Y., recount his experiences as a member of the commission sent from this country to study conditions on European battlefields. A conservative estimate places the number turned away for lack of seating room at 500, making it easily the largest turnout to a gathering in any way connected with the war thus far seen in this city.

The address itself was a presentation of indisputable facts, backed up by photographic evidence taken right on the ground, delivered with a grace and force that fairly captivated the big audience and brought forth round after round of applause.

The object of Dr. Lincoln's appearance in numerous Minnesota cities at this time is to awaken the people to a realiation of the necessity for greater efforts along the line of food conservation. The speaker particularly requested his hearers not to worry about the boys in France as these are not in the least worried concerning themselves. It is the action or lack of action on the part of the people at home that is causing our soldiers vastly more concern than anything the Germans may be able to do to them, he said. He told numerous stories and anecdotes, calculated to prove the excellent morale prevailing among our troops abroad and said that he felt no concern over the manner in which they would conduct themselves in the face of any test.

This war must, however, to a very great extent be won right here in the United States, said Dr. Lincoln. He urged everyone to do their utmost to meet the demands made upon them by the government in the way of provation were being complied with and they best help the men on the actual fighting-line win the victory which is surely theirs.

The address without question had the effect of awakening many to a more acute sense of their duty to the country at this time.

Preceding the address of Dr. Lincoln, conditions in this country were called attention to in a short address by Dr. C. S. Crossman, formerly a professor at Harvard. He gave numerous instances tending to prove that the requirements of the administration with regard to food conservation was being complied with and that the results were astounding in their totals.

The speakers were introduced by C. A. Pitkin, county chairman of the Minnesota Commission of Public Safety.

DELIVERIES STOP FROM APRIL FIRST

After the first day of April any person buying goods from a Thief River Falls merchant will either carry their purchase home or pay for having it delivered. The members of the merchants association have agreed to discontinue the delivery service on that date.

This step is in compliance with the government's request for the cutting off of all unnecessary expense in connection with carrying on business. Similar action is being taken by the merchants all over the country, it being recognized that the free delivery system is one of the most costly as well as most unnecessary arrangements with which the business man has to contend. The customer pays for the service in the end and it has become evident that he or she will be glad of the opportunity to put the new plan into effect. That some inconvenience will be caused at first is certain, but matters will adjust themselves satisfactorily in a very short time.

The business houses signing the agreement are: Oen Mercantile Co., Gilbert Sandum, H. K. Strand, L. C. Nielsen, Louis DeCremer, Peterson & Mohr, Phillips-Laing Hardware Co., Carl Christofferson and Co., L. J. Ackerman, O. L. Cronstrom, M. N. Benson, Orren Ostby, Iver E. Howick, Zeh & Curran, Spink Hardware Co., O. N. Olson.

GREAT SEND-OFF IS GIVEN BOYS

PEOPLE OF CITY SPARE NO PAINS TO MAKE FAREWELL MEMORABLE.

BIG DANCE AND SUPPER

LARGEST CROWD IN CITY'S HISTORY WATCH DEPARTURE ON SATURDAY.

Reports coming from every city in the Northwest at which boys entrained on Saturday for the purpose of entering the military training camps are to the effect that the event was fittingly observed. It is doubtful, however, if in any other place the boys were given such a rousing send-off as right here in Thief River Falls.

Their Party Friday Night.

A dancing party was given for their benefit on Friday evening at the Auditorium and practically every one of the selected men was present as guests of Winslow Chapter of the Eastern Star, which organization had charge of the festivities. The crowd was the largest ever seen at a dance in this city, the receipts from ticket sales alone being in the neighborhood of $200. The balcony was filled with relatives and near friends of the men and all seemed deeply appreciative of the efforts being put forth to give the latter a good time on this, their last evening spent at home before embarking on their eventful mission.

Are a Fine Lot.

No better soldier material was ever sent forth from any community than that contributed by Pennington county on this occasion. They are a fine, clean-cut lot of boys and of an order of intelligence far above the average. The people are proud of them and confidently expect that any reports of their activities will be to their credit.

Capt. W. B. Fuller of Company C, Minnesota Home Guards, asked the ladies present to honor all requests for dances without an introduction, and there was no complaint on this score. Mayor G. A. Penney and Capt. Fuller made short addresses to the boys and also to the others present, both speaking of the pride with which the citizens watched the departure of this, the largest contingent thus far sent to the front, whereupon the presentation of smilage books took place. A short drill by the home guard company preceded an excellent supper served by the ladies and to which the entire contingent was invited.

The Departure.

On Saturday the soldiers all left on the afternoon train for Crookston, the largest crowd ever assembled in Thief River Falls being present to see them off. Headed by the Juvenile band and the Home Guard the principal streets of the city were traversed just before train time. The guard formed a line in front of the special cars provided and stood at salute while the band played the national anthem and the train pulled out. It was without doubt the most impressive ceremony ever enacted in the city.

Two or three of the boys who were scheduled to go were a little late in arriving but they have reported and have joined their comrades. The line-up is thus one hundred per cent perfect, an unusual thing where so many men are involved.

SUPPLY SOLDIERS WITH ESSENTIALS

GOODLY SUM COLLECTED FOR PURCHASE OF TOBACCO, CANDY, ETC.

It is all very well to see that the soldier boys who are leaving have a good time before their departure, but it is of vastly more importance that something be done for their comfort during the long trip and subsequent period of lonesomeness amid strange surroundings. The men going from here were not neglected in this respect. On Saturday forenoon a collection was taken up in the business section of the city and $85 was realized in a short time. The committee in charge managed to get very attractive figures on the stuff they bought, the following being the bill of goods sent with the lads to keep them in good humor: Seven boxes of good ten cent cigars, 350 in all; 3,000 cigarettes, one gross tins smoking tobacco, one gross pipes, one gross boxes matches, 72 tins of snuff, 432 plugs chewing tobacco, one gross packages chewing gum, ten pounds of peanuts, 432 packages of candy.

To Play Detroit.

The local high school basketball team will meet the Detroit team next Saturday evening in the high school gymnasium at 7:30 sharp. This will be a mighty exciting game as the local team have been putting in much time in practice.

After Many Years of Service.

George Curran resigned from the Thief River Falls Fire department at the meeting this week, after fifteen years of conspicuously brilliant service. The resignation of Mr. Curran leaves but three of the old-timers still on the force—Chief Midderigh, W. J. LaBree and Ed. Jaranson.

APPRECIATES THE PEOPLE'S COURTESY

DEPARTING SOLDIER SPEAKS HIGHLY OF EFFORTS OF LOCAL PEOPLE

The departing soldiers were given a good time and that they appreciated the fact was very evident. One of them has written to his brother, residing on a farm near this city, and his views are no doubt shared by a large majority of those who experienced the city's hospitality last Friday evening. The letter was sent to the editor and as it no doubt expresses exactly what a large majority of the boys feel, it is here reproduced:

"Dear Brother Jim: Well, Jim, I am a soldier now and mighty glad of it. I want to tell you about the send-off we got at Thief River Falls. The first thing in the afternoon they took us up to the hall and gave us a little talk and then gave each fellow a bundle and told him not to open it until he arrived in camp. But I could not wait, so I opened mine up and there was a comfort bag in there that had about everything you would want.

"But, Jim, the real fun was the dance. You should have seen the crowd! And talk about nice ladies! I felt a little scared but I hung around the outside until they called all the rookies inside and they gave us each a Smileage Book. I have always wondered why they called them Smileage Books, but I know now. It's because the ladies that give them to us are always smiling.

"Well, after the colonel of the Home Guards had given us a little speech, he said: 'Now, boys, you don't need an introduction. Just ask anyone to dance and they will.' And, by gosh, he told the truth. I never missed a dance and I didn't know anyone either, and I sure had a walloping good time.

"Say, some of those ladies must have been millionaires' wives the way they were dressed. I always thought that they felt like they were a little better than a farmer like me, but after you get to talking with them you find out different. I guess they are just human beings the same as us.

"Well, I danced until my feet were sore. Then what do you suppose they did? Took us up to the Masonic hall and gave us a dandy supper. Say, if they use us like this all the time I am going to stay right in the army.

"Then the next day when we left Thief River Falls you should have seen the crowd at the depot. The band, Home Guards and home folks—it looked like an army in itself—and just to show us they weren't through they gave us a bunch of smoking tobacco and cigarettes.

"Jim, when the band played that old tune as the train was pulling out I began to swell up and I believe I felt more like a man than I ever have before. I wanted to laugh or cry or something—I don't know just what. But God bless the home folks of Thief River Falls. Your brother, Bud, U. S. S. now."

WHEAT PRICE IS $2.17 A BUSHEL

PRESIDENT WILSON PROCLAIMS THIS AS FIGURE FOR 1918 CROP

WOULD HAVE EFFECT OF SERIOUSLY UPSETTING WORKING CONDITIONS

President Wilson on Monday raised the government guaranteed price on the 1918 wheat crop to $2.17 per bushel at Minneapolis and Duluth, with corresponding prices at other primary market points. The price fixed by congress at the last session for the crop for the coming year was on a basis of $2.00 per bushel at Chicago.

Acting under authority of the food law, the president thus met the agitation in congress for higher prices and took steps to stimulate production and prevent holding back the crop while the agitation was going on.

Must Be Sold By June 1.

The equivalents of No. 1 Northern to which the same price applies are No. 1 hard winter; No. 1 red winter; No. 1 durum and No. 1 hard white. The wheat must be harvested in the United States during 1918 and sold in the market before June 1, 1919. The president's proclamation states that the action is to meet an emergency requiring the stimulation of wheat planting.

This Year's Price Prevails.

In a statement accompanying his proclamation the president said:

"Under the food control act of August 10, 1917, it is my duty to announced a guaranteed price for wheat of the 1918 harvest. I am, therefore, issuing a proclamation setting a price at the principal interior primary markets. It makes no essential alteration in the present guarantee. It is a continuation of the present prices of wheat with some adjustments arising from the designation of additional terminal marketing points.

Any Raise Inadvisable.

"This guaranteed price assures the farmer of a reasonable profit even if the war should end within the year and the large stores of grain in those sections of the world that are now cut off from transportation should again come into competition with his products. To increase the price of wheat above the present figure, or to agitate any increase of price, would have the effect of very seriously hampering the large operations of the nation and of the allies by causing the wheat of last year's crop to be withheld from the market. It would, moreover, dislocate all the present wage levels that have been established after much anxious discussion and would, therefore, create an industrial unrest which would be harmful to every industry in the country."

NUMBER OF ALIENS PROVE SURPRISE

REGISTRATION DISCLOSES 106 IN CITY, 42 OF WHOM ARE WOMEN.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week were alien registration days throughout Minnesota, when it was incumbent upon every person not a citizen of the United States to appear and be counted. The result in the city proved something of a surprise, the record disclosing 106 persons who were obliged to comply with the requirements of the state safety commission. The registrations took place in the council room, Edward Ness acting as registrant. Most of those appearing were Scandinavians, the men and women owning Norway as their place of birth being largely in the majority.

There were 42 women registered in the city. In several instances these were born in the United States but had married foreign-born men who have thus far overlooked the formality of securing their citizenship papers. Two Syrians were recorded and one Chinaman.

For the township of North the registrations took place in the Commercial club rooms with T. H. Bjerke officiating. Thirteen names were recorded, all of whom were Scandinavians.

BANKS WILL DIVIDE THE CITY DEPOSITS

THE TIMES IS AGAIN OFFICIAL PAPER—SALARIES ARE FIXED.

The deadlock encountered when it came to fixing the salaries of city employes for the two-year term beginning the first Tuesday in January has been broken and the checks hung up for two months as a consequence have been issued. The council could not agree upon the salaries in certain instances and passed an emergency measure providing for the meeting of the payroll for January. This measure was vetoed by Mayor Penney, who gave it as his reason that the statutes did not permit of any such practice. The salaries must be fixed permanently before any payment can legally be made, it seems, and those employed in the different departments of the city have consequently been compelled to wait. The subject was taken up on Tuesday evening and action postponed until Wednesday forenoon when the matter was adjusted. The changes are few and very slight.

Banks Divide Deposits.

The selection of a city depository was the next question up for consideration. The three banks all submitted bids exactly alike, offering three per cent for the deposits. It was agreed that the funds should be divided, the First National and the Citizens' securing $15,000 each, while the balance and the checking account was awarded to the First and Peoples' bank.

The new pool hall ordinance was given its third reading and was passed. It provides that pool halls may remain open from eight until eleven o'clock, but must remain closed all day Sunday. The hours during which skating rinks may remain open was also changed so as to permit of their running from two to five o'clock on Sunday afternoon.

Is Sick at Camp.

Word received from Edwin Stebbins, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Stebbins, who is in training at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, is to the effect that he has had something of a hard time of it since his arrival. At present he is recovering from an attack of scarlet fever and rheumatism combined and will be unable to leave for France with his unit. Mr. Stebbins speaks in the highest terms of the care that is taken of soldiers who are ill and believes that this is comparable to that at the best hospitals. There are two Red Cross nurses in each ward during the day, and one nurse and one doctor constantly on duty during the night. The rheumatic attacks have been very severe but these are now passing away and the young man expects to be up and coming again in a short time.

Young Man Injured.

Ray Herron, residing at 403 LaBree avenue north, this city, was brought to his home from Shelley last week and is in bed with a broken leg. He was unloading gravel for Ed. O'Hara near Shelley and was caught in a cave-in. The gravel was frozen and the bottom dug away to such an extent that the top gave away, catching Herron in the slide. He is getting along alright and will soon be able to be about.

Newspaper Changes Name.

The Eleven Towns, published at Goodridge, will hereafter be known as the Goodridge Banner. The new owner, A. H. Halvorson, found the old name too cumbersome and indefinite for practical use and asked his readers to suggest something different. The Banner was selected from quite a number of names suggested and will serve as well as any, being particularly appropriate in these times. Editor Halvorson has improved the paper in many ways since assuming charge and promises that even greater changes for the better will be made in the future.

LOCAL POLITICS TO BE ESCHEWED

THE NATIONAL NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE WILL NOT MIX IN COUNTY AFFAIRS

USE OF NAME FORBIDDEN

ORGANIZATION INFLUENCE NOT TO BE EXERTED IN FAVOR OF CANDIDATES

It having for some time been apparent that the National Non-Partisan league will be a considerable factor in politics in the Northwest in the coming election, there has been a great deal of speculation as to whether or not the organization would go to the extent of endorsing county candidates. For this reason the recent announcement made by President A. C. Townley to the effect that the efforts of the league would be confined to selecting acceptable men to the state and national offices, leaving the local situation entirely in the hands of the voters without any suggestion as to what course to follow in their own particular neighborhood, of considerable interest.

Influence Must Not Be Used.

Mr. Townley specifies that not only will the league refuse to directly endorse local candidates, but he warns organization members against in any manner using the league's influence to further the ambition of any man in this direction as this will have a tendency to detract attention from the larger and more important program mapped out. Concerning this matter Mr. Townley says:

"It is a definite policy of the Non-Partisan league, established by a resolution adopted at its last state convention, not to interfere in local, county or municipal politics. The reason is plain: The league came into being to destroy large political and economic evils, evils that are entrenched in laws that are made by state and national governments. Therefore, as an organization and as a political movement, it is not concerned with local politics. In fact, it would be wasting its strength as an organization if it should attempt to concern itself with them.

"It is assumed that good citizens everywhere will look after their local political affairs, whether in city, town or county, and see that honest and efficient men are elected to office. Non-Partisans are, of course, interested as individuals, but the Non-Partisan league, whose work is cut out for it in the various states and in the nation itself, should not be made an issue in local political contests.

Avoid Small Issues.

"League members are, therefore, urged not to make use of the league organization or name, or to employ their own influence as league members, in local or county political matters. Do not be distracted from the league's real purpose, the enlargement of American democracy, by small issues close at hand. Such a course would only weaken the effectiveness of the farmers' movement.

"This article is printed as a reply to several inquiries as to what course might be deemed advisable for league members to take in local politics."

First Drunk of the Year.

Chief of Police E. O. Erickson yesterday arrested Andrew Johnson, residing on a farm some distance from town on a charge of drunkenness. Four bottles of whiskey were found on his person, this being more than even a particularly dry man is entitled to under the present conservation rules. The booze had been secured at Red Lake Falls, according to the police, and the practice of selling such quantities to one person is just a little dangerous under existing conditions.

Pledge to Aid Red Cross

Boys and girls as well as grown people are asked to plant and cultivate some kind of crop, the proceeds of same to go to the Red Cross. Everybody is asked to help the work along in this manner and the result will be something astonishing if the response in Pennington county is as general as in other places. Sign the pledge below and send it to Secretary Scott Laird of the Pennington County Red Cross Chapter, Thief River Falls.

This Is the Pledge

"As a donation to the Red Cross Chapter of..the undersigned hereby agrees to plant and care for..........acres of ground on my farm in..............................township during the season of 1918 and deliver the crop in..............when requested to do so by the Red Cross.

MEMBER ORGANIZED 1867

We shall fight for the things we have always carried nearest our hearts—for democracy, for the right of those who submit to authority to have a voice in their governments, for the rights and liberties of small nations, for a universal dominion of right by such a concert of free peoples as shall bring peace and safety to all nations, and make the world itself at last free. To such a task we can dedicate our lives and our fortunes, everything that we are and everything that we have, with the pride of those who know that the day has come when America is privileged to spend her blood and her might for the principles that gave her birth and the peace which she has treasured. GOD HELPING HER, SHE CAN DO NO OTHER.—President Wilson.

TAKING THE PROPER COURSE

In another column of this issue of The Times appears a statement by A. C. Townley, president of the National Non-Partisan League, announcing that the policy of the organization, so far as this pertains to county politics, will be strictly "hands off." Not only will the league refuse to endorse or in any manner further the candidacy of any man or set of men for county office, but the edict has gone forth that league prestage or influence is not to be employed in their behalf under any circumstances. Mr. Townley evidently thinks that the people residing in a community can be trusted to look after their home affairs without outside interference.

And in this he is right. To permit the organization of which he is the head to become enmeshed in local scraps would be to throw discredit upon the entire movement. The league, as most people understand it, has been organized for the purpose of correcting certain alleged evils which it is claimed exist within our state and national governments. The program is state-wide and national in its scope and the injection into the campaign of minor matters would only serve to obscure the main issue and leave in its wake a vast amount of dissatisfaction and disappointment. No matter what one may think of the league as a political organization, it must be admitted that this last step is a wise move.

It is highly probable that candidates for the minor offices will attempt to use the league for their own purpose in localities where the organization is known to be strong, but these evidently will have no endorsement from headquarters. It is, in fact, quite evident that the members of the new party will regard any attempt to align them for this or that candidate as an effort to take their minds off the task they have primarily set for themselves and that they will resent the suggestion. The Non-Partisan subject is loaded with dynamite for any county candidate who tries to use the league for his own advancement and he had better approach the subject with considerable care.

IT'S TEAM WORK THAT COUNTS.

We take it that you are a patriotic citizen of the United States and willing to do anything in your power to help win this war. The trouble is that you do not always see just where you can be of the most value and for this reason are inclined to let things drift, believing that anything you could do would be of such small importance that another can take care of it without noticing the difference.

You were never more mistaken in your life. The part of the work you leave undone will not be taken care of for the simple reason that everyone is doing all he can—or should be. The mere fact that you admit there is work to be done proves that you should be doing some of it. This does not mean it would be necessary for you to act as an organizer or that any considerable amount of time need be taken from your other affairs in order to make your work of value. There are a hundred ways in which you can help with but little inconvenience and slight cost to yourself.

If you are a man you should join the Commercial club. This organization has for the present put the winning of the war ahead of all other considerations. Committees are working at every conceivable task that will in any manner help in supplying the things the government needs. Sometimes a committee is appointed whose connection with anything pertaining to the war seems very remote, but it will generally be found upon investigation that it has something to do with some phase of the work going on. It is hard these days to become interested in anything of a public nature that has not for its ultimate object the winning of the war.

For this reason the directed efforts are the most effective. Team work in this matter is even more necessary than in ordinary affairs. There are so many things to do, and so few ways of doing them right, that much well-meant effort is wasted. Therefore the men should band together and make a study of what is needed, work in groups and toward a common end.

The Commercial club offers the best medium for accomplishing this. Those already members have something definite to look after and a responsible head to whom to make their reports. More actual work has already been accomplished by reason of this co-operation than would have been possible if all the men in the community were working toward the same end but each one alone and in a different manner. Those already enlisted are accomplishing much, but there should be more volunteers. Many are trying their level best to be useful but all their efforts are of little avail because of being misdirected. For this reason they should join the Commercial club. To be a member may not be exactly a patriotic duty, but it comes mighty near it.

WOULD CORRECT WHEAT GRADES

If the bill introduced in congress last week by Congressman Steenerson becomes a law the farmer will have one of his most serious grievances removed. The measure proposes that the price for all wheat shall be based upon its milling value as compared to Number One Northern. This would do away with the present unsatisfactory and unfair system of grading and would provide that credit be given for any grain of another variety found in the wheat.

Under the system now in vogue all grains other than wheat found in any shipment is deducted from the total, and no credit whatever is given, even though the grain thus separated may be worth more than the wheat itself. As Mr. Steenerson said in explaining his bill: "Nearly all separable seeds are worth from $35 to $40 per ton and the farmer has to pay the freight on this dockage to the terminal and then give it away to the purchaser."

The bill provides that the value of the wheat shall be based upon its milling values and that the value of the dockage, less cost of separation, shall be added. This certainly must be regarded as a fair proposition and should long ago have been the system employed.

Mr. Steenerson also suggests that the grain inspection laws be rewritten along more practical and workable lines in order that the producer may be to some extent protected when the war ends and price control ceases.

This is but one of numerous measures introduced by the Ninth district congressman during the past two years having for the object a squarer deal for the farmer.

A NEW KIND OF DEFENSE

That the law of supply and demand does not infalibly work according to the generally accepted rule has for some time been rather more than suspected by the people. It remained for the big packers, however, to attempt to prove that prices must go kiting when there is an unusually large supply of a given commodity on hand.

Congress ordered an investigation into the methods employed by the packers, particularly as these apply to the handling of hides. The price of leather has gone up out of all proportion to the increased demand for the product and the people have been demanding to know the reason.

According to the packers the answer is very simple. A circular sent out by Swift & Company explains the matter thus:

"The Trade Commission states that stocks of hides increased about one-half from January 31, 1916, to July 31, 1917. The number of cattle killed in inspected houses during the three months preceding the later date was 22 per cent greater than the number killed during the three months preceding the earlier date. This largely accounts for the increase in holdings.

"While the supply of hides was larger than usual, the domestic demand for leather did not increase accordingly, except for heavy leathers utilized in army shoes. England's embargo also cut off a large part of our foreign trade. In spite of these facts, Swift and Company sold 20 per cent more hides during 1917 than during 1916."

In other words, because of the fact that the supply was ample and the demand normal it was absolutely necessary to run the shoe bill of the American people up about one hundred per cent.

EVERYBODY SHOULD BE DOING IT

Not very often, but once in a while, you will run across persons who are inclined to scoff at the idea of saving food by following the rules laid down by the food administration. These scoffers will generally assume a wise attitude and say that if the big hotels in the cities and the rich homes would conserve to the same extent as the more general run of Americans, there might be some sense in the program. They just know, however, that there is being fully as much wheat and meat served to those who wish to eat these articles as ever before.

They know nothing of the kind. Hotels and the homes of the rich are more likely, in fact, to live up to the regulations than are the general run of American households. An article in The World's work for the current month deals with this very matter and contains enough of interest and information to be worthy of perusual by anyone who is inclined to believe that the ruling applies only to those who may find its observance convenient. The result of the meatless and wheatless days as noted in the city of New York is given as follows:

"Probably the last place in which one would look for a successful campaign of food economy is the hotel district of New York City. Yet these headquarters of extravagance, according to the Food Administration, are furnishing an example to all the homes and restaurants in this country. Should all American hotels and restaurants follow the example of New York's gilded palaces, they could furnish several shiploads of wheat and meat a week to our own armies and our allies.

"Many a weary frequenter at hotels has wondered precisely what these wheatless and meatless days have been accomplishing. The experience of the great New York establishments furnishes the answer. They are saving a thousand tons of wheat and a thousand tons of meat every seven days. Just take the latter item, which amounts to 2,000,000 pounds. At the rate of a pound of meat a day per soldier, the small privations to which the gay New York public subjects itself are furnishing the meat rations for two days per week for an army of one million soldiers—the number we hope to have in France next summer. At the same time these reckless and expensive eaters are saving two million pounds of wheat a week.

At the time these statistics are compiled, reports from only the largest New York hotels had been received; enough information has been received, however, to show the great success of wheatless and meatless days, as well as of the general careful policy that obtains conserving of foods."

It has been proven that the heatless order accomplished just what was intended, although the assertion that it would prove of no value was heard on every side. As a matter of fact the country is accomplishing pretty much what it starts out to accomplish, and that is all that can be expected under any circumstances.

Get the notion out of your head that your neighbor is being permitted to do things that you are prevented from doing. The chances are that he is just as patriotic as you are, just as anxious to win the war, and consequently just as willing to live up to the requirements of his government.

ARE DOING THEIR FULL SHARE

If any person thinks that the banks of the country are not doing their full share toward paying the expenses of this war they should take a little time to look into the matter. The question is sometimes asked: "Why does not the government get these big loans from the banks instead of bothering the people for a hundred or two hundred dollars at a time?"

The answer is that the banks are standing about all that the laws under which they operate will permit them to stand. The exercise of a little common sense should convince anyone that the depletion of the resources of banking institutions to a point where legitimate business could not be accommodated would be one of the worst things that could happen to the country at this time. The aim is to keep business as near normal as possible and this can hardly be done if the very sinuous are removed. A certain amount of money must remain in the banks or the entire country will be in a mighty poor condition to withstand the strain of a war.

But the government is asking much of the banks. Only last week local institutions received notice from President Theodore Wold of the Ninth Federal Reserve district, requesting them to set aside one per cent of their gross resources each week for the purpose of taking up treasury certificates of indebtedness. One per cent may not seem like a very large sum, but in the city of Thief River Falls alone it means that $15,000 must be devoted to this purpose each week. This reduces the amount loanable by the banks just $15,000, neither more or less.

The government is not paying as much for the loan of this money as the banks are paying for deposits and the only thing that enables the latter to meet the demand is the short time that the money will be needed. The certificates are redeemable in 90 days at the most, but even this means a considerable sacrifice of interest on the part of the bankers.

Are they kicking? Not so you would notice it. No sooner had President Wold's request been received than the answers began coming in. A number of these have been sent out for general distribution just to show how the bankers are meeting the extraordinary demands made upon them. Here are some of the replies:

"You can have anything in our bank except the fixtures."

"You can count on our bank. We will do our utmost to the end."

"Will back the government to the extent of our ability."

"This bank will do its full patriotic duty without stint or limit."

"Willing and able to do our part now and hereafter."

"We will gladly do our part for our government. Give the kaiser hell."

"In her present distress this bank belongs to the United States and we are ready and happy to assist in any emergency, and will gladly comply with your request."

"We will take one and one-half per cent of our deposits in treasury certificates every twelve days."

"Our resources are at your command. They will be of no use if Germany wins."

The bankers are doing and will continue to do their share. No class of business men realize more fully what it would mean to have Germany win this war.

WHY GERMANY CAN'T WIN

(Farm and Fireside.)

The Germans can never win this war! Even if the kaiser defeats Italy; even if he defeats France; even if he makes peace with Russia and Roumania; even if he continues to have his way in the Balkans and Poland—even then the kaiser will not be in as strong a position as Napoleon once was.

And Napoleon, his armies bled white with victories, was finally defeated, and spent his last days in exile at St. Helena.

Even though the kaiser would be victorious on land, it would be short-lived, and the spoils would have to be returned and full reparation made. Why? Simply because the United States, Great Britain, and Japan can still shut the Germans from the seas. With free access to the raw-material resources of practically the whole world the allies can maintain an economic blockade of Germany until the German people will establish a people's government with which lasting peace can be made.

The United States and Great Britain will never surrender. If worse comes to worse, they will continue the war against Kaiserism on the sea and in the air until the Germans will gladly make a lasting peace.

But the kaiser hasn't defeated Italy. He hasn't defeated France. The allies are getting stronger every day as the United States throws her gigantic weight in man power and resources against the kaiser, while the Germans were at their zenith in the opening days of the war three and one-half years ago and are getting just that much weaker every day.

The same thing that defeated Napoleon will defeat the kaiser. What? Sea power. No, the Germans can never win this war!

WHEN I GAVE MY DADDY.

When I gave my daddy, when he said good-bye,
He kissed my curls and smoothed my brow
And tipped my chin up high
And smiled at me so cheerfully
I never thought to cry.

When I gave my daddy, I thought he'd speak of war
And the brave things the soldiers do
And what they're fighting for,
But all he told me was: "You're like
Your mother, more and more!"

When I gave my daddy, as he went that day
He waved his hand and called to me,
"Be good while I'm away!"
And those were really all the things
My daddy had to say.

When I gave my daddy, my mother never said
A single, single word, until
She kissed me in my bed.
But then she cried out daddy's name
And pointed overhead.

When I gave my daddy, when he said good-bye.
And smiled at me so cheerfully
And tipped my chin up high
You'd never, never think that he Had gone—perhaps to die.

PENNINGTON COUNTY MEN IN U. S. SERVICE

A LIST OF OVER ONE HUNDRED WHO ARE NOW WITH THE COLORS

The Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A., the Sammy Boosters and the local postoffice employes have been busy for some time securing a list of the men who have enlisted from Pennington county. The roster may not be complete but contains every name so far as known. If anyone notes any omissions they should report the fact to F. A. Gobler at the postoffice, he having by common consent been delegated to look after the matter.

This list is printed in order that anyone wishing to write the boys may be reasonably certain that their communication will reach them. It is urged that letters from home be sent often as these are among the most welcome things that can be received by a soldier. The Sammy Boosters are doing excellent work in this respect but others should help as there is no danger of there being too much of that sort of thing.

Mac's Sweet Shop Sold.

Mrs. C. T. McCully last week disposed of the stock and business of Mac's Sweet Shop to J. B. Black of Grand Forks, from whom the business was acquired by Mr. McCully about two years ago. The latter has enlisted in the army and Mrs. McCully found the enterprise rather more than she felt herself able to handle. Mr. Black will probably retain her services as manager of the local store as he is in the same business at Grand Forks and his store there requires all his attention. The place will be closed temporarily and a number of changes made in the interior.

Greatness of Small Things.

Perform the small things that are unseen, and they will bring other and greater things for you to perform.

Refused to Buy Plant.

Crookston voters last Tuesday almost two to one, turned down the proposition of voting bonds to buy the Crookston Water Works, Power & Light Company's plant for $535,000. Every one of the eight wards showed a majority against the bonding proposition, and the final count of all the wards left little to guess work as to how the majority of the voters stood, as 436 voted no and 268 voted yes, leaving a majority of 169 opposed to the purchase of the power plant.

Flower Hints.

Always pull the leaves off the stalks of flowers before putting them in water—those leaves which would be in the water, not those above it. And with flowers from any hard stalked sort of shrub the bark should be peeled off as well as the leaves.

WANTS $2.75 AS WHEAT MINIMUM

THIS PRICE PROVIDED FOR IN BILL BY CONGRESSMAN STEENERSON.

WOULD END FARMERS' LOSS

ALSO WANTS ALL INFERIOR GRADES BASED ON ACTUAL MILLING VALUE.

A minimum price of $2.75 a bushel for No. 1 Northern wheat at the interior primary markets is provided in a bill introduced in the House last Wednesday by Representative Halvor Steenerson of this district. The measure, which applies to this year's crop further provides that the price for all other wheat shall be based upon its milling value as compared to No. 1 Northern.

One Standard Proposed.

Regarding his bill, Mr. Steenerson said in a prepared statement:

"The grain grades established by the Department of Agriculture are so numerous and strict they are almost impossible of application.

"If we had an open, competitive market, wheat would, of course, to a great extent, sell up on its milling value, regardless of what grades some learned professor might place upon it.

"The present food control act contemplated fixing all prices under the Federal standards, and my bill changes this, so that there is only one standard, No. 1 Northern, and all other wheat is to be sold at the milling value, as compared with the milling value of No. 1 Northern.

Farmer Suffers Loss.

"Under the present system, where there is dockage consisting of other grains or separable seeds, the farmer gets no pay for them, although they may be worth almost as much as the wheat. Take a carload of 1,000 bushels of wheat, with 5 per cent, or fifty bushels, of barley, the farmer would, under the present system, lose all the barley, although it may be worth $1.50 a bushel to the man who separates it from the wheat, or $75 loss on one car. Nearly all separable weed and other seeds are worth from $35 to $40 a ton, and the farmer has to pay the freight to the terminal and then give away this valuable by-product.

Remedy for Grievances.

"My bill proposes that the value of the wheat shall be based upon its milling qualities, and that the dockage, less cost of separation, shall be added. The passage of my bill would be a quick remedy for all the grievances we are suffering, and would give us time to re-write the grain inspection law upon more practical lines in time to be used after the war ceases and price control ends."

A Great Stock Sale.

The prize Guernsey herd of Pennington county will be sold at auction on Wednesday, March 6, at the farm of the owner, W. E. Sargent, three miles west and one mile south of Thief River Falls. There are 30 head to be disposed of in the milch cow class alone. These cows have records running from 10,600 pounds of milk in a season to 5,611 pounds with a butter fat score of 3.7 per cent for the lowest and 5 per cent for the best. There are also six head of good horses and a lot of farm machinery, one 1917 model Overland auto and the usual outfit of household goods. The prize bull, Muriel's General of Mayowood, five years old, will also be sold.

There will be a free lunch served at noon and Mr. Sargent will see that an auto meets all trains at Thief River Falls and conveys those wishing to attend to the place of sale. It will be the biggest live stock sale ever taking place in the county and there will be buyers present from everywhere in this section.

The Cuckoo Bee.

The cuckoo bee is so called because, like the cuckoo, it lays its eggs in the cells or nests of other bees. All the many species have slender, smooth, gayly colored bodies. They resemble wasps and emit a sweet balsamic odor.

TALES OF THE FAR NORTH

Being an Account of My Experiences During the Three Years I Was Employed by the Government in Alaska.

By Dr. F. H. Gambell, Thief River Falls.

Hoped For Head Wind.

There is no doubt but that I was just a little selfish, now, that I had elected to walk, in wishing that the wind would not veer around but would remain head-on, for the large skin boats are very clumsy and almost unmanageable in any kind of a wind but one fair for sailing. The natives will soon tire of rowing and will go into camp till the wind changes. If such should be the case now, I would surely win my point.

It was not long before I could see that I was leaving the boat far behind. The wind was rising and was remaining favorable to me. Soon I came to a little hill and after leaving the high ground I saw no more of the boat.

Rather Desolate Surroundings.

It was lonesome walking all alone, mile after mile, toiling and resting, for I was getting tired and hungry. I saved my little piece of bread for dinner. After I had, travelled for miles, never once seeing a human being nor the sign of a trail, nor anything to make me think that any foot had ever passed this way before, I lay down upon the side of a hill near the top to rest. As it was nearing the noon hour, I took from the walrus stomach all the food I had left and began to eat it. Oh the desolation of the surroundings. Away off to the sea the restless foaming waves of the ocean were dashing and breaking on the rocky shore beneath me, keeping up an incessant moaning that added no cheerfulness to my surroundings. In front, over the course which I was to travel and to the rear, appeared that great sea of moss, not moving and restless as the waves of the ocean, but painfully at rest till it began to wear upon me. Looking off to the south were the foothills of the mountains spotted with patches of snow in contrast to the gulches where the black alder bushes grew.

Mr. Anderson Again.

To add to the lonesomeness surrounding me, the low hanging clouds began to free themselves of their moisture and I put my 'slicker' on to keep from getting wet. Just as I was preparing to move on, my eye caught sight of a moving object back over the course from which I had come, moving my way. I could see that it was a man, and, as he drew nearer, I knew from the limp in his right leg that it was no other than my friend, Mr. Anderson. I did not need to wait to be told by him that after the natives had rowed and paddled against the wind until they were tired they had decided to go into camp and wait for the wind to change. What mattered to them whether they reached St. Michael this day or a week hence. Money nor threats nor anything else would move them.

I could see Mr. Anderson get out and start to overtake me. I was glad to wait for him, for to be honest, I was almost tired out and oh, so hungry. I never let him know that this was so, although he seemed to get so much satisfaction in dilating upon his exhausted condition. My satisfaction in keeping quiet came later when I heard him recounting his experiences to a friend and incidentally remark that he would never again take a walk with a man who could travel as I did.

Arrival at St. Michael.

We reached St. Michael after traveling a few hours over two full days. How deserving we felt we were of mail, yet all that was given to me was four little letters when I had expected so many. The postoffice was filled so full of mail bags that they covered the windows up to the top of the bottom sash. It seemed almost an impossible job to ever get it all distributed. On the day following we received a few more letters and then took passage in a native schooner for home.

A Comfortable Birth.

Although I had to sleep on the deck with a gunny sack of stove wood for my pillow, it was so preferable to walking that I never once thought of complaining. When I would awake from my fitful sleep, and the thought would come to me that the deck seemed very hard just in that particular spot. I forgot it when I heard the water as it swished along the sides of the schooner telling me that we were sailing toward home and not walking through the terrible moss on the shore. How much our contentment depends upon comparisons!

By the time we reached Unalakleet the ice had all disappeared and we sailed into the mouth of the river and anchored. Later, my longing for word from home ceased, for the time being at least, for a whole sack of mail with many, many letters was brought to the station.

Reading Delayed Mail.

It had been over a year since I had heard from my father and mother as well as from so many others who were writing to me.

My letters were separated into piles and then the ones I was most anxious to read were opened first and read with interest—with intense interest—for I was hungering for news from home. I read until away after midnight. Then the sun came creeping in and still I was reading. It was such a glorious thing to be living among my own people again. I wanted to read more of them, but I thought that I should leave some for the morrow, so I went to bed. I tried to sleep but it was so light and I was thinking so much of what I had been reading that I thought I never could get to sleep. I covered my head with the bed clothes to shut out the light. I tried to keep my mind off of my letters but all the time it would go drifting back and the light would somehow get under the covers and make me think it was not night anymore. I could not stop my ears to the morning songs of the birds. Everything kept sleep so far from me. Then nature asserted herself and in a way I slept. That is, my body slept and lay there upon that bed in Alaska, in a country so foreign to what I had been accustomed to, but my mind sped away and was at home again with my people till it was called back by the turning of my head, the stretching of my arms and the opening of my eyes to the light of this Northland again.

Gets Change of Title.

Later in the summer Sheldon Jackson came and I gave him my reports. I had everything ready to leave the station and to go to St. Lawrence Island to act as the government teacher, but he had planned differently. I was to remain where I was and my title was changed from Government Physician to that of Superintendent of Government Reindeer Stations.

Assigned New Job.

Dr. Jackson outlined my work for the coming year. I was to make ready for a trip of a thousand miles during the coming winter, driving from the station several hundred deer to replace a herd that had been taken from Mary and Charlie Antisarlook by the government and driven to Pt. Barrow to be used as food by the men who had been frozen in on the whaling vessels. The deer had been taken from these natives several years before and they were anxious to get a herd again.

War Savings Stamps

Get the Habit of Saving

IN Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps, the United States Government offers you the greatest opportunity to save which any government has offered to its people. Like Liberty Bonds, War Savings Stamps have behind them the entire resources of the Government and people of the United States. They have the additional advantage that they steadily increase in value, and this increase is guaranteed by the Government. These stamps are issued in two denominations, the 25 cent Thrift Stamp and the $5.00 War Savings Stamp.

A "Thrift Card" is furnished to all purchasers of 25 cent stamps. This card has spaces for 16 stamps. When all the spaces have been filled the Thrift Card may be exchanged for a $5.00 stamp at post offices, banks or other authorized agencies by adding 12 cents in cash prior to February 1, 1918, and 1 cent additional each month thereafter.

If you prefer, you may buy a $5.00 stamp outright. These were on sale January 31, 1918, for $4.12. They automatically increase in value a cent a month every month thereafter until January 1, 1923, when the United States will pay $5.00 at any post office or at the Treasury in Washington for each stamp affixed to a War Savings Certificate.

When you purchase a $5 stamp, you receive an engraved folder known as a "War Savings Certificate," which bears your name and can be cashed only by you. This certificate contains 20 spaces. If these are all filled with War Savings Stamps before January 31, 1918, the cost to you will be $82.40, and on January 1, 1923, the Government will pay you $100—a net profit of $17.60. This is based on an interest rate of 4 per cent compounded quarterly from January 2, 1918.

If you hold a War-Savings Certificate and find it necessary to cash it before maturity, you may at any time after January 2, 1918, upon giving 10 days' written notice to any money-order post office receive for each stamp affixed to your certificate the amount paid therefor plus 1 cent for each calendar month after the month of purchase of each stamp. A registered certificate may be redeemed, however, only at the post office where registered.

You cannot lose and are certain to gain. You are buying the safest security in the world in the most convenient form in which the security of a great Government has ever been offered to its people.

Why You Should Buy Them

Your country needs every penny every man, woman and child can save, in order to feed, clothe, and arm the soldiers and sailors of America to win this war in defense of American honor and democracy.

A Country worth fighting for is a Country worth saving for.

To save money is to save life.

Buy War Savings Stamps at post offices, banks, trust companies, or other authorized agencies and strike a blow for your Country.

DATE FOR SECOND DRAFT NOT FIXED

BAKER SAYS GOVERNMENT WILL DISTURB LABOR AS LITTLE AS POSSIBLE.

Secretary Baker has authorized the statement that no date had been selected for the beginning of the second draft.

Various estimates have placed the time between March 1 and June 1. These are declared to be entirely guesses.

The government's disposition not to disturb the labor situation, particularly on farms at the planting season, is one of the factors entering into the situation.

Plans for the second draft as now under consideration include calling 100,000 then a month until the second quota is complete. The men will report in a steady stream and be assimilated before the next lot is received.

It has been definitely settled that the first contingent will be used to fill vacancies in National Guard divisions caused by the withdrawal of men for the organization of special and technical units. Similar vacancies in the National Army divisions will have been filled by that time from the final increment of the first draft.

Breeders' Sale.

One of the largest stock sales scheduled for the northwest this year will be held in Grand Forks on March 7 and 8, under the auspices of the North Dakota Live Stock association. Among the offerings will be found 30 Percherons, 19 stallions, 11 mares, two French draft stallions, three Clydesdale stallions, one Belgian mare and one Shire mare. There are 2 Shorthorn bulls and 21 cows; 17 Angus bulls and 14 cows and four Red Polled bulls. There are also 50 fine brood sows to be disposed of, these including Durocs, Yorkshires, Chester Whites and Poland Chinas. —F-28-p.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

RED CROSS NOTES

Last Friday a committee consisting of Mrs. Melgaard, Mrs. Shaw, and Mrs. Haynes, went to Highlanding to help organize a Red Cross Branch. They began with over 30 members with prospects of many more. The committee was entertained at a very fine dinner by Mrs. Carl Korstad and Mrs. Will Vaughan at the home of the former. On their way home they spent a couple hours at the home of Mrs. McDonald at Goodridge. Mrs. Shaw gave instructions in making the new flannel scultetus bandages to several ladies who had assembled there.

St. Hilaire Branch has sent us a big shipment of knitted goods which will be sent to Minneapolis headquarters with ours the last of this week.

The Goodridge Branch has sent in a bundle of bandages and knitted goods.

Last Wednesday the Naval Unit made 75 yards of muslin tape.

Monday evening there were 16 workers present in the sewing room and 180 shot bags were made.

At the signal dressing room Monday evening there were 9 Eastern Star members present; five from the West side and four from the East side. The West siders made 65 4x4 compresses while the East siders made only 64. Do you East siders think you can beat them next time?

During February we made over 1000 8x4 compresses and over 1200 2x2¼ wipes. We are now busy with 8x12 absorbant pads.

The Girls' Auxiliary, under the supervision of Mrs. L. G. Larson made 165 substitute handkerchiefs, 20 hemmed handkerchiefs and 80 hemmed napkins, the hemming all done by hand. They have also solicited and wrapped about 85 comfort bags, averaging in price about $1.50 each, of which 73 were given the boys who left last Saturday, the others having been given to the boys as they enlisted last October. The work of the girls from now on will probably be done in connection with the school Red Cross work.

We have been asked to furnish some refugee garments. Mrs. Willis Akre is chairman of the committee in charge and anyone wishing to make one can find them at her home in the Union Block. They are to be ready for shipment April 1. The German Lutheran ladies are making the crochetted shawls for the same shipment.

24 new hospital shirts have been received from headquarters and many of them are already being made.

The hospital committee have been busy this week getting articles ready to be shipped. Each piece has to be looked over, bastings pulled, loose threads tied and tapes tested. All hospital shirts have to be pressed and many laundered.

The attendance at the Red Cross work rooms is not what it should be. The committees in charge are considering sending out pledge cards to women, asking them to pledge certain afternoons or evenings of each week to this work. Men are giving generously of their money. Will the women be as generous with their time?

Some of the brave men of the town have begun coming to the surgical dressing room Tuesday evenings. Aren't there others who will come and keep them company?

Bandage workers are very busy now making a 50 yard bolt of white outing flannel into scultetus bandages.

Has anyone any old tablecloths, sheets, pillow cases or nightgowns? Any piece that is as large as four inches square can be used. Please bring them to the sewing room.

NEWS from the RAILROADS

Items of Interest Regarding Activities on the Soo Line and the Great Northern

Taylor Making Rounds—E. H. Taylor, traveling claim agent, came up from Minneapolis the first of the week and has been looking after affairs pertaining to his post in this vicinity.

More Railroaders Enlist—C. A. Bartlett, brakeman, enlisted on Tuesday in the railroad regiment shortly to be sent to France. P. M. Johnson, a conductor whose home at present is Glenwood, but who has held a run out of this city on numerous occasions, has also cast his lot with the same expedition.

New Train Dispatcher—On Sunday morning a fine baby boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Oden. The popular train dispatcher has been receiving the congratulations of the depot force with becoming modesty.

Changed Positions—Harry Dybvig, formerly assistant cashier at the Soo depot, has accepted a similar position with the Great Northern, taking the place made vacant by Jacob Grenagle, who was among the contingent leaving Saturday afternoon for Camp Dodge.

Leaves to Join Army—Joseph Ostby, Soo warehouseman, leaves next Saturday for North Dakota from which state he will go to join the army. The position of night car repairer, made vacant by the departure of Arthur Berg for camp, has been filled by the appointment of Peter Olson.

Is City Visitor—Matt Styrvold, car repairer, made a short visit to Minneapolis the first of the week.

Favorable Winter—Thus far the weather throughout the greater portion of the Northwest has been the most favorable to railroading recorded for a long time. There has been hardly a delay, leave alone a tie-up of any consequence. Heretofore during the winter it has been necessary to carry a gang of about 50 men as snow shovelers all the time, boarding them right on the cars and keeping them ready at all times for emergencies. This is an expensive process and railroad officials always congratulate themselves when the danger is past. There is of course plenty of time for all kinds of trouble even yet, but the probabilities are lessened with each day that passes.

Russians Reported Returning—The contingent of Northwestern railroad men who went to Russia last fall for the purpose of aiding the transportation officials of that country, are reported as being on the Pacific enroute home again. They were not even allowed to land at Vladivostock and have been putting in the time loafing around Nagasaki, Japan. Well-posted railroaders here believe that the unit will not be disbanded upon the arrival of the men in this country, but will be sent to France where there is great need of its services.

Test Your Cows

We Do Milk Testing Free

For Stockholders and Patrons of Creamery

When butterfat sells for 57c per pound and all kinds of feed is high in price it is necessary to know which of your cows are able to pay for their feed. Those cows which give a large flow of milk sometimes give thin milk—but not always. But the only way to find out which of the cows gives PROFIT and which causes LOSS is to weigh the milk and test it about two times a month.

We will furnish the sample bottles, do the testing and assist you in computing butterfat and profit or loss on your herd.

This offer is not an act of benevolence on the part of the creamery. We know that dairying will have to be profitable if it shall progress. We realize that high price for butterfat at the creamery is important. But the cost of production and the machine which produces the butterfat is of equal importance.

We are anxious to assist you in any way we can.

Letters from the BOYS

Being Extracts From a Letter Written by Roy Lee Stevens to His Father in Rocksbury Township, This County.

But few of the soldiers from Pennington county have as yet had any actual fighting experience on the battlefields of Europe. It is certain that some of them are there, however, and will doubtless play a part in the spring offensive threatened by the enemy. One young man whose people reside here, has already had a very fair share of fighting and has acquitted himself with credit. Since the letter from which the following is taken was written he has been promoted to sergeant and is at present an instructor at Camp Devins, Mass., to which post he was sent by the British, after having seen almost two and a half years of continuous service in and near the trenches. This communication is the first dealing with an actual battle scene that has appeared in a paper in this neighborhood, and The Times is indebted to the family for permission to reproduce it. The soldier is a son of G. A. Stevens, residing a short distance southeast of the city in Rocksbury township.

The letter is dated on the "Somme Front," but for obvious reasons bears neither date or place of designation, and is an account of the manner in which the writer won his decorations and first promotion. Unlike many stories reaching the offices of newspapers, this tale is well-connected and will prove interesting reading throughout. The story follows:

Early Morning Preparations.

"The morning broke fine and clear. Everybody was awake and cleaning up before breakfast for we knew that we were to 'go over' and would soon attack. Orders were given at 3:00 a. m., for us to move over to our respective positions in the front line, seven miles away.

"As we arrived among the guns we could see the artillerymen cleaning up their pieces for tomorrow's drive. Everything was quiet just then as they were giving us a chance to get through.

"Arriving at the chalk pits, where we were to stay until it was time to move into the front line, we rested in an abandoned trench. Old Fritz was putting over a shell about every five minutes but it always fell short and no one took any notice of it. At 8:20 we moved for the front line about a mile away. We arrived at our objective at noon and settled down for the remainder of the day and the night following. Our guns had already started their work on the German trenches 400 yards away.

Dug Himself In.

"Fritz was also trying to do what damage he could. His shells were bursting quite regularly, while every few minutes the signal 'S. B.' would be passed along the line, which meant rest and blighty for some lucky chaps.

"I found a good shell hole, dug a shelter and prepared myself for a little sleep. First, however, I went around and bid all my friends goodbye. On returning to my shelter I found my partner with his lunch kit out. He said that if he was going to die he might as well do so on a full stomach. I thought so too and followed suit. When we had finished it was about 3:30 o'clock and feeling sleepy, we wrapped our coats about us and took a nap. I woke up hearing the order coming along the line, 'Get ready, as we go over at 6:20.' I looked at my watch and saw that it was then 6:17.

Germans Indicate Distress.

"Now our artillery opened with the heaviest barrage fire we had witnessed up to this time. We could see the Germans sending up distress signals and knew they were in a bad way. Orders were given to advance 100 yards every three minutes. This would keep us under our barrage and furnish cover about half way over.

"At 6:20 we went over. The first hundred yards we covered quickly and the enemy did not see us, and no wonder, as their trenches were smothered in the smoke of our bursting shells. I stopped to look around, and what a sight! I could see for a mile on each side of me and to right and left long lines of men were advancing as steady as if they were on dress parade.

Seen By the Enemy.

"We advanced in this manner for about 50 yards. But now the Huns had caught sight of us and their artillery started work. All along the line you could see men stop, throw up their hands and go down. Our barrage fire lifted and the Huns swarmed out of their dugouts with a rush. It was certainly hell. We had 200 yards to go and the men were falling thick. It seemed to me impossible to go without being hit.

"I jumped into a big shell hole about 20 yards from the German strong point that seemed full of men who were putting up a desperate fight. Looking around I found myself with an officer and three men of the 31st battalion. Our three lines of men had evidently been wiped out and we had reached thus far through sheer luck. Now my long training as a snipper came in handy. I started to pick off the Huns at close range, firing for all I was worth, but taking good aim. It seemed to be having good luck when one of my companions was shot through the head and another through the heart, which left the officer and one man beside myself. I asked the private, who had been wounded and could only move his arms, to load the rifles as fast as I emptied them. At this point the Germans located me and the next thing I knew I was lying in the bottom of the shell hole with a big gash in my helmet. Then hearing the officer asking how I was fixed for cartridges and finding that I had plenty I passed the surplus to him and proceeded to get busy again. After firing about 20 rounds they hit me again, this time in the shoulder. Now I could no longer beat Fritz to the first shot, which had saved me so long and after firing a few more rounds I felt myself going again, my steel helmet at the same time flying through the air. A bullet had passed through it wounding me in the head.

Officer to Rescue.

"Then the officer did a brave thing. Coming out of his shell hole he put a bandage on my shoulder which helped me a great deal. Seeing him about to leave I asked him where he was going. He answered that it was 'better to be dead than to let the Germans get you.' He was shot leaving the trench.

Taken By Storm.

"After the officer had left me I looked over the top and was just in time to see our troops storm the trenches about 20 yards away, capturing a lot of prisoners. Still the little fort in front of me held out. Hearing an awful roar to the right I looked and saw the most welcome sight of my life—a British tank going into action. The men on the tank also saw the fort in front of me and opened fire on it with their five machine guns, which made the Germans take cover.

A Lone-Handed Rush.

"Then I saw my chance. Grabbing my empty but still bayoneted rifle, I made a rush for their trench, climbed the rampart before any of them were aware of my presence. One of them fired at me but missed. The tank was hammering away unmercifully just then and the enemy lost heart, threw away their arms and surrendered. Besides the privates there were eight unwounded and one slightly wounded officer. Now I could see that my rifle had been doing good work, if I do say so myself. In front of my position there were a large number of dead and dying Germans, most of them shot through the head.

"For this I was recommended for the Victoria cross but did not get it. Later, however, I received the 'D. C. M.' (distinguished conduct medal) and the 'C. D. J.' (Croix de Guerre.) and was also promoted to the rank of corporal."

IS TWICE PROMOTED IN THREE MONTHS

PROF. JOHNSON ALSO MADE CAPTAIN OF AN ATHLETIC TEAM.

A short time ago the government requested that no more letters from the boys at the training camps be published, as editors in certain instances did not display the proper care in sorting out the matter appearing. This prohibition has now been removed and permission is again granted to use these letters providing the recipients exercise some judgment in the censorship.

Among the best letters received by The Times were those from Albert I. Johnson, formerly instructor at the Thief River Falls high school, and we are glad to be able to resume their publication. He is still at Camp Oglethorpe, Ga., and seems to be doing well. His letter follows:

"Dear Editor: I have been wondering for quite some time whether you accept letters from men in the service. I understood you had somehow cut them out. At any rate I'll write you and you are welcome to put it to whatever use you wish. I know this writing paper has a low kindling point so it can easily be disposed of.

Twice Promoted.

"It has been some time since I wrote now and a number of things have happened. Don't recall when I last wrote. At any rate, I now hold a warrant as sergeant and draw the magnificent sum of $44 per month. I drew my first month's pay as private, second as corporal and third as sergeant. I always did court Dame Fortune and evidently am still in favor with her.

Is X-Ray Expert.

"During the past ten weeks I have been at the local general hospital for special training in X-Ray photography. I have mastered the work and during the past six or eight weeks have been teaching other men who are also there for instruction. I found it very interesting. I am now through with that, and back to drill.

Drilling in the Mud.

"The last few days we have had hikes with full pack—tents, blankets, etc.—and have had practice in pitching our "pup" tents. Just now its too muddy to drill—in fact our favorite pastime is mud. I never saw such mud in all my life. It's sticky and slippery and oozy and deep and heavy and as uncomfortable as mud can be.

"As to living conditions: We are now in wooden barracks, having left our tents about a week ago. It seems nice to have a roof over our heads and electric lights and a floor to walk on. I hadn't had as many modern conveniences in three months. I fear these barracks would be mighty chilly though if a cold spell set in again. We were in tents all through the severe weather here.

What Has Become of Them?

Say, I wonder what has become of all my high school boys and girls. It seems they have forgotten where I live. Should be glad to have you tell them I am well and happy and am making enough for stamp money at least. Have been wondering also how the basketball season is coming. It seems that when I do hear from a scattered few they take for granted I know all about the games through the newspapers or somehow. Well I don't. And I often wonder what has happened 'up home' in athletics. How is the city team?

Effects Were Stolen.

We are getting along famously here in every respect. The only trouble I have had was that I lost all my money, my gold watch and a new jack-knife. That wasn't so bad, but I lost my T. R. F. H. S. '17 ring. That can't be replaced. All this was stolen from me one night I carelessly left my clothes in the dressing room at the local gym.

"That leads to another point. I have acted as captain and coach of our company basketball team. We won the championship of Fort Oglethorpe in eight or nine games. We also took on a bunch of Y. M. C. A. stars from the city that had beaten the champions of the South and lost to them 20-12 in a good game. All in all we had a splendid season. Last Sunday we started baseball. Guess we beat the big leagues to it this time. Expect to have a good team. I shall likely be stationed at first or third. It seems funny to run around playing ball in February and being comfortable in our shirtsleeves. I'd as soon freeze though as we have wet feet.

May Be Going Soon.

We have no idea when we leave. Maybe soon. Hope so at least. The sooner we get to our work the better we'll all feel. We are in good spirits, hoping to leave daily. We are well cared for, well clothed and well fed.

"It was with very much regret and sorrow that I heard of the death of my two soldier comrades, Anderson and Hermanson. I can understand it all thought, knowing the life that has to be lived at the various cantonments. It isn't so much lack of care as former training. They surely are deserving of all military honors. I am honored to have known them.

"In closing I wish to thank you for the weekly Times. Can't you make it a daily? Greetings to all my old friends and tell 'em to write.

Yours

War Savings Stamps

It isn't so much the amount of money you save as it is getting into the habit of saving a definite amount regularly. The best way to learn to save is not only to promise yourself that you will do it regularly but promise some one else, your wife, your parent, your husband, or your teacher, that you will not let a first of the month or first of the week go by without saving.

The Habit of Thrift Will Help Win The War

The United States Government needs money to equip our armies and to fight for democracy. Your Government—the richest in the world—is willing to pay interest for your money now. Uncle Sam offers you $5.00 War Savings Stamps for $4.13 in February, and one cent additional each month thereafter.

A Thrift Card is furnished to all purchasers of 25 cents Thrift Stamps. When all the spaces have been filled, the Thrift Card may be exchanged for $5.00 War Savings Stamps at any post office or bank. You should start saving a certain amount regularly. Outline your program. Start at once by going to your post office and getting your first War Savings Stamp or Thrift Card. And stick to it. As you treasure your right to live in this nation of freedom, do not miss a single day on which you have determined to save.

When You Need a New Battery

The Willard trade-mark branded into the side of the battery tells the whole story. For that mark is the sign of the Still Better Willard with Threaded Rubber Insulation.

It is the outward and visible sign of the biggest storage battery improvement in years.

It stands for durable, Threaded Rubber Insulation—for a battery in which the need of re-insulating is indefinitely postponed.

Rural School Notes

Junior Red Cross headquarters announces that the Red Cross is planning to build at once in connection with the Base hospital, attached to each cantonment, a Convalescent Home to be called the Red Cross House.

This house must necessarily be attractively furnished in order to serve effectively its purpose and complete as quickly and happily as possible the recovery of convalescent soldiers to full vigor of body and mind. To our Junior members is given the patriotic and pleasant task of making and in some measure, also, of designing the furniture which will be placed in the Red Cross House of the nearest cantonment.

As a preliminary study in designing these items arranged through the Chapter school committee for submission of designs by school boys are the following typical pieces of furniture that will be used in one of the Red Cross Houses:

Demountable reading table, 6 ft. x 2 ft. 6, able to be knocked down for easy storage.

A bench of similar design to slip under the table, 4 ft. x 6 ft. long.

Stools for table ends of similar design.

Arrange small local committee of women to select the best designs to be mailed to National headquarters, through the Division Director.

Designs accepted will be appropriately acknowledged in the official Red Cross bulletin or magazine and prizes will be awarded to winning students. Several designs will be accepted. It is important to get the facts at once before the schools and to have wide publicity in the local papers to create an immediate and personal interest in the plan to see that the neighboring Red Cross House is attractively furnished by the boys.

1. Use paper 8½ x 11.
2. Drawing to be in ink.
3. In lower right hand corner: name of pupil, city, state.
4. Use separate sheet for each design.
5. Each sheet must show: completed design, working, drawing of project.
6. Designs must reach the Northern Division not later than March 1.
7. Appoint a committee to select the two best designs of each project of each school enrolled.
8. Forward the two selected designs of each project to Miss Helen Harrison, Junior Membership Department, 202 Essex Building, Minneapolis, Minn.

All designs must be in the hands of the chairman of the Chapter by March 1st. Obtain, also, from the School committees, immediately, a list of schools and the number of scholars in your Chapter, competent to handle orders for Manual Training.

Success in this first order will bring other work as a reward.

H. N. MacCRACKEN,
Director, Junior Membership.

State Aid For 1917.

To School Boards and Superintendents:

The delay in payment of state aid earned by schools during the fiscal and school year ending July 31, last, was occasioned by the bringing of two suits, both of which were argued and submitted in the Supreme Court January 9, 1918. One of these cases was on appeal from the district court and was brought to restrain the payment of deficits for the years ending July 31, 1915 and July 31, 1916, and the other case was a mandamus proceeding brought in the Supreme Court to require the payment of aid in full for the school year ending in July 31, 1917.

The Supreme court on January 25, 1918 decided the first case and held that the appropriation of the 1917 legislature could not be used for payment of the deficits above referred to. The mandamus case has not yet been decided, but probably will be very soon. Until this case is decided, it cannot be known how this special aid should be apportioned. Whatever aid the schools may receive from the 1917 appropriation will undoubtedly be paid by the state treasurer at about the time of the March apportionment of the current school fund, and the school districts may reasonably expect to receive their aid the early part of March.

Very truly yours,
C. G. SCHULZ,
Supt. of Education.

Accidents to School Vans at Nelson and Barnum.

The first accident to a school van used in transporting children in Minnesota, occurred at Nelson, Douglas county, on the afternoon of January 31, when the rig carrying ten children was struck by a Great Northern westbound coast train in crossing the railway tracks near the station at Nelson.

The passenger train was late; a freight on the siding obstructed the view of the approaching train; the fender of the locomotive hit the rear bobs of the van, resulting in the death of two children, injuring one child severely and partially injuring several others and the driver.

Contrary to the state rule and to his contract and his specific instructions, the driver did not stop the van and have one of the children go ahead to watch for an approaching train.

The following evening, Friday, February 1st, a similar accident occurred at Barnum, Carlton county, which was more serious in that seven children met their death. One other was seriously if not fatally injured and others partially injured. This van carried nineteen children. In crossing the main line of the Northern Pacific near the station at Barnum, the southbound fast train from Duluth hit the rear bobs, completely demolishing the rig and carrying some of the occupants on parts of the engine for a distance.

As in the accident at Nelson, the view of the track is partly obstructed preventing a clear view of an approaching train. In this case also, the driver failed to stop the rig and have one of the children signal the van across the right of way.

Both of these accidents could have been avoided and the sad, irreparable loss of life would not now rest against those who are responsible if the simple but so evidently necessary precaution had been used of "flagging" the van across the railway crossing.

The State Rule.

When transportation of school children was first begun under state direction and support, the Department made and published the rule that no school van carrying children to and from school must approach near the danger point of a railroad crossing before first stopping and sending one of the children, who has been appointed for this purpose by the principal of the school, ahead of the rig to watch for an approaching train or danger of any other kind and flag the conveyance across the tracks. Moreover, the school principal is directed and enjoined to see that this precaution is constantly observed.

We cannot undo what has happened at Nelson and at Barnum. It has brought sorrow, distress and untold grief to the homes. It has strained nerves, not only of the two schools, but it has shocked the entire state. I shall and do insist that every precaution be taken to prevent similar accidents from occurring.

The principal and the school board in each school in which children are transported will be held responsible for the observance of this rule that the school van must be flagged before crossing a steam or electric line. The principal or superintendent is the general school administrator for his district, and with the assistance and support of his school board, is the person upon whom the enforcement of all safety requirements must rest.

The driver must exercise the utmost care and vigilance. He is immediately responsible for the safety and the lives of the children in his rig. The failure on the part of any driver to comply with the conditions stated in his contract and especially the condition relating to flagging the van at a railway crossing, should be regarded as sufficient cause for cancelling the contract and enforcing the forfeiture of his bond.

Respectfully submitted,
E. A. MOSTUE,
Co. Supt. of Schools.

MORE WHEAT IS THE GREAT NEED

A. C. TOWNLEY URGES FARMERS TO RISE TO NATION'S EMERGENCY.

IS NOW PATRIOTIC DUTY

FEELS CERTAIN THAT PRESIDENT WILL INSIST ON FAIR PRICE BEING PAID.

Farmers of the northwest are urged to plant more wheat this spring as a patriotic war duty, in an appeal issued by A. C. Townley, president, National Non-partisan League.

He points out that at present prices, rye, corn and barley are more profitable crops than wheat, and that this may result in larger acreage being sown in these grains, and thus cause a shortage in wheat unless the nation's urgent necessity for wheat is emphasized.

Must Have Wheat.

"The spring seeding season is close at hand," said Mr. Townley, "and at present prices corn, rye and barley all will pay the farmer much better than wheat. Rye is bringing $2.16 a bushel and an acre of rye yields as much or more than an acre of wheat and is a much cheaper crop to produce. Barley and corn produce from two to three times as many bushels to the acre as wheat and they are selling respectively at $1.80 and $1.75 a bushel.

"But the government and our allies need wheat above all else. Its increased production is of paramount importance. We must have more wheat to win the war. Many farmers, burdened by pressing financial obligations and probably unaware of the vital necessity for more wheat, may decide to plant corn, barley, or rye, instead of wheat. This is a very natural thing for the individual farmer to do, but if it is done generally, it will be a national calamity.

Urges Wheat Planting.

"Therefore I urge in the strongest possible manner that all farmers prepare to plant more wheat, to the exclusion of other less needed crops, purely as a matter of patriotism. And I know that the farmers will respond to this plea. The farmers are patriotic and are behind their country. There is no sacrifice they will not make. I feel sure that they will plant wheat even when they know there is more money in other less needed crops.

"But at the same time I do not think the farmer and the farmer alone, should be penalized for his patriotism. I think that the government either should advance the price of wheat or scale down the prices of commodities which the farmer is compelled to purchase. I believe this will be done. President Wilson has pointed out the injustice of reducing the price of what the farmer sells, but not reducing what he buys.

"I also think that the price of all grains and other farm products should be regulated—when that which the farmer buys is also regulated. All the farmer wants is justice. He is perfectly willing to have the price of his products reduced if what he buys is correspondingly lowered, but he cannot help feeling resentful when the price of his principal farm product is sharply cut down while unchecked profiteering continues on all sides.

Confident Wilson Will Act.

"I am confident that President Wilson and Mr. Hoover will take steps to adjust this condition. I think the farmers can depend upon this being done. But in the meantime seeding time is approaching. The situation is very, very serious, and I appeal to all farmers to plant wheat, even if it seems to threaten a pecuniary loss. I feel sure that this loss will not actually occur and that the administration can be depended upon to adjust conditions satisfactorily from the farmers' standpoint.

The Man Without a Country

By
Edward Everett Hale

This Story Is Furnished This Newspaper Through the Publicity Department of the Commission of Public Safety.

My own acquaintance with Philip Nolan began six or eight years after the war, on my first voyage after I was appointed a midshipman. It was in the first days after our slave trade treaty, while the reigning house, which was still the house of Virginia, had still a sort of sentimentalism about the suppression of the horrors of the middle passage, and something was sometimes done that way. We were in the South Atlantic on that business. From the time I joined, I believe I thought Nolan was a sort of lay chaplain—a chaplain with a blue coat. I never asked about him. Everything in the ship was strange to me. I knew it was green to ask questions, and I suppose I thought there was a "Plain-Buttons" on every ship. We had him to dine in our mess once a week, and the caution was given that on that day nothing was to be said about home. But if they had told us not to say anything about the planet Mars or the book of Deuteronomy, I should not have asked why; there were a great many things which seemed to me to have as little reason. I first came to understand anything about "the man without a country" one day when we overhauled a dirty little schooner which had slaves on board. An officer was sent to take charge of her, and after a few minutes he sent back his boat to ask that someone might be sent him who could speak Portuguese. We were all looking over the rail when the message came, and we all wished we could interpret, when the captain asked who spoke Portuguese. But none of the officers did; and just as the captain was sending forward to ask if any of the people could, Nolan stepped out and said he should be glad to interpret, if the captain wished, as he understood the language. The captain thanked him, fitted out another boat with him, and in this boat it was my luck to go.

When we got there, it was such a scene as you seldom see, and never want to. Nastiness beyond account, and chaos run loose in the midst of the nastiness. There were not a great many of the negroes; but, by way of making what there were understand that they were free, Vaughan had had their handcuffs and anklecuffs knocked off, and, for convenience' sake, was putting them upon the rascals of the schooner's crew. The negroes were, most of them, out of the hold, and swarming all 'round the dirty deck, with a central throng surrounding Vaughan and addressing him in every dialect and patois of a dialect, from the Zulu click up to the Parisian of Beledeljereed.

As we came on deck, Vaughan looked down from a hogshead, on which he had mounted in desperation, and said:

"For God's love, is there anybody who can make these wretches understand something? The men gave them rum, and that did not quiet them. I knocked that big fellow down twice, and that did not soothe him. And then I talked Choctaw to all of them together; and I'll be hanged if they understood that as well as they understood the English."

Nolan said he could speak Portuguese, and one or two fine-looking Kroomen were dragged out, who, as it had been found already, had worked for the Portuguese on the coast at Fernando Po.

"Tell them they are free," said Vaughan; "and tell them that these rascals are to be hanged as soon as we can get rope enough."

Nolan explained it in such Portuguese as the Kroomen could understand, and they in turn to such of the negroes as could understand them. Then there was such a yell of delight, clinching of fists, leaping and dancing, kissing of Nolan's feet, and a general rush made to the hogshead by way of spontaneous worship of Vaughan as the deus ex machina of the occasion.

"Tell them," said Vaughan, well pleased, "that I will take them all to Cape Palmas."

This did not answer so well. Cape Palmas was practically as far from the homes of most of them as New Orleans or Rio Janeiro was; that is, they would be eternally separated from home there. And their interpreters, as we could understand, instantly said, "Ah, non Palmas," and began to propose infinite other expedients in most voluble language. Vaughan was rather disappointed at this result of his liberality, and asked Nolan eagerly what they said. The drops stood on poor Nolan's white forehead as he hushed the men down, and said:

"He says, 'Not Palmas.' He says, 'Take us home, take us to our country, take us to our own house, take us to our own pickaninnies and our own women.' He says he has an old father and mother, who will die, if they do not see him. And this one says he left his people all sick, and paddled down to come and help them, and that these devils caught him in the bay just in sight of home, and that he has never seen anybody from home since then. And this one says," choked out Nolan, "that he has not heard a word from his home in six months, while he has been locked up in an infernal barracoon."

Vaughan always said he grew gray himself while Nolan struggled through this interpretation. I, who did not understand anything of the passion involved in it, saw that the very elements were melting with fervent heat, and that something was to pay somewhere. Even the negroes themselves stopped howling as they saw Nolan's agony, and Vaughan's almost equal agony of sympathy. As quick as he could get words, he said:

"Tell them yes, yes; tell them they shall go to the Mountains of the Moon, if they will. If I sail the schooner through the Great White Desert, they shall go home!"

And after some fashion Nolan said so. And then they all fell to kissing him again and wanted to rub his nose with theirs.

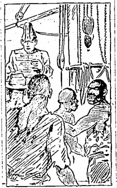
But he could not stand it long; and getting Vaughan to say he might go back, he beckoned me down into our boat. As we lay back in the stern sheets and the men gave way, he said to me: "Youngster, let that show you what it is to be without a family, without a home, and without a country. And if you are ever tempted to say a word or to do a thing that shall put a bar between you and your family, your home, and your country, pray God in his mercy to take you that instant home to his own heaven. Stick by your family, boy; forget you have a self, while you do everything for them. Think of your home, boy; write and send, and talk about it. Let it be nearer and nearer to your thought, the farther you have to travel from it; and rush to it, when you are free, as that poor black slave is doing now. And for your country, boy," and the words rattled in his throat, "and for that flag," and he pointed to the ship, "never dream a dream but of serving her as she bids you, though the service carry you through a thousand hells. No matter what happens to you, no matter who flatters you or who abuses you, never look at another flag, never let a night pass but you pray God to bless that flag. Remember, boy, that behind all these men you have to do with, behind officers, and government, and people even, there is the country herself, your country, and that you belong to her as you belong to your own mother. Stand by her, boy, as you would stand by your mother, if those devils there had got hold of her today!"

I was frightened to death by his calm, hard passion; but I blundered out that I would, by all that was holy, and that I had never thought of doing anything else. He hardly seemed to hear me; but he did, almost in a whisper, say: "Oh, if anybody had said so to me when I was of your age!"

I think it was this half-confidence of his, which I never abused, for I never told this story till now, which afterward made us great friends. He was very kind to me. Often he sat up, or even got up, at night to walk the deck with me when it was my watch. He explained to me a great deal of my mathematics. He lent me books, and helped me about my reading. He never alluded so directly to his story again; but from one and another officer I have learned, in thirty years, what I am telling. When we parted from him in St. Thomas harbor, at the end of our cruise, I was more sorry than I can tell. I was very glad to meet him again in 1830; and later in life, when I thought I had some influence in Washington, I moved heaven and earth to have him discharged. But it was like getting a ghost out of prison. They pretended there was no such man, and never was such a man. They will say so at the department now! Perhaps they do not know. It will not be the first thing in the service of which the department appears to know nothing!

There is a story that Nolan met Burr once on one of our vessels, when a party of Americans came on board in the Mediterranean. But this I believe to be a lie; or rather, it is a myth, ben trovato, involving a tremendous blowing-up with which he sank Burr, asking him how he liked to be "without a country." But it is clear, from Burr's life, that nothing of the sort could have happened; and I mention this only as an illustration of the stories which get a-going where there is the least mystery at bottom.

So Philip Nolan had his wish fulfilled. Poor fellow, he repented of his folly, and then, like a man, submitted to the fate he had asked for. He never intentionally added to the difficulty or delicacy of the charge of those who had him in hold. Accidents would happen; but they never happened from his fault. Lieutenant Truxton told me that when Texas was annexed, there was a careful discussion among the officers, whether they should get hold of Nolan's handsome set of maps, and cut Texas out of it, from the map of the world and the map of Mexico. The United States had been cut out when the atlas was bought for him. But it was voted rightly enough, that to do this would be virtually to reveal to him what had happened, or, as Harry Cole said, to make him think Old Burr had succeeded. So it was from no fault of Nolan's that a great botch happened at my own table, when, for a short time, I was in command of the George Washington corvette, on the South American station. We were lying in the La Plata, and some of the officers, who had been on shore, and had just joined again, were entertaining us with accounts of their misadventures in riding the half-wild horses of Buenos Aires. Nolan was at table, and was in an unusually bright and talkative mood. Some story of a tumble reminded him of an adventure of his own, when he was catching wild horses in Texas with his brother Stephen, at a time when he must have been quite a boy. He told the story with a good deal of spirit—so much so, that the silence which often follows a good story hung over the table for an instant, to be broken by Nolan himself. For he asked, perfectly unconsciously,



Hushed the Men Down.

"Pray, what has become of Texas? After the Mexicans got their independence, I thought that province of Texas would come forward very fast. It is really one of the finest regions on earth; it is the Italy of this continent. But I have not seen or heard a word of Texas for near twenty years."

There were two Texan officers at the table. The reason he had never heard of Texas was that Texas and her affairs had been painfully cut out of his newspapers since Austin began his settlements; so that, while he read of Honduras and Tamaulipas, and, till quite lately, of California, this virgin province, in which his brother had traveled so far and, I believe, had died, had ceased to be with him. Walters and Williams, the two Texas men, looked grimly at each other, and tried not to laugh. Edward Morris had his attention attracted by the third link in the chain of the captain's chandelier. Watrous was seized with a convulsion of sneezing. Nolan himself saw that something was to pay; he did not know what. And I, as master of the feast, had to say:

"Texas is out of the map, Mr. Nolan. Have you seen Captain Back's curious account of Sir Thomas Roe's Welcome?"

After that cruise I never saw Nolan again. I wrote to him at least twice a year, for in that voyage we became even confidentially intimate; but he never wrote to me. The other men tell me that in those fifteen years he aged very fast, as well he might indeed, but that he was still the same gentle, uncomplaining, silent sufferer that he ever was, bearing as best he could his self-appointed punishment, rather less social, perhaps, with new men whom he did not know, but more anxious, apparently, than ever to serve and befriend and teach the boys, some of whom fairly seemed to worship him. And now it seems the dear old fellow is dead. He has found a home at last, and a country.

Since writing this, and while considering whether or no I would print it, as a warning to the young of today of what it is to throw away a country, I have received from Danforth, who is on board the Levant, a letter which gives an account of Nolan's last hours. It removes all my doubts about telling this story.

To understand the first words of the letter, the nonprofessional reader should remember that after 1817 the position of every officer who had Nolan in charge was one of the greatest delicacy. The government had failed to renew the order of 1807 regarding him. What was a man to do? Should he let him go? What, then, if he were called to account by the department for violating the order of 1807? Should he keep him? What, then, if Nolan should be liberated some day, and should bring an action for false imprisonment or kidnaping against every man who had had him in charge? I urged and pressed this upon Southard, and I have reason to think that other officers did the same thing. But the secretary always said, as they so often do at Washington, that there were no special orders to give, and that we must act on our own judgment. That means, "If you succeed, you will be sustained; if you fail, you will be disavowed." Well, as Danforth says, all that is over now, though I do not know but I expose myself to a criminal prosecution on the evidence of the very revelation I am making.

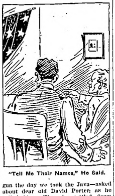
"Dear Fred—I try to find heart and life to tell you that it is all over with dear old Nolan. I have been with him on this voyage more than I ever was, and I can understand wholly now the way in which you used to speak of the dear old fellow. I could see that he was not strong, but I had no idea that the end was so near. The doctor had been watching him very carefully, and yesterday morning came to me and told me that Nolan was not so well, and had not left his stateroom—a thing I never remember before. He had let the doctor come and see him as he lay there, the first time the doctor had been in the stateroom, and he said he should like to see me. Oh, dear! do you remember the mysteries we boys used to invent about his room, in the old Intrepid days? Well, I went in, and there, to be sure, the poor fellow lay in his berth, smiling pleasantly as he gave me his hand, but looking very frail. I could not help a glance round, which showed me what a little shrine he had made of the box he was lying in. The stars and stripes were triced up above and around a picture of Washington, and he had painted a majestic eagle, with lightnings blazing from his beak and his foot just clasping the whole globe, which his wings overshadowed. The dear old boy saw my glance, and said, with a sad smile, 'Here, you see, I have a country!' And then he pointed to the foot of his bed, where I had not seen before a great map of the United States, as he had drawn it from memory, and which he had there to look upon as he lay. Quaint, queer old names were on it, in large letters: 'Indiana Territory,' 'Mississippi Territory,' and 'Louisiana,' as I supposed our fathers learned such things; but the old fellow had patched in Texas, too; he had carried his western boundary all the way to the Pacific, but on that shore he had defined nothing.

"'Oh, Danforth,' he said, 'I know I am dying. I cannot get home. Surely you will tell me something now? Stop! stop! Do not speak till I say what I am sure you know, that there is not in this ship, that there is not in America—God bless her!—a more loyal man than I. There cannot be a man who loves the old flag as I do, or prays for it as I do, or hopes for it as I do. There are thirty-four stars in it now, Danforth. I thank God for that, though I do not know what their names are. There has never been one taken away; I thank God for that. I know by that, that there has never been any successful Burr. Oh, Danforth, Danforth,' he sighed out, 'how like a wretched night's dream a boy's idea of personal fame or of separate sovereignty seems, when one looks back on it after such a life as mine! But tell me—tell me something—tell me everything, Danforth, before I die!'

"Ingham, I swear to you that I felt like a monster that I had not told him everything before. Danger or no danger, delicacy or no delicacy, who was I that I should have been acting the tyrant all this time over this dear, sainted old man, who had years ago expiated, in his whole manhood's life, the madness of a boy's treason? 'Mr. Nolan,' said I 'I will tell you everything you ask about. Only, where shall I begin?'

"Oh, the blessed smile that crept over his white face! and he pressed my hand and said, 'God bless you! Tell me their names,' he said, and he pointed to the stars on the flag. 'The last I know is Ohio. My father lived in Kentucky. But I have guessed Michigan and Indiana and Mississippi—that was where Fort Adams is—they make twenty. But where are your other fourteen? You have not cut up any of the old ones, I hope?'

"Well, that was not a bad text, and I told him the names, in as good order as I could, and he bade me take down his beautiful map and draw them in as I best could with my pencil. He was wild with delight about Texas, told me how his brother died there; he had marked a gold cross where he supposed his brother's grave was; and he had guessed at Texas. Then he was delighted as he saw California and Oregon—that, he said, he had suspected partly, because he had never been permitted to land on that shore, though the ships were there so much. 'And the men,' said he, laughing, 'brought off a good deal besides furs.' Then he went back—heavens, how far—to ask about the Chesapeake, and what was done to Barron for surrendering her to the Leopard, and whether Burr ever tried again, and he ground his teeth with the only passion he showed. But in a moment that was over, and he said, 'God forgive me, for I am sure I forgive him.' Then he asked about the old war—told me the true story of his serving the gun the day we took the Java—asked about dear old David Porter, as he called him. Then he settled down more quietly, and very happily, to hear me tell in an hour the history of fifty years.



"Tell Me Their Names," He Said.

"How I wished it had been somebody who knew something! But I did as well as I could. I told him of the English war. I told him about Fulton and the steamboat beginning. I told him about old Scott and Jackson; told him all I could think about the Mississippi, and New Orleans, and Texas, and his own old Kentucky. And do you know he asked who was in command of the 'Legion of the West?' I told him it was a very gallant officer named Grant, and that by our last news, he was about to establish his headquarters at Vicksburg. Then, 'Where was Vicksburg?' I worked that out on the map; it was about a hundred miles, more or less, above his old Fort Adams; and I thought Fort Adams must be a ruin now. 'It must be at old Vick's plantation,' said he; 'well, that is a change!'

"I tell you, Ingham, it was a hard thing to condense the history of half a century into that talk with a sick man. And I do not know what I told him—of emigration, and the means of it—of steamboats and railroads and telegraphs—of inventions and books and literature—of the colleges and West Point and the Naval school—but with the queerest interruptions that ever you heard. You see it was Robinson Crusoe asking all the accumulated questions of fifty-six years.

"I remember he asked, all of a sudden, who was president now; and when I told him, he asked if Old Abe was Gen. Benjamin Lincoln's son. He said he met old General Lincoln, when he was quite a boy himself, at some Indian treaty. I said no, that Old Abe was a Kentuckian like himself, but I could not tell him of what family; he had worked up from the ranks. 'Good for him!' cried Nolan; 'I am glad of that. As I have brooded and wondered, I have thought our danger was in keeping up those regular successions in the first families.' Then I got talking about my visit to Washington. I told him of meeting the Oregon congressman, Harding; I told him about Smithsonian and the exploring expedition; I told him about the capitol—and the statues for the pediment—and Crawford's 'Liberty'—and Greenough's Washington: Ingham, I told him everything I could think of that would show the grandeur of his country and its prosperity.

"And he drank it in, and enjoyed it as I cannot tell you. He grew more and more silent, yet I never thought he was tired or faint. I gave him a glass of water, but he just wet his lips, and told me not to go away. Then he asked me to bring the Presbyterian 'Book of Public Prayer,' which lay there, and said, with a smile, that it would open at the right place—and so it did. There was his double red mark down the page; I knelt down and read, and he repeated with me, 'For ourselves and our country, O gracious God, we thank thee, that, notwithstanding our manifold transgressions of thy holy laws, thou hast continued to us thy marvelous kindness'—and so to the end of that thanksgiving. Then he turned to the end of the same book, and I read the words more familiar to me: 'Most heartily we beseech thee with thy favor to behold and bless thy servant, the president of the United States, and all others in authority'—and the rest of the Episcopal collect. 'Danforth,' said he, 'I have repeated those prayers night and morning, it is now fifty-five years.' And then he said he would go to sleep. He bent me down over him and kissed me; and he said, 'Look in my Bible, Danforth, when I am gone.' And I went away.

"But I had no thought it was the end. I thought he was tired and would sleep. I knew he was happy, and I wanted him to be alone.

"But in an hour, when the doctor went in gently, he found Nolan had breathed his life away with a smile. He had something pressed close to his lips. It was his father's badge of the Order of Cincinnati.

"We looked in his Bible, and there was a slip of paper, at the place where he had marked the text—

"'They desire a country, even a heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a city.'

"On this slip of paper he had written:

"'Bury me in the sea; it has been my home, and I love it. But will not someone set up a stone for my memory at Fort Adams or at Orleans, that my disgrace may not be more than I ought to bear? Say on it:

In Memory of PHILIP NOLAN
Lieutenant in the Army of the United States.

"'He loved his country as no other man has loved her; but no man deserved less at her hands.'"

It is this that has made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a household word throughout the world. WEEK OF MARCH 4th IS REPAIR WEEK

The Government urges that all Farmers employ this period in looking over their farm machinery to find out what is required this spring.

At the prices we are now quoting on new machinery, repairing the old would in many instances prove a waste of money.

We are selling a part of the stock recently purchased from the Prichard Co. in this city at such astonishing reductions that the progressive farmer owes it to himself to investigate before beginning the most important season in history with old worn out machinery.

Our retail prices are lower than the wholesale prices today and the latter are liable to be still higher.

You may never again have a similuar opportunity of securing high grade farm machinery at such prices. These will only hold good until the Prichard stock is disposed of and we urge you to act at once.

He was admired and respected and his meetings whether in churches, schoolhouses or private residences were always largely attended. He possessed an admirable talent for winning friends and his sermons appealed to all. The reminiscences related from by-gone days and personal experiences gathered on scores of journeys far and near, both in America and Europe, combined a charm capable of drawing audiences for miles to listen and his song, although in latter years of less strength than in former times, perhaps did more than anything else to entertain and fascinate the listeners. "The Farewell Dance!"

In the last issue of the Thief River Falls Times the following salient facts are noted:

"The citizens of Thief River Falls, under the leadership of members of the Winslow lodge, order of the Eastern Star, will give the seventy-three men who leave for Camp Dodge on Saturday, a fitting send-off. The affair will take the form of a dance and will be given at the Auditorium on Friday night. All the men of the National army, who are in the departing quota from this county, have been especially invited as guests of honor, the party being for their benefit from beginning to end. It will, in fact, be one great evening, and those who do not attend will not only be missing an opportunity to display their regard for the soldiers——. A long time is liable to elapse before we see these men again, and many things may happen to them. "Some we may never see."

In view of the fact that the above statements do not represent the convictions of the citizens of Thief River Falls the following resolutions are submitted for publication in the Times.

We, the undersigned, do most emphatically protest against the Eastern Star assuming the leadership of the Citizens of Thief River Falls.

We regret most sincerely that the farewell party for the soldiers, some of whom "we may never see" should take the form of a dance.

We sincerely deplore that so little judgment as to what is right and fitting should be shown; that, while most of the parents of the boys are sitting at home praying God for a speedy victory to our arms, and a safe return of their loved ones, an organization arranges a public dance, which our boys should feel obliged to attend.

We most emphatically protest against the assumption that Christian citizens, who for conscience sake, would not attend a public dance, should be considered lacking in their regard for the soldiers, in loyalty to the flag, or, in love for the country.

And, we sincerely hope that the farewell parties for future quotas of our boys will take such a form that all citizens can feel free to attend.

In 1904 he sold his farm to his son-in-law, Peter Engelstad, and has made his home with him since that time.

Mr. Kjos was married twice and was the father of two children.

Funeral services were in charge of Rev. Bergford of St. Hilaire. The remains were laid to rest in the family lot in the Greenwood cemetery.

The Government Expects Us All to Conserve the Nation's Resources

Fourteen Thousand Dollars each year is wasted in Thief River Falls, by a delivery system that is a luxury rather than a necessity.

The labor expended is needed by the Government in important endeavors and present day price fixing prohibits free delivery.

Carry Your Bundles and Help Win the War

We the undersigned merchants of Thief River Falls, believing that the present system of delivery in Thief River Falls, Minnesota, is creative of an unnecessary waste at a time when the resources of the United States of America must be marshalled to a point where there will be no waste of labor and money, herewith agree that on and after the First Day of April, 1918, we will discontinue all deliveries whatsoever and that all persons desiring delivery service shall make arrangements with local deliverymen for individual service.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

MANY INVESTORS IN BABY BONDS

COMMITTEE OF WOMEN SECURE NEARLY $1,000 DURING ONE DAY'S WORK.

WAR CLUB WEEK BEGINS

BOY SCOUTS WILL START MONDAY TO COVER EVERY SECTION OF CITY.

The women of Thief River Falls have again proven that the best and surest way to get anything done is to go and do it. For some time it has been apparent that our people, in common with those of other sections of the United States, were not taking the interest they should in the war savings certificates and stamps offered by Uncle Sam and something had to be done about it. On Saturday the ladies went out and did it.

A Great Success.

When it was first announced that a house-to-house canvass would be made with the hope of finding buyers for these baby bonds it was thought that if a hard day's work resulted in a total of $300 being picked up it would indicate high grade soliciting ability. Well, the ladies found more than three times that amount—$917 to be exact, with sufficient promises of early participation to bring the total up to $1,000.

Worked By Teams.

The ladies started out under the leadership of Mrs. H. A. Pratt, general chairman and Mrs. A. S. Sapero, on behalf of the Woman's club, and assisted in a most effective manner by the teachers in our schools scoured the city. They report but few refusals and no rebuffs, which goes to show that the people are ready to do their share when the matter is properly presented to them.

One Dollar Per Head in County.

The total sales of these little savings certificates to date, according to Postmaster John Morgan, is $10,353.90, which does not include the thousand dollars secured Saturday nor this week's returns from the schools. This means that if the sum were divided equally among all the people every man, woman and child in the county would be holding one dollar's worth of stamps or certificates. This is certainly a showing to be proud of.

"War Club Week."

Next Monday the Boy Scouts start out with the intention of making a record in the sale of these securities. The week has been designated as "War Club Week" and the boys will devote such amount of time to the work as is necessary in order to cover the city. It may be considered that these campaigns are following each other rather close but when the first was begun no one knew that the scouts were to start soon. It is hoped that the boys will do as well as the ladies.

Chairman George J. Johnson of the Pennington County War Savings committee, praises the work thus far accomplished very highly and expresses his thanks for the liberal manner in which the people responded to the call.

LUTHERANS' DRIVE BRINGS OVER $2000

HANG UP REMARKABLE RECORD OF NO REFUSALS IN COUNTY.

Rev. I. T. Aastad, chairman, is now in position to report that the six-day drive of the Lutherans of Pennington county resulted in securing $2,275, practically every cent of which was turned in to Treasurer Tobias Reep before the close of the campaign. It was without doubt the most successful enterprise of its kind thus far entered upon in this section of the state and the officers and soliciting teams are greatly pleased with the showing.

The completed list contains between eleven and twelve hundred names, and the solicitors certainly saw to it that no one escaped. The most remarkable part of the campaign, however, is the fact that not in a single instance were team members turned down entirely. There may be persons who were missed in the general roundup, but all who were approached donated something.

When the campaign was announced the sum of $1,000 was set as a fair estimate of what might be expected from the Lutherans of the county, but this was over-subscribed by more than 100 per cent.

The Times has a complete list of the donators and will publish same next week, lack of both time and space making its appearance in this issue impossible.

Next Draft Call Soon?

Telegraphic reports from Washington are to the effect that the announcement of the date of the next draft is imminent. The provost marshal general's office has prepared "an important announcement" which is believed to deal with the time and method of summoning the next levy. The best opinion is that the first of the men will move to camp in April. Publication of the announcement is held up for action by congress on pending amendments to the selective service act.

Is Military Camp Cook.

A letter has been received from Hal Stanton, who is now at Camp Dodge, in which he states that he has been appointed camp cook. At the time of leaving here he did not expect to be called for foreign service, but writes that he may now be ordered across at any time and is highly pleased over the prospect.

G. H. Huseby formerly clerk in the office of Car Foreman S. J. Conklin of the Soo, has been appointed stenographer in the hospital corps at the camp. He is one of the last bunch to leave here.

SEVENTEEN FIRES LOSS OVER $21,000

WITH BUT TWO MORE FIRES LOSS INCREASES OVER 100 PER CENT

According to the annual report issued from the office of the state fire marshal the loss from fires in Pennington county during the year 1917 was $21,860 as compared with $10,410 for the year previous. The increase was in the value of the property destroyed rather than by reason of more numerous conflagrations, there being but 17 fires during the year as compared with 15 during the preceding 12 months.

In submitting the statement Fire Marshal Hargadine says: "Pennington county should speed up on fire protection as the loss is growing. While it is possible that many of the fires were of such nature that they occurred despite precautions, still nothing should be overlooked at this time to keep the loss down.

"The state and federal governments are doing their utmost to conserve resources and fire losses are coming to be distinguished as a menace that every citizen should guard against, especially during war time."

VOTERS' LEAGUE IS ORGANIZED IN CITY

PLANS TO WORK IN CONJUNCTION WITH FARMERS' NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE.

Inability to belong to the Non-Partisan League on the part of those not engaged in agricultural pursuits led to the formation here on Sunday of a Voter's League with close to one hundred members. The charter members are practically all residents of Thief River Falls and have been supporters of the Non-Partisan League movement for the past year.

At the meeting C. E. Glines was chosen chairman and O. A. Naplin recording secretary and treasurer. A membership committee composed of C. E. Hellquist, Herman A. Ohm, Bernhard Knudson and C. A. White, was named. Meetings will be held the first and third Sundays of the month. An outside speaker will be brought here the latter part of March or early in April.

Following is wording of the membership conditions as presented for signature among citizens of this city.

"The farmer and laborer has nothing in common with the capitalist and exploiter. Through organization the capitalists have been able to control the political machinery and secure the enactment of laws in harmony with their economic interests. Through the lack of organization, farmers and laborers have been compelled to vote for candidates chosen for them, not by them.

"Organization is a modern necessity. The National Non-Partisan League is now organizing the farmers for the purpose of securing for them a greater share of the products of their toil. It has a definite program, which, if carried through, will benefit the consumer as well as the producer, and eliminate many of the injustices of our present economic system.

"In order that the farmers may succeed in their efforts we feel it our duty to support and work with them in unity, for what benefits the farmers indirectly benefits the laborers and business men in the small cities, and to that end we hereby endorse the program of the National Non-Partisan League and will use our influence to secure the election of men who will represent the farmers. A prosperous community means a prosperous city."

SMITH IS ELECTED CLUB SECRETARY

WILL BE ASSISTED BY SHERIDAN RORKE, FORMERLY OF GRAND FORKS

Mr. Smith was recently elected secretary of the Merchants' association and will fill both positions. He has secured the services of Sheridan Rorke of Grand Forks as assitant secretary, Mr. Rorke arriving today so a to be thoroughly acquainted with the work when Mr. Smith assumes the position on March 15.

LABOR PROBLEM MAY BE SERIOUS

FARM BUREAU AND SAFETY COMMISSION WORKING TOGETHER ON PLAN.

MAY CALL BUSINESS MEN

INDICATIONS ARE THAT CONDITIONS WILL BE WORSE BEFORE HARVEST.

Last year Pennington county farmers were able to harvest their crops without the necessity of calling on outside aid in the matter of laborers. The number of farm boys who have joined the colors since last harvest, however, will undoubtedly make the problem of securing sufficient help to sow and harvest this year's crop a more serious matter. Despite the fact that the price of other grains is somewhat out of proportion to the price of wheat, there exists a very commendable and patriotic sentiment among the farmers of Pennington county as a whole to put as much acreage into wheat as it is possible to care for. Many members of the Non-Partisan League assert that the acreage of wheat sown in Pennington county, from purely patriotic motives will utterly disprove the assertions that this organization is not loyal.

Labor Must Be Had.

But to sow and harvest a large crop of wheat requires labor. The United States government will undoubtedly endeavor to assist in this problem. The Minnesota Commission of Public Safety will also try to get the full measure of efficiency from its free employment bureau.

But there is much truth in the old saw, "the Lord helps those who help themselves," and the labor which can be recruited from local sources will undoubtedly be of much more value than the imported variety.

May Call Businessmen.

Every available citizen who can possibly be spared from other employment in the county should be urged to get out on a farm. It may be necessary before the season is over for business men and others employed in town to get out and do their bit upon a farm in order to harvest this year's crop. In order to produce the best results, Ross P. White, county agent and Charles A. Pitkin, county director of the safety commission will pool the resources of their two departments in one co-operative effort. Mr. White's office will be the clearing house. He has mailed questionaires to every farmer in Pennington county asking for information with references to the amount of help and the time when it will be required, and farmers have been urged to make prompt reply so that this step in the organization can be completed as rapidly as possible. The township committeemen of Mr. Pitkin's organization have been asked to assist in getting this information. All those who are willing or desire to work on a farm this summer, or any part of it, should register their names with Mr. White. His office is in the basement of the Auditorium in this city. Pennington county must raise its share of wheat this season and everyone should get into the game on the labor proposition to offer encouragement to those loyal farmers who are willing to put in the acreage in the face of a scarcity of help.

OLD TIMERS SURE OF EARLY SPRING

CONDITIONS WERE EXACTLY SIMILAR IN THIS SECTION 23 YEARS AGO.

Twenty-three years ago on March 4 two young men arrived in Thief River Falls from Grand Rapids, across the state from this city, and started on a career which must be admitted as at least moderately successful. They were Robert McGinn, president of the new Farmers' and Merchants' State bank, and Math Barzen of the Hansen-Barzen Milling company, owners of a large flour mill here and grain elevators at twenty or thirty different towns in Northwestern Minnesota. But that is not what we started out to tell about.

Mr. McGinn states that this spring is an exact counterpart of the first they put in here. There was not a great deal of snow and it went away early. February was a fine month and March an improvement even on this. The farmers were all able to do their seeding by the end of the latter month and the crops never encountered a set-back from the time they were put into the ground until harvest.

As a weather prophet Mr. McGinn should be an authority. He has been on the ground almost continually since his first trip and has had plenty of opportunity to note the result of weather indications. He believes that there will be no more real cold weather and very few bad days of any kind.

Trying For Commission.

Harold McCrum, one of the four brothers from this county who are now in the service, has been encouraged by his officers to try for a commission in the marines, to which branch he is attached, and at present located in Texas. Friends of the young man here have sent the very highest recommendations as to his character and general worth and they hope that the young fellow will land what he is after. Wesley, a brother, is a carpenter's mate at the Norfolk navy yard.

SCHOOL AID FOR TWO YEARS PAID

DIFICIENCY APPROPRIATION FOR 1917 INCLUDED IN CURRENT DISTRIBUTION.

MEANS $24,000 IN COUNTY

WILL RELIEVE MANY OF THE SMALLER DISTRICTS FROM EMBARRASSMENT.

The State authorities have finally announced that the money due the schools by reason of the failure to receive the regular appropriations for the year 1917 will be paid at the same time as the regular March school aid apportionment. The total distribution for the state amounts to $3,512,611 and is the largest single apportionment in the history of Minnesota. The checks will be mailed from the state treasury without delay, especially since the aid payments have been held up for three months or more because of litigation.

Besides the special annual aid to public schools for the year ending July 31, 1917, the disbursements will include the March, 1918, apportionment.

Is Welcome Sum.

The two items will mean a total of about $24,000 for the Pennington county schools. Last year's appropriation for this county is based on a total of 3,021 pupils who will receive aid at the rate of $8.16 each, while the March per capita distribution will be for 3,040 pupils at about $3.80 each.

Smaller Districts Handicapped.

The failure of the state to meet the usual payments has been the source of considerable annoyance to the smaller districts particularly, and in some instances needed improvements have had to be postponed in the larger centers. The levies for the year were all made up with the understanding that this money would be forthcoming as usual and its failure to materialize caused considerable embarrassment. The final adjustment will be hailed with delight by a large number of harrassed school directors throughout the state.

MINSTREL SHOW BY THE KIDS' BAND

BENEFIT ENTERTAINMENT TO BE STAGED AT AUDITORIUM MARCH 15

Everybody is going to the big minstrel show to be given by the Kid band on Friday evening, March 15. The proceeds will go to the band, and the entire community is interested in the success of the undertaking. The rehearsals are in charge of Joe Greenfield, band leader, and Miss Una Nelson.

As will be seen by the program in another column of this paper, the entertainment will offer a variety of features, mostly of a patriotic nature. The boys are practicing the music for the occasion with a fidelity that insures something particularly fine in this department, while the other features are receiving the most painstaking attention under the instruction of Miss Nelson.

Two More Smileage Books.

The ladies of the Eastern Star order this week gave out two more smileage books to boys who left for training camps. One was George Noibby and the other George Poppe. The ladies still have a considerable sum on hand for this purpose, this being what is left of the proceeds of the dance given last week.

ROBBER WANTED HERE IS CAUGHT

HARRY MATHEWS, BELIEVED TO HAVE ROBBED SOO DEPOT IN 1913.

ALSO ACCUSED OF MURDER

TRAVELED UNDER ALIAS OF HOWE AND HAS LONG CRIME RECORD.

The mystery surrounding the robbery of the Soo depot in this city on the night of Sept. 29, 1913, when $7,500 was taken from the express box, now bids fair to be cleared up. The Chicago police last week arrested one George Mathews, alias George Wade, who is thought to have been one of the trio who engineered the Thief River Falls job.

Wanted For Murder.

Mathews was arrested by the Chicago police under suspicion of being the man who killed three passengers on a Great Northern train in the state of Washington on Feb. 20, 1914. When the police came to look up his record it was found that they had apprehended one of the worst criminals in the country. He has served time in the Montana state prison and at Vancouver for burglary and is wanted by the authorities of numerous localities in the West.

Stole $7,500 Here.

The robbery for which Mathews, or Wade, is wanted here, took place on the night of Sept. 30, 1913. The northbound Soo flyer, which goes through at 2:40, had just left the depot when Baggageman Charles Johnson and Ticket Agent Ed. Tollefson were confronted by three masked men who ordered them to throw up their hands. The small safe carried on the express car had just been deposited in the depot and this the hold-up men secured. The movement of cash was unusually heavy at the time, the Soo elevators and country banks requiring large sums to meet the demands of the farmers. The robbers managed to get away and although the railroad company sent its best men on their trail and offered large rewards for their capture, they were never apprehended.

Lived Here Formerly.

Mathews was married and lived in the city at the time, but if suspicion ever pointed in his direction it was not sufficiently well defined to warrant his arrest. Who the two men with him were had never been discovered, but the general impression is that they were not strangers as they seemed particularly well acquainted with their surroundings.

Inasmuch as Mathews is wanted in other sections for more serious crimes it is not likely that he will ever be brought to trial for robbery in Pennington county.

Two Others Caught.

There is no question about the identity of Howe. Chief of Police E. O. Erickson this week received photographs of the accused man and it has been recognized by a number of persons as being that of the man who formerly was employed in the baggage room at the Soo depot here. Two other suspects, giving their names as Thomas Mack and Walter Keller, whose photos were also sent to the Thief River Falls police department, are not recognized here.

ONE MAN ARRESTED TWICE IN 5 MONTHS

WAS ONLY ONE GOING UP ON DRUNK CHARGE DURING THAT TIME.

Judge N. W. Tarrant on Thursday morning assessed a fine of five dollars against Andrew Johnson for becoming drunk and disagreeable. When the judge came to enter the sentence in his docket he found that the same Andrew Johnson was also the last man up before the court on a similar charge, having first made the acquaintance of the judge on Sept. 20 of last year. During the five month interim there has not been a single case of drunkeness and his honor had so far forgotten how to deal with such misdemeanors that he allowed the culprit to go with a fine of only five dollars. It was paid.

Having purged himself of his offense by the payment of the fine, Johnson wanted the four bottles of booze of which he was dispossessed at the time of his arrest returned to him. Judge Tarrant referred him to Chief of Police Erickson, who said he was holding the goods at the orders of Mayor Penney. The latter was approached with the request that he order the release of the precious stuff, but he also was adamant and refused.

It is reported that an investigation will be made with a view to discovering just who it was that sold this amount of whiskey to Johnson. It was procurred at Red Lake Falls and the vendor is liable to find himself in considerable difficulty if he is found out.

Jos. F. Vorachek of Lankin, N. D., arrived last Friday for a few days' visit at the home of his brother, J. J. Vorachek. He returned to his home Monday morning.

Banking House to Move.

The First and Peoples' State bank will move from the corner of Second street and Main avenue to the building occupied by the Peoples' bank before the consolidation with the First State and located on Third St., between LaBree and Main. The quarters are now undergoing a thorough renovating, being repainted and to some extent remodelled. The building has been standing idle since the bank moved out and as the present quarters of the institution are only rented it is considered a matter of economy to make the move.

NEW MANAGER FOR PRODUCE CONCERN

G. L. BIDDICK OF WADENA SUCCEEDS A. O. HENRY AT LOCAL PLANT

G. L. Biddick of Wadena, vice president of the Petterson-Biddick company and brother of D. C. Biddick, the first manager of the concern's plant in the city, arrived this week and will take over the active management of the enterprise. He succeeds A. O. Henry, who has been in charge for the past year and a half and who leaves to again take up his former position as traveling salesman for the J. G. Cherry company, St. Paul, a large creamery supply house.

It is the intention of Mr. Biddick to move his family to this city next and to get energetically after business for his concern. He is a man of long experience in the produce line and sees in this locality an excellent opportunity for the maintenance of a large and important house. Having branches at Crookston, Deer Creek and Jamestown, as well as the parent house at Wadena, the company is one of the most widely known in this section.

ANOTHER ADDED TO LIST OF $2 PAPERS

RED LAKE FALLS GAZETTE CANNOT LONGER CONTINUE AT OLD RATES.

The Red Lake Falls Gazette last week announced that after the first day of May the subscription price of the paper will be $2.00 per year. Like the other first-class weeklies of the state, Messrs. Christie & Cutten find that they cannot furnish the kind of a paper to which the people are accustomed at the old price.

Since the Thief River Falls Times announced about a month ago that a raise in the subscription cost was absolutely necessary, a number of the papers in this section have followed suit and other have admitted that it is the only way in which the high cost of production can be met. The Times is still obtainable at the old rate of $1.50 for the year, it having been decided to maintain this price until the first of April in order to give everyone fair notice.

The old rate of $1.50 has barely covered the cost of production for some years past, but newspaper men were slow to ask their subscribers for an increase, realizing that the constantly rising cost of everything made it a difficult matter for many to meet ordinary living expenses. A few of the braver spirits in the business made the plunge and the readers took the advance in every case with scarcely a grumble, realizing that the newspaper man could not very well be expected to exist under old conditions when everything going into his product was steadily on the upward grade.

The increase amounts to less than one cent a week for each subscriber, but when each issue consists of 4,000 papers, as is the case with The Times the aggregate makes the difference between a slight profit and an absolute loss.

HOSPITAL SUBMITS EXCELLENT REPORT

The annual meeting of the Physicians' hospital association was held on Tuesday evening and the following officers elected for the ensuing year: Dr. F. H. Gambell, president; Dr. O. F. Mellby, vice-president; Dr. H. W. Froehlich, secretary; Dr. H. G. Hieber, Treasurer.

The secretary's report showed that 470 patients had been admitted to the institution during the year. Out of this number 16 died, four following operations was 350. Twenty-eight good percentage of recoveries and compares most favorably with the records of the foremost hospitals in the country. The total number of operations was 350. Twenety-eight children were born at the hospital during the year.

Eight nurses, in charge of Miss Mina Rock, are now employed at the institution. It was decided to secure quarters for these in some other building hereafter, as every bit of available room is required for the accomodation of patients.

ATTEMPT MADE TO WRECK TRAIN

KARLSAD MAN ARRESTED

HAD OPENED OIL TANKS, EXPECTING FIRE TO FOLLOW THE SMASH-UP

The first attempt of German sympathizers to bring about a loss of life or serious destruction of property in Northwestern Minnesota was made at Karlstad Monday night. That one of the worst train wrecks in the history of this section was averted is due more to good luck than anything else, as the plans of the criminal were laid on a somewhat elaborate scale.

Train Kept Track.

Train No. 109, which is the northbound Soo limited going through this city at 2:40 a. m. and arriving at Karlstad about an hour later, was carrying a carload of Canadian and British men to Winnipeg, where they expected to enlist. These had been picked up at different points in the country and assembled at Minneapolis. From facts gleaned by railroad detectives it would seem that this particular car was the one against which the effort of the would-be wrecker was particularly directed.

Partly Threw Switch.

The lock on the switch near the depot at Karlstad had been broken with a crowbar and the lever pulled part way over. The flyer was running on schedule, making about 45 miles per hour when the open switch was struck. The train did not leave the tracks as intended by the criminal, but stayed right side up and the engineer managed to stop within a very short distance.

Opened the Oil Tanks.

The ground in the neighborhood of the switch was found to be covered with about four inches of kerosene which had been let out of the tanks of the Standard Oil company located near the tracks. The intention had without question been to cause a fire in the wreckage as soon as the open switch had accomplished its work.

Slacker is Arrested.

Railway detectives were at once put on the case and within a short time arrested a man on suspicion of being the guilty party. He is liable to military service and has been drafted but has made the statement that he would never enter the army. When arrested it was found that he had shot three of the fingers off his right hand, claiming that this had been done while he was hunting rabbits. The authorities believe he purposely mutilated himself in order to escape the draft and he will have this additional charge to face.

NUMBER OF ALIENS IN COUNTY SMALL

NEARLY ONE-HALF OF THE 296 REGISTRANTS LIVE IN THE CITY.

In spite of the fact that Pennington county has always been regarded as containing a large foreign-born population, it develops from the registration returns of last week that the number of foreign-born who are not citizens is very small. The total is 296, and of these 131 are credited to Thief River Falls.

Bray is the only township in the county in which no aliens are found, the number in the others being as follows: Black River, 6; Cloverleaf, 4; Deer Park, 6; Goodridge village, 2; Highlanding, 9; Hickory, 12; Kratka, 3; Mayfield, 3; Numedal, 8; Norden, 10; North, 15; Polk Center, 11; Rocksbury, 8; River Falls, 5; Reiner, 3; Sanders, 6; Smiley, 12; Silverton, 3; Star, 11; Wyandotte, 4; Village of St. Hilaire, 21; City of Thief River Falls, 131.

The Deal Fell Through.

As will be noticed by the announcement of the Prichard Company in another column of this issue, the concern has decided to remain in the lumber business in this city. The deal whereby another concern was to become owner of the stock and business of the company has fallen through and the Prichards will continue at the same old stand. It seems that the prospective purchasers did not wish to or were unable to carry out their part of the original agreement after the deal had been all but closed, and the delay in getting the matter settled has cost the Prichard people considerable loss and inconvenience.

The Time Is Getting Short.

IF YOUR SUBSCRIPTION TO THE TIMES IS NOT PAID BEFORE APRIL 1st IT WILL COST YOU $2.00 PER YEAR. Nearly everybody is saving 50c by paying up now.

MEMBER ORGANIZED 1867

THEIR AIM IS APPARENT

The grain gamblers and big millers who make up the membership of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce are now enjoying their biennial pastime of picking out a successor for Congressman Halvor Steenerson of this district. These same elements have been busily engaged in this same occupation for more than twenty years and are farther from success now than ever.

Steenerson has always been a thorn in the side of those whose one great purpose is the manipulation of grain prices in such a manner that the farmer shall get the worst of it, no matter what price he may happen to be getting for his product. Through pools and combinations, robber grading systems and unreasonable deductions, the Northwestern farmer has for years been given the rawest kind of a deal by those through whose hands his crop must pass. Congressman Steenerson has been very active and decidedly successful in securing legislation looking toward relief from these legalized highwaymen's methods and has thereby incurred the undying enmity of those who profited by them.

The Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce and the Minneapolis Journal, its official mouthpiece, have now found a way to get rid of the Ninth district congressman for good." The Farmers' Non-Partisan league offers the opportunity. The plan is to have the latter organization nominate a candidate of its own for congress against Steenerson, placing the name on the ballot by petition. After this has been accomplished some man on whom all the elements opposed to the league can unite will be selected as the standard bearer in opposition and every energy bent toward his election. In this manner they would not only succeed in eliminating Steenerson, but would have at least a fighting chance of electing some man acceptable to them.

The trouble with these people is that they refuse to give the farmer credit for having any sense. They think that this kind of deal may be put through without anyone connected with the Non-Partisan league becoming aware of what is going on until it is too late. By continually suggesting a league candidate they hope to bring about a general understanding to the effect that it is the intention to put one forth, even though no such move may have been considered.

The farmer, however, whether he is a member of the Non-Partisan league or not, knows that in Congressman Steenerson he has one tireless champion at Washington. The Ninth district member has at all times fought for better marketing conditions, more just grading laws, higher wheat prices, lower freight rates, and better conditions for the farmer generally. His arraignment of the methods pursued by the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce in his brief submitted to the Federal Trade Commission during the investigation ordered by President Wilson into the production, ownership, manufacture, storage and distribution of food products is a masterly document from the standpoint of the farmer and is the culminating offense in a long list, according to the market manipulators in Minneapolis.

And this is the champion whom these people are now asking the farmers to defeat by putting up against him a candidate bearing the official stamp of the Non-Partisan league. To do so would be playing directly into the hands of the most uncompromising enemies of the league and at once call into question the sincerity of the organization's purposes. Congressman Steenerson has been loyal to the interests of the farmers at all times and under all circumstances. He has been the originator of much of the legislation calculated to bring about better conditions and has thereby incurred the enmity of those who profited under the old system. For the league now to put a candidate up against him at the behest of those whose main aim is the continued exploitation of the farmer would be making but a shabby return for the ceaseless service in behalf of the latter with which he stands credited.

And the farmers will never do it.

THE FARMERS' "TROUBLE SHOOTER"

Practically all business enterprises of any size or importance have a department devoted to the receiving of complaints, offering suggestions and straightening things out generally. That is exactly the function of the county farm agent, and the farmer is his customer.

Farm bureaus have proven an unqualified success in every county in the United States where the farmers have wished to make them such success. None have ever been abolished because they had too much to do; but in a few instances their usefulness has not been particularly apparent for the simple reason that the farmers have failed to make use of the services offered.

This is particularly the trouble during the first years of the bureau's existence in a community. Where one has been long established the farmers would not get along without it no matter what the cost, as they have found out that no other institution can or will give them the same service. But a campaign of education has often been necessary in order to make the people understand the purpose of the plan

We hope that the farmers of Pennington county will not be backward in putting their problems up to the man equipped to solve them. He is particularly anxious to be of value and will deem it a favor if his services are in demand often. Every farmer or stock-raiser with a difficult situation before him can very often save time and money by at once asking the advice of the man hired for the sole purpose of helping him in his work. Where it is possible trips will be made to localities where any situation out of the ordinary exists, while due attention will be paid to the troubles of each individual so far as this is practicable.

The farmers should not get the idea that all the agent knows is what he has gained from books and that therefore their own practical experience is of more value than his theories He is a practical farmer who has the added advantage of scientific training. Where the ordinary farmer sees only effects, the agent is liable to discover primary causes. Where the farmer would attempt to remedy a condition through experimentation, the agent would stand ready to remove the trouble at once, thus saving both time and money. Many a time when it looks to the farmer as if he will have to plant unsatisfactory seed, the agent will be in a position to direct him to where a better article may be secured. Should stock be taken sick without any apparent reason the agent may be the person to discover the source of the outbreak.

The county agent will help the farmer in a hundred different ways—if the farmer will allow him to do so.

MAKE A START NOW

Uncle Sam needs more money and YOU are expected to furnish some part of it. The campaign for the third Liberty Loan will begin about April 6, and every man, as well as most of the women and many of the children in the United States are expected to take some share of the securities offered.

The interest rate will in all probability be higher than for any of the preceeding issues, but no one should stop to consider this phase of the matter. The money is needed to carry on the war, and if you wish to see your Uncle Samuel in the fracas for all he is worth you must loan him the money with which to procure the necessary fighting equipment.

A new plan is to be followed in this loan, and it is a good one. Every person will be expected to subscribe according to his means and the reason for any refusal will be investigated. New systems for making it easy for those to participate who at no time have a very large supply of ready cash on hand will be worked out, the intention being that everyone capable of saving anything at all from their earnings shall be included among the holders of this third series of bonds.

The total amount of the issue has not been given out, but this is a matter of minor importance. It will be easier to secure five billions now than it was to raise two billions last June. The people are awake to the necessity for financing this gigantic undertaking and will respond without any urging. Many who did not get in on the first two issues because they could at that time see no particular necessity for their inconveniencing themselves have now come to realize that the winning of this war means something to them as well as to the rest of mankind and will chip in their bit without hesitation. The amount, whatever it is, will be raised this time as it was on the previous occasions.

Lyndon A. Smith, attorney general of Minnesota, died in St. Paul on Tuesday. He was 63 years of age and was serving his sixth year in the office, which he had administered with signal ability. The appointment of a successor is now up to Governor Burnquist and the candidate most generally favored in this section is C. L. Hilton of Fergus Falls. Mr. Hilton has been the assistant of the deceased attorney general for some years and since the failing health of the latter has had practical charge of the office. He is a most capable man and the promotion would prove popular.

NEWS from the RAILROADS

Items of Interest Regarding Activities on the Soo Line and the Great Northern

NO ALLOWANCE FOR RAIL WORK

COMPENSATION FOR ROADS UNDER GOVERNMENT CONTROL DECIDED UPON.

Agreement on compensation of railroad while under government control based on their net income for three years ending June 30 last and substantially in the form approved by the senate was reached today by conferees on the administration railroad bill.

The house conferees accepted the senate provisions providing that no allowance be made for money spent on improvements during the last few months preceding federal control. This would reduce the compensation about $6,500,000 annually.

Subject to final approval the senate conferees agreed to include all short line railroads under the act instead of only the competing short lines. These settlements leave only two important points still in dispute—rate making and the period of government control.

More Enlistments—The call of the army and navy still continues to take men from the railway service. This week P. E. Stevens, a brakeman running out of this city but whose home is at Alvarado, joined the forestry service and has left to take up his new occupation. G. E. Homan, agent at Dahlen, was in the cities to take his examination for admission to some branch of the service. Lloyd L. Ralston, machinists' helper, resigned to join the navy as did also Robert Lane, night car inspector. L. T. Eckhart, agent at Eckman, went to Lakota on Monday to take the examination, being relieved by H. B. Pfeiffer. P. M. Joringdal is Mr. Holman's relief at Dahlen.

Fordville Agent Sick—H. Carlson relieved O. P. Clowe as agent at Fordville for two or three days during the past week, the latter being on the sick list.

No Transient Railroaders—The general fear that there will be a scarcity of competent railroaders when the heavy traffic of the fall months comes on seems to be well founded. The army and navy are taking a heavy toll and the situation may become acute, at least that is the opinion expressed here. At the office of the Division Superintendent Barnard it is reported that for the six months last past hardly a man of experience has applied for a position of any kind in the train running departments. This is an unusual condition and is giving the officers cause for considerable worry.

Back At Old Job—Miss Ella Northrup, who has been helping out in the office of Freight Agent H. A. Pratt during the past month, has returned to her former post in the office of Superintendent Barnard. This leaves the freight department short-handed and Mrs. Pratt is helping out temporarily.

February Payroll $30,000—February is the shortest month of the year and the pay checks of railroaders generally indicate that a day or two has been missed. The amount handed out to the boys for last month's work even at that was $30,000, however, which is certainly pretty good for a late winter month. In fact there have been but few better Februarys in the history of the division. This money practically all went to workers residing here, although a part of it was distributed among men living in other nearby localities but who run out from division headquarters in this city.

A Busy Division—The large amount of detoured traffic handled over the Soo at the present time is responsible for one of the busiest winter seasons for a long time. The Canadian Pacific, which is also a part of the great Soo system, finds its tracks between Winnipeg and Sault Ste. Marie so heavily burdened with war shipments that it is impossible to keep the lines clear. For this reason much of the traffic is diverted to the road at Winnipeg and routed through the Twin Cities, being picked up again at Sault Ste Marie by the C. P. and carried to the seaboard.

Demurrages Are Few—Since the government's order regarding the loading and unloading of cars went into effect there has been very little trouble in keeping the rolling stock moving on this division. But one violation has been recorded in the city. A shipper ordered a car spotted and kept it for two days on the side track without making any attempt to place his goods into it. At the close of the second day he notified the railroad officials that he would not use the car as he had made other arrangements. He was informed that it would be necessary for him to pay the sum of $3 for each of the two days the car remained at his disposal, and while he objected rather strenuously he paid the charges. Railroad men are very strict regarding this matter as a violation of the rules leaves their roads open to a fine of $5,000. No trouble has been encountered in getting consignees to take their shipments out of the way at once.

Is Now Married Man—Julius Knutson, car repairer, is back to work after having been away from his post for a week for the purpose of taking unto himself a wife.

Are With the Engineers—Word has been received from Camp Dodge to the effect that Arthur Berg, former car repairer, and Joseph Johnson, until recently clerk in the office of Master Mechanic J. A. Hendry, both of whom left to join the army with the last contingent sent from this city, have been assigned to the 313th engineers. Gilbert H. Huseby, former clerk at the office of Car Foreman J. S. Conklin, who also went with the same bunch, has been assigned to stenographic duty at the camp, while Bert Ostvolden, night yard clerk, is on duty at the base hospital. Schuyler Schmitz, former fireman, has been assigned to the artillery.

On Sick List—Car Inspector C. A. Jocelyn has been off the job during the past few days because of illness. Ben Dahl, coach cleaner, is also in the dry dock with a troublesome attack of the grippe.

Many in the Service—The official service publication of the Soo railroad, called "The Way the People Travel," in its March issue contains a list of the names of employes of the line who have gone to the front. There are 35 credited to Thief River Falls and the Winnipeg division out of a total of 597.

Are Commissioned Officers—Many of the boys who went from this city to join the railway contingent sent to Russia seem to have fared pretty well in the matter of appointments. According to a statement in a leading railway publication the following have been made first lieutenants: T. J. Rowan, G. P. Hinton, A. G. Greenseth, William Piggott, W. D. Boyce and F. M. Roberts. The contingent was not permitted to accomplish what it started out to do and the members are no doubt disappointed, but they certainly have had a trip and an experience worth while.

Division Jottings.

Leonard Johnston, fireman, is visiting friends in Minneapolis during a 30-day leave of absence.

R. H. Burrell, fireman, has gone to Bemidji to work in the lumber woods until called for duty later in the season.

Ole H. Olson, machinist's helper, has resigned his position and is getting ready to go farming as soon as spring opens up.

Engineer James Turnbaugh has gone to Adams to work.

J. G. Johnson, agent at Henning, spent Sunday with friends at Erskine.

SPLENDID WORK OF Y. M. C. A. IS NOTED

SOLDIERS FROM THIS COUNTY WRITE TELLING OF COMFORTS PROVIDED.

Contributions made by residents of Thief River Falls to the National War Work Fund of the Army Y. M. C. A., which has now reached $60,000,000, are already paying big dividends in the lives of the boys who have gone from this city and county to receive their military training at Camp Dodge and other military points in the west. According to advices reaching here this week, the Y. M. C. A. huts in the big cantonments never have been so popular as during the recent cold weather when thousands of enlisted men were driven inside the buildings for their amusements, games and letter writing. The cheery open fireplace, the phonographs and pianos, books and magazines, form a happy combination that spells "home" to the boys away from home.

Practically every family in this community has received letters from Iowa and Minnesota boys written on Y. M. C. A. or Red Triangle stationery which is issued without cost to every man in uniform. At Camp Dodge recently a total of 203,075 letters were mailed by the Y. M. C. A. in a single month, all of them having been written at the benches in the Y. M. C. A. huts.

Y. M. C. A. accomodations have been provided already in more than 150 centers in France for the soldiers in Pershing's expedition. At the present time there are more than 1300 American Y. M. C. A. secretaries in the war zone promoting for Uncle Sam's boys the same program they have enjoyed in the big camps in this country.

When the American troops took over their section of the French fighting front there were eight Y. M. C. A. dugouts waiting for their exclusive use. These provided chocolate, sweets of all kinds, biscuits and knicknacks. The last thing the American troops will get before they go over the top will be a cup of hot coffee or tea, a biscuit or two, some chocolate for emergency rations and a word of cheer and inspiration from the Y. M. C. A. secretaries.

The Junior Red Cross work is rapidly being organized in the various rooms and buildings. This will not displace any regular school studies, but is additional thereto.

Letters from the BOYS

A Full Fledged Soldier.

Frances Burns, who, with Ben E. Bothun and O. C. Paulson, left a short time ago to join one of the engineer regiments, has written to his parents from Columbus, Ohio, telling of his experiences so far. He is quite enthusiastic over his new post as the following portions of his letter will show:

"Yesterday (Feb. 23) they turned me into a full-fledged soldier for Uncle Sam. I received a complete outfit, consisting of six pairs of sox, two shirts, three suits of underwear, two towels, a brush and comb, two pairs of heavy shoes, one pair of trousers, coat and overcoat, hat, a large bag, three heavy woolen blankets, one pair of puttees, tooth brush and shoe strings. We were also treated to a shot in the arm—that is, they injected some kind of serum as a protection against typhoid fever and other diseases. Our arms are all a little sore, but that is to be expected and outside of that I feel fine.

Fine Bunch of Men.

"We had the luck to get in with a mighty fine bunch of fellows. They are nearly all graduates of the University of Michigan and they make a fellow feel right at home. Last night before taps, which are sounded at nine o'clock, we gathered around the stove and sang songs. There are about 30 men in our barracks and already we are just like a large family, everyone helping each other as much as they can.

"We are having regular spring weather. There is no snow on the ground and it is cloudy, looking as if it might rain. I met a young Catholic fellow from Milwaukee here by the name of Kroch. He knows Mr. Meehan well and I think his folks are neighbors to the latter.

In Old Army Post.

"Columbus Barracks, where we are now stationed, was formerly a regular army post. The buildings have been here quite a while, the streets are paved, they have electric lights, sewers and water works. At present we are only here for the purpose of getting inoculated and expect to be leaving any day for Washington.

"The people in this part of the country seem to be somewhat of a different class, being apparently a lot more sociable. For instance, we went to a hotel when we arrived and wanted a room for 50 cents apiece. The landlord, however, stated that his price was one dollar. We explained our circumstances and destination and that at once made a great difference. He cut his price right in two for us.

Get the Best Care.

"They take the very best care of us here and I think I will be a husky when I get out of the service. They see that we are well provided for and give us the very best of medical attention. Just came back from dinner where we had potatoes, peas, bread, celery, wheat and corn bread, pork chops, cake and ice cream. Not so bad, I should say.

"In case I leave here my mail can be forwarded so that my address until further notice will remain care of Y. M. C. A., Columbus Barracks, Columbus, Ohio.

Was On Torpedoed Ship.

George E. Borden, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Borden of the town of North, who with Henry J. Rogers and Omer Anderson was on board the torpedoed Tuscania, has written to his people here informing them of his safe arrival in Ireland. The two letters are dated one day apart and are mailed at Belfast and at some point a few miles from that city respectively. The first letter was dated on the 8th of February, and is very short.

"Well, we were on the ship that was torpedoed," writes this soldier without any preliminary explanation, "and it sure was a great experience. Henry and I both got away safe but were separated for three days. I never was so glad to see anyone in my life as I was to find him again and I know that he felt the same way.

"The people here are good as they can be. This is a very pretty country. Everything is green so you know that it is not very cold.

"I do not have much time to write."

The Second Letter.

It would appear from the communications sent by this young man that he has not yet found Omer Anderson, the third Thief River Falls boy on the Tuscania. The latter was landed at Londonderry and is now in England. The second letter is in part as follows:

"How is everything at home? I hope you are all well and not worrying about me as I am all right. Henry and I are in the same squad. They reorganized the company today.

"The troops on the torpedoed ship were pretty well scattered. This is the fourth day since we landed and we have not all gotten together yet.

"The boat I was in was only adrift about three hours when we were picked up, but they say some were out 36 hours. I don't know yet if this is true, there were so many strange things happening that night—if a fellow is to believe all he hears. Will tell you more about it when I return.

"The people here treat us fine. We have four meals per day—breakfast at 8, dinner at 11, tea at 5, and supper at 7, so we are living in good style.

"Travelled about 40 miles yesterday by rail. The country is just as you hear about it, only warmer than I thought. The little farms on the hillsides do certainly make a pretty sight. About all of the carts we see are two-wheelers. It looks funny to see a big load of hay on one of them pulled along by only one horse. It is very seldom a person sees a team.

"Will be glad when we get settled so I can hear from you again. We have all the money we need."

Mrs. H. A. Brumund and Miss Una Nelson returned to this city last Friday morning from Grand Forks, N. D., where they visited for two days with Mrs. Brumund's daughter, Miss Doris, who is attending a business college.

Miss Josephine Larson, who lives with her parents on a farm southwest of this city left last Thursday morning for Middle River to visit her sister, Mrs. O. J. Olson.

NEW ORDER TO BE STRICTLY OBSERVED

ALL GROCERS SIGN GOVERNMENT'S LATEST PLEDGE CARD REGARDING FLOUR.

Every grocer in Thief River Falls handling flour has signed the pledge cards sent out from Washington all over the United States and which were received in this city this week.

This ruling is to the effect that an equal amount of the substitutes must be sold with wheat flour, and is in printed form so that there can be no further question in regard to the matter. State administrators have been construing the orders as seemed most wise in their territories, but this pledge now does not permit of this.

Failure on the part of any merchant to sign the pledge or to observe its rules will, no doubt, result in the revocation of the right to sell flour according to the letter sent to the Thief River Grocery Co., of this city, licensed wholesalers. The pledge as signed follows:

"We pledge ourselves loyally to carry out the Food Administration program. In accordance with this order we will not sell any wheat flour except where purchaser buys an equal weight of any one or more of the following, the greater use of which in the home will save wheat: Corn meal, corn flour, corn grits, cornstarch, hominy, soya bean flour, buckwheat flour, rice, rice flour, oatmeal, rolled oats, barley flour, potato flour, sweet potato flour, festerita flour and meals."

The following exception is made: Whole wheat and graham flour may be sold on the basis of five pounds of flour to three pounds of substitutes.

The grocers signing the card in this city are the following: L. J. Ackerman, M. N. Benson, C. Christofferson & Co., O. L. Cronstrom, I. E. Howick, Oen Mercantile Co., Ostby's grocery, Gilbert Sandum, H. K. Strand, Zeh & Curran.

LOKENS' EMBARK IN NEW VENTURE

ADD EXTENSIVE MAIL ORDER DEPARTMENT TO THEIR BUSINESS.

CATALOGS TO BE OUT SOON

BIG CONSIGNMENT OF GOODS HERE READY FOR FURTHER DISTRIBUTION.

Thief River Falls has long been regarded as the principal trading center for a large section of country and now this fact is to receive added emphasis. A thoroughly equipped mail order house, handling dry goods, notions, women's and children's wear, will shortly be in full running order. The department was at first considered as a possible adjunct to the regular retail line of Loken Brothers, but now bids fair to become the principal feature of the business of that firm.

Has Great Possibilities.

The opportunities offered for an establishment of this kind in this section have long been recognized by H. O. Loken, head of the firm. It is not a new idea that he is trying to work out, but the result of deliberate planning and much investigation. He recently visited the big jobbing and manufacturing centers in the East and received much encouragement from the people providing the wares in which the firm deals. Every assurance has been given that these will be forthcoming as fast as wanted and that the prices will permit of the goods being handled at a cost much lower than is possible even for the large catalogue concerns.

High Grade Goods.

The local mail order house will differ somewhat from others of the same class, principally in the classes of goods handled. These will include the same merchandise handled by the store's retail department, and cannot be found listed by the mail order firms in the larger cities.

These goods are not ordinarily sold to the bigger concerns for mail order distribution because of the fact that they would be sent out along with other wares of doubtful quality and this would have the effect of detracting from their standing. The manufacturers have often spent years and vast sums of money in getting their product up to a certain recognized standard and are very careful lest anything be done by the retailer that will in any way injure their standing. It was only after being assured that the goods to be handled through the mail order department of the store would be of the same quality as those handed to customers over the counter that these supplying houses would consent to having their output included in the list.

A Fine Catalogue.

The spring catalogue of Loken Brothers is being printed at The Times office now and will be ready for mailing next week. There are 80 pages in the book, and 5,000 copies will be distributed throughout this section. This means that a total of 400,000 pages of bargains will be scattered broadcast and should be sufficient to give the innovation a thorough test.

It requires both ambition and vision to embark upon an enterprise of this kind but the projectors are assured of its success and are stinting nothing in the way of preparation.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Haroldson who were guests of the former's father in this city and also a sister, Mrs. Anna Aaland, returned to their home in Mussel Shell, Mont., the latter part of last week.

Step Lively! Corns Quit with "Gets-It"

The Great Corn-Loosener of the Age. Never Fails. Painless.

Watch my step? What's the use! I go along "right side up without care," even with corns, because I use "Gets-It", the painless, off-like-a-banana-peel corn remover. I tried other ways galore, until I was blue in the face and red in the toes. No more for me. Use "Gets-It." It never fails. Touch any corn or callus with two drops of "Gets-It," and "Gets-It" does the rest. It's a relief to be able to stop cutting corns, making them bleed, wrapping them up like packages and using sticky tape and salves. It removes any corn clear and clean, leaving the toe as smooth as your palm. You can wear those new shoes without pain, dance and be frisky on your feet. It's great to use "Gets-It."

"Gets-It" is sold at all druggists (you need pay no more than 25 cents a bottle), or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. F. Curtis, Lambert's Drug Store and F. J. Stebbins.

PLANT A PLOT AND AID THE RED CROSS

OPPORTUNITY FOR EVERYONE TO DO SOMETHING FOR THE CAUSE

How much will you pledge toward the support of the Red Cross for the coming year?

Here is a question which is to be answered by all those who have ground under cultivation in Pennington county.

It may be that some boy or girl may wish to give the proceeds from a quarter of an acre, or a half an acre, or even a whole acre. And their parents may also wish to do the same.

Here is a scheme whereby every one who lives in the county may do his or her share. It may be that garden truck will be planted and raised by some, while others will set aside a certain plot of ground in the field where corn or oats or wheat or some other grain has been planted. It matters not what is raised, only so that the ground is cultivated as intensely as possible to the end that the Red Cross will benefit, and thus assist in winning the war.

Cut out the coupon in today's paper and send it to your Red Cross chapter. Make your promise today.

CREAM RECEIPTS ALMOST DOUBLE

FARMERS ARE URGED TO TEST EVERY COW IN THEIR HERD.

The month of February has been one of the best of the year, so far as business at the local creamery is concerned. According to Buttermaker L. Haselrud the receipts have been more than twice as large as a year ago, with every indication that the increase will keep up in like proportion during the entire spring and summer season. The high prices being paid for butter fat are of course responsible for this, but it proves that the scarcity of fodder did not have the effect of thinning out the herds to any great extent.

Testing is Urged.

The creamery management is anxious that the dairymen shall make the most of the present favorable condition and for this reason urge that all milch cows be tested to ascertain the percentage of butter fat in the milk. Mr. Haselrud says on this subject: "When butterfat is selling for 57c per pound it is desirable that a farmer should know which of his cows are producing at a profit. We will gladly help him discover this by making the test necessary. Sample bottles will be furnished and the butterfat value of the milk given by any cow computed right here at the creamery. Farmers cannot under present conditions afford to feed the non-profitable animal and we will help weed these out."

This is an offer that every farmer should take advantage of as it will help him get the best results at the lowest cost.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McKinney of this city, left last Thursday evening for Rochester, Minn., where Mr. McKinney will receive medical attention at the Mayo hospital and will probably undergo an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Charder of St. Hilaire, were in the city last Friday attending to matters of business and visiting with friends.

SEVENTEEN KNOWN TO BE IN FRANCE

THIS NUMBER OF PENNINGTON COUNTY MEN ALREADY AT FRONT

Former fellow-employes at the postoffice in this city received a letter from Walter E. Smith the first of the week announcing his safe arrival in France. Private Smith is with Company A, Fifth Battalion, 20th Engineers, and states that his trip across the pond was uneventful. He missed being shipped on the ill-fated Tuscania and seems to be in excellent condition.

This makes seventeen Pennington county men who are known to be in France at the present time, and the number may be much larger than this. There is no doubt but that our soldiers are going over in large numbers, but just how large no one is able to say or permitted to estimate. The home boys who are known to be on or near the actual battle front are the following:

Walter E. Smith, Hardy L. Bothun, Harold Provencher, Gilbert J. Larson, C. T. Tanberg, J. S. Prichard, E. P. Brevig, Martin Langseth, Fred T. Scanlon, Leo A. Millar, Robert E. Bryant, George E. Borden, Henry G. Rogers, Elmer J. Eklund, Clarence T. McCully, Joe Schmitz, Omer Anderson.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS

The following is a list of the unclaimed letters at the postoffice of Thief River Falls, Minn., for the week ending February 23, 1918. If not called for in two weeks from the above date they will be sent to the Dead Letter Branch at Chicago, Ill.:

TO STANDARDIZE SPUD IN COUNTY

DEMONSTRATION PLOTS TO BE CONDUCTED UNDER DIFFERING CONDITIONS

EXPERT HERE MARCH 16

WILL DELIVER ADDRESS TO GROWERS AT THE COMMERCIAL CLUB

At the meeting of the Pennington County Potato Growers' association, held in the Farm Bureau office on Saturday afternoon, it was decided to boost the inductry in every possible way during the coming summer. A. G. Tolaas, potato specialist of the state university, has been secured for a lantern lecture to be held in the Commercial club rooms on Saturday, March 16, at 2 p. m. Everyone interested in the production of spuds should be present to hear this most interesting and instructive lecture. The association is putting this on for the benefit of the local growers and it will be free to the public.

Demonstration Plots.

The potato association will cooperate with the state pathologist and the local farm bureau in conducting about fifty demonstration plots throughout all parts of the county. Each plot will consist of one-half acre and will be grown as a part of the farmers field and cared for in the same manner, except that on the demonstration plots all seed will be selected and treated against preventable diseases. During the growing season varietal mixtures will be removed so that in the fall good seed potatoes may be secured. A number of farmers have already agreed to conduct a plot on their farms and no trouble is anticipated in securing all that can be handled by the state force.

Standardization of Varieties.

In order to better compete on the market and be able to ship in car load lots it was decided that only a few standard varieties should be grown on a commercial scale. The Early Ohio, Burbank and Rural New Yorker were the three varieties decided upon as the ones to be recommended for this county. It is hoped that the potato growers will co-operate in this effort to standardize the county's output.

Miss Martha Mortenson, teacher in the Central school, left last Thursday for her home in Warren and was unable to return for school Monday on account of the illness of one of the members of her family. Miss Katie Dahl is substituting during her absence.

Is Grinding Rye Flour.

The Hanson & Barzen mill of this city has been busy the present week grinding rye in order to assist the government in its food saving propaganda. Many mills throughout the Northwest have been changed over to such extents that they are grinding but one kind of cereal in this great effort to win the war. One Minneapolis mill which has been turning out wheat flour only for years, has for a week been grinding nothing but corn meal. Another is turning out daily great quantities of barley flour.

To Whom This May Concern.

This is to advise those who are interested in the purchase of tractors that the firm of C. Gustafson & Son, Thief River Falls, Minn., have the exclusive right to sell Avery tractors, threshers and plows in territory tributary to Esplee, Germantown, Goodridge and Thief River Falls, Minn. They are our only representatives in this territory.

Notice.

Rural School Notes

The High School Board examinations will be held throughout the Pennington county rural schools on March 21 and 22. The State program is not yet out, but the examinations will, presumably, begin at eight o'clock on those days.

For the reason that the state only furnishes a limited number of sets of questions, 27 in all, certain schools most conveniently located have to be grouped together for the purpose of the examination. The schools will meet as follows:

Schools Grouped.

Dists. No. 37, 48 and 66—Lilly B. Hoard, Kratka, conductor; 56 and 46—Mrs. Hilda Sande, Erie, conductor; 219 and 25—Esther Kellberg, Thief River Falls, conductor; 135 and 2—Sophie Nelson, Thief River Falls, conductor; 69 and 99—Nora E. Highberg, Wylie, conductor; 30 and 28—Anna Adolph, Thief River Falls, conductor; 12 and 154—Anna Moengen, St. Hilaire, conductor; 41 and 31—Esther Tandberg, Thief River Falls, conductor.

Not Grouped.

Districts 4—Margaret McCrum, Thief River Falls; 61—Alice Thompson, Thief River Falls; 29—Emma Tandberg, Thief River Falls; 147—Nellie Nelson, Thief River Falls; 133—A. O. Brevik, St. Hilaire; 178—Mabel Satre, St. Hilaire; 54—Agnes Elg, St. Hilaire; 149—E. E. Anderson, St. Hilaire; 194—Mrs. Bert N. Thorstad, St. Hilaire.

Consolidated 8—A. O. Halvorson, Goodridge; 70—Anna Paulson, Goodridge; 57—Louise Furatnau, Erie; 50—Alfred Hermanson, Erie; 59—Alma I. Sether, Erie; 52—Gertrude I. Olson, Rhoda; 20—Emma Hanke, Su[illegible]; 35—Elna Bartlett, Plummer, 7—C. S. McReynolds, Highlanding.

The sets of examination questions will be sent out in good time to reach the conductors before examinations begin. The conductors will therefore call at the postoffice not later than the mail day next preceeding the day of examination to begin for the mail. Let me call the attention of the deputy examiners, the conductors, to the fact that the St. Hilaire School board examination paper must be ordered in a quantity to cover the need of all subjects on which a pupil writes. The paper can be had at this office on payment of a small charge to cover cost. Make your order this or next week.

The days of examinations are days to be devoted exclusively to that work. There will then be no school work going on in the designated places of examination. In districts where only one or perhaps two or three pupils are to be examined these can join with some other of the schools grouped without their teacher going along, but where there are many scholars in a school to be examined, the teacher will have to accompany them to the examination.

The deputy examiner will conduct the examination, that is, each of the teachers designated above, in his or her respective school. They will certify to the examination and send all papers—the papers of her pupils and of those pupils from other nearby districts grouped for the purpose of the examination. The deputy examiner will mark all papers. But the other teachers having pupils there for examination if present, may mark the papers of her own school. All the papers must be certified to and sent in by the deputy examiner in charge of the examination. See that the school district number where the pupil belongs is placed on his or her paper.

Quite a number of papers are to be sent this year and I trust the examination will show splendid results as evidence of hard and thorough work in our schools. Subjects will be taken in the following order:

Thursday, March 21st—Spelling, 8th grade composition and grammar, covered in one examination; American history.

Friday, March 22nd—Arithmetic; Geography.

The next examination will begin Friday, May 24th.

Respectfully submitted,
E. A. MOSTUE.

Red Cross Benefit.

The Highlanding branch of the Red Cross will hold an auction sale March 16 at eight o'clock in the evening in the school house half a mile west of Highlanding. Everyone is requested to come and bring anything they wish to donate to the Red Cross and which will be sold at auction. You have something that you don't use that your neighbor needs. A lunch will be served after the auction at 25 cents a plate.

Another Branch Formed.

At a meeting of the Non-Partisan League in Kratka township Friday, a Branch of the American Red Cross was organized with thirty members, thus adding another link in the chain of Pennington county auxiliaries. The officers chosen are: Chairman, K. K. Austin; vice-chairman, Stephen Singer; treasurer, Albert Hansen; secretary, O. O. Hofdal; member executive committee, R. M. Johnson.

RED CROSS NOTES

Unless we sit up and take notice the country branches are going to out-sew us. Rocksbury, one of our new branches, brought in 20 pairs of beautifully made pajamas as a result of their activity for the last two or three weeks. Sanders, a very new branch, brought in as their contribution five well-made hospital shirts.

Several ladies from St. Hilaire came up Friday and inspected the surgical dressing room to ascertain the requirements so that they may prepare for that work in their town. They sent us a large package of knit goods and hospital garments last week.

The attendance at the sewing room was much better last week than for some time.

As a result of the market shortage of tape the bandage makers had to do 240 yards of hemming in two days last week.

The pressing of 60 hospital shirts last week emphasized the long-felt need of a good standard ironing board in the sewing room. Has anyone an extra one that they will loan to us?

Please save us all your white and light colored scraps from your spring sewing, no matter how small the pieces are. Any pieces of new muslin as large as 13x17 can be used as covers for comfort pillows.

Orders from headquarters are that we are to limit our knitting to socks and sweaters until the shortage of yarn in the market is relieved. We have on hand a small quantity of stocking yarn.

Since September 1 Mrs. M. W. Evenson has made 25 sweaters, 8 pair of socks, 7 helmets, 6 pair of wristlets and 1 muffler. If others can beat that record let us hear from them.

The Junior Red Cross society is busy getting plans arranged so that members will all be at work as soon as possible.

Agricultural Society Meeting.

There will be a special meeting of the Pennington County Agricultural society held this evening in the court room. The appointment of a secretary and other important business is to come up and a full attendance is requested.

E. O. MOGENSEN CHOSEN PRESIDENT BY NEW BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

Aasen, E. O. Mogensen, D. Gustafson, Ed. O'Hara, M. T. McFarland, Carl B. Larson, Edward Ness and L. C. Nielsen.

SCHOOL NOTES

The state department of education recently issued a list of German texts used in the schools of Minnesota, classifying them into those considered objectionable by reason of their teaching of autocratic tendencies, those considered somewhat unsatisfactory, and those altogether satisfactory. The local schools had four sets of texts in the first class, and it is needless to state that they are no longer in service.

The Detroit high school team which administered a defeat to the locals at Detroit two weeks ago, had the tables turned on themselves last Friday in the local gym. The contest was very close and was considered one of the fastest games ever played in this city.

It ought to be understood by the public that the school does not recognize nor stand sponsor for any dancing parties. Without the knowledge or approval of the school authorities, the name "high school" has sometimes been used in advertising downtown parties. Damage to property and improper behavior at these gatherings cannot be charged to the school, though some high school students may attend them. Parents in particular can well inquire into the character of these functions.

The normal students will spend next week practice teaching in various rural schools. This is a department requirement.

The thrift stamp campaign goes merrily on in the schools. Aside from the patriotic feature of the campaign it is already evident that the simple lessons of thrift and saving have taken strong hold of the children.

The four Sammy Backers' clubs in the high school communicate at frequent intervals with the school boys in the service. On Monday Division "D" had a "cooky" day and some lucky fellows in khaki or in blue will soon be sampling the various varieties of cookies, much like those mother used to make. Nothing is too good for the boys serving their country.

Some thirty of the teachers "did their bit" last Saturday by co-operating with the Woman's club in making a thrift stamp canvass of the city.

The schools have been singularly fortunate this year in avoiding contagious disease troubles. A few scattering cases have appeared which the attending physicians promptly cared for with the result that the danger ended right where it began.

The Public Forum

Readers of The Times are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas on topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences as well as personalities are barred. All communications must be signed, not necessarily for publication, but in order to show the good faith of the writer. In thus throwing open its columns to the public, The Times assumes no responsibility for the opinions expressed, nor is it to be assumed that their tenor necessarily corresponds with the policy of the paper.

For a number of years the farmer, as a class, have quietly gone about their work, concentrating both physical and mental energy—mostly physical—on producing more grain, raising more stock, draining and clearing more land. Of necessity they labored patiently and entertained but few political or social ambitions except those that hinged upon their immediate environment. Their interest seemed vested solely in production. But now things are visibly changing. Production is not the all-essential. Another problem has loomed up—that of collective control over conditions of their existence seems necessary. In order to approach this end they begin to employ organization, because it is the only effective means of combining the efforts of many for the achievement of a common end.

Much protest, however, is being made, saying that the tillers of the soil are needed, especially during this critical period, on the farms, with their full investment of mind and body. And it is true that narrowing the field of attention is favorable to the attainment of a higher degree of expertness. But even with an active hand in public questions we fail to see that it will in any way retard or hinder the farmer's regular work, except in individual cases, for they still plan to till the soil and only seek to eliminate the unnecessary social pest and thereby bring about more favorable conditions for the masses. Disloyalty, too, is hurled in their direction, but this is instigated mostly by a few who would enjoy a monopoly on public questions. The farmers may not believe it necessary to maintain commission houses, wheat gambling and institutions of like nature, and may desire to extend government ownership, but that should not mar their loyalty. Note that they have the real American spirit of OPENLY coming together in groups to discuss the subject, and aim to accomplish the task through the ballot box. And you may safely rely on them to put forth every effort in trying to fill the next year's bread box, which will be the great help to put Kaiserism beneath the sod of time.

The press in many instances dislikes the actions of the farmers in their recent political movements and have wasted many Eagle pencils and much printers' ink, telling about meetings of farmers that were stopped because they might have proved to be disloyal and too often failed to report meetings or even mention those that were held and proved to be all American. In such instances, which are numerous, the press does not give that which it owes to society—namely the real sentiment of the masses. All credit due, however, to the Thief River Falls Times. In their report of the Non-Partisan league meeting they gave an untainted report from which one may interpret the public sentiment. We do not wish to convey the idea that the press should agree with the [illegible] in any or all questions, but let the true sentiment be expressed unmarred. Then if the press is not in harmony with the trend of public thought, and desires to point to right and wrong, it ought to deal with the criticism from a personal viewpoint and not sponge by trying to have the social mind embodied in their own purely personal ideas. For the press is an institution which brings the minds of society into vital touch with each other and floats great ideas and ideals produced by master-minds from which the humbler may freely take and should, therefore, not give the social thought too great a personal taint while passing through their hands, for thousands of us receive little other mental nourishment than that imparted by the daily and weekly press. Again all honor due to the Thief River Falls Times.

OSCAR BREVIK,
St. Hilaire.

SILVERTON CLUB.

Meeting of Feb. 23 1918. By H. P. Rued, secretary.

While waiting for the arrival of certain club officers, before starting the meeting the Silverton band played a selection.

The Red Cross membership was increased by two members, S. J. Stenberg and H. P. Rued.

A letter from A. D. Wilson, food administrator of Minnesota, urging production of larger crops, was read and met with the approval of all present.

H. C. Woolson was placed in charge of securing feed, such as corn and oats for all club members in need of these, to aid them through spring work in putting in as large a crop as possible for Uncle Sam the coming season.

Fred Burdick was appointed chairman of pledging acre plots to the Red Cross.

The secretary moved to donate $10 to School Dist. No. 53 to help defray the expense of wood, etc., but said motion received no second. Instead S. J. Stenberg, member of the school board, consulted the other board members present, also the school patrons, and through a motion donated the $10.00 included in the first motion together with $10.00 more, making $20.00 to be donated to the Silverton band. Motion carried and Mr. Ed. Kotlan, president of the band cordially thanked the club for the interest shown, after which the band gave another selection.

Lunch was served by Mrs. H. P. Rued and Mrs. H. C. Woolson, the proceeds of which brought $6.24.

The following program was carried out:

Solo—Miss Myrtle Sathre.
Song, "Marching With Townley," Danda.
Recitation, "The Kaiser Got His" B. Newton.
Recitation, "Big Dutch Sally," Dandala.
Song—Miss Agnes and Christine Newton.
Song, "Patriotic"—H. P. Rued.
Story, "An Incident On My Trip to Ohio"—H. C. Woolson.
Song, "Picnic Party"—Earl Ernst, Augusta Beisner and Elenore Sandere.

The program closed with music by the band.

The band boys who have had only twelve practices since receiving their instruments, did wonderfully well. Some instruments are idle, owing to several of the boys having left to fight for our country, or are soon to go. Joe Greenfield, their instructor is to be congratulated in being able to get the boys so well on the way to progress, as several of the farmers and even members of the band thought they had gone up against an unconquerable proposition when they entered the field of band music. And the best part of it was that Mr. Greenfield, who could not be present, had intrusted the leadership to the boys themselves. It shows he has confidence in them and believes that farmers are able to become musicians as well as other people if they are willing to work. After learning the boys were able to play, requests were made by several present to join the organization, but only a limited number may now be admitted without ordering more instruments. The boys now belonging have made up their minds "to stick." They are well pleased with Mr. Greenfield and believe that he is also pleased with them, otherwise he would not have made a special effort to be present the first time the boys were heard at the N. P. L. convention on Friday, Feb. 22. It is very important that the boys attend all practices or rehearsals and then in the near future they will make a real band, while now they are only beginners.

Our next meeting will be held the last Saturday in March at 8 p. m.

Is Grinding Rye Flour.

The Hanson & Barzen mill of this city has been busy the present week grinding rye in order to assist the government in its food saving propaganda. Many mills throughout the Northwest have been changed over to such extents that they are grinding but one kind of cereal in this great effort to win the war. One Minneapolis mill which has been turning out wheat flour only for years, has for a week been grinding nothing but corn meal. Another is turning out daily great quantities of barley flour.

To Whom This May Concern.

This is to advise those who are interested in the purchase of tractors that the firm of C. Gustafson & Son, Thief River Falls, Minn., have the exclusive right to sell Avery tractors, threshers and plows in territory tributary to Esplee, Germantown, Goodridge and Thief River Falls, Minn. They are our only representatives in this territory.

Rural School Notes

The High School Board examinations will be held throughout the Pennington county rural schools on March 21 and 22. The State program is not yet out, but the examinations will, presumably, begin at eight o'clock on those days.

For the reason that the state only furnishes a limited number of sets of questions, 27 in all, certain schools most conveniently located have to be grouped together for the purpose of the examination. The schools will meet as follows:

Schools Grouped.

Dists. No. 37, 48 and 66—Lilly B. Hoard, Kratka, conductor; 56 and 46—Mrs. Hilda Sande, Erie, conductor; 219 and 25—Esther Kellberg, Thief River Falls, conductor; 135 and 2—Sophie Nelson, Thief River Falls, conductor; 69 and 99—Nora E. Highberg, Wylie, conductor; 30 and 28—Anna Adolph, Thief River Falls, conductor; 12 and 154—Anna Moengen, St. Hilaire, conductor; 41 and 31—Esther Tandberg, Thief River Falls, conductor.

Not Grouped.

Districts 4—Margaret McCrum, Thief River Falls; 64—Alice Thompson, Thief River Falls; 29—Emma Tandberg, Thief River Falls; 147—Nellie Nelson, Thief River Falls; 133—A. O. Brevik, St. Hilaire; 178—Mabel Satre, St. Hilaire; 54—Agnes Elg, St. Hilaire; 149—E. E. Anderson, St. Hilaire; 194—Mrs. Bert N. Thorstad, St. Hilaire.

Consolidated 8—A. O. Halvorson, Goodridge; 70—Anna Paulson, Goodridge; 57—Louise Furstnau, Erie; 50—Alfred Hermanson, Erie; 59—Alma I. Sether, Erie; 52—Gertrude I. Olson, Rhoda; 30—Emma Hanke, Sunbeam; 35—Elva Bartlett, Plummer; 37—C. S. McReynolds, Highlanding.

The sets of examination questions will be sent out in good time to reach the conductors before examinations begin. The conductors will therefore call at the postoffice not later than the mail day next preceeding the day of examination to begin for the mail. Let me call the attention of the deputy examiners, the conductors, to the fact that the St. Hilaire School board examination paper must be ordered in a quantity to cover the need of all subjects on which a pupil writes. The paper can be had at this office on payment of a small charge to cover cost. Make your order this or next week.

The days of examinations are days to be devoted exclusively to that work. There will then be no school work going on in the designated places of examination. In districts where only one or perhaps two or three pupils are to be examined these can join with some other of the schools grouped without their teacher going along, but where there are many scholars in a school to be examined, the teacher will have to accompany them to the examination.

The deputy examiner will conduct the examination, that is, each of the teachers designated above, in his or her respective school. They will certify to the examination and send all papers—the papers of her pupils and of those pupils from other nearby districts grouped for the purpose of the examination. The deputy examiner will mark all papers. But the other teachers having pupils there for examination if present, may mark the papers of her own school. All the papers must be certified to and sent in by the deputy examiner in charge of the examination. See that the school district number where the pupil belongs is placed on his or her paper.

Quite a number of papers are to be sent this year and I trust the examination will show splendid results as evidence of hard and thorough work in our schools. Subjects will be taken in the following order:

Thursday, March 21st—Spelling, 8th grade composition and grammar, covered in one examination, American history.

Friday, March 22nd—Arithmetic; Geography.

The next examination will begin Friday, May 24th.

Respectfully submitted,
E. A. MOSTUE.

Red Cross Benefit.

The Highlanding branch of the Red Cross will hold an auction sale March 16 at eight o'clock in the evening in the school house half a mile west of Highlanding. Everyone is requested to come and bring anything they wish to donate to the Red Cross and which will be sold at auction. You have something that you don't use that your neighbor needs. A lunch will be served after the auction at 25 cents a plate.

Another Branch Formed.

At a meeting of the Non-Partisan League in Kratka township Friday, a Branch of the American Red Cross was organized with thirty members, thus adding another link in the chain of Pennington county auxiliaries. The officers chosen are: Chairman, K. K. Austin; vice-chairman, Stephen Singer; treasurer, Albert Hansen; secretary, O. O. Hofdal; member executive committee, R. M. Johnson.

RED CROSS NOTES

Unless we sit up and take notice the country branches are going to out-sew us. Rocksbury, one of our new branches, brought in 20 pairs of beautifully made pajamas as a result of their activity for the last two or three weeks. Sanders, a very new branch, brought in as their contribution five well-made hospital shirts.

Several ladies from St. Hilaire came up Friday and inspected the surgical dressing room to ascertain the requirements so that they may prepare for that work in their town. They sent us a large package of knit goods and hospital garments last week.

The attendance at the sewing room was much better last week than for some time.

As a result of the market shortage of tape the bandage makers had to do 240 yards of hemming in two days last week.

The pressing of 60 hospital shirts last week emphasized the long-felt need of a good standard ironing board in the sewing room. Has anyone an extra one that they will loan to us?

Please save us all your white and light colored scraps from your spring sewing, no matter how small the pieces are. Any pieces of new muslin as large as 13x17 can be used as covers for comfort pillows.

Orders from headquarters are that we are to limit our knitting to socks and sweaters until the shortage of yarn in the market is relieved. We have on hand a small quantity of stocking yarn.

Since September 1 Mrs. M. W. Evenson has made 25 sweaters, 8 pair of socks, 7 helmets, 6 pair of wristlets and 1 muffler. If others can beat that record let us hear from them.

The Junior Red Cross society is busy getting plans arranged so that members will all be at work as soon as possible.

Agricultural Society Meeting.

There will be a special meeting of the Pennington County Agricultural society held this evening in the court room. The appointment of a secretary and other important business is to come up and a full attendance is requested.

NEW OFFICERS FOR RETAIL MERCHANTS

E. O. MOGENSEN CHOSEN PRESIDENT BY NEW BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

At the annual meeting and banquet of the Merchants' association held Tuesday evening in the Commercial club rooms, the following directors were chosen for the coming year: Carl Christofferson, E. K. Aasen, E. O. Mogensen, D. Gustafson, Ed. O'Hara, M. T. McFarland, Carl B. Larson, Edward Ness and L. C. Nielsen.

Following inspirational talks on the war and co-operation among merchants and other business men by Rev. I. T. Aastad, E. M. Stanton, W. W. Prichard Sr., and Supt. J. H. Hay, officers were elected by the directors as follows: President, E. O. Mogensen; first vice-president, D. Gustafson; treasurer, Carl B. Larson; secretary, G. Howard Smith.

SCHOOL NOTES

The state department of education recently issued a list of German texts used in the schools of Minnesota, classifying them into those considered objectionable by reason of their teaching of autocratic tendencies, those considered somewhat unsatisfactory, and those altogether satisfactory. The local schools had four sets of texts in the first class, and it is needless to state that they are no longer in service.

The Detroit high school team which administered a defeat to the locals at Detroit two weeks ago, had the tables turned on themselves last Friday in the local gym. The contest was very close and was considered one of the fastest games ever played in this city.

It ought to be understood by the public that the school does not recognize nor stand sponsor for any dancing parties. Without the nowledge or approval of the school authorities, the name "high school" has sometimes been used in advertising downtown parties. Damage to property and improper behavior at these gatherings cannot be charged to the school, though some high school students may attend them. Parents in particular can well inquire into the character of these functions.

The normal students will spend next week practice teaching in various rural schools. This is a department requirement.

The thrift stamp campaign goes merrily on in the schools. Aside from the patriotic feature of the campaign it is already evident that the simple lessons of thrift and saving have taken strong hold of the children.

The four Sammy Backers' clubs in the high school communicate at frequent intervals with the school boys in the service. On Monday Division "D" had a "cooky" day and some lucky fellows in khaki or in blue will soon be sampling the various varieties of cookies, much like those mother used to make. Nothing is too good for the boys serving their country.

The Public Forum

Readers of The Times are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas on topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences as well as personalities are barred. All communications must be signed, not necessarily for publication, but in order to show the good faith of the writer. In thus throwing open its columns to the public, The Times assumes no responsibility for the opinions expressed, nor is it to be assumed that their tenor necessarily corresponds with the policy of the paper.

For a number of years the farmer, as a class, have quietly gone about their work, concentrating both physical and mental energy—mostly physical—on producing more grain, raising more stock, draining and clearing more land. Of necessity they labored patiently and entertained but few political or social ambitions except those that hinged upon their immediate environment. Their interest seemed vested solely in production. But now things are visibly changing. Production is not the all-essential. Another problem has loomed up—that of collective control over conditions of their existence seems necessary. In order to approach this end they begin to employ organization, because it is the only effective means of combining the efforts of many for the achievement of a common end.

Much protest, however, is being made, saying that the tillers of the soil are needed, especially during this critical period, on the farms, with their full investment of mind and body. And it is true that narrowing the field of attention is favorable to the attainment of a higher degree of expertness. But even with an active hand in public questions we fail to see that it will in any way retard or hinder the farmer's regular work, except in individual cases, for they still plan to till the soil and only seek to eliminate the unnecessary social pest and thereby bring about more favorable conditions for the masses. Disloyalty, too, is hurled in their direction, but this is instigated mostly by a few who would enjoy a monopoly on public questions. The farmers may not believe it necessary to maintain commission houses, wheat gambling and institutions of like nature, and may desire to extend government ownership, but that should not mar their loyalty. Note that they have the real American spirit of OPENLY coming together in groups to discuss the subject, and aim to accomplish the task through the ballot box. And you may safely rely on them to put forth every effort in trying to fill the next year's bread box, which will be the great help to put Kaiserism beneath the sod of time.

The press in many instances dislikes the actions of the farmers in their recent political movements and have wasted many Eagle pencils and much printers' ink, telling about meetings of farmers that were stopped because they might have proved to be disloyal and too often failed to report meetings or even mention those that were held and proved to be all American. In such instances, which are numerous, the press does not give that which it owes to society—namely the real sentiment of the masses. All credit due, however, to the Thief River Falls Times. In their report of the Non-Partisan league meeting they gave an untainted report from which one may interpret the public sentiment. We do not wish to convey the idea that the press should agree with the masses in any or all questions, but let the true sentiment be expressed unmarred. Then if the press is not in harmony with the trend of public thought, and desires to point to right and wrong, it ought to deal with the criticism from a personal viewpoint and not sponge by trying to have the social mind embodied in their own purely personal ideas. For the press is an institution which brings the minds of society into vital touch with each other and floats great ideas and ideals produced by master-minds from which the humbler may freely take and should, therefore, not give the social thought too great a personal taint while passing through their hands, for thousands of us receive little other mental nourishment than that imparted by the daily and weekly press. Again all honor due to the Thief River Falls Times.

OSCAR BREVIK,
St. Hilaire.

SILVERTON CLUB.

Meeting of Feb. 23, 1918—By H. P. Rued, secretary.

While waiting for the arrival of certain club officers, before starting the meeting the Silverton band played a selection.

The Red Cross membership was increased by two members, S. J. Stenberg and H. P. Rued.

A letter from A. D. Wilson, food administrator of Minnesota, urging production of larger crops, was read and met with the approval of all present.

H. C. Woolson was placed in charge of securing feed, such as corn and oats for all club members in need of these, to aid them through spring work in putting in as large a crop as possible for Uncle Sam the coming season.

Fred Burdich was appointed chairman of pledging acre plots to the Red Cross.

The secretary moved to donate $10 to School Dist. No. 63 to help defray the expense of wood, etc., but said motion received no second. Instead S. J. Stenberg, member of the school board, consulted the other board members present, also the school patrons, and through a motion donated the $10.00 included in the first motion together, with $10.00 more, making $20.00 to be donated to the Silverton band. Motion carried and Mr. Ed. Kotlan, president of the band cordially thanked the club for the interest shown, after which the band gave another selection.

Lunch was served by Mrs. H. P. Rued and Mrs. H. C. Woolson, the proceeds of which brought $6.31.

The following program was carried out:

Solo—Miss Myrtle Sathre.
Song, "Marching With Townley," Danda.
Recitation, "The Kaiser Got His"—E. Newton.
Recitation, "Big Dutch Sally," Danda.
Song—Miss Agnes and Christine Newton.
Song, "Patriotic"—H. P. Rued.
Story, "An Incident On My Trip to Ohio"—H. C. Woolson.
Song, "Picnic Party"—Earl Ernst, Augusta Beinenger and Elenore Sanders.

The program closed with music by the band.

The band boys who have had only twelve practices since receiving their instruments, did wonderfully well. Some instruments are idle, owing to several of the boys having left to fight for our country, or are soon to go. Joe Greenfield, their instructor is to be congratulated in being able to get the boys so well on the way to progess, as several of the farmers and even members of the band thought they had gone up against an unconquerable proposition when they entered the field of band music. And the best part of it was that Mr. Greenfield, who could not be present, had intrusted the leadership to the boys themselves. It shows he has confidence in them and believes that farmers are able to become musicians as well as other people if they are willing to work. After learning the boys were able to play, requests were made by several present to join the organization, but only a limited number may now be admitted without ordering more instruments. The boys now belonging have made up their minds "to stick." They are well pleased with Mr. Greenfield and believe that he is also pleased with them, otherwise he would not have made a special effort to be present the first time the boys were heard at the N. P. L. convention on Friday, Feb. 22. It is very important that the boys attend all practices or rehearsals and then in the near future they will make a real band, while now they are only beginners.

Our next meeting will be held the last Saturday in March at 8 p. m.

Is Grinding Rye Flour.

The Hanson & Barzen mill of this city has been busy the present week grinding rye in order to assist the government in its food saving propaganda. Many mills throughout the Northwest have been changed over to such extents that they are grinding but one kind of cereal in this great effort to win the war. One Minneapolis mill which has been turning out wheat flour only for years, has for a week been grinding nothing but corn meal. Another is turning out daily great quantities of barley flour.

Rural School Notes

The High School Board examinations will be held throughout the Pennington county rural schools on March 21 and 22. The State program is not yet out, but the examinations will, presumably, begin at eight o'clock on those days.

For the reason that the state only furnishes a limited number of sets of questions, 27 in all, certain schools most conveniently located have to be grouped together for the purpose of the examination. The schools will meet as follows:

Schools Grouped.

Dists. No. 37, 48 and 66—Lilly B. Hoard, Kratka, conductor; 56 and 46—Mrs. Hilda Sande, Erie, conductor; 219 and 25—Esther Kellberg, Thief River Falls, conductor; 135 and 2—Sophie Nelson, Thief River Falls, conductor; 69 and 99—Nora E. Highberg, Wylie, conductor; 30 and 28—Anna Adolph, Thief River Falls, conductor; 12 and 154—Anna Moengen, St. Hilaire, conductor; 41 and 31—Esther Tandberg, Thief River Falls, conductor.

Not Grouped.

Districts 4—Margaret McCrum, Thief River Falls; 64—Alice Thompson, Thief River Falls; 29—Emma Tandberg, Thief River Falls; 147—Nellie Nelson, Thief River Falls; 133—A. O. Brevik, St. Hilaire; 178—Mabel Satre, St. Hilaire; 54—Agnes Elg, St. Hilaire; 149—E. E. Anderson, St. Hilaire; 194—Mrs. Bert N. Thorstad, St. Hilaire.

Consolidated 8—A. O. Halvorson, Goodridge; 70—Anna Paulson, Goodridge; 57—Louise Furstnau, Erie; 50—Alfred Hermanson, Erie; 59—Alma I. Sether, Erie; 52—Gertrude I. Olson, Rhoda; 30—Emma Hanke, Sunbeam; 35—Elva Bartlett, Plummer; 37—C. S. McReynolds, Highlanding.

The sets of examination questions will be sent out in good time to reach the conductors before examinations begin. The conductors will therefore call at the postoffice not later than the mail day next preceeding the day of examination to begin for the mail. Let me call the attention of the deputy examiners, the conductors, to the fact that the St. Hilaire School board examination paper must be ordered in a quantity to cover the need of all subjects on which a pupil writes. The paper can be had at this office on payment of a small charge to cover cost. Make your order this or next week.

The days of examinations are days to be devoted exclusively to that work. There will then be no school work going on in the designated places of examination. In districts where only one or perhaps two or three pupils are to be examined these can join with some other of the schools grouped without their teacher going along, but where there are many scholars in a school to be examined, the teacher will have to accompany them to the examination.

The deputy examiner will conduct the examination, that is, each of the teachers designated above, in his or her respective school. They will certify to the examination and send all papers—the papers of her pupils and of those pupils from other nearby districts grouped for the purpose of the examination. The deputy examiner will mark all papers. But the other teachers having pupils there for examination if present, may mark the papers of her own school. All the papers must be certified to and sent in by the deputy examiner in charge of the examination. See that the school district number where the pupil belongs is placed on his or her paper.

Quite a number of papers are to be sent this year and I trust the examination will show splendid results as evidence of hard and thorough work in our schools. Subjects will be taken in the following order:

Thursday, March 21st—Spelling, 8th grade composition and grammar, covered in one examination; American history.

Friday, March 22nd—Arithmetic; Geography.

The next examination will begin Friday, May 24th.

Respectfully submitted,
E. A. MOSTUE.

Red Cross Benefit.

The Highlanding branch of the Red Cross will hold an auction sale March 16 at eight o'clock in the evening in the school house half a mile west of Highlanding. Everyone is requested to come and bring anything they wish to donate to the Red Cross and which will be sold at auction. You have something that you don't use that your neighbor needs. A lunch will be served after the auction at 25 cents a plate.

Another Branch Formed.

At a meeting of the Non-Partisan League in Kratka township Friday, a Branch of the American Red Cross was organized with thirty members, thus adding another link in the chain of Pennington county auxiliaries. The officers chosen are: Chairman, K. K. Austin; vice-chairman, Stephen Singer; treasurer, Albert Hansen; secretary, O. O. Hofdal; member executive committee, R. M. Johnson.

RED CROSS NOTES

Unless we sit up and take notice the country branches are going to out-sew us. Rocksbury, one of our new branches, brought in 20 pairs of beautifully made pajamas as a result of their activity for the last two or three weeks. Sanders, a very new branch, brought in as their contribution five well-made hospital shirts.

Several ladies from St. Hilaire came up Friday and inspected the surgical dressing room to ascertain the requirements so that they may prepare for that work in their town. They sent us a large package of knit goods and hospital garments last week.

The attendance at the sewing room was much better last week than for some time.

As a result of the market shortage of tape the bandage makers had to do 240 yards of hemming in two days last week.

The pressing of 60 hospital shirts last week emphasized the long-felt need of a good standard ironing board in the sewing room. Has anyone an extra one that they will loan to us?

Please save us all your white and light colored scraps from your spring sewing, no matter how small the pieces are. Any pieces of new muslin as large as 13x17 can be used as covers for comfort pillows.

Orders from headquarters are that we are to limit our knitting to socks and sweaters until the shortage of yarn in the market is relieved. We have on hand a small quantity of stocking yarn.

Since September 1 Mrs. M. W. Evenson has made 25 sweaters, 8 pair of socks, 7 helmets, 6 pair of wristlets and 1 muffler. If others can beat that record let us hear from them.

The Junior Red Cross society is busy getting plans arranged so that members will all be at work as soon as possible.

Agricultural Society Meeting.

There will be a special meeting of the Pennington County Agricultural society held this evening in the court room. The appointment of a secretary and other important business is to come up and a full attendance is requested.

SCHOOL NOTES

The state department of education recently issued a list of German texts used in the schools of Minnesota, classifying them into those considered objectionable by reason of their teaching of autocratic tendencies, those considered somewhat unsatisfactory, and those altogether satisfactory. The local schools had four sets of texts in the first class, and it is needless to state that they are no longer in service.

The Detroit high school team which administered a defeat to the locals at Detroit two weeks ago, had the tables turned on themselves last Friday in the local gym. The contest was very close and was considered one of the fastest games ever played in this city.

It ought to be understood by the public that the school does not recognize nor stand sponsor for any dancing parties. Without the knowledge or approval of the school authorities, the name "high school" has sometimes been used in advertising downtown parties. Damage to property and improper behavior at these gatherings cannot be charged to the school, though some high school students may attend them. Parents in particular can well inquire into the character of these functions.

The normal students will spend next week practice teaching in various rural schools. This is a department requirement.

The thrift stamp campaign goes merrily on in the schools. Aside from the patriotic feature of the campaign it is already evident that the simple lessons of thrift and saving have taken strong hold of the children.

The four Sammy Backers' clubs in the high school communicate at frequent intervals with the school boys in the service. On Monday Division "D" had a "cooky" day and some lucky fellows in khaki or in blue will soon be sampling the various varieties of cookies, much like those mother used to make. Nothing is too good for the boys serving their country.

Some thirty of the teachers "did their bit" last Saturday by co-operating with the Woman's club in making a thrift stamp canvass of the city.

The schools have been singularly fortunate this year in avoiding contagious disease troubles. A few scattering cases have appeared which the attending physicians promptly cared for with the result that the danger ended right where it began.

The Public Forum

Readers of The Times are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas on topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences as well as personalities are barred. All communications must be signed, not necessarily for publication, but in order to show the good faith of the writer. In thus throwing open its columns to the public, The Times assumes no responsibility for the opinions expressed, nor is it to be assumed that their tenor necessarily corresponds with the policy of the paper.

For a number of years the farmer, as a class, have quietly gone about their work, concentrating both physical and mental energy—mostly physical—on producing more grain, raising more stock, draining and clearing more land. Of necessity they labored patiently and entertained but few political or social ambitions except those that hinged upon their immediate environment. Their interest seemed vested solely in production. But now things are visibly changing. Production is not the all-essential. Another problem has loomed up—that of collective control over conditions of their existence seems necessary. In order to approach this end they begin to employ organization, because it is the only effective means of combining the efforts of many for the achievement of a common end.

Much protest, however, is being made, saying that the tillers of the soil are needed, especially during this critical period, on the farms, with their full investment of mind and body. And it is true that narrowing the field of attention is favorable to the attainment of a higher degree of expertness. But even with an active hand in public questions we fail to see that it will in any way retard or hinder the farmer's regular work, except in individual cases, for they still plan to till the soil and only seek to eliminate the unnecessary social pest and thereby bring about more favorable conditions for the masses. Disloyalty, too, is hurled in their direction, but this is instigated mostly by a few who would enjoy a monopoly on public questions. The farmers may not believe it necessary to maintain commission houses, wheat gambling and institutions of like nature, and may desire to extend government ownership, but that should not mar their loyalty. Note that they have the real American spirit of OPENLY coming together in groups to discuss the subject, and aim to accomplish the task through the ballot box. And you may safely rely on them to put forth every effort in trying to fill the next year's bread box, which will be the great help to put Kaiserism beneath the sod of time.

The press in many instances dislikes the actions of the farmers in their recent political movements and have wasted many Eagle pencils and much printers' ink, telling about meetings of farmers that were stopped because they might have proved to be disloyal and too often failed to report meetings or even mention those that were held and proved to be all American. In such instances, which are numerous, the press does not give that which it owes to society—namely the real sentiment of the masses. All credit due, however, to the Thief River Falls Times. In their report of the Non-Partisan league meeting they gave an untainted report from which one may interpret the public sentiment. We do not wish to convey the idea that the press should agree with the masses in any or all questions, but let the true sentiment be expressed unmarred. Then if the press is not in harmony with the trend of public thought, and desires to point to right and wrong, it ought to deal with the criticism from a personal viewpoint and not sponge by trying to have the social mind embodied in their own purely personal ideas. For the press is an institution which brings the minds of society into vital touch with each other and floats great ideas and ideals produced by master-minds from which the humbler may freely take and should, therefore, not give the social thought too great a personal taint while passing through their hands, for thousands of us receive little other mental nourishment than that imparted by the daily and weekly press. Again all honor due to the Thief River Falls Times.

OSCAR BREVIK,
St. Hilaire.

The Red Cross membership was increased by two members, S. J. Stenberg and H. P. Rued.

A letter from A. D. Wilson, food administrator of Minnesota, urging production of larger crops, was read and met with the approval of all present.

H. C. Woolson was placed in charge of securing feed, such as corn and oats for all club members in need of these, to aid them through spring work in putting in as large a crop as possible for Uncle Sam the coming season.

Fred Hurdich was appointed chairman of pledging acre plots to the Red Cross.

The secretary moved to donate $10 to School Dist. No. 53 to help defray the expense of wood, etc., but said motion received no second. Instead S. J. Stenberg, member of the school board, consulted the other board members present, also the school patrons, and through a motion donated the $10.00 included in the first motion together with $10.00 more, making $20.00 to be donated to the Silverton band. Motion carried and Mr. Ed. Kotlan, president of the band cordially thanked the club for the interest shown, after which the band gave another selection.

Lunch was served by Mrs. H. P. Rued and Mrs. H. C. Woolson, the proceeds of which brought $6.34.

The following program was carried out:

Solo—Miss Myrtle Sathre.
Song, "Marching With Townley," Danda.
Recitation, "The Kaiser Got His"—E. Newton.
Recitation, "Big Dutch Sally," Danda.
Song—Miss Agnes and Christine Newton.
Song, "Patriotic"—H. P. Rued.
Story, "An Incident On My Trip to Ohio"—H. C. Woolson.
Song, "Picnic Party"—Earl, Ernst, Augusta Beisuenger and Elenore Sanders.

The program closed with music by the band.

The band boys who have had only twelve practices since receiving their instruments, did wonderfully well. Some instruments are idle, owing to several of the boys having left to fight for our country, or are soon to go. Joe Greenfield, their instructor is to be congratulated in being able to get the boys so well on the way to progress, as several of the farmers and even members of the band thought they had gone up against an unconquerable proposition when they entered the field of band music. And the best part of it was that Mr. Greenfield, who could not be present, had intrusted the leadership to the boys themselves. It shows he has confidence in them and believes that farmers are able to become musicians as well as other people if they are willing to work. After learning the boys were able to play, requests were made by several present to join the organization, but only a limited number may now be admitted without ordering more instruments. The boys now belonging have made up their minds "to stick." They are well pleased with Mr. Greenfield and believe that he is also pleased with them, otherwise he would not have made a special effort to be present the first time the boys were heard at the N. P. L. convention on Friday, Feb. 22. It is very important that the boys attend all practices or rehearsals and then in the near future they will make a real band, while now they are only beginners.

Our next meeting will be held the last Saturday in March at 8 p. m.

THIRD LOAN DRIVE TO BEGIN APRIL 6

AMOUNT ASKED WILL PROBABLY BE MORE THAN FOUR BILLION DOLLARS.

On April 6, the first anniversary of the United States' entry into the war, the third Liberty Loan will be opened. There will be a campaign of three or four weeks.

In announcing the date, Secretary McAdoo said the amount of the loan, the interest rate and other features, such as convertibility of bonds of previous issues, maturity and terms of payment, are yet to be determined, and that new legislation will be necessary before plans can be completed.

Probably Over Four Billion.

The fact that the amount of the loan is dependent on further legislation indicates that it will be for more than $3,600,000,000, the remainder of authorized but unissued bonds and the fact that certificates of indebtedness loan bear 4½ per cent affords some now being sold in anticipation of the indication of the interest rate.

How large the loan shall be depends largely, however, on the fate of the pending war finance bill carrying an appropriation of a half billion dollars, and action on the railroad bill, with its appropriation of a similar amount.

Last Loan Before June.

Although Mr. McAdoo made no specific announcement, it is now taken for granted in official circles that there will be but one more loan before June 30, the end of the fiscal year.

The statement concerning the date of the campaign was made at this time, Secretary McAdoo explained, to give every community time to prepare for the big bond sale, and he strongly advocated popular demonstrations of patriotism on the day of the opening of the loan and the second year of the war.

FOOD PRICES ARE CHANGED SLIGHTLY

NEW RULING ON SUGAR AFFECTS HOTELS AND OTHER LARGE CONSUMERS

The fair food price committee met again last Monday and it will be seen on glancing at the list in another column of this issue that there are several minor changes. The principal changes are in the flour quotations and vary, there being some advances and some declines.

Flour substitutes are somewhat more easily obtained this week than heretofore, yet the prices in some instances are above those of previous lists. The local grocers are doing their best to follow out the instructions of the food administration relative to food substitutes and are not violating any of the provisions recently announced.

A. D. Wilson, food administrator for Minnesota, on Sunday issued new regulations regarding sugar, which are but slightly different than heretofore. Persons residing in cities may buy but five pounds at any one time, while those residing in the country may buy not to exceed ten pounds. Hotels and restaurants, which heretofore have been buying at wholesale, cannot buy more than 25 pounds per week, and not that much unless they show that they consume more than that amount, based on the new regulations of three pounds per person per month, which also is the basis for household consumption.

Rye flour may be sold by retailers without any substitutes, but it cannot be classed as a substitute for wheat flour. When wheat flour is sold an equal weight of the substitutes is required, but when graham flour is sold one only need buy 60 per cent as much of the substitutes.

Hoarding of either flour or sugar in excess of a month's requirements—either in stores or homes—makes one liable to a $5,000 fine or a two year term in prison, or both. Secret service men are now detailed to investigate reports of violation when such reports are signed. However, the one making the report is kept in the background and his name not made public.

THREE RED CROSS CHAPTERS AT WORK

BRANCHES ORGANIZED IN NORDEN, HIGHLANDING AND NORTH LAST WEEK

As forecast in last week's paper, three more townships in Pennington county have fallen into line and have been organized as branches of the Red Cross, these being Highlanding, Norden and North.

The branch chapters now listed are: St. Hilaire, Hazel, Goodridge, Numedal, Rocksbury, Wyandotte, Sanders, North, Norden, Highlanding and Krakta.

On Friday morning of last week F. F. Haynes, Mrs. T. L. Melgaard and Mrs. Daniel Shaw went out on the electric line to Goodridge, going from there to Highlanding by team, and at noon holding a very successful meeting, completing the organization after 28 members had been secured. The officers chosen at the meeting are: E. S. Rowberg, chairman; Mrs. Karl Korstad, secretary.

The branch in Norden township was completed Friday evening, when T. A. Way, Mrs. J. O. Sether and Mrs. Andrew Craik drove out to the school house located three miles west of the city on the Jefferson highway. Here 27 members were secured and the following were elected to office: John Funnesdahl, chairman; Nels Swanson, secretary.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Way and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Laird drove to the school house in North township three miles northeast of the city, and after securing ten members proceded to organize the branch in that township. For officers those present chose: M. W. Ballangrud, chairman; Jorgen Adsero, vice chairman; T. H. Bjerke, secretary; M. Jorde, treasurer.

A larger Home and Foreign Mission meeting, conducted by the Organization committee of the Lutheran Free church, was held on March 8th and 9th, Friday and Saturday of this week. Professors and ministers from all over the state of Minnesota will be present and very interesting meetings have been planned for morning, afternoon and evening of both days. Meetings will start at 10:30 each morning.

BUSINESS HOUSES IN NEW QUARTERS

ALBERT LIEBERMAN OCCUPIES NEW STORE; HOLT & GEORGE TAKE OLD STAND

Business men of the city are hustling to get their places in shape for spring. This week Albert S. Lieberman moved his clothing stock from the location occupied by the store for years into his new building on LaBree avenue next to the Kiewel block. This is a brick structure erected by Mr. Lieberman solely for the purpose of accommodating his business and has been arranged with the idea of making it one of the most up-to-date stores of its kind in this section.

The building is a one-story structure of brick, with furnishings and finishings of the very latest. The floor space is 25x90 feet, lighted by large plate glass windows in the front and through reflecting prism glass from the back. The new clothing racks and shelving are so arranged as to give opportunity for the greatest possible display without subjecting the fabrics to deterioration from dust and grime.

Mr. Lieberman will hold his formal opening a week from Saturday, although he will be ready for business in the new place before that time. Announcement of this event will be found in the columns of The Times next week.

Holt & George Move.

The building vacated by Mr. Lieberman was not permitted to stand idle for one moment, the Holt & George Plumbing and Heating company filling up the place as fast as the former tenants moved out. The former quarters of this concern on Main avenue became too cramped to accommodate their growing business and the vacated place offered an ideal location. It is the intention of the Holt-George company to extend their business somewhat along other lines, announcement of which will be made later.

ATTRACTIVE OFFER IN ARMY SERVICE

COAST ARTILLERY AND AVIATION BRANCHES NOW OPEN TO VOLUNTEERS.

Four more young men left yesterday afternoon for the purpose of entering the military service of the country. They are Everett R. Clark, Claude A. Bartlett and Peter E. Stevens of this city and Milton R. Harper of Wylie. They go to Vancouver, Wash., and their service is termed "voluntary induction into the spruce production of the aviation signal corps." This is the department engaged in getting out the spruce timber from which the ribs in the wings of the aeroplanes are made and is not likely to require actual fighting.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson has been notified that enlistments for the coast artillery will again be accepted after having been closed for about two months. This is the branch of service to which many of the drafted men from Marshall and Kittson counties have been sent and is very popular. Registered men may enlist for this division and it is expected that many of those whose names are so far down the line that their call is likely to be some time in coming will take advantage of this opportunity and join the army now. Mr. Anderson is prepared to furnish full particulars regarding this matter.

John Lassecty, chef at the Soo cafe, returned the latter part of last week from a several days' visit in Minneapolis and Superior.

DOUBLY PROVEN.

Thief River Falls Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.

This Thief River Falls citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed.

Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit.

Mrs. P. Eberhardt, 211 Atlantic Ave., Thief River Falls, says: "I had distressing pains in my back. My kidneys showed signs of weakness and caused me much annoyance. Doan's Kidney Pills regulated my kidneys, relieved the aches and pains, strengthened my back and did me good in every way. I am well pleased with what Doan's Kidney Pills have done for me."

Mrs. Eberhardt gave the above statement on March 16, 1912 and on November 30, 1917 she added: "I think even more highly of Doan's Kidney Pills today than when I recommended them some time ago. The cure they gave me has remained and I shall always be glad to tell my friends about them when an opportunity occurs."

URGED TO RAISE HENS FOR FOOD

POULTRY MUST TAKE PLACE OF HEAVIER MEATS TO A GREAT EXTENT

With great shortage of breeding stock in the larger farm animals, it will be impossible to keep the production of "red meats" at normal for the present, but poultry is an exception which must be taken advantage of. While in Minnesota poultry flocks have been reduced from 20 to 30 per cent below normal, on account of high prices of feed, it is still possible to increase the chicken crop above the normal mark this year and it is our patriotic duty to do so. Not only is it our duty to produce all the poultry we can consistently handle, but we are reasonably assured that the government will see to it that those who comply with the urgent requests of Uncle Sam to increase production, will be taken care of as regards reasonable profits on the same.

Back Lot Hen Coops.

There are just two sources from whence we can look for increased production of poultry and eggs. The farm and the back lot. Most of the farm flocks are smaller than usual, but the hen is the most prolific of all farm animals and greatly increased production is still possible. She will gather a large portion of her feed during the summer and save grain bills.

Back lot poultry never has been produced at one-fourth its capacity, therefore a great possibility in this line is open to the town and city dweller.

That the people will respond to the emergency call for greater production of poultry is evident from the interest taken everywhere.

PITKIN IS NAMED BAKERY INSPECTOR

HAS APPOINTED H. H. SPINK AND R. H. ROSS AS HIS ASSISTANTS.

The three bakeries in Thief River Falls will have to undergo a weekly inspection by the agents of the United States Food administration to see that they are complying with all the rules and regulations laid down for their guidance. C. A. Pitkin has been made chief inspector and has appointed as his assistants H. H. Spink and R. H. Ross. Like practically all other jobs connected with work of this kind, the position carries neither salary nor fees.

The duties of the inspectors will be to check up the amount of supplies of different kinds on hand, the amount of wheat used in proportion to other varieties of flour and meal, the price and size of loaves, etc. The account must be accurate and the supplies will therefore have to be weighed in the presence of the inspector.

The bakers of the city, like the grocers and the butchers, have interposed no objections to complying with the government's every regulation so far, and while this last order may prove something of a nuisance they recognize its necessity and fairness and will aid the inspectors in every way possible in order that the reports may be correct.

Mr and Mrs. Adolph E. Cataline and son, left the first of the week for Port Huron, Mich., where they will make their home. They have made this city their home for several years, Mr. Cataline having been employed on the Soo road as engineer.

FARMERS URGED TO REPAIR EQUIPMENT

THIS WEEK DESIGNATED BY GOVERNMENT AS PROPER TIME FOR WORK

The week beginning March 4 has been designated by the government as Repair week.

It is meant particularly to apply to farmers, in the hope that during this week, and before the spring planting season sets in farmers will look over their plows, tractors, drills, harrows, fanning mills and all other machinery that will be needed in preparing the seed for planting, for preparing the ground, and for planting seed.

Owing to the tremendous demand by the government for steel, lumber and other materials needed in the war, manufacturers of farm implements and farm machinery are likely to be unable to get all the materials they require, and it is to relieve them and to help the farmers save expense, and warn them that the way to conserve and help their government is to have repairs made to their partly worn implements and machinery instead of rushing to town and trying to buy a new plow or drill.

There will be a limit to the amount of new farm machinery that can be manufactured, and it is to your interest, Mr. Farmer, to take advantage of Repair week to look over all of your machinery, your harness and wagons. Get in your orders for repairs at once, then you won't be delayed in your seeding and planting.

There is little question but that half the farm machinery thrown on the dump heap can be repaired. It may come to the case where you will simply have to make it do another season.

TALES OF THE FAR NORTH

Being an Account of My Experiences During the Three Years I Was Employed by the Government in Alaska.

By Dr. F. H. Gambell, Thief River Falls.

Preparing For Journey.

All summer long, or rather, the rest of the summer that remained, I was busily engaged in arranging for the expedition which was to start as soon as conditions warranted. Men were in the woods procuring suitable timber for the sleds and pulkas and the wooden parts used in making the harness. Other men were making these articles after the wood had been selected, while still others were busy repairing and making harness.

I had never gone on a trip of a thousand miles in the winter time with the deer before, and I was very anxious to have everything in readiness.

I was impatient to go when the first snow began to fall, although I knew it was foolishness to start before the rivers were frozen. Then we wished to cross over Norton bay on the ice and I learned that many cold days were required before such a large expanse of water was frozen to such an extent that it would permit of our crossing it with a herd of deer.

All our supplies had to be taken with us, and we were to be gone for two months. Having to travel a distance of a thousand miles or so in all, there were many things to see to.

Quite a Cavalcade.

We had twenty-one sleds, all loaded with supplies except the seven sleds for the equal number of people accompanying the expedition. There was a deer to each sled. One experienced man could handle six or seven deer, each with a load, as each deer, with the exception of the driving deer, was fastened to the sled in front of him. The last deer, or trailing deer, had no sled as it was tied on to the loaded sled in front and by holding back with its halter, as all deer do when going down a hill, it would keep the load from striking the heels of the deer to which the load was attached.

On the sixth of November we left the station to drive to the place where the herd was located. We were bothered more or less in getting there so did not arrive till long after dark.

Unappetizing Surroundings.

We stopped at an Eskimo house for the night and I took my grub box along and prepared my own supper. I was so hungry that I could hardly wait till I had it cooked.

The native woman took my boots and turned them, after removing the grass insoles, and hung them up to the open fire to dry while I was cooking my meal. When supper was ready I made a table out of my grub box and sat down on the floor to eat. In spite of the seal oil and odors of others things peculiar to a native house, I really relished that first meal on the trail for I had not eaten anything since morning.

Queer Sleeping Arrangement.

When supper was over, and everything put back in the grub box, I unrolled my reindeer skin sleeping sack, which is made with the hair on the inside, and is sewed so well that it is almost air tight except at the slit one third down from the head which was left for me to enter, and without much urging I crawled in and was soon asleep. I slept so well that it was an effort for me to get up at six o'clock in the morning and make ready to go out to the herd and hurry things along. Nevertheless, I did, and, as I came upon the deer, I could not help but admire them. It was a real pleasure to observe a thousand deer calmly feeding on the white moss of the tundra. They gave little heed to the herders and his dog as they passed in and out among them. So free from fear; and yet few had ever experienced the restraining hand of man. Suddenly the dogs began to bark.

Trapping the Animals.

The deer were being rounded up and began to move toward the correll which was made high and strong by trees which had been felled and piled one on top of the other. It was built in two compartments in the shape of a figure eight to facilitate the division. All of the deer were brought into one of the pens and the opening securely closed. Just as soon as they found themselves entrapped they raced around their narrow confines seeking an avenue of escape. They were more wild than tame. The deer nature was asserting itself. But, upon the entrance of the Laps, who began throwing their lassoes, the whole body of deer was thrown into a wild tumult, and there was a clicking of hoofs and a clashing of antlers, so much so, that the noise sounded like the rattle of musketry. All their latent energy was exerted to free themselves from their pursuers. Then when the lasso entangled itself in the horns of one of the younger animals, it leaped into the air in a vain effort to get away, and was thrown to the ground where it lay panting until it was dragged into the other pen where it was freed from the rope, and became the nucleus of a new herd.

After our two hundred and eighty deer were thus selected, our sled deer were lassoed and tied out upon the tundra to await our starting.

Our new herd was driven five miles on the way and was left to feed till the following day when we were to catch up to them and take them on their way.

Had Mule's Disposition.

I had my own personal troubles with my fractious driving deer to whom I had given the name of Tom. He was so fat and sleek and so full of life and in addition to life was so filled with stubborness that I had hard work to control him. He always selected the roughest country when he decided it was time to run away. He would never stop for any obstacle. If he came to a stream with high banks he would go plunging along and soon I would find myself flying in mid-air till I struck the bottom of the stream with great force. Then up he would go on the opposite side, through the brush, over fallen trees, in and out over great boulders till either I was thrown out or he had succeeded in catching up to the main herd.

Many times was the sled upset but the grub box and sleeping bag were covered well with a tarpoulin and all roped down to the sled.

If he threw me out, I hung on to the driving line till he could drag me no farther with his stiff neck, then he would stop till I had released the line, when away he would go again; just as bad as before.

On one of his wild escapades he threw me with such force against a rock that I thought I had broken my arm. Then I tied him on behind one of the loaded sleds where he was forced to go along with some decency. In time he got over all his capriciousness and settled down to be a fairly good driving deer.

When we came to our herd, one man went ahead driving his sled deer and leading one behind to act as a leader for the herd. After the herd came another driver with his deer dog, and then came the loaded sleds. Most of the time we kept going at a good trot and could cover quite a few miles in a day.

Ideal Sleeping Place.

On the first night out we slept in the tent which we carried with us. We broke boughs from the spruce trees, and, scattering them on the ground, we placed our sleeping sack on top of them and called them Alaska feathers. They really made the ground seem much softer than it was without them. We could sleep all night thus, and I would not awaken until I heard Per Spein, one of the Laps, moving around making a fire and getting the coffee pot to boiling.

The deer were left to feed, running loose all night, and the sled deer were freed with them. In the morning one man would go out in the dark and instinctively find them feeding somewhere within a mile of camp usually. How he could ever find them I never knew, and then to find his way back to the camp in the dark with them again was a still bigger problem. After the deer had been driven to the camp, much time had to be spent before all the twenty-one sled deer were lassoed and fastened to their loads again.

Very Intelligent Dogs.

The Lapish dogs were very intelligent animals, and were so well trained that they would select from that large herd the sled deer and would keep circling them around and through the herd until they were brought close to the lassoers and were placed in a position to be caught. I could not keep the sled deer in sight, so swiftly did they move and so rapidly did the deer change their positions, yet that little dog, so at a disadvantage on account of his size, seemed to keep the whole herd in his head, and by instinct, knew where the animal was. He seemed to know where the latter would emerge, and calculated accordingly, rarely making a mistake.

When all the sled deer were caught, camp was broken and sleds roped, we were ready for another day's journey.

Found Bay Open.

In the course of time we reached Norton bay and found that it was still open. There was one of two things to do; stay where we were and wait for it to freeze or else go around it. I suggested that we drive around it for I could not bear to think of the inactivity resulting from such a long stay. The Laps advised against going around and preferred to camp where we were. The said that it would take two weeks to encircle the head. While I was inexperienced and probably would have been justified in accepting the advice of men of so much experience, I did not. I told them that we would proceed on our journey and go around the bay. It took us just three days instead of two weeks to go around it.

One Lap Missing.

When we were near the head of the bay, as we were going into camp for the night, we found that Per Sanger, one of the Laps with his train of loaded sleds was missing. No one had seen him since dinner time. All night long he stayed away, nor did he show up by the time we had broken camp and were ready to start on another day's journey. Then I took the place of the leader of the herd and sent Per Spein back to look for the last man and his train. We were travelling till one p. m., when Per Spein caught up with us and reported that he had not found the lost man, but from indications he judged that he had gone out on the new ice and headed across the bay. There was nothing to do but to go on as there was no moss where we were for the deer and we had to travel for moss.

Merely Taking a Nap.

We reached pasturage after dark that evening and started in the morning with the man still missing. He had now been out two nights away from the tent and stove. At ten in the morning I was approaching a little knoll covered with moss and on the top of it a clump of trees and bushes. What a relief I experienced when I caught sight of eight deer tethered on the feeding ground. I looked in the brush and there was Per Sanger stretching himself and crawling out of his bed of leaves.

He reported that he had traveled the whole of the first night out across that thin ice that he might reach the moss pasturage on the opposite side. There he had remained sleeping in his skin clothes hidden down in the leaves till we came along.

VERY FEW FARMERS IN SECOND DRAFT

ONLY 36 OUT OF EVERY TEN THOUSAND WILL BE TAKEN.

Relatively very small inroads will be made on the farm labor supply by the second draft, according to Provost Marshall General Crowder. Further exemption for farmers is not approved, the letter makes plain.

"The draft on agricultural labor under the questionaire system will be well below .0036 per cent of the total farm labor supply," is the statement made by General Crowder. This means that only 36 out of every 10,000 among the farming population will be required.

Furthermore, under the regulations, this .0036 will be nearly made up, if not quite, from the class of labor least profitable to agriculture.

The percentage of farm labor drawn under the first draft was only .0076, Crowder wrote.

SWEDISH LUTHERAN MEETINGS CALLED

PATRIOTIC ADDRESSES TO BE DELIVERED THROUGHOUT RED RIVER VALLEY.

At a recent meeting of the pastors in the Red River district of the Augustana Synod of the Swedish Lutheran church of America, a resolution was unanimously and enthusiastically adopted to arrange a series of patriotic meetings throughout the district for the purpose of giving expression to the sentiment that is genuinely and sincerely felt among the Swedish Americans of the state in support of the administration and its conduct of the war against autocracy. It was agreed that such meetings should be arranged as it is not considered the proper thing among Lutherans to turn the regular Sunday services into patriotic meetings nor to displace the preaching of the pure Gospel by speeches of any other nature, no matter how laudable the purpose otherwise.

SCHOOL NOTES

For the good of the National cause permit me to state for the information of our School Board and teachers that in calling upon you from time to time to take up certain activities in the schools, the County Superintendent in so doing is acting as the representative of the War Department, that is, certain plans and activities looking toward the well-being of our boys in the trenches or the army and navy are placed before us to be realized by enlisting the interest and help of the schools.

Thus, the Y. M. C. A. drive was completed. The Red Cross Junior School Auxiliary is now well under way and will shortly be completed. The Government commands and we must obey and we gladly dedicate our time and efforts knowing, as we do, that it comes as a response to the emergency call of the nation.

Another of these activities will be placed before the school this week. It will consist in the organization of W. S. S's, War Saving Societies, in our schools. Pupils will be asked to show thrift, to economize, and to help Uncle Sam by work and by saving and thus help to furnish the sinews of war in order to win in this terrible struggle for freedom and justice.

It is earnestly hoped that our schools will take a front rank in this work.

Respectfully submitted,
E. A. MOSTUE.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph E. Catalino and son, leave the first of the week for Port Huron, Mich., where they will make their home. They have made this city their home for several years, Mr. Catalino having been employed on the Soo road as engineer.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Test Your Cows

We Do Milk Testing Free

For Stockholders and Patrons of Creamery

When butterfat sells for 57c per pound and all kinds of feed is high in price it is necessary to know which of your cows are able to pay for their feed. Those cows which give a large flow of milk sometimes give thin milk—but not always. But the only way to find out which of the cows gives PROFIT and which causes LOSS is to weigh the milk and test it about two times a month.

We will furnish the sample bottles, do the testing and assist you in computing butterfat and profit or loss on your herd.

This offer is not an act of benevolence on the part of the creamery. We know that dairying will have to be profitable if it shall progress. We realize that high price for butterfat at the creamery is important. But the cost of production and the machine which produces the butterfat is of equal importance.

We are anxious to assist you in any way we can.

SOCIETY

This Department Discontinued.

The department of The Times heretofore devoted entirely to the recording of social news will be discontinued for the present. The war has brought about a condition that makes this advisable. Social doings are very few and far between these days anyway, it being regarded as bad form to spend money on anything of this kind. The ladies of the city do not like to have their patriotism questioned and are therefore devoting to Red Cross work any time they might have for social functions. The Times has been requested by many of the best known ladies of the city not to mention their names as in any way connected with social matters until conditions change.—(Editor.)

Woman's Club Met Monday—

At the meeting of the Woman's club on Monday afternoon a very interesting paper on "Women and the War" was read by Mrs. G. A. Penney, and an open discussion of the war in general followed. The meeting was opened with the singing of patriotic songs led by Mrs. G. Halvorson, after which the regular business meeting was held. Several of the members of the club volunteered to present the grocers of the city with a loaf of bread made from the coarse flours in order that they may sample it, explain the results obtained from these flours to customers not accustomed to buying other than white flour. The following resolutions were also drawn up at the meeting:

Whereas, the Governor of the State of Minnesota has requested all the women's clubs within the state to cooperate with the government in its campaign of economy, thrift and savings,

Be it Therefore Resolved, that we, the Woman's club of Thief River Falls do hereby pledge our full and loyal support to this campaign and promise to cheerfully comply with all government requests and regulations.

Be it Further Resolved, that one copy of these resolutions be sent to the governor of the state, one copy given to the local newspaper for publication, and one copy to be spread upon the records of this club.

At the Princess.

Tonight William Desmond starts the week at the Princess as an Irish lad in "The Sudden Gentleman." The wonderful gowns worn in this play are said to be a distinguishing feature, while the piece itself is up to usual Triangle standard.

On Friday night the wonderful Japanese actor, Sessue Hayakawa, appears in "The Secret Game." This picture is full of big moments and besides will satisfy any craving for "creeps."

Kathleen Williams and Wallace Reid appear on Saturday evening in "Big Timber." This great, absorbing story ran as a serial in The Times a short time ago and those who read it will not fail to see the play. It is simply great.

One of the strongest favorites with the theatre-going public is William S. Hart who comes on Sunday and Monday evenings in "Wolves of the Rail." It is one of those big western pictures that so many have tried to imitate but none except Hart can put across. As the Sunday night feature the play should pack the house.

That greatest of all young American actresses, Elsie Fergusson, heads the feature bill on Wednesday evening in "The Song of Songs." The play is said to give this superb actress ample scope for her really wonderful talent.

Tandberg is in France.

C. T. Tandberg, formerly office manager for the P. W. Sharp company of this city, is among the Pennington county boys who are now safe in France. A letter from him was received this week by his mother, Mrs. Julia C. Tandberg, 523 Horace avenue north, part of which is as follows:

"Just a few lines, as that is about all I can write. Am here at camp doing my bit to bring this war to a close. Am well and have been so all the time. I am a member of the Tenth Engineers, Third detachment, Company A, and like it fine.

"We get plenty to eat and there are a dandy bunch of officers and men, so what more can we expect? Would like to be able to write a great deal more but will have to wait until I get back.

"Sugar and all kinds of sweets are very scarce and expensive in France, also tobacco. Meat and potatoes are not very high. We hardly ever see white bread but get plenty of the dark and I like it better than the former.

"Suppose I'll not see any mail for another week, but will sure be glad to hear from home. Be sure and write and I will do the same."

Card of Thanks.

We wish hereby to extend our heartfelt thanks to those whose aid and sympathy were so liberally extended during the illness and death of our son, Johnnie Peder Stene. Particularly do we wish to thank the Sons of Norway and others for the many beautiful floral offerings.

Mr. and Mrs. Tobias Stene and Children. M-7-p

Notice to the Public.

The merchants of the city having decided to discontinue the system of making individual deliveries, the undersigned will after April 1st be in a position to execute all orders for delivery of goods on the shortest possible notice. Leave orders with the merchants or telephone 217 and your requests will be given prompt attention. M7-14 ED. O'HARA.

BOYS AT CAMP HAVING GOOD TIME

VISITOR FROM THIS CITY IS SHOWN ALL ABOUT CAMP DODGE

While E. O. Mogensen, the clothier, was in the cities on business last week he took the opportunity to visit Camp Dodge and found all the Thief River Falls boys fat and happy. The camp itself was a revelation. The cantonment extends over a distance of seven miles and contains 2,300 buildings of all kinds. The erection of these structures took 44 days with 30,000 carpenters working steadily, the result being a regular city. Besides the different houses for the accommodation of the men there is a remount station at which 5,000 horses and mules are kept.

Mr. Mogensen was accorded a most cordial reception by the officers at the camp and given an opportunity to visit with the home boys. He found George Loken, Lawrence Hermanson, Ed. Moran, Perry Froseth and Arthur Granum playing in the band and they all seemed well pleased with their surroundings. R. L. Barrows is their leader and a fine fellow whom all the musicians regard very highly. Peter Peterson, formerly of the Ford garage, was discovered standing in the middle of a room intently watching a pile of clothing. When asked what he was doing there he simply answered that he did not know but that orders were orders and he was told to stand there. Pete has learned the first requirement of soldiering, apparently.

Meeting in Rocksbury.

The Rocksbury branch of the Pennington county Red Cross chapter will hold a meeting in Walhalla school house next Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, when matters of special importance will come up. The secretary will give a full and complete account of all activities up to date, including the amount of money collected, the disposition of the same, the amount of hospital and other supplies manufactured and shipped and such other matters as may properly come up at this time. Certain rumors have been started that are calculated to injure this branch and the officials are very anxious that the entire membership be present to hear these reports.

At a recent meeting of the Rocksbury Farm club the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Miss E. Berg; vice president, Mrs. Correll; secretary, Miss Esther Wiberg; treasurer, Miss Ella Huseby; executive committee, Mrs. Ernest O'Neill, Miss Wiberg, Mr. Schoopman, Ernest O'Neill and Henry Oen.

A Successful Sale.

The W. E. Sargent sale on Wednesday was one of the most successful ever held in this section. The proceeds amounted to over $6,000 and the disposition of the different articles took the greater part of the day. This sale was well advertised, both by posters and in The Times, a fact which Auctioneer W. J. LaBree believes was largely responsible for the excellent success of the auction.

Tax Receipts Good.

Thursday was the last day on which personal property taxes could be paid without incurring the penalty for failure to live up to requirements, and business at the office of County Treasurer Theo. H. Liden was rushing all day. Fifteen thousand dollars was taken in over the counter, this being the best for personal tax payments in the history of the county. For the three days preceding the 28th of February, the receipts were respectively $5,300, $3,800 and $7,800. Mr. Liden says that the list has been cleaned up in a very satisfactory shape, the number of delinquents having been reduced greatly from last year, while the largest sum outstanding against any one man is less than $40.

ALL MUST JOIN IN THIRD LOAN

EVERY CITIZEN WILL BE EXPECTED TO PARTICIPATE IN NEXT ISSUE.

CARD INDEX SYSTEM USED

CANVASS WILL BE MOST THOROUGH OF ANY YET ATTEMPTED.

The American people will be asked to loan their government several billion dollars more for the purpose of carrying on the war. Just what sum will be required for the Third Liberty Loan is not yet known, but it will likely be considerably larger than the second. The drive starts on the 6th of April and every person in the country in any manner capable of subscribing will be expected to do so.

No Chance For Slackers.

The plan to be followed is somewhat different from that heretofore used. A person will be expected to participate in proportion to his or her ability to do so and any excuse will be most thoroughly investigated. It is realized that the people as a rule will respond willingly, but it is the intention that none who are able to take any part of this loan shall escape doing so.

Will Be Card Indexed.

Before the date set for starting the campaign every self-supporting woman in the county will receive a card which must be filled out and returned to Chairman George G. Johnson. On these cards will appear the name and address of the sender, employment, nationality and church affiliation. Thereafter must be given the following information: Value of farm property owned, value of city property, value of mortgages held, etc. From this will be deducted the indebtedness, after which the net income will be estimated. The amount of any subscription to former bond issues will be recorded, as will all donations to war activities, such as the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., K. of C., etc. The signer will thereupon be notified as to the amount of bonds he is expected to take.

Chairman Appointed.

County Chairman Johnson has appointed the following to have charge of the work in the different sections of the county:

First District—W. B. Fuller, chairman. Township of North, Gilbert Haavi; Silverton, Henry M. Hanson; Norden, John Funnesdal; Numedal, Olof Larson; north half of Sanders, Hans Anton; north half of Rocksbury, S. G. Lee; north half of Smiley, Knut Solheim; First ward, city, F. H. Herrick; Second ward, G. Howard Smith; Third ward, Ole L. Ihle; Fourth ward, G. A. Penney.

Second district—K. O. Gigstad, chairman. Bray township, Emil Larson; south half of Sanders, S. L. Lind; southwest quarter of Rocksbury, Charles Biglow; Polk Center, Rick Melin; Black River, C. W. Johnson; west half of River Falls, Gust Erickson; village of St. Hilaire, Dr. C. Swanson.

Third district—Paul Borgie, chairman. Southeast quarter of Rocksbury, A. A. Odegaard; east half of River Falls, E. C. Karwand; Wyandotte, H. C. Carr; Deer Park, Osmund Mandt; south half of Smiley, Tobias Stene; Hickory, H. T. Hanson.

Fourth district—T. H. Smith, chairman. Cloverleaf, E. A. Strand; Kratka, R. M. Johnson.

Fifth district—J. P. Jensen, chairman. Reiner, T. T. Morken; Star, Chris Odegaard; Highlanding, Morgan Vaughan; village of Goodridge, Nick Bundhund.

VOLUNTEER AID IN SELLING WAR BONDS

LOCAL COUNCIL OF U. C. T. WILL DEVOTE ONE SATURDAY TO THIS WORK.

When the next Liberty Loan drive is inaugurated in this city the movement will receive a decided boost from a most welcome source. The members of the Minnesota Council, No. 521, U. C. T., which is the official title of the Thief River Falls traveling men's organization, will devote all of one Saturday to the sale of the securities. This accession to the ranks of bond-boosters will be most welcome. These men are all experienced canvassers and know how to present whatever they may be handling to the best advantage. They will not confine themselves to the city alone but will sell a bond wherever they can find a buyer.

To further show their good intentions the members of the council at the last meeting voted to buy $100 worth of saving certificates and promised to devote a like amount to the next issue of bonds.

Officers Elected.

War Savings Stamps
Every time you lick a stamp you help to lick the Kaiser. Are you purchasing War Savings Stamps regularly?

A Successful Social.

The Red Cross social given in School District No. 135 of Norden township last Saturday evening was a success in every way and very much enjoyed. The total proceeds amounted to $36.60. Ross P. White, county agricultural agent, was present and gave an interesting talk on Red Cross work and farming.

TICKET IS NAMED BY NON-PARTISANS

LEGISLATIVE CANDIDATES SELECTED BUT NOT ANNOUNCED.

One candidate for state senator and two candidates for representatives in the legislature for the sixty-fifth district were yesterday nominated by the National Non-Partisan league. The convention was held at the court house and none but members were admitted. For this reason the identity of the nominees is a secret and will not be divulged until after the state convention is held on the 19th. Delegates to this convention were also chosen.

It is expected that a complete state and congressional ticket will be put in the field when the district delegates gather at St. Paul next Tuesday.

So carefully have the proceedings of the league been guarded that it is not even known who are considered for the different places on the ticket in this state.

All that has been permitted to leak out concerning the proceedings at the court house on Tuesday is that there were about 45 delegates present.

GOOD RECORD FOR WAR SAVINGS MADE

PENNINGTON COUNTY STANDS TWENTY-SIXTH ON LIST IN THIS STATE.

The total amount of War Savings Stamps and Certificates sold in the State of Minnesota up to March first was $1,891,274.69, of which the people of Pennington county contributed $8,387.24, or 76 cents per capita. This places the county 26th on the list. Of the amount purchased $1,393.00 was secured through the banks, the postoffice being credited with the balance, amounting to $6,994.24.

Red Lake county has the best record of any in this section of the state, the purchases there amounting to a total of $9,657.36, or $1.26 per capita, placing the county 11th on the list. Marshall county is No. 57 in the column with 37 cents per capita; Polk county is 65th with 32 cents, Kittson 76th with 23 cents, and Clearwater 77th with 21 cents. Roseau is third from the bottom with 12 cents. The best record was made in Todd county where $2.54 is credited to every man, woman and child and the poorest showing is made by Traverse county where the subscriptions averaged but four cents.

Drank Bad Medicine.

Knute Volstad was arrested by Patrolman Roy Morgan last Friday night and brought before Judge Tarrant charged with being loaded with something that caused him to act unruly. The police officer thought it was whiskey but when searched at the jail Volstad yielded nothing but a few bottles of Hoffman's drops. The judge refused to take into consideration anything but net results, however, and fined the delinquent five dollars and costs.

With the Aero Squadron.

Tom Lonson has written a letter to Roy Lambert from Dayton, Ohio, where he is now stationed with the 827th Aero Squadron, which unit has been detailed for repair work. He has been made a first-class sergeant and is in charge of the office work for the squadron. He writes that they are expecting instructions to leave camp and embark for France at any time now.

WILL SEED EARLEY.

Should the present weather continue, it is certain that a number of Pennington county farmers will be seeding by the middle of next week. Reports from nearby sections are to the effect that seeding has already been begun.

CANDIDATES ARE ENTERING RACE

FIRST TO SIGNIFY INTENTION IS G. M. GUNDERSON FOR SCHOOL HEAD.

TWO MORE NAMES FILED

GULLINGSRUD AFTER LIDEN'S PLACE; BACKE WOULD BE REGISTER OF DEEDS.

The ice has been broken and the first filings for places on the primary ballot to be voted on in June have been made. From now on the probabilities are that they will come thick and fast.

The first man to get his name and money down was George M. Gunderson, of Silverton township, who filed for the office of county superintendent of schools on Saturday. The next to get into the race was John Gullingsrud, who on Monday took the steps necessary to insure his getting on the ticket against County Treasurer Theo. J. Liden. On Monday Lars Backe filed for the office of register of deeds.

It is understood that all the present county officials will be candidates to succeed themselves and it is certain that some will have opposition. One exception may be County Auditor T. P. Anderson. There is a strong movement on foot, backed by substantial men in all sections of the county, to discourage anyone who would file against him as his many duties make it almost impossible for him to conduct any kind of an extensive campaign. Besides his work as auditor, he has the extra labor made necessary by reason of the draft piled onto him and as this must be done without extra compensation of any kind it is considered unfair that he should be made to suffer for it.

NEW DITCH ASKED TO RELIEVE NO. 20

WOULD TAKE PLACE OF JUDICIAL NO. 39, REJECTED LAST SPRING.

A petition signed by about 40 land owners residing in the vicinity of Ditches No. 18 and 20, will soon be presented, asking that a judicial ditch be established for the purpose of relieving the last-named drainage artery. The new ditch will begin where No. 18 turns northward in Silverton township and will be carried westward one-half mile, thereafter following in a northwesterly direction along the natural water shed to a "coolie" near the river. This "coolie" will also be made part of the ditch.

This project carries out the same idea as was embodied in the proposition involving Judicial ditch No. 39, which was knocked out by the courts last year. It does not, however, extend so far eastward, as the former plan was to go clear through to Beltrami county.

It is expected that the petition will be presented to the court within the next week or so. The assessments will likely be covered on a percentage basis of the original ditch liens on the land effected.

MORE FINE STOCK IS SHIPPED HERE

J. H. HARDESTY, HANS ANTON AND V. C. NOPER SECURE REGISTERED HOLSTEINS.

Of late much interest has been manifested in pure bred livestock of all kinds. For some time the Farm Bureau has been trying to locate some pure bred sheep but they seem to be hard to find at this time. The men interested in the dairy cows have met with better success for they have located a fine bunch of heifers of exceptionally good breeding in Wisconsin and J. H. Hardesty, Hans Anton and V. C. Noper will go together and ship in a carload of these registered females.

Mr. Anton and Mr. Noper have a splendid sire behind their herds at the present time and in order to get the full value out of him they feel that a few more of the registered animals are absolutely necessary. The bringing in of this car of Holsteins will do much towards boosting the industry in this county. Mr. Hardesty has long been interested in the black and whites. He was forced to sell out his entire herd last fall when his son, who acted as herdsman for him, was called to the colors. Other arrangements have now been made and this summer the Holsteins will again graze the pasture on the Hardesty farm.

Walter Smith in France.

Ray Pope yesterday received a postal card from Walter E. Smith, formerly of the local postoffice force, announcing his safe arrival on the other side. He had a stormy voyage and rather intimates that the trip was not without excitement, but promises to tell more of the details later.

FOR BELGIAN RELIEF.

The Pennington County Red Cross society has been requested by Northern Division headquarters to make a collection of wearing apparel to be sent to the Belgians. The need for this is urgent and it is hoped that anyone having garments for men, women or children with which they can dispense will give them to the solicitors. This is one of the most important undertakings in which the local chapter has been asked to give its aid and the response should be general.

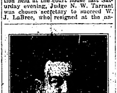
Made a Corporal.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Stebbins have received word from their son, Edwin, who has been laid up in the base hospital at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., for a month or more with an attack of rheumatism and pneumonia, stating that he will be out in a few days, completely recovered. He has been made a corporal in the 621 aero squadron and has applied for a furlough but does not know whether or not this will be granted.

TARRANT NAMED FAIR SECRETARY

COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY WILL HOLD ANNUAL SHOW AS USUAL.

At a meeting of the members of the Pennington County Fair association held at the court house last Saturday evening, Judge N. W. Tarrant was chosen secretary to succeed W. J. LaBree, who resigned at the annual meeting. Judge Tarrant has been a booster for the fair ever since there was an association to make the annual event a possibility and he is one of the original members of the organization. As he has both the time and inclination he will devote his best efforts to making the 1918 event the biggest and best in the history of the county.



N. W. Tarrant.

The fair will this year be held on Aug. 5, 6 and 7. The war will have the effect of somewhat changing the program for fairs this year but whatever is permitted will be found here. The association is in excellent shape financially and will be in a position to make a particularly good showing.

Gets Responsible Position.

W. E. Sargent, who for some years past has conducted one of the largest dairy farms in this section, has disposed of all his interests here and moved to Ithaca, Mich., last Saturday. He has been appointed general manager of a 380 acre dairy farm specializing in pure bred Holsteins near the Michigan city and will make his future home there. Mr. Sargent was one of the most enthusiastic dairy boosters in this section during his residence here and his moving will be a loss to the community.

GLENN MARTZ NOW DISTRICT ENGINEER

PATROLMAN PLAN WILL BE FOLLOWED AS DURING THE PAST TWO YEARS.

The suggestion made by the board of county commissioners that Glenn H. Martz, county engineer, be appointed to succeed District Engineer W. E. Monks, has been favorably considered by the state highway commission and Mr. Martz is now in charge of the work.

At the last meeting of the commissioners it was decided to continue the system in effect during the past two years which is to divide the county into districts, each of which will be in charge of a patrolman who will receive $115 per month and whose duty it will be to see that the roads are constantly kept in the best shape possible. Mr. Monks found this system very satisfactory and his successor will not at present recommend any change.

The new engineer's home is at St. Hilaire and he is a home product. He has served with satisfaction in the office of county engineer and his knowledge of the district and experience make him the best man that could have been appointed.

PLOT DONATIONS VERY NUMEROUS

FARMERS RESPOND NOBLY TO RED CROSS REQUEST FOR HELP.

CASH RECEIPTS ARE GOOD

INDICATIONS ARE THAT $4,000 MARK WILL BE PASSED IN CITY.

Skeptical persons who doubted the willingness of the farmers of Pennington county to be bothered with a Red Cross plot on their land are going to be in line for a great surprise. The campaign for the donation of acreage plots has just begun, but the returns are sufficient to show that the farmers stand willing to do anything in their power to aid the Red Cross. Heretofore they have been asked to give money to help the cause and in many instances they have not had the money to give. Now, however, that they have been shown a way in which they can help by contributing what they have, the response is most gratifying.

Result in Two Towns.

Tuesday was election day in the different townships of the state and was selected as the time for bringing this matter before the farmers. Pledge cards were handed out at the polling places and very few of these were returned without being signed up for something that will represent cash at harvest time. In the township of North, for instance, the result was as follows: Wheat, 12 acres; barley, four acres; rye, one and a half acres. Besides these the following donations were acknowledged: Two pigs, five loads of sand, $11 in cash.

From Silverton township were reported the following donations: Wheat, 19¾ acres; rye, 1½ acres; oats, 4½ acres; barley, one acre.

Others Doing as Well.

From one township came a donation of one-half acre of flax and several acres of potatoes. Then there are turkeys, chickens and even calves promised, all going to make up a most imposing total.

Set Figure Too Low.

When the campaign was started the first of the week the amount set as a goal for cash contributions was placed at $4,000. That this will be largely oversubscribed is now certain. A thermometer has been placed in the postoffice lobby showing the growth of the fund. Last evening this indicated that $2,300 had been pledged with sufficient promises of help to make it certain that the figure will go nearer $5,000 than the stipulated amount before the campaign closes on Saturday night.

If you have not already given something you will find the opportunity still good.

WHEAT GRADES ARE ORDERED CHANGED

CONGRESSMAN STEENERSON PRESENTS ARGUMENTS BEFORE PRESIDENT WILSON.

Last week President Wilson heard arguments for a change in the wheat grades from a delegation from the northwest with Congressman Halvor Steenerson as spokesman. A few days afterward orders came, through the Secretary of Agriculture, for a modification of the grades that will mean an average increase of from five to ten cents per bushel in the returns for the wheat crop.

The moisture content is raised from 13 to 15 per cent; 4 per cent of other wheat, instead of 2, is permitted; rye content is raised from 1 to 2 per cent; 2 instead of 1 per cent of damaged kernels is permitted; and there may be 1 per cent of heated kernels instead of none and 1 per cent separable small seeds is permitted.

The change in moisture content is the most important, as the bulk of the northwestern crop averages between 14 and 16 per cent in the moisture test.

The new rules will go into effect after hearings are held in the five principal grain centers of the country, that for the northwest to occur in Minneapolis on March 21.

The modifications are in line with Mr. Steenerson's bill, recently introduced in congress, and grants almost all that was asked for.

BOY SCOUTS BUSY BOOSTING STAMPS

CANVASSING CITY BY TEAMS AND MEETING WITH MUCH SUCCESS.

The boy scouts met last Thursday evening for the purpose of organizing for the War Saving Certificate and Thrift Stamp drive which is in progress this week. The city has been divided into zones and is being traversed by energetic and enthusiastic teams, all of which are reported as meeting with marked success. The patrol leaders and the territory alloted to the different teams are as follows: First section: Ted Prichard, patrol leader—All territory north of Bridge street and east of the river. Second section, John Melgaard, leader—All south of Bridge street and east of the river. Third section, Ernest Barzen, leader—All south of Second street and all west of the river from Second street south. Fourth section, Dennis McGinn, leader—All north of Second street and west of Main avenue. Fifth section, Charles Gambell, leader—All east of Main avenue and north of Second street to the river. The first canvas was made by the boys on Monday afternoon and will be continued from time to time during the year.

Will Move Store.

Charles Lieberman announces on another page of this paper that he has rented the store building at present occupied by I. E. Howick and adjoining his present quarters and will move in as soon as the necessary repairs and alterations have been made. This will give him much larger quarters than at present and consequently more room for the display of goods.

FACTS IN HEARING ARE NOT DIVULGED

RESULTS OF COUNTY SAFETY COMMISSION TRIALS ARE KEPT SECRET.

The hearing in the first case coming before the county safety commission took place last week but the findings were refused publicity by the commission members. Mr. and Mrs. J. Borry were accused of disloyal utterances and acts and were called on the carpet. So far as concerns the general public the trial might as well never have been held as all information concerning it was carefully suppressed.

The story of the offense, as this appeared in the Grand Forks Herald, is to the effect that the Borrys have on numerous occasions given intimations of their opposition to the government's war program and in order to emphasize their disapproval, have refused to buy either Liberty Bonds or War Stamps. When accused of this by commission members, so the story goes, they were able to display both bonds and stamps, although their names do not appear on the rolls of purchasers published by The Times at the close of the bond campaign.

Nothing was done about the matter and in view of the commission's desire in the premises no mention was made of the circumstance.

KID BAND VARIETY TOMORROW NIGHT

UNIQUE ENTERTAINMENT TO BE STAGED AT AUDITORIUM BY THE BOYS.

The advance sale of tickets for the vaudeville show to be given by the Kid band on Friday evening at the Auditorium indicates that there will be a large attendance. From all reports the entertainment will be worthy of any support promised for it.

The direction of the affair is in charge of Miss Una Nelson and Bandmaster Joe Greenfield, who have put in the past month drilling their young charges until they have them perfect in every detail.

No more varied program was ever presented to a Thief River Falls audience. There will be band music of course, but this is only a small part of the proceedings. Solos, duets, trios, quartets, vaudeville stunts of unusual character and some dancing will help fill out an evening of thorough enjoyment.

The Kid band is doing good work and deserves all the encouragement possible.

WILL ENGAGE IN SHIPMENT OF EGGS

CREAMERY TO EXTEND ITS FIELD OF OPERATIONS—BUY MORE LAND.

At a meeting of the Thief River Creamery association directors this week, it was decided to engage in the handling of eggs as a side line of the regular butter and milk business. Poultry raising has received a tremendous impetus in this section during the past few years and as the business works in naturally with that of dairying there has been a general demand among the patrons that the department be added to the plant.

The directors also decided on the purchase of property adjoining the creamery building on the north, paying $2,000 for the lots. It is the intention to erect additional buildings on the plot secured, but this may be postponed until a later date.

The creamery is one of the most promising institutions in the city at the present time and the directors feel justified in making preparations for future expansion.

WOULD-BE TRAIN WRECKER JAILED

ANDREW LAGERQUIST, WHO ATTEMPTED TO DERAIL SOO FLYER IS CAUGHT.

FATHER IS ALSO ARRESTED

YOUNG MAN BLOWS HAND OFF TO ESCAPE MILITARY DUTY.

Andrew Lagerquist, who is accused of having attempted to derail the Soo flyer at Karlstad last week by breaking the switch lock and partially throwing the switch, passed through Thief River Falls on his way to the jail at Hallock on Thursday, in charge of Deputy Sheriff Fergusson of Kittson county. The young man's father, I. J. Lagerquist, was also placed in jail at the same time charged with complicity and also with shielding a slacker. They came down on the afternoon train and stayed in jail here until the following morning.

Are Bad Lot.

The story of the attempt to throw the fast Winnipeg flyer off the track is substantially as published in The Times last week. Besides having thrown the switch, the criminal had also opened the faucets on the large oil and gasoline tanks near the scene, permitting the inflammable contents to run out on the ground, forming pools in many places. The intention was evidently to have the engine set fire to the wreckage when the cars were overturned which surely would have been the result, as there is a considerable embankment at that point.

Engineer Kept His Head.

When the heavy train left the main line and shot onto the side track the cars swayed dangerously and articles were spilled promiscuously from the overhead racks. None of the passengers were even slightly injured, however. The engineer in charge is entitled to considerable credit for his quick grasp of affairs. Had he shot his air brakes the chances are decidedly that the train would have buckled, with the most fearful results. As it was he allowed his engine to slow down gradually and no damage was done.

Found Arsenal in House.

It is reported that when the officers came to arrest young Lagerquist they found him in the barn and in no manner prepared for their coming. Entering the house they found four loaded guns near the window facing the direction from which anyone wishing to reach the house must approach. Cartridges for the guns were laid out in rows on the window sill in readiness for use.

Slacker Surrenders.

A brother of the accused man, who failed to return to Camp Dodge at the termination of his furlough, was also at home and struck off across country at the approach of the officers. He could not be found at the time but his father, after his arrival at Hallock, sent a letter advising that he give himself up and it is understood that he has complied.

Hand is Blown Off.

Andrew, the boy accused of the graver offense, had his hand done up in bandages when seen here. Three fingers on the right hand were gone, having been shot off purposely in order that he might not be subject to draft.

Early Morning Fire.

Fire early this morning practically destroyed the building at 114 Conley avenue south, owned by O. A. Westin and occupied by Peter Ralston. The fire started under a stairway and the cause is unknown. The total loss on building and furniture is placed at about $1500, partially covered by insurance.

A Successful Opening.

The formal opening of the new Lieberman Brothers store last Saturday was one of the most widely attended in the history of the city. Mr. Lieberman had made arrangements for supplying souvenirs to all callers but his supply came near running out. Flowers were provided for the ladies and more than 1,500 were distributed. The Kid band furnished music for the occasion from seven o'clock until 10 and helped make the event rather unusual.

GOOD LUCK TO HIM

Ed. Vandersluis, formerly one of the publishers of the News-Press and who since the consolidation of that paper with The Times has been mechanical superintendent of the latter, leaves this week for the purpose of engaging in business for himself. He has purchased the Sauk Rapids Sentinel and will take charge about the first of April. Mr. Vandersluis is not a stranger in the locality to which he is going, having for years been associated with newspapers in that immediate neighborhood. He has acquired an excellent property in the Sentinel and will make a success of the venture, being a capable, energetic man with a thorough training in every department of the printing and publishing business. His services while a member of The Times force have been of a highly satisfactory order and we regret to see him go. His ambition to acquire a business of his own is highly commendable, however, and everyone with whom he has in any way become associated while a resident of this city will join in wishing him the very best of luck.

His place as superintendent in this office will be filled by M. A. Mattison, who for the past two years has been connected with the papers here in both the reportorial and mechanical departments. At this particular time, when high-class men are scarcer than at any other period in the country's history, The Times is fortunate in thus being able to fill the place without difficulty. We bespeak for Mr. Mattison the same consideration that our people have at all times shown his predecessor.

A MILITANT PATRIOTISM NEEDED

(By the Minnesota Commission of Public Safety.)

The Times believes that there are very few if any cases of actual disloyalty to be found in Pennington county. It is doubtful if a single person could be discovered who would wilfully do anything to in any manner give aid or comfort to the enemy, but there are undoubtedly some whose notion of their own responsibility in the premises needs considerable adjusting. They all hope America will win the war and are even willing to go to some lengths in order to bring about a victory. But they lack enthusiasm. They point to some slight delay or mistake as an indication that something is lacking in our position or crooked in our administration. They are dissatisfied with the progress of events and if they dared would not hesitate to give voice to the opinion that we should never have been in the war at all.

To such as these the Minnesota Commission of Public Safety has addressed a warning. The time has passed when anything like a half-and-half patriot may be tolerated. If a person is not heart and soul for his country at this juncture, he is against it. There is no such thing as a neutral attitude.

An open letter sent to Minnesota newspapers this week calls the attention of patriotic citizens to their duty whenever one of these people who are so tolerant of the enemy's position is encountered. Do not let him get away with it. Contradict him flatly and impress your arguments in the most effective manner of which you are capable. Silence on your part will often give him the idea that you agree with him and he will approach the next man he meet with greater confidence. Crush this thing wherever you find it and let no supersensitive regard for the right of free speech stand in your way. Then report the occurance to the official of the Safety commission nearest you.

The letter sent out this week presents the case without any frills. Read it over carefully and act on the suggestions it contains:

"The Commision of Public Saftey, which is at the head of all branches of patriotic work and war endeavor in the State of Minnesota feels that there is need in the North Star State of a militant, aggressive patriotism—the patriotism that will not tolerate treason in any form from any man; the patriotism that will gladly make sacrifices for our country at this time and earnestly seek opportunities where it might be of service. It is and has been difficult to arouse our people to the idea that our country, our beloved United States, is fighting for its very life, for its right to a free existence. People seem to be oblivious of the fact that German victory will mean a subjugation of our country and of every country which is at war with Germany, in case the Prussian military autocracy succeeds in winning the war.

"Many people still seem to feel that they have a right and are free to sympathize with Germany. This right ceased to exist on April 6, 1917. It is very obvious that no man is loyal to the United States who is not whole-heartedly for it and its associates. No divided patriotism is possible; no such thing as divided allegiance exists. Those who have been disloyal or even lukewarm must be brought to recognize these facts and a change of heart must be had or they must face the punishment that traitors deserve.

"Treason consists in giving aid and comfort to the enemy. This is a time that all hearts must be searched, on the part of those who claim to be loyal and some who think they are loyal, but who are acting in such manner as to win approval in Berlin. The time has come when such men must choose the one thing or the other. They are either patriots or traitors. There is absolutely no middle ground to take. The time has come when loyal citizens must join the forces in making war upon those who persist in a disloyal stand and will join in every effort to either convert them or strip them of their false pretense. It is realized that there are men who are unconsciously disloyal simply because they do not realize the German menace. These people should be made to see the truth. There are others who are consciously disloyal and there is no reason why these should not receive the treatment which treason deserves. There is absolutely no justice or sense in the use of mild measures with men who start fires or commit other acts to the injury of this country and who are a menace to our national welfare.

"The Commission of Public Saftey urges upon all public officials that they exercise the utmost vigilance in these cases and it is urging upon the people the necessity of a virile, fighting, red-blooded patriotism in order to awaken the great mass of people to the danger which confronts us. The disloyal or seditious persons must also be warned of the dangers which confront them.

"The Commission of Public Safety is doing its utmost to urge loyalty on the part of the church and school. It invites the help of every good man and woman in puhing forward all branches of patriotic endeavor. It urges that the people of the cities and towns invite the co-operation and help of all who live in the country, in pronouncing all patriotic sentiment and increasing the state's contribution of food to our associates. It also urges the enthusiastic and continued patriotic support of all organizations, labor unions, fraternal societies, etc. We realize the necessity of all lovers of America, without regard to interest or occupation, being made to co-operate towards the one great task of winning this war. Minnesota is to be congratulated on the patriotic services that it has already rendered through the medium of its patriotic citizens and those who are charged with the task of making the state ready and efficient for war purposes. The state owes a debt of gratitude to the young men who have cheerfully accepted the selective draft and for their prompt obedience to the law. They are fine examples of soldiers both in spirit, heart and physical courage. They will prove to be an irresistable and indominable force on the western front. The Commission has pledged its support to the administration of President Wilson, in the conduct of the war. It wants everything to be done right and has pledged itself to help do it right. Mistakes have been made. Others have also made mistakes. These will be corrected, and forgiven. All things must be done without hindrance or cessation of patriotic endeavor or any abatement in any sense of our intense loyalty. The state is especially to be felicitated upon the splendid work being done by our women and the Commission points with special pride to the work of the Woman's Auxiliary of the state organization. The Red Cross and other organizations that have and are now engaged in active war work, command the enthusiastic support of all loyal people and every appeal for them or from them should be met with prompt and efficient response.

The Commission of Public Safety urges that all regular church services should include the singing of "America" and prayers should include appeals for strength and guidance of the National Administration and for the triumph of our armies in the field.

"The Commission of Public Safety urges and makes the above appeal to the great and splendid citizenship of the State of Minnesota."

We note that Senator Samuel B. Nelson of Rock county, is boomed for the gubernatorial nomination on the Democratic ticket this fall. The party migh seek farther and do a great deal worse. The Luverne legislator has been in the upper house for many years and is regarded as one of the strong, dependable men of that body. He would not be a spectacular candidate perhaps, but if a hard-headed, clear-thinking man who has made a success of his own business and enjoys the respect and confidence of all who know him is wanted, Senator Nelson will come nearer filling the bill than anyone mentioned thus far.

LIBBRARY NOTES

Mary Johnston's new book, "The Wanderers," is not only interesting, it is different. It is not a novel but a series of tales out of the different ages of the past, each chapter dealing with characters of a different age all with the single idea of woman's relation to herself and man. It is a history of woman as a femanist and seed her groping blindly upward. A book for entertainment or instruction or both, according to the reader.

The Library has recently received a number of new books in the Norwegian language purchased especially for the pleasure of many older people who are unable to read English. A list will be published later.

They will also petition for a bridge across the Red Lake river in the township of Kratka, about six miles from the structure placed across the stream in the town of Highlanding last year.

THANKS RED CROSS FOR COMFORT KIT

SOLDIER APPRECIATES WHAT THE LAIDES ARE DOING FOR THEIR COMFORT.

That the Comfort Bags presented the members of the National army as they left this city recently have been greatly appreciated is borne out by letters received from those who left. Among the letters sent back here is one from Alexander Svendsgaard to Scott Laird, secretary of the Red Cross Chapter, reading as follows:

"Friends: I call you friends for I look to the Red Cross as a friend that is needed by every Sammie in service. I have opened my Comfort bag, after ten days, as requested by Mrs. Larson, and will say that I appreciate very much what has been done for me.

"I have also written the lady whose address was found inside the bag.

"We are treated real nice here and have fine officers, and believe me Kaiser Bill will "get his" when we get over there.

"I wish to thank the Thief River Falls Red Cross for what they have done."

WOULD FIX PRICES ON OTHER CEREALS

LOCAL MERCHANTS BELIEVE FLOUR SUBSTITUTES SHOULD BE CONTROLLED.

Whereas numerous complaints have been made of late to the various members of the Fair Price Food Committee of Thief River Falls, Pennington county, State of Minnesota, relative to the high prices being charged for flour substitutes; and

Whereas it is the general belief of all persons who have made such complaints that this condition could be materially remedied by fixing the prices of cereals the same as was done with wheat; and

Whereas it is claimed that much good will result from such a step by the National Food Administration, both as to reducing food prices and also as to encouraging farmers to plant a greater acreage of wheat than will otherwise be the case; therefore

Be it resolved that the Fair Price Food committee of Thief River Falls requests the Honorable Halvor Steenerson, Congressman from this district, and the Honorable Knute Nelson, senator from Minnesota, to use such influence with the National Food Administration as may tend to correct the present seemingly wrong condition.

(Signed: F. H. Herrick, chairman; Emil Zeh, H. A. Brumund, Carl Christofferson, Louis DeCremer, Fred Roth, N. J. Silk, G. A. Penney, Peter Engelstad, George Eide, Mrs. H. A. Pratt, Mrs. T. L. Melgaard."

The above resolution was unanimously passed Monday afternoon when the Fair Price Food committee met in the Commercial club rooms to recommend prices for the coming week. This committee is trying to do everything within its power to keep leading food products within the reach of all classes and is meeting with success in several instances. Close attention on the part of the public is invited to the list elsewhere in the paper, copies of which are also to be found in the grocery stores of the city. The merchants as a whole are doing their share in this movement and in several instances have taken a loss on items purchased at prices higher than those now quoted.

Copies of the above resolution have been sent by Mr. Herrick as directed, and the Commercial club and Merchants' association will endeavor to get similar organizations in the northwest to do likewise. The public in general should write their congressman and senator along similar lines.

Swift & Company Publicity

At a recent hearing of the Federal Trade Commission there was introduced correspondence taken from the private files of Swift & Company, which showed that the Company had been considering for some time an educational advertising campaign.

The need for this publicity has been apparent to us for several years. The gross misrepresentation to which we have recently been subjected has convinced us that we should no longer delay in putting before the public the basic facts of our business, relying on the fair-mindedness of the American people.

The feeling against the American packer is based largely on the belief that the income and well-being of the producer and consumer are adversely affected by the packers' operations, resulting in unreasonably large profits.

Swift & Company's net profit is reasonable, and represents an insignificant factor in the cost of living.

For the fiscal year 1917 the total sales and net profit of Swift & Company were as follows:

This is equivalent to a $3,465. profit on a business of $87,500.

If Swift & Company had made no profit at all, the cattle raiser would have received only one-eighth of a cent per pound more for his cattle, or the consumer would have saved only one-quarter of a cent per pound on dressed beef.

WAR TO TINGE ALL MINNESOTA FAIRS

RED CROSS DRESSINGS WILL TAKE PLACE OF FANCY WORK EXHIBITS.

Minnesota county fairs will be strictly war-time expositions, as outlined by directors of the Minnesota associtaion of County Fairs at a meeting this week. The association includes 55 fairs in as many counties. Premiums will be offered for Red Cross dressings, soldiers' comforts and other articles that may help win the war, but the customary awards for fancy lace, silk lamp shades and the like will not be given.

There will be no cooking exhibits that would entail unnecessary use of fats, white flour, sugar and other needed foodstuffs. There will be special premiums for exhibits of home canned foods, preserves, dried vegetables and fruits that will help the food saving campaign.

WAR ADDRESS BY SWEDISH SPEAKER

A. T. ECKBLAD, D. D., OF SUPERIOR, WILL BE AT AUDITORIUM TONIGHT.

At a recent meeting of the pastors in the Red River district of the Augustana Synod of the Swedish Lutheran church of America, a resolution was unanimously and enthusiastically adopted to arrange a series of patriotic meetings throughout the district for the purpose of giving expression to the sentiment that is genuinely and sincerely felt among the Swedish Americans of the state in support of the administration and its conduct of the war against autocracy. It was agreed that such meetings should be arranged as it is not considered the proper thing among Lutherans to turn the regular Sunday services into patriotic meetings nor to displace the preaching of the pure Gospel by speeches of any other nature, no matter how laudable the purpose otherwise.

The meeting in Thief River Falls has been set for tonight and the speaker will be Rev. A. T. Ekblad, D. D., pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church, Superior. Dr. Ekblad is one of the foremost churchmen of his race and denomination in the Northwest and a speaker of recognized ability.

This will be the first meeting under distinctly Swedish auspices held in this city since the outbreak of the war and as there are large numbers of people of this nationality residing in this neighborhood, the Auditorium meeting on the 14th should be one of the best in the entire series. The admission is free and a general invitation is extended.

Thinks It's All Right.

"Sparks," the official publication of the Minnesota Automobile Association, has the following to say concerning the proposed new parking ordinance for this city:

"Preparations are now under way for the establishing of traffic laws in Thief River Falls the coming summer. The use of autos has become so common that at times last season it was impossible to park one's car along the curb in several blocks, and again traffic was using the left side of the street, making is very dangerous for travel. It is proposed to follow ordinances of other cities and to establish zones for parking purposes, so that the city will present a much more metropolitan appearance hereafter. The laws and ordinance committee of the auto club is working with members of the city council and the city attorney on the matter.

LOCAL TEAM WINS AT HENDRUM FRIDAY

The local basketball team returned last Saturday morning from Hendrum, rejoicing over their victory in the game played with the Hendrum high school team Friday evening. At the close of the game the score was 26 to 22 in our favor. It was one of the fastest and best games played by the local team this season and they deserve praise for their work. The players were lined up as follows: Ambrose Zeh, Forward; Jordon Penney, Forward; John Steen, Guard; Charles Prichard, Guard; Walter Trulson, Center and Dennis McGinn, substitute. At the end of the first half the score was 10 to 10. It was a close game and highly exciting from start to finish. Ambrose Zeh made six baskets while Trulson made three and Penney two. The one playing center for Hendrum was a member of the town team and considerable trouble was had before the game as to whether or not he would be allowed to play with the H. S. team, but he found after the game had started that he had no snap playing against Trulson, who was after him like a dog after a cat.

In spite of the slippery floor, regularly used for dance hall, our boys made a fine showing and no one knows what will happen when the Hendrum boys come up here to play, in the local gymnasium.

The boys were accompanied there by M. L. Swanson, who refereed the game during the last half, and Leslie Provencher.

SKIM MILK TESTED
FREE
AT CREAMERY

With butterfat selling at 57c a pound and high prices of feed, it is necessary to keep a close check on your separator. A fraction of a per cent in the skim milk will in a year count up to more than the cost of the separator.

We will test your skim milk free of charge and in that way you will be able to find out if you are losing butterfat in the skim milk. Butter at 57c a pound is too expensive to feed to pigs and calves.

Next Monday night the last game of the season will be played on the home floor with the Crookston Aggies.

Red Cross Notes.

On Friday evening March 1st, a patriotic program and "Bow" social was given in school district No. 159, for the benefit of the Red Cross. The pupils of five different schools helped to make a spread which had 466 names sewed on it. Five blocks in the center of the spread were of red and were so arranged as to form a large red cross. The spread was raffled and Martin Sampson who lives near Holt drew the lucky number. The pupils in Dist. 159 also had a fine display of fancy work and woodwork. The proceeds of this sale went to the school, while the proceeds of the spread and "Bow" social which was $82.62, went to the Red Cross. This was handed to the treasurer of the Thorwick Red Cross Branch, Oliver Molstad.

Adds Tractor Line.

Mr. Miller, the "regular fellow" of the Overland forces dropped into the city this week. He says Overland could market double the cars they will build if possible to make them. He says Overland is doing its bit like all the big manufacturers and will have to disappoint someone. He adds that the moral in this is to buy early if you want an Overland.

The Grand Forks Overland Co. has taken on distribution of Plowman tractors and are applying their well-known organizing ability to this new addition to their line. This means the farmer will get from Mr. Sundahl who has taken on the Plowman, in addition to his Overland line, the high-grade of service for which he is noted.

THE RED CROSS NURSES OF EUROPE ARE GIVING TOASTED CIGARETTES TO THE BOYS

To anyone who doesn't know of the wonderful advances that have been made in the preparation of smoking tobacco in the last few years it may sound strange to speak of toasted cigarettes.

Strictly speaking, we should say cigarettes made of toasted tobacco; the smokers of this country will recognize it more readily by its trade name, "LUCKY STRIKE"—the toasted cigarette.

The American Tobacco Company are producing millions of these toasted cigarettes and these are being bought in enormous quantities through the various tobacco funds conducted by the newspapers of the country and forwarded, through the Red Cross Society to the boys in France.

This new process of treating tobacco not only improves the flavor of the tobacco but it seals in this flavor and makes the cigarettes keep better.

The Red Cross nurse is always glad to have a cigarette for the wounded soldier, as, in most instances, that is the first thing asked for.

Whooping Cough

"The disease I most dread is Whooping Cough, for children are often permanently injured by the awful straining of the cough. You should never neglect it, and treatment should be started at the first symptom. You cannot mistake the symptoms: protracted coughing, worse at night; peculiar whoop; labored expectoration of mucus; apparent suffocation after coughing.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is a positive remedy for this disease—repeat the dose frequently, for if given freely it liquifies the tough mucus, makes it easy to expectorate and counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. There is no danger whatever from Whooping Cough when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given."

Yours for Health — Granny Chamberlain

ASKED TO DONATE SOLDIERS' READING

BOOKS ARE WANTED FOR SENDING TO THE BOYS IN THE ARMY

To aid in the problem of supplying American soldiers and sailors with good books to read in their leisure hours, the Thief River Falls Library Board will conduct an intensive campaign for books during the week of March 18 to 25. This is a part of a country-wide movement headed by the American Library association, acting in collaboration with the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A. and K. of P. war camps.

Would-be donors are allowed great latitude as to the kind of books that may be given. All that is required is that they be in good condition, that they be the kind of books men care to read, and, in the case of textbooks, that they bear a publication date not earlier than 1910.

The Library Board asks that every person who owns a collection of books select one or more of those most suitable, wrap them and mark them "Library War Service," and bring them to the Public Library, whence they will be forwarded for distribution among the various camps.

Will Dedicate Service Flag.

There will be an interesting service at the Norwegian Lutheran church next Sunday evening when the service flag containing the 16 stars representing the members of Rev. Aastad's congregation who have entered the service is dedicated. There is one golden star in the lot, this being in honor of C. H. Hermanson, the first Pennington county boy to die after joining the service. Short patriotic addresses will be made by O. A. Naplin and Rev. Aastad.

Notice to the Public.

The merchants of the city having decided to discontinue the system of making individual deliveries, the undersigned will after April 1st be in a position to execute all orders for delivery of goods on the shortest possible notice. Leave orders with the merchants or telephone 247 and your requests will be given prompt attention. M7-14 ED. O'HARA

DRAFT MOVEMENT BEGINS MARCH 29

NO MORE MEN WILL BE REQUIRED FROM IOWA AND MINNESOTA

A movement of 95,000 drafted men, to begin March 29 and continue for five days, was ordered today by Provost Marshal General Crowder. The order calls troops from every state in the union with the exception of Iowa and Minnesota. It includes the men remaining from the first draft and those liable to call in the second.

Just how many men of the second draft are affected by the order was not stated at General Crowder's office. It is understood the movement will virtually complete the first draft and part of the announced plan is to call registrants in small groups as fast as they can be accommodated.

The Financial Statement.

The Times this week presents the financial statement of Pennington county for the year 1917. The report is full of interest to every taxpayer as it shows exactly where every dollar of the money received has gone as well as from what source derived. County Auditor T. P. Anderson has been very thorough in presenting all the facts and figures in connection with the financial condition of the county and the statement will be worth saving for future reference.

School Notes.

The senior class annual is in the hands of the printers and promises to be of particular interest and decided school value. It is financed solely by advertising and the sales of the book itself.

Mr. Wells, agriculturalist, is organizing the United States Boys' Working Reserve, among boys who have had farm experience. The government recognizes this organization by issuing badges and medals to properly qualified members.

It is the policy of the senior class to purchase all class material in this city. Competitive bids have been sought and the local dealers have received all the business therefrom, which in the aggregate foots up a considerable sum of money in a year.

Hendrum high school was defeated by the locals last Friday evening at that town. This advances the boys one more step nearer the district championship.

The school service flag hanging in the Lincoln assembly carries 101 stars, representing that many boys now in the service who have been on the school rolls during recent years.

English, including grammar and composition, is the most important study in the schools and, at the same time, presents the greatest obstacles to the attainment of a high standard of efficiency. The state high school board insists upon four full years of this work in high schools and, in addition, foundational language and grammar in the grades.

The greatest number of failures this year will occur in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. There is a striking coincidence between those failing and those who spend few or no evenings at home. Some boys, and several come from homes which strenuously stand for close application to school duties, tell the teachers that they have no chance to stay at home evenings as they belong to two or more juvenile organizations, go to some entertainments, and, as a result have no time for home study. These distractions are probably useful in themselves, but they scatter the child's energy and destroy study habits. About three per cent only in high school is failing this year, but more in the grammar grades, so it is easy for a parent to determine where his boy or girl stands by examining his report card.

At the Theatre.

Another week of superb attractions opens at the Princess this evening when Alma Rubens appears as the star in "I Love You." This is a seven reel production full of dramatic situations.

"Flare Up Sal," the play in which Dorothy Dalton has achieved even a greater success than in "The Flame of the Yukon," will be seen at the Princess on Friday. You will like this thrilling story of the California gold fields. It is full of thrills, romance and breath-taking suspense. It is the big special at the Princess for the present week.

No screen actress in America has been asked to portray so many different emotions as has Madame Petrova, who will be seen in this city on Saturday night in "The Silence Sellers," and but few have portrayed them so well. It is a Metro wonderplay dealing with a young London newspaper woman's experiences.

And then comes Mary Pickford. More popular today than when she first made moving pictures famous, this charming American player has found a vehicle peculiarly adapted to her style in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm." The play follows the book closely and is one of the finest legitimate comedies ever filmed.

"Indiscreet Corine," is the rather interesting title of the play in which Olive Thomas will star on Monday night. As the masked cabaret dancer the heroine gets into some rather difficult positions but finally manages to come out of it all with colors flying.

It is probable that Tuesday night holds the big event of the week. Dustin Farnum one of the greatest of them all, appears in a wonderful scenic production with a patriotic element entitled "The Spy," a play particularly calculated to wake Americans up at this particular time. No one should miss this picture, which has been showing to packed houses at high prices in the cities.

Everyone likes the country boy portrayals of Charles Ray, who will be the headliner on Wednesday evening in "The Hired Man." In this play the hero wins a hurdle race at a regular country fair and does other things in a very natural manner.

BIGGER, BETTER AND FRESHER MERCHANDISE; THE BEST VALUES IN THE "FALLS"

When we opened our new store; it was new all through; new fixtures; new cases; new merchandise.

And all this we have installed so as to better serve you. The additional space we have now doesn't mean anything in actual square feet, but it does mean something when we come to show you the things you want to see; it gives us more room to display these things and allows for a more convenient arrangement.

We can also accomodate a greater variety of patterns and styles in

Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes

The bigger the stock; the better able you are to get exactly what you want.

Right now—the stock is entirely new in fabric and styles. You've never seen a finer array of good clothes anywhere, than you'll see here now. They're all wool, and that's a big thing in these days of wool scarcity. We have priced them to you at a narrow margin of profit knowing that you'll appreciate the real values we offer, when you see them.

It'll pay you to buy here now. Next fall you'll pay a great deal more for the quality we are now offering. We guarantee you absolute satsfaction.

REPORT OF COLLECTIONS FOR THE NATIONAL LUTHERAN COMMISSION FOR SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' WELFARE

In submitting this report I want to express, in behalf of the Lutheran Commission, their sincere thanks for the liberal donations and the willingness with which request for funds was complied with. Everyone approached was glad to give something toward this worthy cause, thereby showing their love and loyalty to church and country. The collections have far exceeded our most optimistic estimate.

On behalf of the Lutheran Commission, and also the local committee, I wish also to express my thanks to the Thief River Falls Times for publishing this long report free of charge. This in itself constitutes no small donation and will be highly appreciated by all.

I. T. AASTAD,
Chairman for Pennington County.

MAKE YOUR WELL HEALTHFUL AND CLEAN

Corrugated Galvanized Armco Iron Well Casing is cheap, quickly and easily installed in a well; lasts a lifetime. Especially desirable for putting inside worn out wooden casings.

LYLE WELL CASING

Actually costs less than a wooden casing and lasts many times as long. It always keeps your well clean and sanitary. Made in all sizes, from 9 inches to 60 inches in diameter.

Armco Iron is pure iron and resists rust like old-fashioned iron.

Write for prices and full particulars.

LYLE CORRUGATED CULVERT CO.
[illegible] MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINN.

Here's one of the times when a fellow feels thankful to the friend who sent him that pouch of Real Gravely.

Send Him a pouch of Real GRAVELY Chewing Plug

Real Gravely Chewing Plug—there's the soldier's tobacco, that he can use anywhere, anytime. Just a small chew of Real Gravely is enough—all good tobacco, rich, sappy leaf made the Gravely way, not loaded up with heavy sweetening like ordinary plug.

Give any man a chew of Real Gravely Plug, and he will tell you that's the kind to send. Send the best!

Ordinary plug is false economy. It costs less per week to chew Real Gravely, because a small chew of it lasts a long while.

If you smoke a pipe, slice Gravely with your knife and add a little to your smoking tobacco. It will give flavor—improve your smoke.

SEND YOUR FRIEND IN THE U. S. SERVICE A POUCH OF GRAVELY

Dealers all around here carry it in 10c. pouches. A 3c. stamp will put it into his hands in any Training Camp or Seaport of the U. S. A. Even "over there" a 3c. stamp will take it to him. Your dealer will supply envelope and give you official directions how to address it.

P. B. GRAVELY TOBACCO CO., Danville, Va.

The Patent Pouch keeps it Fresh and Clean and Good —It is not Real Gravely without this Protection Seal

Established 1831

Good Friends

You and True Smoke will become mighty chummy after you get acquainted. Sail in today. Jam friend pipe to the brim with True Smoke. See how the full flavor and fragrance exactly fit your smoke taste. Introduce True Smoke to your pipe at any dealer's.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

TALES OF THE FAR NORTH

Being an Account of My Experiences During the Three Years I Was Employed by the Government in Alaska.

By Dr. F. H. Gambell, Thief River Falls.

Kindly Glow Prevades.

There was a feeling of relief experienced when it was realized that we were all together again and no mishap had befallen the one that had been missing, and after traveling the rest of the day we were all more contented as we gathered at night in our tent and drank of the black coffee and listened to the wind blow and carry to us the sounds of the tinkling bells as they came from the deer feeding their fill from off the great moss pastures. We watched the fire as it blazed and crackled in the sheet iron stove. The strong coffee had taken away that irritability experienced after a cold hard day's work. It had made us feel kindly one toward another. There was not a man among us but what showed Per Sanger, simple unassuming though he was, some deference as he sat smoking his pipe in the corner. And, when we got our sleeping sacks, and crawled in for the night, there was not one of us but what slept better because of knowing that Per Sanger was with us again.

Rather Hard Going.

There was little of moment happening as we travelled along on the tundra on the low level ground. But we had been out just ten days when we came to the steep perpendicular bluffs which extended down to the water's edge. It was difficult to go over them and to drive upon the narrow ledge of ice at their foot seemed almost impossible. This ledge was made up of great cakes of ice driven in by the ocean waves and the tides and deposited in a chaotic state very uninviting to travel.

Tangle Work For Deer.

Still, as the bluffs were so much less inviting, we decided to make the attempt to go around the foot of them on this rough, narrow ice ledge. Looking over the ice from a distance seemed bad enough, but when we actually began our journey over it, we found it much worse. Cakes were lodged edgeways and cornerways; some were slanting toward the sea and some toward the land; some were steep and slippery and had to be ascended while others were so inclined that we had to slide or coast down them. Great, large, clumsy, massive cakes piled and strewn about, getting barely a hold of the rocky shore as they were cast up, and hurled at the bluffs by the angry, foaming boisterous sea. The deer would go plunging over this icy way with their load swaying and rolling from side to side. Then one of the ropes or the single tug would entangle itself around a sharp jutting ice point and the deer would be held suspended on the other side of the cake, struggling and swaying in a mad effort to free itself.

A Strenuous Time.

It became my duty to disentangle and free the sleds when so caught as the drivers had all they could do to handle their driving deer. I was kept busy going from one loaded sled to another. Coming to the narrowest part of the path I stationed myself on the ocean side of the ledge where I could look down and see the dark waters as they surged and gurgled then receded and, again approaching dashed against the ice cakes throwing their salty spray high into the air. The cold water as it fell on the ice cakes made traveling all the more difficult. We felt relieved when at last we succeeded in getting around this rocky point and were safe on land again without the loss of a deer.

Then Came the Reaction.

That night as I lay asleep in the tent I dreamed all kinds of hideous dreams, so impressed had I been with the hazardness of the undertaking. Great bodies were falling, objects were immovable and at last when I was endeavoring to steady a ladder which had no other support than what I gave it but had a man perched on the very top-most round leaning far over picking cherries, I suddenly found myself trying to get out of my sleeping bag to keep the ladder from falling.

Hard to Find Way Down.

When morning came we started to follow along the coast as the ocean now was free from ice. We had only gone a short distance when we were forced to take to the mountains. This was hard work, trailing up, up, up, through the brush and the unbroken snow. We ascended high above the point where trees can grow and found ourselves on a mountain ridge running inland. Here we camped. The next day we skirted along the top of one ridge until it carried us to another which we followed as far as we could when we decided we could go no farther. The only thing to do was to find a place to go down the mountain side and head for the range across the deep ravine. For the life of me I did not see how we could ever get down that steep mountain. The sides had become more precipitous the farther we travelled. We moved back and forth looking for a place to descend but I could see no passage way that looked the least inviting. In fact did it not only look uninviting but it looked dangerous. The idea of coasting down that steep mountain side away down, down, down to where the trees began to grow and then on to the valley beyond, was not inspiring.

Laps Made the Attempt.

Just then I was not looking for adventure, still it appeared that I was destined to have adventure whether I willed it or not.

All the Laps gathered together and after a spirited consultation decided that they had found a safe place to descend. I worked my way over to where they were, leading my deer by the driving line. I shuddered as I looked down over the course they had selected. Carefully one of the men let himself down, working his way through the snow, till he came to the trees which he began cutting with his ax and making a pathway for our descent.

Shooting the Chutes.

Of late I had been leading the way with my deer, but I decided to let someone else start down first this time. When they knew my wish, one of the drivers, a man whose home had been in the mountains all his life took his train of nine deer and slipping over the edge, was gone in a great whirlwind of snow, emerging again at the foot of the mountain in an incredibly short time.

'Twas Some Ride.

Then came my turn. I had a single deer and no train. I knew that he could not keep out of my way were I to start him ahead for there were no thills neither was there a tongue to the sled—only a single tug—and he could not do much holding back with one tug or two tugs as far as tugs went. No animal could keep ahead of me and my sled, let him be as fleet as the fleet-footed deer. We would have ended up at the bottom of the mountain somehow and somewhere, but I was never curious enough to find out how nor where. Common sense pictured what my plight would have been. I took a hint from the Lap who had gone before and unhitched old Tom from in front of the sled and took the halter strap and tied him on behind. Then keeping the halter strap taut, I jumped astride the sled that I might use my heels for brakes and going over the ledge was soon tearing down at a terrific speed. So precipitous was the mountain that I felt that I surely would fly off at a tangent and drop into the tops of the tall spruce trees which grew half way down the mountain side. But thanks to the sure-footedness of old Tom, who kept constantly holding back, we reached the bottom all covered with snow, none the worse for our rapid coasting.

The rest of the day was spent in toiling up the opposite mountain. We came near the summit, where we camped for the night in sight of the camping place of the night before. It was so discouraging to travel over such rough country, and make so little progress.

Found Easier Traveling.

The next day we reached the ocean again and found good ice. On the day following that, while we were making a portage, I became separated from the rest of the men and was lost in a fog. I did not know which way to go and experienced that feeling of being lost, though it was not for long, as I soon came to where the deer had made their tracks in the snow and by following them caught up to the rest of the party.

We reached Golovin Bay in the afternoon, and, driving to the herd, we removed the government deer which had been left here. Of course we had the same excitement at this place as when we divided the other herd, but it had grown just a little old, considering all the other experiences we had been having with the deer in the mean time.

Light Thanksgiving Dinner.

I was consoling myself one Thursday noon on my Thanksgiving dinner. I had a cup of coffee, a dried salmon and two hard tack to satisfy my ravenous appetite. I thought of all the good things the people at home were having in their warm homes, while I was eating my dinner out in the open where the snow was drifting and blowing. Later on I found that Thanksgiving came one week later and by that time I was in Nome.

A Windy Night.

The night before we left Golovin Bay, the wind increased to a gale while we were eating supper in our tent. Every minute I was expecting it to blow down. One of the Laplanders went out and packed snow around the bottom and saw that the loaded sleds to which it was fastened were well stationed. Nevertheless just as we were going to sleep, down it came, rattling and banging the stove-pipe and stove. The side of it blew up near me and the wind and snow vied with each other in trying to find the most forbidden place in my sleeping sack.

Under a Covering of Snow.

There was no desire on my part to crawl out from my warm bed and rearrange things. It was cold enough the way it was. When I heard one of the Laps pulling the stove away to lessen the danger of fire, and could detect that he was making fast the edges of our covering to protect us from the wind and snow, I was very grateful, although we did have to lie there the rest of the night covered as it were by an immense blanket.

In the morning the wind had subsided so we raised our tent, ate our breakfast, and were soon on our way with our herd of five hundred deer.

We reached Nome the day before the real Thanksgiving. The herd kept out two miles from the city on account of the danger arising from the many wolf-like dogs running loose on the streets.

People Were Curious.

I traveled along the beach, then on through the main street of Nome to the postoffice as we carried a few sacks of mail. It amused me to see the people look and listen to all the questions they asked about the deer. Some wanted to know what kind of animal it was that I was driving. If it was a moose? Where was I from? How far could I travel in a day? What did the animal eat? Does he shed his horns every year? Couldn't he pull better with two tugs than with one? and more of like nature. It amused me, at times to see some men when they first caught sight of us gaze for a full minute and then turn and run into the cabin and tell the other "boys" to come out and see what was going by. Some would rush for their cameras and try to secure our pictures before we had gone too far. I felt like a traveling circus.

Returned With Interest.

At Nome the people were very kind to me and, after spending Thanksgiving there, I pushed on to Synrock where we were to leave half of our herd. I have mentioned before that a few years before the government had taken Charlie and Mary Antisarlook's deer from them and had driven them to Point Barrow to the frozen-in, starving whalers. Now I was returning them with the natural increase.

Natives Made Happy.

Driving in front I reached Synrock ahead of the herd. When Charlie and Mary heard that I was returning their deer and that they would be here by sun-down, they could not restrain themselves. They clapped their hands and asked me over and over again if their deer were really coming back. I had to assure them that they would soon be in sight. At last when the whole herd of five hundred came into view they repeated over and over again—"My deer come, My deer come."

They fed me on the best they had and on the following day we counted out their deer and started on toward Port Clarence, leaving a very happy couple of natives rich in a herd of deer.

An Important Call.

That evening it was blowing so that we knew we could not make the tent stand so we pushed on to a native village of three under-ground houses.

Selecting one of the houses we let ourselves down into the main entrance and then falling on all fours we crept through a long dark passage way and presented ourselves to the inmates as we were all covered with frost and snow. It impressed me as being rather laughable, to enter a stranger's house creeping through a hole, like great big polar bears.

The natives were observing a two week's rest from work in honor of one of the household who had died a few days before.

Avoiding the Smells.

After supper I did not stay long in this close under-ground house. I pulled my sleeping-sack out into the main opening where the air was free and the odors were more to my liking.

After we had rounded up the deer in the morning we left the ocean and started inland, first loading up a sled with dry wood for we knew that we were not in a timbered country. That night we were in the protection of a rocky mountain which kept our tent from blowing down.

On the day following we reached Port Clarence. Here I left the herd and went up the river twenty-five miles to visit a herd of deer in charge of Eskimos. I also had to get a few government deer to increase our herd.

Hospitable Natives.

The native herders were glad to see me and made me quite welcome. They gave me the best bed, the first place at the stove and had me drink tea with them. I found out afterward it was the last tea they had.

I reached the herd one evening, inspected the deer the next day, also selected the deer we needed and staked them out, and drove back to Port Clarence on the day following, when we were ready to proceed on our way to Cape Prince of Wales, our last objective point.

WOULD BUY COFFIN FOR KAISER BILL

SOLDIERS SUGGEST THAT MONEY BE USED FOR THIS LAUDABLE PURPOSE.

"Look out, Kaiser Bill, the Americans are after you." Seventeen of them passed through this city last Thursday night on their way to Winnipeg to join the Canadian expeditionary force of engineers, which sails shortly for France.

That these men mean business was evident from the fact that they took up a collection on the train and left it in care of the Pennington county Chapter of the American Red Cross. The sum of five dollars and ten cents was raised and the men were of one accord in declaring that it be employed in securing a second-hand coffin for a despicable man such as they believe the ruler of Germany to be.

It may be that some medical class in a college will have such a box for sale after removal of the cadaver which they have found necessary in their studios. If so, they should let it be known so that the money can be spent as requested. Then the box can be shipped to "somewhere over there" for use at the proper time.

WILL BE ASKED TO SIGN PLEDGE CARD

RED CROSS WILL ENLIST EVERY VOTER AT TOWNSHIP ELECTIONS.

Farmers and others who own and till the soil are to have a chance now to show their loyalty in no unmistakable manner, for elsewhere in this issue appears a pledge to be signed and a duplicate thereof is to be presented to every voter at the polls March 12 at the time of the town elections.

Some may wish to give what is grown on an acre of land; others a half acre, while the various children in some families may each wish to see how much they can raise on a quarter or an eighth of an acre.

All these gifts will be most welcome and the proceeds will go far toward purchasing the necessary supplies for the workers who are continually turning out Red Cross articles for the soldiers at the front.

This is your chance. It is your duty. Sign up and get your neighbor to do likewise. It may be the means of saving your own son or intimate friend who may be almost fatally wounded on the battle-fields of Europe in the struggle for democracy.

IS LAW WITHOUT MAYOR'S APPROVAL

SALARY ROLL FOR CITY EMPLOYES IS UNANIMOUSLY PASSED BY COUNCIL.

The time limit for the signing of the resolution dealing with the salaries of city employes by the Mayor expired last Monday and the enactment is now effective in spite of the fact that this sanction was withheld. Thus comes to an end a deadlock that has kept the men in the employ of the city from getting their pay for about two months.

In the first place the council members were unable to get together on the subject of salaries but finally passed a resolution providing for the payment of the January and February roll. This Mayor Penney vetoed, giving as his reason that the law required the council to set all salaries for two years before any could be paid. The council thereupon again took the matter up, having also the mayor's recommendations to go by. These were in certain instances disregarded and an entire new list presented. This was passed unanimously by the council, but did not suit the mayor in a number of details and he refused to sanction it, permitting it to become effective without his signature.

Organize Red Cross Auxiliary.

The ladies of St. John's German Lutheran church have organized an auxiliary to the local chapter of the Red Cross. Mrs. C. A. Rohbecke is president, Mrs. Elmer Johnson, vice president, Mrs. A. P. Fox, secretary, and Mrs. J. Stewart, treasurer. The officers hope to induce every woman in the congregation to become members of the auxiliary and thus increase the output of work in their midst, which even hitherto has been very commendable.

War Savings Stamps

THE difference between a five dollar bill and a War Savings Stamp is that while they are both promises to pay, backed by all of the resources of the richest government in the world, a five dollar bill never gets any bigger than $5.00 and War Savings Stamps are worth a penny more each month for 5 years. War Savings Stamps are United States $5.00 bills which the Government is offering in February for $4.13 and in March for $4.14 and so on adding a penny each month until January 1st, 1923, when they will reach $5.00.

Thrift Stamps

Thrift Stamps cost 25 cents each. The Government furnishes Thrift Cards with spaces on them for 16 Thrift Stamps. Thrift Stamps bear no interest but are as good as cash. When the 16 spaces are filled, making $4.00 worth of Thrift Stamps, the owner takes the card to any bank or post office, pays the additional 13 cents or whatever it may be that month, and receives a War Savings Certificate and one War Savings Stamp.

There is room for twenty $5.00 War Savings Stamps on each War Savings Certificate card—You can buy $100 worth for $82.40 in January, $82.60 in February, and 20 cents more each month you wait.

LEAGUE SELECTS A STATE TICKET

C. A. LINDBERGH WILL BE STANDARD BEARER IN COMING CAMPAIGN.

O'NIELL IS NOT ENDORSED

ST. PAUL MAN NOMINATED FOR RAILROAD AND WAREHOUSE POSITION.

The Nonpartisan league, in convention on Tuesday, nominated a state ticket, adopted a platform for the next campaign and adopted a legislative program for the league and for labor, but kept the two programs separate.

No attempt was made to nominate a full ticket, the league announced, but men were named to file for the principal offices. Following are the nominations:

For governor, C. A. Lindbergh, Little Falls.

For lieutenant governor, R. E. Crane, Grand Meadow.

For attorney general, Victor L. Power, Hibbing.

For state auditor, S. O. Tjosvold, Granite Falls.

For secretary of state, Henry Holmes, Big Lake.

For state treasurer, T. J. Mieghen, Preston.

Concession Made to Labor.

The nomination of Tillquist for railroad and warehouse commissioner was considered a concession to organized labor. D. P. O'Neill of Thief River Falls, was the man generally considered as slated for this nomination, but the organized labor men in the larger cities insisted on representation on the ticket and the selection of Tillquist followed.

Pledge Support to President.

In the preamble to the platform, the convention declared its loyalty to the government and President Wilson, pledged its support of the government's war aims and declared German autocracy a menace to the world, which America and the Allies should put down. The league especially sympathized with Russia.

The platform pledged the league and all its nominees to support the war program and to support a program for increasing the food supply.

"While giving the utmost energies to the prosecution of the world war, we are not unmindful that there are energies of democracies in the home land," reads the platform.

States Attitude Attacked.

The platform declared that these enemies are the profiteers and those who permit lawlessness. The league "said it "pointed with pride" to other states than Minnesota which did not prohibit assemblages of farmers and members of the league and it "pointed with shame to the record of Minnesota's administrative officers who were breeding class hatred by their attitude toward the league.

Despite the slander, we dedicate ourselves to emancipate the state from political and industrial control of big business," said the platform.

Legislative Aims Outlined.

The portion of the platform outlining the legislative program recommended:

Exemptions of farm improvements from taxes.

Tonnage tax on ore.

State owned terminal elevators, warehouses, packing plants and cold storage plants.

State hail insurance.

More equitable system of grain grading.

State owned public utilities.

More equitable taxation of large corporations.

State owned pulp and paper mills and selling print paper at cost.

Soldiers' moratorium to relieve soldiers from debts until six months after the war.

For the benefit of labor the platform recommended:

State life, accident and old age insurance.

Full recognition of the eight hour day except for agricultural workers.

Increase of taxes on large incomes and excess profits.

Taking over all munition plants by the government and of all other plants where capital and labor cannot settle their disputes.

Taxation of all unused land.

Congressional Nominations Later.

No nominations or endorsements of congressional candidates were made at this time, this matter being left for a future date.

CHURCH DEDICATES NEW SERVICE FLAG

NORWEGIAN LUTHERANS HAVE BANNER CONTAINING COUNTY'S FIRST GOLD STAR.

An audience that taxed the capacity of the Norwegian Lutheran church was present last Sunday evening to witness the dedication of a service flag in honor of the members of that congregation who have gone to the front. The banner contains 18 stars, one of which is gold, signifying that the young man it represents is among those who have fallen. These stars signify actual members of the congregation and not merely church attendants. This congregation therefore has the largest representation in the army of any church body in the county. The gold star is in honor of C. Henry Hermanson, who died while at a South Carolina training camp.

The speakers were Theo. Quale, O. A. Naplin and Rev. Aastad. The addresses were of necessity short, but of a most inspiring and interesting kind. All were of a highly patriotic order and listened to with attention and appreciation by the large audience. Patriotic songs were rendered during the evening by the church choir, and Miss Dora Holmes sang "Plains of Peace" in her usual charming manner.

Rev. Aastad, during his remarks stated that the first member of the congregation to enlist was Ralph Falk, now in the officers' training school at Camp Tanley, Leon Springs, Tex. This young man enlisted as a private and is moving ahead at a rate that is a source of great pride to his family and friends. Lieut. H. O. Kjomme, now stationed at Fort Brady, Mich., is another member of the congregation who has brought credit to his home town. Hardy Bothun was the first member of the church to reach France; where he is now stationed, a member of the Rainbow division.

TO FORGET WAR FOR AN EVENING

SUBJECT WILL BE SIDE-TRACKED AT JOINT GATHERING OF CIVIC CLUBS.

PROGRAM STILL MYSTERY

GLOOM WILL BE BANISHED, HOWEVER, AND A REGULAR JOLIFICATION HELD.

The idea probably originated with members of the Woman's club. At any rate it is almost too sensible for a mere man to think of without outside assistance of some kind, and as the ladies are evidently the prime movers, they will be given the credit until such time as it is proven that we are wrong.

Too Much War.

Someone evidently suggested that the people of the city seem to be getting to a point where nothing but the war is ever thought of, and while this should be the subject uppermost in the minds of all, yet it is not well to permit it to occupy our attention to the utter exclusion of everything else. We will be in better shape to uphold our end of the struggle if occasionally a little something of an altogether different order is permitted to relieve the strenuousness incident to our main occupation.

We'll Sing Some Songs.

Therefore there will be a general get-together meeting of the members of the Commercial club and those of the Woman's club on the evening of Friday, April 1. The program for the occasion is still a dark secret, but such parts thereof as it is deemed wise to publish beforehand will appear in due time. There will be some speaking and some singing. The plan is to ask men who are seldom heard at public gatherings to give their view of the situation generally. As one of the ladies in charge of the affair expressed it: "We will permit the speakers to choose a subject that they know something about. The great trouble with most of these gatherings has been that we ask ministers to tell merchants how to conduct their business and then have the merchant give the farmer instructions in farming, after which the entire bunch proceeds to give the editor lessons in running a newspaper. All this is wrong and we propose to fix it."

And this is about all that is known at this time. The outline is certainly novel enough to excite the curiosity of every person in the community and there will be an attendance at the party such as has not been seen in this city for many a day.

Want Ship Carpenters.

Supt. J. H. Hay is in receipt of a letter from C. R. Frazier, Seattle, in reply to a query sent regarding the qualifications necessary for those wishing to enter the ship building service on the west coast. Mr. Hay is informed that if the men he refers to have had actual ship experience to send them along, as there are always openings for capable men. Mr. Frazier also suggests that they should bring a note of introduction from Mr. Hay as well as at least three letters of references from places where they have formerly worked. Anyone contemplating going west for the purpose of working in the ship yards will do well to consult with Supt. Hay before leaving.

Cattlemen to Meet.

A joint meeting of the Thief River Live Stock Shippers Association, and the Guernsey, Holstein and Shorthorn breeders, will be held at the Commercial club rooms Saturday afternoon, March 30th, at 1:30 p. m. All farmers are urged to attend this meeting.

RED CROSS FUND IS NOW ASSURED

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS PER MONTH FOR WORK ROOM SUPPORT.

BOY SCOUTS MAKE GOOD

SELL FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS WORTH OF BABY BONDS DURING WEEK.

War activities during the past week have demonstrated that our people are not only fully aware of the necessity for coming forward liberally with their cash, but that they are more than willing to do so. It seems as if everyone has awakened to the importance of maintaining the war auxiliaries and are donating their money as a matter of course.

Red Cross Over the Top.

The Pennington County Chapter of the American Red Cross will not be hampered for lack of funds during the next ten months at least. It was estimated that about $4,000 would be needed in order to keep the work rooms in the city operating at their utmost efficiency and a campaign was started to see about raising the necessary sum. The city was divided into zones and every person was asked to pledge a certain amount every month. The returns are not quite all in but Chairman Thomas A. Way announces that the amount will be oversubscribed by about $1,000, which will provide practically $500 per month for the Red Cross work rooms during each of the next ten months.

Boy Scouts Are Hustlers.

Chairman C. David Gustafson, in charge of the drive made by the Boy Scouts last week, reports that their efforts resulted in the sale of nearly $800 worth of stamps and certificates. This is a remarkable showing when the fact is taken into consideration that only a week previous a committee of Woman's club members had sold $1,000 worth of the same securities in a house-to-house canvass.

Boosts Per Capita Showing.

According to the report issued at state headquarters for the sale of certificates and stamps, Pennington county was credited on March 1st with a per capita of 76 cents. On the same basis of calculation the April report will show that the county has moved up to $1.25 per capita, which will place it well toward the head of the list.

Farmers Responding Nobly.

Before fall there is going to be considerable money turned in to the Red Cross from the products promised by farmers. The largest proportion of this will naturally go to the auxiliaries located in the immediate neighborhood of the farms, but these will in many instances be long on supplies and short on workers. As the condition in the city is likely to be just the reverse, the matter will easily be adjusted. It does not matter particularly where or how the work is done. It all goes for the same noble purpose.

Kid Band Will Play.

In case the weather permits, it is the intention to have a street concert by the Kid band on Saturday. This will be the first time this season that the entire organization has been heard in public at one time, although practice has been continued all through the winter.

CASUALTIES ON WESTERN FRONT

The war department will not make public the addresses or next of kin of men killed or wounded in action. It will notify the next of kin by telegraph, however, and the department says these messages may be made public through the relatives.

As Times readers are naturally interested in every one of the men who have gone into the army from Pennington county, the publishers urge that immediately upon receipt of a notification to the effect that any soldier or sailor from this locality is among the killed, wounded or missing the fact be telephoned to the offices of the paper at once. It is practically the only way in which news of our boys overseas can be secured and it is hoped that everyone coming into possession of knowledge of this nature will consider it a duty to share it with their neighbors.

Concerning Alien Enemies.

Postmaster John Morgan has been notified that the following rules are to be followed with regard to alien enemies who may desire to change their place of residence. He must present himself to the registration officer of the district from whom he will receive an identification card and permit. This must in turn be presented to the registration official at the place to which he is moving. A change of residence in violation of these rules subjects the alien enemy to arrest and detention for the period of the war.

EARLIEST SEEDING FOR MANY YEARS

SOIL IS IN GOOD CONDITION AND WORK PROGRESSING RAPIDLY.

Weather conditions that make seeding possible in northwestern Minnesota about the middle of March are unusual, but that is what is being done this year. Math Barzen started the work on the Hanson-Barzen farm at the edge of town on Monday and since that time many have followed his lead. Reports from the section east of Goodridge are to the effect that numerous farmers in that locality are out on their fields and that wheat is going into the ground at a great rate. By the end of the week the work will be general throughout the county.

This is the earliest that farmers have been able to begin their seeding for many years and it is doubtful if this work has heretofore been attempted before the first of April. Last year, which was unusually backward, found many farmers without their seed in the ground before the middle of that month and quite a number could not get the desired crops sowed at all.

Conditions are ideal. The soil seems to be in good condition and if there is a sufficiency of moisture later, in the season the crop will receive the best start it has ever had.

People claiming ability to read the signs say that winter is over. County Auditor T. P. Anderson states that on Tuesday morning he heard the prairie chickens drumming southeast of the city and that this is a sign that spring is here. The general opinion is that while we may still have some snow, there is little danger of severe cold.

COUNTY BUREAU ISSUES PROGRAM

PLANS ANNOUNCED INCLUDE CO-OPERATION WITH OTHER PUBLIC ENTERPRISES.

WORK IS OF VARIED SCOPE

WAR ACTIVITIES TO RECEIVE CONSIDERABLE SHARE OF BUREAU'S ATTENTION.

The Pennington County Farm Bureau, through its regularly accredited agent, Ross P. White, announces a program of activities for the coming season that is perhaps the most ambitious ever undertaken by a similar bureau during the first year of its existence. It not only provides for a regular system to be followed for the benefit of the farmer, but also outlines certain specific activities in which it will engage in conjunction with commercial clubs and other civic bodies for aiding along definite lines in war activities of all kinds.

Includes Everything.

Those who thought that the principal function of a county agent was the answering of questions pertaining to farm work to the best of his ability will be surprised at the many different directions taken by the work as well as by the speed with which things have been gotten in readiness for actual business. The farm agent's office is already a well-established institution in this county and the inquiries received indicate that the farmers intend to make the best use possible of the fact.

A Comprehensive Program.

The work has been divided into classes and an outline of the different departments issued, as follows:

1. Further Development of Farm Bureau Association. This comprises extension of membership to all parts of the county and selection of persons and committees to direct definite lines of work on projects and in committees.

2. Full and hearty co-operation with the government in the prosecution of the war, including assistance to the following: Red Cross, food administration and conservation, Liberty Loans, Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus.

3. Co-operation with and work through existing organizations and further organization of such as are needed. Under this head comes farmers' clubs, commercial clubs, community clubs, livestock breeders' associations, creameries, fair association, shipping association, poultry association and potato growers' association.

4. Livestock Improvement and Increase. This subject will be divided into the following divisions: Encouraging the greater use of pure bred sires; the buying of more and better stock, the testing of cows for butter fat production, testing of cattle for tuberculosis, control of other animal diseases, provide better marketing and exchange conditions, advocate the use of balanced rations, urge the building of more silos and the growing of corn for silage, and advocate the more extensive growing of alfalfa and clover.

5. Crop Rotation and Improvement. This includes the development of facilities to insure a good supply of all farm seeds for the county. The general subject of potatoes also comes under this head, and is divided as follows: Seed selecting, treating and spraying demonstrations, work on seed certification for sale purposes, standardization of varieties, control of crop diseases through treatment of seed, more efficient use of farm manure, weed control, standardization of farm crops, encouraging the use of more cultivated crops, farm accounting and assistance as to income tax report, study of cost in tractor operations on the farm.

7. Boys' and Girls' Club Work. Potato raising contest, calf-raising contest, bread baking contest, garden contest.

Red Cross Program.

The regular monthly meeting of the Silverton Farmers' club will be held next week Saturday evening, March 29, in the Banner school house. A Red Cross program is being arranged and several auto loads of Red Cross workers will go out to explain the workings of the society and to show samples of the various work now being done in this city by the women. Joe Greenfield has also consented to give a musical program and the school house will probably be packed as never before.

Sugar Shortage Relieved.

A car of sugar was received by the Thief River Grocery company this week, relieving a threatened famine in this very necessary article. The first shipment of strawberries has also been received but as they are selling for 15 cents a pint their use has not become general.

NEW BANK OPEN FOR BUSINESS

FARMERS' AND MERCHANTS' IS NEW BIDDER FOR FAVOR.

STOCK IS HELD LOCALLY

RED CROSS TO GET MONEY ORDINARILY SPENT FOR SOUVENIRS.

The new Farmers' and Merchants' State bank, located in the McGinn block on the "bank corner," Third and LaBree, will be open for the inspection of the public on Saturday afternoon and will be ready for the transaction of business next Monday morning. The directors have issued a general invitation to the public to visit the new quarters, which have been in the course of preparation during the greater part of the winter.

Is Home Institution.

The directors and stockholders of the new banking institution are all Pennington county men. The President, Robert McGinn, is one of the best known men in this section of the state, having resided here for more than 23 years. He was formerly engaged in business but retired about a year ago and has since given the greater part of his attention toward the success of the venture which he now heads. He is one of the strong, substantial men of the community and one in whom the people repose the utmost confidence.

The Other Officers.

H. D. Keene, the vice-president, has been a resident of the city for some years and is at present trainmaster on the local division of the Soo railroad. He will bring to the bank the benefit of a wide acquaintance and a record for fair treatment that will be of much value.

L. A. Lampert, who has been selected as cashier, hails from West Union, Minn., where he has been connected with banking for many years. He is a young man of pleasing personality whose training was had in a farming community and who therefore will fit into his new post particularly well.

Miss Effie Hamry, at present chief assistant in the office of Register of Deeds N. J. Anderson, will be assistant cashier. She is a highly competent young woman who has had much experience in the class of work she will be called upon to perform.

Following are the names of the board of directors of the bank: Robert McGinn, John Q. Cronkhite, William Mohler, Louis DeCremer, Maurice Giller, H. D. Keene and L. A. Lampert.

To Help Red Cross.

The customary souvenirs given away on occasions of this kind will be omitted. In lieu of this a sum representing the outlay necessary in providing something of this kind will be given to the Red Cross by the directors. This action will meet with the approval of all as it is the most sensible use to which the money could at this time be put.

Should Be Successful.

While transacting a general banking business, it will be the aim of the new institution to cater particularly to the needs of the farmer and merchant. The board of directors has been selected with this end in view and enterprises of an agricultural or merchandising nature will be given the greatest consideration by them. The bank is backed by sound men and should prove a strong contender for the business of the community.

Red Cross Sale.

The Red Cross sale held last Saturday evening at the Highlanding school house, was one of the most successful ever held in Highlanding. The proceeds amounted to about $63.

WAR GARDENS HELP SAVE FOOD

F. G. WELLS CALLS ATTENTION TO IMPORTANCE OF THIS CAMPAIGN.

MAY USE CANNING PLANT

FACILITIES AT HIGH SCHOOL PLACED AT SERVICE OF CITIZENS GENERALLY.

F. G. Wells, the new agricultural instructor at the Thief River Falls high school, believes that the gardens planted by people in the cities and villages of the country will this year prove of great importance in the government's campaign of food conservation. His department stands ready to do its full share in assisting anyone who may not know exactly what is wanted or the best means of procuring it. At the request of The Times he has submitted the following for the guidance of our readers:

"What are you going to do this summer to help win the war? "Conserve on foods, knit and sew for the Red Cross, invest in a Liberty Bond and buy War Saving Stamps," you reply. Very good. But in your program for conserving food, do not forget the War Garden. As a result of war-time emergency the home garden of America has become an institution of world-wide importance. Are you willing to do your part in making the 1918 war-time gardens of Thief River Falls an important local factor in food production and conservation, and a credit to the community?

Aim of the Schools.

"There are two things which the Thief River Falls high school department of agriculture will endeavor to accomplish during the coming season: (1) The encouragement of a successful home war-garden for every family in Thief River Falls. (2) The canning, drying, or otherwise preserving of at least 20 quarts of vegetables from each one of these gardens. The success of this undertaking will require the hearty co-operation of every patriotic resident, parent and landholder.

"It should not be necessary at this time to enumerate the benefits to be derived from the growing of such a garden. You will have no difficulty in thinking them out for yourself. Like the Liberty Bond and the War Saving Stamp, the War Garden is conducive to thrift, economy and final victory. It is a necessary part of our program for aiding the Government.

Will Give Instructions.

"If you have already been successful in the art of gardening, you will need no urging to continue. If you have tried and failed, find out why and this time succeed. Do not hesitate to make your first attempt, if such your 1918 war-garden is to be. And what is more practical, first aid in the form of personal supervision may be obtained from this department wherever necessary. Articles will be published from time to time as the need and interest develop, which should be helpful to the beginner.

"If you have no children to help or be helped, there is the United States Boys' Working Reserve. This is a national organization under the Department of Labor and is designed to enlist all earnest and desirable boys from 15 to 20 years old in productive labor for at least eight weeks of the coming season. This department is now enrolling such boys for farm and other productive labor during the summer. A number of citizens can doubtless co-operate and secure the service of some of these boys in their gardens. Send in your application now to the undersigned.

May Use School Outfit.

"And now as to the second part of the program, to-wit: the canning, drying or otherwise preserving of at least twenty quarts of vegetables from each one of these gardens. To materially aid in this matter the department will have in operation a steam pressure canning outfit at the Washington school, under competent and experienced management. Demonstrations and instructions in canning or drying will be carried on and aid given where needed. The use of the steam canner for such products as sweet corn, peas, beans and greens will be open to the public upon application. More about this subject later.

"There is hardly a family in town that cannot find space enough at or near their home for a profitable war garden. It should not require over half an hour of labor each day to make it a success. There are plenty of vacant lots that can and must be pressed into service. If you are the owner of such a lot, be prepared to offer it free. Don't wait to be asked; volunteer its enlistment in this war-time necessity.

"Please then, as an essential war measure if for no other reason, make the following resolution:

"I will this year provide a war-garden for my family. I will see that it is faithfully maintained to the best of my ability and I will endeavor to can a portion of the vegetables so raised for winter use. I will also make it a part of my business to boost for this war work by aiding and encouraging my neighbors, and by helping in any way that I can."

THE FARMER AND THE RED CROSS.

During the first campaign for funds with which to carry on the work of the Red Cross society the farmers of northwestern Minnesota were asked to contribute in the same proportionate degree as were people in other walks of life. They were in many cases unable to do so, with the result that their willingness to aid was called into question rather often and by persons who should have known better.

When this Red Cross work was first started, cash was the one thing wanted. Money was needed to get the great movement started and more money had constantly to be added in order to keep it going. The farmer was asked to contribute his share of the funds needed, and was unable in most instances to comply. In this section of the state the past two seasons have been considerably below normal so far as the yield is concerned, and the land owner in many cases found himself considerably worse off at harvest time than when he planted his crops in the spring. He has been living to a great extent on his credit and has had but little actual cash. The money he did manage to get together generally went to cover the cost of absolute necessities.

The plan of donation has now been changed and the farmer is found to be the most enthusiastic supporter the Red Cross has. It is probable that when the final accounting is made the figures will disclose the fact that in proportion to his means he has contributed more to the cause than any other person. There is no way at present of even estimating what the amount of his donation will be, but when harvest time arrives the total will be found rather startling.

Instead of money the farmer has been permitted to give of the products of his land and the results of his labor. In every instance this is equivalent to the cash, the only difference being that it is not immediately available. This may prove all the better, as it is likely that the money will be even more urgently needed later on.

At the annual elections held in the various townships of Pennington county last week the matter was put up to the farmers by agents of the Red Cross. The response was remarkable. If a refusal was met with it has not been recorded—everyone approached promised to do something. Whole acres of wheat were offered, with similar amounts of oats, barley, rye and flax. At the prices that are certain to prevail for these products next fall this will mean the largest amount of money ever raised for a purpose of this kind in the history of the county.

But grain was not the only product offered. Calves, pigs, chickens and almost everything else that can be produced on a Minnesota farm were included in the list, depending upon the class of farming in which the donor was engaged. In certain cases all of the products raised by the boys and girls of the family were pledged to the Red Cross, the parents promising something substantial on top of this.

The farmer is all right. He cannot very well give of what he does not possess but has shown his willingness to carry his full share if a way is pointed out to him whereby he can help with the means at hand.

START A WAR GARDEN.

In another column of this issue of The Times appears a communication from Mr. F. G. Wells, agricultural instructor at the Thief River Falls high school. The article is both timely and instructive and it is hoped that parents and children alike will read it over carefully.

Food will win the war and the more food there is raised in gardens for home consumption, the more there will be for our soldiers and those of our allies. Gardening is therefore a patriotic duty, but it will prove a pleasant and profitable occupation as well. The setting ahead of the clock so as to provide an additional hour of daylight at the end of the day will help greatly in the work of gardening. Children will find that they have practically six hours of daylight after school has dismissed during almost the entire growing season and that at least a large part of this can be turned into profit by systematic work in the gardens. If the matter is presented to them in the right light they will become enthusiastic over the things they see growing under their care and will take to the labor of looking after it as if it were a game.

There should be no trouble in securing plenty of land practically within the city limits. There are vacant lots in a number of sections in the immediate neighborhood and it is certain that the owners will be glad to do something towards increasing production by permitting their use free of charge.

The offer of the school authorities to allow the use of the canning plant of that institution by the public should also stimulate the work. Many people do not plant vegetables because of the fact that they know nothing of the proper way in which to preserve them for future use. Mr. Wells points out how this difficulty can now be overcome. Read his offer and profit by it.

BIG SHIPMENTS ARE MADE

AUXILIARIES AND SCHOOLS ARE CARRYING ON IN SATISFACTORY MANNER.

The regular monthly meeting of the Pennington county chapter of the American Red Cross was well attended and proved to be very interesting. Continued activity on the part of all committees was very evident from the reports made by the various chairmen.

The hospital supplies committee through its chairman, Mrs. T. L. Melgaard, reported the completion of 48 pairs of pajamas by the local chapter and 20 by Rocksbury. Thief River Falls contributed 49 hospital shirts while St. Hilaire had six to their credit and Sanders five. Of the 25 washcloths, 15 came from Rose Hance's school, seven from Goodridge and three from Sanders. Goodridge contributed 55 muslin bandages, a total of 300 being made by the local chapter. There were also 245 shot bags, 10 pneumonia jackets and 4,443 surgical dressings handled by this committee.

Knitting Committee Busy.

The knitting committee, through its chairman, Mrs. W. W. Prichard, Sr., reported that 124 pairs of socks, 115 sweaters, four mufflers, 66 pairs of wristlets, three helmets, 151 trench caps and two pairs of mittens had been produced since the last meeting. These goods were shipped in two separate lots, the first shipment being made on Feb. 8 and the last on March 2. The branch chapters furnished a large number of the knitted goods as will be seen by the following report: Rocksbury—18 pairs of socks, four sweaters, 18 trench caps. St. Hilaire—20 pairs of socks, 18 sweaters, 12 wristlets and three helmets. The naval auxiliary—Nine pairs of socks, five sweaters and one pair of wristlets. Hazel—Five sweaters. Schools Are Organizing.

Supt. E. A. Mostue and Supt. J. H. Hay reported respectively for the Junior Red Cross work in the county and city schools. Supt. Mostue brot out the fact that all of the literature so far received had been sent out to the various schools throughout the county and that an extension of time had been granted in the campaign to make all the schools of the county Junior auxiliaries. The first school in the country to become a junior auxiliary was that in district 67 in Hickory township where Mrs. Agnes M. Stacey is in charge.

Juniors Are Conserving.

Supt. Hay stated that one of the conditions which had to be overcome by the Juniors in the city and which was successfully done was that of securing 500 pairs of knitting needles, which were made by the boys. When it came to yarn for knitting, this was secured from old socks, mufflers etc. All of the grades were reported at work and were much interested in carrying on the propaganda of the Red Cross. The teachers all have special classes in Junior work now, there being two class periods each week for this purpose. This does not interfere in any way with the regular school work.

New Branches Organized.

Branch organization work during the month was reported by Secretary Scott Laird as follows: On Feb. 22 a branch was formed at Highlanding where 28 members were secured, the meeting being attended by F. F. Haynes, Mrs. T. L. Melgaard and Mrs. Daniel Shaw of the local chapter. The same evening another meeting was held at the school house in Norden township three miles west of the city on the Jefferson highway, at which 27 members were secured. This meeting was attended by Thos. A. Way, Mrs. Andrew Craik and Mrs. J. Sether. The following evening, Feb. 23, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. A. Way and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Laird visited the school house in North township, three miles northeast of this city, where 10 members were secured. An organization was effected in each instance.

Membership Growing.

Reports from the various branches were exceedingly good, especially so in regard to membership which developed that the branches are closely trailing the local chapter. The figures received from the various branches dated March 1, follow:

Goodridge	119
Hazel	52
St. Hilaire	156
Highlanding	35
Norden	27
North	10
Numedal	10
Sanders	25
Rocksbury	108
Wyandotte	13
Mayfield	7
Kratka	29
Total	591
City	725
Total in county	1,316

Gave All Comfort Bags.

The Young Girls' Auxiliary, thru its chairman, Mrs. L. G. Larson, reported that comfort bags had been given to all of the men of Pennington county who have gone to the front since the first of October as nearly as could be ascertained. This involved the making of 87 comfort bags by the young girls of the city—mostly school girls. Now that the Junior auxiliaries have been formed, most of these girls are busy at other Red Cross work and Mrs. Larson requested that the Young Girls' auxiliary be discontinued.

Distributing Pledge Cards.

An active campaign for the signature of pledge cards amongst farmers and others who own tillable ground, was explained by the chairman who stated that he had named a special committee for this purpose consisting of Paul Engelstad, Ross P. White and Rev. R. L. Barackman. Each branch chapter was requested to name an assistant on this committee so that the entire county would be covered in the campaign.

Borrowed Instructor Here.

Chairman Way also announced that the Marshall county chapter at Warren had requested the services of Mrs. H. H. Spink as instructor in surgical dressing work and that she had spent four days in that city. A check of $8.00 had been received by the local chapter in payment of these services, the railroad and hotel expenses having been previously settled for with Mrs. Spink. St. Hilaire had also been making inquiries and with the approval of the chapter would give a course of instruction in that city.

Books Are Audited.

H. H. Remore, division accountant of the American Red Cross, had paid a visit to this city on the evening of Feb. 27, at which time he conferred with Thos. A. Way, chairman, T. L. Melgaard, treasurer, and Scott Laird, secretary. Mr. Remore stated that he had found the books in excellent condition and that he was very much pleased thereat.

The Ladies Aid of the Zion Lutheran church requested that their organization be made an auxiliary of the Pennington county chapter which action was granted as were also charters to eight branch organizations throughout the county.

Help Belgian Refugees.

Twenty-five dollars was appropriated to the Military Relief committee for carrying on the work of making supplies for Belgian refugees as per the request of the Northern division. The motion was made by Mrs. Froehlich and seconded by Mrs. Melgaard. It was also moved by Mrs. Larson, seconded by Mrs. Way and duly carried that $200 be appropriated to the committee on hospital supplies and a similar amount to the knitting committee.

Donated Carbureter.

Mr. Way briefly told of the visit by Mrs. T. L. Melgaard, Mrs. Daniel Shaw, Mrs. J. Sether, Mrs. H. H. Spink, Mrs. F. H. Gambell and Mr. and Mrs. Thos. A. Way, to Crookston for the purpose of attending the district conference on Red Cross work held in connection with the Farms Crops show of the State Agricultural college.

An offer by Mr. Marcoe of a kerosene carbureter suitable for a Ford car or a truck was presented to the chapter by Mr. Way who stated that the chapter would receive whatever amount could be secured from such party as would buy same. The value of the carbureter is practically $30. It is hoped that this sum will be realized.

DINNER HOUR CHANGED

Beginning on Sunday. March 24, the regular Sunday dinner at the

will be served at 12:30 p. m. instead of at six o'clock as heretofore.

This change is made at the request of the large number of our patrons who are absent from the city during the later hour.

These dinners are steadily growing in favor and the new arrangement will make them more popular. Next Sunday's dinner will be particularly fine.

The price remains 75c.

Oldest Store Quits Business.

The stock of the oldest mercantile establishment in Pennington county will shortly be closed out at a big reduction in price in order to wind up the business. This is the general store conducted for the past nine years by the late A. H. Pitkin at St. Hilaire. The announcement will be found in the big double-page advertisement in the last section of today's issue of The Times.

This store was established in 1883 by Minton Holmes and Charles Rapp, being at that time but a sort of river landing trading post, patronized entirely by the Indians and the few hardy pioneers who were the first settlers in what is now Pennington county. All the goods handled were carried by wagon or sleigh from Crookston. The business was later acquired by Rapp & Post, who moved it to the present location and continued in charge until they sold out to Mr. Pitkin.

The stock consists of high grade merchandise of nearly every description, all of which must be sold. The sale begins at nine o'clock on Friday moning and will be conducted under the direction of R. Sternberg, who has conducted a number of similar sales in Thief River Falls and other nearby points.

TOWN OFFICERS IN COUNTY ELECTED

RESULT OF ANNUAL MEETINGS HELD IN DIFFERENT LOCALITIES LAST WEEK.

More than the usual amount of interest was manifested in the annual township elections held last week. One reason for this was the knowledge that the Red Cross solicitors would be at the polls with a proposition in which the farmers were interested. This was to get as many as possible to sign pledge cards promising to donate some part of their product for the season toward furthering the work of the organization. The response was most gratifying. Practically every man approached willingly gave the proceeds of some portion of his land, generally one acre or half acre, to the society. Besides a surprising amount of grain promised, there were calves, pigs, poultry and money. The campaign was most successful and the general committee desires to express its thanks for the generous response.

The results of the election in the various townships were as follows:

Town of North.

Supervisor—T. K. Rynestad.
Clerk—T. H. Bjerke.
Treasurer—August Soderberg.
Justice of the Peace—H. M. Ballangrud.
Constable—A. Hovland.

Keeps the People Posted.

F. H. Herrick of the Thief River Grocery company has received a letter regarding the latest food regulations from A. D. Wilson, food administrator for Minnesota, a copy of which will be found in another part of this paper. The grocery concern has expended considerable money in keeping the people posted on the requirements of the administration in this regard through advertisements regularly inserted and paid for. Mr. Herrick says that everyone must do a little something out of the ordinary in times like these and that as this particular item of food is one concerning which his company may be expected to know more than any other agency in the county he is willing to foot the outlay in order to keep his neighbors informed of what is demanded of them. This letter is worthy of careful perusal and study by every reader of the paper.

Souvenirs From France.

Mrs. Julien Provencher and Miss Provencher this week received the first package that has been sent to this city from France by any of the boys in the army, so far as The Times has been able to learn. The package contained two aprons, hand embroidered in most beautiful designs on silk, the articles giving evidence of a vast amount of labor and care. The soldiers are permitted to send articles of this kind without the payment of the usual duty. Harold Provencher, who is with the Rainbow division on the other side, was the sender and the gift is very highly prized by the recipients.

The Theatres

Another good program is promised by Manager Lawrence for the opening week. Beginning tonight, every performance will signalize the presentation of a feature of unusual merit.

Charming Belle Bennett is the star in tonight's performance, appearing in "Because of a Woman." In this production Miss Bennett appears as a different kind of a vampire—a really winsome character.

Friday evening Jack Pickford appears in a play written by Judge Brown of the Chicago juvenile court, entitled, "The Spirit of '17," a regular red, white and blue story. It is one of the best war pictures yet produced.

In "Paradise Garden," which is the attraction on Saturday night, Harold Lockwood has an unusually attractive part. The play is taken from George Gibb's great novel of the same name and is unusual in many respects.

Douglas Fairbanks comes on Sunday and this is enough to assure a packed house. His play is "Reaching For the Moon," and in it is staged one of the most realistic fights ever filmed as a part of the production, which deals with Italian brigands and all kinds of interesting but unpopular people. The admission prices for this picture are 20c and 11c.

William V. Mong, an actor comparatively new to Thief River Falls theatre patrons, but one who is a great favorite in the larger cities, will be seen in "The Hopper" on Monday evening. This is one of the cleverest stories dealing with crooks seen in some time.

Accidents happen in even the best regulated theatres and for this reason "The Spy" failed to show up on Tuesday night. This great Dustin Farnum production will be here next Tuesday, however, and our people will have lost nothing by waiting. This is a very high priced production and Manager Lawrence is compelled to charge special feature prices. These will be the same as on Sunday nights.

George Beban appears on Tuesday night in "Lost in Transit." This is a rattling good comedy played by one of the cleverest comedians in the game.

INTEREST IN WORK STILL CONTINUES

TWO MORE RED CROSS AUXILIARIES ARE FORMED THIS WEEK.

One by one the various townships of Pennington county are falling in line with the Red Cross organization, willing to do their share in the great cause. This past week has seen Star and Silverton form their own branches.

In the faces of increased shortage of farm labor, necessitating the women on the farms doing the work of men, the rural sections are alive to the situation. As one man put it at the Silverton meeting, which was held in Banner school house, Dist. No. 53, on Monday, his wife would have to milk eleven cows, beginning next week when he started seeding, yet both stood ready to do their bit in the Red Cross endeavors.

The branch in Star was completed last Wednesday and the following were chosen as officers: Chairman, Joseph Johnson; secretary, Christ Odegaard.

The Silverton branch was organized this week Monday, a committee of four composed of Mrs. A. Craik, Mrs. F. F. Haynes, Thos. A. Way and Secretary Scott Laird, meeting with the residents in Banner school house. The officers elected are: Chairman, H. P. Rued; vice chairman, Fred Burdick; secretary, Geo. M. Gunderson: treasurer, J. B. Reller; chairman finance committee, Jens Litner.

Potato Expert Here.

A. G. Tolaas, potato expert of the University of Minnesota, was in the city last Saturday and delivered an address on potato culture before a fair crowd of interested people in the afternoon. He was at Goodridge on Friday, where he spoke to a large audience on the same subject. While in this section he made a trip through the neighborhood with County Agent Ross P. White, for the purpose of picking out several seed potato plots. They found what they were looking for and the work of getting these plots in the best shape for planting will be begun by the owners at once.

The Cash and Carry Store

Patriotic women are now doing their shopping on the "cash and carry" basis. It saves the hiring of drivers, bookkeepers, etc. and the expense incurred by such help—thus relieving more men for national service and enabling the merchant to sell at a lower price.

This store was one of the first to adopt this patriotic and economic principle. The quality of our goods and our reasonable prices warrant your patronage. Give us one order and we know we'll have your constant trade—so pleased will you be with our fair methods of doing business.

Red Cross Notes.

On another page of this issue under the heading of Red Cross notes appears two items, one refering to ironing boards and the other to surgical dressing class, that have been changed since that part of the paper was printed. The two items in this column relative to these subjects are later information and the others should be disregarded.

The call for an ironing board was responded to by Mrs. W. W. Prichard, Jr., and Mrs. Grey, each offering one. They will be agreat help to us.

A class for instruction in surgical dressings will be organized to begin work April 2. Anyone wishing to join it please notify Mrs. Spink. The rules of the organization limit the number in a class to 8. The class work does not interfere with the regular work at the Red Cross rooms.

We would like to make a shipment next week and would like the branch chapters and individual workers have their finished articles here not later than Tuesday, March 26.

Odd Fellows Hold Social.

The members of the local Odd Fellow lodge spent a very pleasant social evening Tuesday at their lodge rooms. Grand Master C. H. Blake of Long Prairie, and Grand Secretary L. N. Bolton of St. Paul, were present and made short addresses. After the regular meeting the Rebekah lodge ladies served a delightful lunch. Besides a large attendance of local Odd Fellows, two auto loads containing about a dozen members, came up from St. Hilaire.

Bank Quarters Remodeled.

The First and Peoples' State bank this week moved from the quarters used by the First State for many years prior to the consolidation and the institution is again occupying the former quarters of the Peoples on Third street. The banking room has been remodeled and refinished and presents a very neat appearance. The change was considered advisable because of the fact that the Third street property is owned by the bank while the quarters vacated were rented. W. H. Frederick, of the Thief River Valley Land company, will move into the latter as soon as the place has been refitted to more nearly suit his purpose.

Save the Wheat

March 16, 1918.

MR. F. H. HERRICK,
Thief River Falls, Minn.

Dear Fellow Worker:—Wars are no longer all bullets and blades, they are also bread and beef. It has been the business of an army to lead in fighting, and the business of civilians to lead in supplying food.

Never in any war has the necessity of food conservation by the men and women at home been so great as it is in this war. We know as never beore that the soldier cannot fight unless he is well fed.

Wheat is the thing we must save now—the most insistent drive of the Food Administration has been and will be "Save the Wheat." We MUST send 100,000,000 bushels of wheat overseas before the first of June. It cannot come out of our surplus because there is no surplus.

It must come out of our saving.

To accomplish this result it is necessary that the prewar per capita yearly consumption of 215 pounds of flour must be reduced to 150 pounds.

Is it possible to do it or will the people of this country not only make it possible but do better than this?

The soldiers in 32 camps and cantonments of this country are getting flour at the rate of 131 pounds per person per year—19 pounds less than the civilians are asked to get along with.

This is the answer to "Is it possible?"

Are the civilians going to permit the soldiers to do all of the work and make all of the sacrifices of fighting and conserving—or are they going to accept their share of the responsibility and say to the soldiers and to our associates in the war: "Here is our share—all of it—we can get along very nicely on something else?"

Yours very truly,
A. D. WILSON,
Federal Food Administrator for Minnesota.

NEWS from the RAILROADS

Items of Interest Regarding Activities on the Soo Line and the Great Northern

Engineers at Harbin—Word has been received in this city from the railroaders who left for Russia last fall stating that they have been ordered to Harbin in Manchuria. They have been hung up at Nagasaki, Japan, since the middle of December. This news, which is confirmation of the report that the cruiser Brooklyn, flagship of the United States Asiatic fleet, would proceed to Vladivostok after calling at Nagasaki for coal and provisions, was heralded as the most significant development in the tense situation involving Bolshevik activities in Siberia, the reported German encroachment and the diplomatic negotiations regarding the whole Siberian question which have been in progress between the Allied nations.

The First Base Ball Team—The young men employed at the departments of the master mechanic, the car repairer and at the roundhouse have formed a base ball team and will shortly be putting in all their spare time practicing. There is some mighty good base ball material out in that end of town and it would not be surprising if they put the division on the sport map before the season is over. Thus far the equipment consists of one base ball, but the securing of more will be a small matter when things once get properly started.

Transfers are Few—There is very little movement on the part of railroad men at the present time. Nearly all of them seem to be satisfied to stick at home and attend strictly to the business in hand. About the only changes made on the division during the week was the employment of A. J. Comstock as warehouseman at Fordville, vice P. M. Joringdall, who was transferred to Plummer as operator, relieving Helmer Carlson who enlisted.

Would Go to France—Four brakemen running out of this city on the Soo left Sunday evening for Minneapolis where they will try to enlist with the railway division being recruited for France. They are J. E. Bloomquist, O. A. Mellby, A. Snusted and C. Maidmant. Another railroad regiment is being recruited in the Northwest for service overseas and the boys are anxious to join.

First Car is Iced—Winter is a thing of the past and perishable freight must be handled accordingly. The first car iced at the local terminal was sent out on Monday. It contained a consignment of fresh fish from Canada and was billed to the Twin Cities. This is the earliest that ice has been found necessary in some time. There is a heavy movement of fish from Canada at the present time.

Traffic on the Increase—The passenger traffic westward over the wheatline shows a decided increase during the past week. This is partly accounted for by the spring movement toward the grain fields of the Dakotas, but is also caused partly by the return of well-to-do farmers who have spent the winter farther to the south and are now getting back for the spring work.

Tractors For Canada—That Canadians intend to do much of their farming by machinery this year is evidenced by the number of tractors that are being shipped northward. There were 12 cars of tractors in one trainload headed for Winnipeg the first of the week and this is only one of many shipments, some of which were nearly as large.

The Draft is Getting Them—R. A. Looker, car foreman at Fordville, has been notified to appear before the examining board of his district for final examination. He expects to be among the first to be called when the next demand for men is made.

In Heavy Artillery—Albert Anderson, who has been hostler's helper at the roundhouse for some time, left this week for Minneapolis for the purpose of enlisting in the service. He has chosen the heavy artillery as the branch he prefers.

Attend Funeral—John M. Skog, machinist at the roundhouse, who was called to Wadena by the death of a relative last week, has returned and is again at work. Mrs. Skog, who accompanied him, will remain to visit for some time.

Looking After Business Matters—Supt. W. A. Barnard was in Minneapolis over Sunday in the interests of the road. A. J. Nyhus, resident engineer, is also in the twin cities on business, going down on Monday night.

Windmill is Moved—The windmill and tank at the stockyards in this city has been shipped to the yards at Portal. The water for the yards here is now furnished by the general pumping plant at the roundhouse.

More Firemen Enlist—James Steen and Ray Erickson, firemen, left Tuesday evening for Minneapolis with the intention of enlisting in the railroad regiment which expects soon to leave for France.

On Inspection Tour—J. H. Hendry, master mechanic of this division, has been putting the past few days inspecting conditions on the district between Mahnomen and Glenwood.

Anderson Promoted—John Anderson, who has been employed here as coach cleaner, was this week transferred to Fordville where he will be employed as car repairer.

Jacoby Transferred—Oscar Skogstad takes the place of George Jacoby as machinist's helper at the roundhouse, the latter having been transferred to Overly.

Quits the Service—George Templar, machinist's helper, has resigned his position with the Soo and has gone to work for the Thief River Grocery Co.

Stenographers on Visit—Miss Anna Quale and Miss Nettie Ove of the division superintendent's office, were Minneapolis visitors over Sunday.

Engineer Returns—John Anderson, engineer, returned this week from Kenmare, where he had been working for the past month.

LEAGUE SCORED BY BURNQUIST

GOVERNOR ASSAILS ATTITUDE OF ORGANIZATION TOWARD THE WAR.

DISLOYALTY OPEN CHARGE

ALLEGD UTTERANCES OF THE SPEAKERS CITED TO PROVE UNPATRIOTIC ATTITUDE.

In replying to an invitation to address the convention of the Farmers' Non-Partisan league, Gov. J. A. A. Burnquist takes the occasion to say some pretty severe things concerning the organization and its leaders. As the governor's attitude on all questions of public policy is a matter of importance and interest to the farmer as well as to citizens in other walks of life, and in pursuance of the policy of this paper to treat all subjects of this kind from an absoultely impartial standpoint, the letter is herewith reproduced:

"Mr. Arthur LeSueur, Executive Secretary, the Non-partisan League, St. Paul, Minnesota.

"Dear Sir: Your invitation to address the National Non-partisan Rally is declined by me for the following reasons:

"The name of your league implies that it is non-partisan, but in fact there is no organization more partisan.

"At this time, when other political parties are trying to put aside for the good of the country, any factional spirit that might exist, your organization is doing everything in its power to increase it.

"At the time of our entrance into the European conflict your organizers condemned our government for entering the war. When it became apparent that this course would result in disaster, they changed their course and made eleventh-hour claim to pure loyalty, but, notwithstanding this claim, the National Non-partisan league is a party of discontent.

"It has drawn to it the pro-German element of our state. Its leaders have been closely connected with the lawless I. W. W. and with the Red Socialists, pacifists and peace advocates, whose doctrines are a benefit to Germany, are among their number. Those in charge of the league have catered to that faction of labor which has violated the law and been opposed to compliance with just orders of duly constituted authority. The leading agitators in your party have, through their speeches and the circulation of contemptible falsehoods, encouraged disrespect for honest and patriotic men in public positions. These self-appointed leaders, with whom you are associated have been and now are endeavoring to get farmers to oppose business men and employes to oppose employers. They state, in your party principles, that 'the great thing the farmers need today to win is to stick by your organization, to "co-operate with wage-workers' organizations in the cities and together win control of the powers of the state government and then the national government.'

That 'People's Peace Council.

"You, who sign yourself as the executive secretary of the league were connected with the People's Peace Council, which, through my proclamation of August 28, 1917, was barred from holding meetings in this state, and thereafter in Wisconsin and Illinois, but which was invited to North Dakota by its governor, who was elected through the efforts of your league.

"The cheering and applauding of the unpatriotic utterances of Senator LaFollette at your last convention put a stamp of disloyalty on it that can never be erased.

"Your present publicity agent lost the postion he held at that time because he supported LaFollette's unpatriotic ideas and, after his discharge by his employer, he was employed by your Nonpartisan league.

"Another of your leaders, Joseph Gilbert, called a director and manager I believe, has been convicted by a jury because of his disloyal utterances. He together with Mr. Manahan, an attorney of your organization, unpatriotically used a strike situation here to advance the political interests of the league. These two men have maliciously slandered public-spirited members of the Public Safety Commission in an attempt to bring together the farmers and wage earners for the political purposes of your political party's self-constituted leaders, who are neither real farmers nor real laborers, but self-seeking demagogues whom the actual farmers and actual laboring men of our state will sooner or later find are nothing but pretended friends—'wolves parading in sheep's clothing.'

LeSueur Defended "Murderers."

"You, who appear to be the executive secretary of this organization, were the attorney who defended the murderers in the I. W. W. trouble on the Range two years ago and who has assisted the I. W. W. organization which has publicly announced that it is its intention ultimately to take the farms from the farmers, whose headquarters since the commencement of the war have been raided by the federal government, and whose members are now taking refuge in such organizations as the National Nonpartisan league.

"Now under such circumstances, the farmers of Minnesota who have been threatened with the loss of their farms, who have time and again been compelled to appeal to peace officers for protection against the members of this lawless, anarchistic organization, can now join a league with promoters whose sympathies have been with this law-breaking Bolsheviki element in our society, is well-nigh incomprehensible. The only explanation that can be given is the fact that some of the leaders and organizers of the Nonpartisan league are evidently not yet known as well to the farmers and laborers of our state as they are to those who have had more experience with them.

Class Hatred Engendered.

"Another reason for declining your invitation is the possibility of construing my presence at your partisan campaign rally by some as an endorsement of your propaganda. It is, of course, the duty of the governor to be fair to all classes and to oppose any program which is apt to result in a division of our state into classes.

"Such arraying of class against class would be welcomed by the enemies of our republic, for such a course will tend to defeat our nation in this war and will eventually mean the dissolution of our form of government and the undermining of the economic and political freedom of our people.

"He who, in normal times, needlessly arrays class against class is most often the ambitious demagogue. But any individual who will do so when our nation is in a life and death struggle is, knowingly or unknowingly, a traitor to his state and to his country.

Loyalists and Disloyalists.

"In declining to speak at your party's rally, I wish to say further:

"That for me there are, during this war, but two parties, one composed of loyalists and the other of the disloyalists.

"The only party whose cause I shall strive at this time to advance is the party composed of those Americans who, heart and soul, are loyal to their country. The only issue that to me is paramount at this time is the winning of the war and that cannot be done if our house is to be divided against itself through false accusations on the part of political agitators such as those who head your organization. The only party and politicians whom I am in this campaign going to oppose are that party and those politicians who, for party purposes, by innuendo or otherwise, are discouraging our people by claiming this is a war begun by the rich or that the burdens of the conflict will fall more heavily on one class than on another, or make statements which in some other way will lengthen the conflict by creating dissatisfaction at home, and thus indirectly cause the death of additional thousands, if not millions of our fellow citizens on European battlefields.

Not Rich Man's War.

"We all agree that war profiteers should be dealt with as drastically as it is possible to deal with them. But it cannot be said that this is a rich mans' war, for those who have gained most from it would have made greater profits if the United States had not entered it. I hold no brief for any class, but to make the farmers or laboring men believe their sons are discriminated against in this war, as implied in your statement of principles, is treasonable conduct, for the rich man's sons are conscripted proportionately to a greater extent than the sons of the farmers and laborers. This is apparent because of the exemption of those needed to support their dependents and the exemption allowed because of agricultural and industrial pursuits. Up to this date about 5 per cent of the male population of our country has been called and 90 per cent of the war taxation has come from business profits and incomes, falling mostly on those best able to pay it.

"If any one, for money reasons, would strive to continue this war or make unreasonable profits through the carrying on of the same, such an individual is as much of a traitor to his country, but no more of a traitor than he who would use this time to divide our forces through the creation of class hatreds and factional discontent.

"Your leaders are continually attacking what you term Big Business. Personally, I am as strongly opposed as anyone to what is known as government by big business. I would be equally opposed to a government by any particular industrial class. The public official who would allow himself to be controlled by the self-appointed guardians of some certain element of society would thereby render himself unfit to hold public office. If I, as governor of this state, would permit myself to be put in a position where I would be compelled to cater to any particular set of men, or where I could not be fair to organized or unorganized labor, to farmers' organizations or any other organizations, to big business or to little business, I would be unworthy of the confidence of the voters of our commonwealth who can freely or secretly exercise their rights of franchise without the payment of $16.00 to unscrupulous schemers for the privilege of voting or being told how to vote.

Doubts Le Sueur's Sincerity.

"Knowing as I do the political ambitions of your organization and the false charges that some of its leaders and agents have made through your official newspapers against honest and patriotic public officials, I cannot believe that back of the invitation you have sent me is any sincerity of purpose. The failure on the part of anyone to turn over the state government to those of your officers who have assumed the organization of the alleged Non-Partisan League and the control of the millions of dollars collected from its members will undoubtedly create opposition, but I know that such men pretending to be friends of some particular class and deceiving some well-intentioned people, cannot long continue their policy of deception, for the patriotic farmers in the country and the loyal laboring men in the city know that their true friends are among those who strive for the maintenance of law, order and justice and especially in this the most serious hour of our history, for that unity of the American people essential to the successful termination of the war.

"Very truly yours,
"J. A. A. BURNQUIST."

No Porkless Saturdays.

Since we have gone to press with the first run of this issue word has been received that the order for porkless Saturdays has been lifted; otherwise the schedule of meatless and wheatless meals and days is correct as published on page ten.

The present war is teaching us many serious lessons. Some of us are wise and take heed and some of us are slow to realize the seriousness of the situation. One of the greatest lessons that has been brought before us and has been shouted from coast to coast is "preparedness"—be prepared for emergency.

The merchants of this city will discontinue delivery April 1st. Be prepared—get a wagon—we have them.

Defend Your Liberty

Have you stopped to realize what it would mean if Germany should win—how the United States would lose its present position in the world, built up through years of hard work toward successful accomplishment?

Do you realize that the indemnities extracted by Kaiser Bill would make you and your children and their children's children unwilling contributors all during their lives, to his arrogant demands?

Germany Can't win and she must not. And there is only one way to beat her—back up the boys "Over There" by buying Liberty Bonds and War Savings Certificates, with which to furnish them the ammunition and necessities by which to accomplish her defeat. Don't argue and don't wait. If you value your liberty, Buy Now.

The Story of Molasses in a Nutshell

Molasses, as we all know, is made from sugar cane. Everybody likes sweet things because the various forms of sugar, syrup, molasses, etc., contain substances or elements that are most necessary to the healthy human body. The chief element in sugar is called hydro-carbon. Nature causes you to like the taste of food we need, and as every healthy person needs a great deal of hydro-carbon we all like the sweet things very much. Molasses of the best grade is economical for eating, cooking and candy making.

Cookies, cakes, gingerbread, etc., are ever palatable and nutritious.

LOCAL PRODUCT IS BECOMING FAMOUS

ECON-O-KLEEN IS ATTRACTING ATTENTION OF AUTO OWNERS EVERYWHERE.

H. W. Protzeller, president of the Econ-O-Kleen Fuel company, is having The Times office turn out a little book that should be in the possession of every auto owner. It is entitled, "Carbon—the Ashes of Gasoline," and contains more information of value to the auto owner than many a volume ten times its size. The book is for general distribution and will be sent to anyone asking for it.

Mr. Protzeller recently returned from a trip in the interest of Econ-O-Kleen. During his visit he succeeded in getting the product established with a number of wholesale concerns handling auto supplies. These now include such well-known business houses as Marshall-Wells Hardware company, Duluth; Janney-Semple-Hill & Co., St. Paul; the Simmons Hardware company, St. Louis, and many others. Requests for the product has been received from nearly every section of the country and there are hundreds of recommendations on file at the offices of the company in this city. Users everywhere are enthusiastic over the performance of the new carbon remover. One manager of a big auto supply house on the Pacific coast writes: "It is not a question of how much of this stuff we can sell, but of how much you can make."

Send for one of these little books and learn more about your car in a few minutes than you have been able to discover in all the time you have owned it.

Tales of the Far North

Being an Account of My Experiences During the Three Years I Was Employed by the Government in Alaska.

By Dr. F. H. Gambell, Thief River Falls.

On the Last Lap.

The last lap of our journey had begun. It was a relief to know that no more herds had to be divided. All the deer we had now would stay with us and no more would be added. We were on our way to Cape Prince of Wales to deliver this herd to the mission there to repay them for the deer the government had taken and driven to Point Barrow at the same time and for the same purpose that Charlie and Mary Autisarlook's deer had been taken.

The first day out from Port Clarence was disappointing. We started late and had to leave the sea coast and take to the passes between the mountains. We had not traveled many miles till one of our sleds broke down and we decided to stop and camp for the night.

I succeeded with an ax and a stick of fire wood, which we had brought along, in repairing the broken sled that evening. By morning we were ready to move on.

Found Hard Traveling.

We found a very mountainous route which made our traveling very difficult. The wind kept blowing a gale. It was so strong that every night I was fearful that the tent would blow down. The night before reaching Cape Prince of Wales I went to bed with my boots on, for I did not want to get up and look for them in the middle of the night in my bare feet with nothing over me but the Artic's shroud of inky blackness.

A Sudden Thaw.

I expected nothing else than that our tent would not only be blown down, but away, for we were camped between two mountains and the wind came tearing by as tho it were passing through a great funnel. But it quieted down and toward morning the temperature had so moderated that the snow became soft and it had so melted underneath me that I was lying in a puddle of mud to my sorrow when I awoke. Then I wished it were cold again.

By noon we were at the end of our journey and had turned over the herd we had been driving all this way to the missionary located at the native village near the Cape known as Cape Prince of Wales.

All Were Happy.

We all rejoiced. The natives in again having possession of the deer, and we in having so successfully accomplished the undertaking. Then we realized that we had traveled over four hundred miles, had divided three herds, had transported all our supplies and found our way over a country new and strange to us all. We could not help but feel a certain amount of satisfaction. All this had been accomplished in a little over a month, although we had anticipated that we would be on the way fully twice that length of time.

The people at the mission were very kind to us. They supplied me with many little necessities for my return trip.

Natives Were Curious.

The natives were very much interested in the stranger in their midst. They would crowd in the mission house to see me as much as they were allowed, while at other times when we were talking I would notice that not as much light was coming through the window as formerly. Glancing up I would see the whole window filled full of dark faces peering at me with those bright black eyes of their's. Men, women and children were standing outside with their faces pressed close to the glass, just looking and watching every move I made. They would not leave until the curtain was drawn, when they would as quietly go away.

Proud to be Ailing.

On my last day at Cape Prince of Wales I held a clinic and gave professional attention to all those with ills as well as to all with imaginary ailments. As it was a free clinic and many wanted the experience of seeing the ung-choc-toe, as they called a doctor, their ailments did not need to be very pronounced. In fact the one who was fortunate enough to be in need of a doctor's care and could elicit his attention to the greatest degree was the envied one.

A Rather Large Dose.

I ran across one old woman who seemed greatly improved when I was examining her chest. She acted as tho some magic result would follow the physical examination I gave her. When I suggested some medicine for her she would not listen to it and told a long story of an experience she had once had with a white doctor's medicine. It seemed that the year before she had presented herself in a doctor's office and complained of certain ailments. He had given her some pills and a bottle of medicine to be taken in teaspoonful doses. She looked at it and as it had the appearance of tea and tasted bitter she decided that she was able to take the whole bottle full at once, which she did. Soon followed a terrible condition which threw her into spasms on the floor. She was so extremely sick that she was ready to die. Still she recovered but never forgot her experience. She kept the pills and bottle in her private box of keep-sakes. After hunting around she at last found them, all bound up in some skins, and showed them to me in proof that what she said was true. These things she would keep until her death when they would be buried with her, to be used if necessary in the next world.

The Homeward Start.

As our work was over and our deer had a good rest and I a good visit with white people again, I started the Lapps toward home with the supplies in the morning while I waited until after noon, when I went in company with one of the natives of the Cape herd, who was traveling my way home.

In a way I was glad to get away from the ceaseless moaning of the ocean which was wearing on my nerves. I heard it all day long and, if at night I awoke, that moan as the of one in pain was carried to me through the still night air.

Ice Connects Continents.

When we were leaving for home we looked off across the waters which were being whipped and lashed into a foam, and we could see Indian Point, a headland on the Siberian shore. Out in the midst of the strait were the greater and lesser Diomedes—two islands—one belonging to our country and one to Russia with only a narrow passage separating them. Later on in the winter the waters are covered with ice, shifted hither and thither by the tides and currents and winds. While it is rare, still it has been known for natives to pass over on the ice traveling from the mainland of one continent to the mainland of another.

Ran Into Snow Storm.

After we had been on our way for a short distance and had passed around from the protection of the mountains at the cape we realized that there was as much of a storm on land as there was on the sea. It not only blew but was snowing hard when we stopped to camp.

On the day following it was storming worse than ever. I had trouble not only in keeping near enough to the native who was with me to see him, but I could not see my own deer at times. We kept together with great difficulty.

As we were stumbling along thru the storm we all at once came upon an obstacle in our pathway which proved to be the tent of the Laplanders who had reached the shore of the ocean some hours before our arrival and had a warm fire burning, greatly to our delight.

Storm-Bound Two Days.

In the morning we drove to Port Clarence where we staid for two days on account of the storm, but on the third day pushed on toward home as the storm had somewhat abated.

We reached home the Friday before Christmas. There I met some friends who prevailed upon me to stay and spend Christmas with them. I enjoyed it too. I amused the children by bringing Santa Clause to them on Monday afternoon, when they had their Christmas tree in the church.

Played Santa Claus.

The children crowded to the windows to see Santa come, hauled by two real live reindeer. After he was out I turned the deer toward the river, and there I found that four great wolf dogs had been trailing me. They came closer and the deer becoming frightened started to run away, with the dogs in full pursuit. I had never driven two deer hitched together before and I could not handle them. Away we went to the north at a terrible gait. First came the deer, then the sled at their heels with me at the bottom except one moccasined foot waving in the air on either side of the bouncing sled. The dogs came next—yellow ones, black ones, white ones, big ones, and little ones, with an assortment of every other variety joining in hot pursuit as we proceeded toward the high bank of the river. After the dogs came a white man running without hat or mittens, wishing to assist me should I need help. After him came the Laplander with his turned up shoes and four cornered cap, running as fast as his little short legs could carry him.

Chased by Dogs.

The deer were running down a steep hill and twice I though that I would surely upset, for part of the time the sled was going on but one runner and part of the time it seemed on no runner at all. We reached the river and went over the bank as tho we were shooting the chutes, striking the ice with great force. Here I succeeded in stopping the deer. I ran to their heads where I was successful in keeping the dogs at bay until help arrived. "Mr. Doctor," the white man broke out with, "why don't you shoot them, kill them, get rid of them some way." I was anxious to protect my deer but I did not want to kill any dogs as they were valuable animals too, to their owners.

Went Through the Ice.

There was only one thing of interest happened on our return trip home from Nome. It makes me shudder still when I think of how near I was to death.

We were traveling on the ocean ice and night was coming on for the days were very short now. We wished to cross a bay and get to a native village where we knew that we would find good moss pasturage for our animals. It grew so dark that we could hardly distinguish the deer we were driving. We realized that it was new ice we were traveling on. Nils Clemetsen was leading the way and I came next. He had taken the ax from the sled and as the deer trotted along he would raise it into the air and drive it into the ice, testing its thickness. I grew accustomed to the thud, thud of the ax as I heard it strike the ice. The feet of the reindeer gave forth that peculiar click which is heard as their hoofs strikes the one on the opposite side of the foot. I little thought of danger. I was content to think of the warm Eskimo house we were soon to reach. I was in a way sleeping or at least dreaming of warmth and comfort with something soon to eat. All at once I was startled by a splash and Nils calling out in alarm, "whoa." My deer scented danger and stopped immediately. The deer behind me stopped and the ones behind them stopped. I heard the deer in front of me sloughing in the water and I knew from the sound that Nils was trying to pull him out.

A Ticklish Position.

I was waiting for all the ice under us to give away. I did not dare to pull out of my tracks for fear of striking poor ice. I told the Laps behind me to turn and go back. They began a long dessertation in Lappish which was most annoying to me. If there ever was a time when I wanted to speak in tongues it was then. I gathered all the strong Norwegian words together that I knew and hurled them at them regardless of construction. Then I ended up in English for I could not express myself satisfactory in an unfamiliar tongue. The final outcome was that they turned and retraced their steps beginning at the farther end of the line. It seemed ages before it came my turn to move back.

Finally Straightened Out.

The deer which Nels was driving was finally drawn out of the ocean water and then we decided to go cautiously toward the shore. As we came near the land we found that the tide was in and the ice flooded. All the deer now were afraid to step into the water to reach the shore. Finally one was made to go across then all followed. We found good moss and after pasturing our deer with long ropes we made near our camp, we had our supper. In the morning we looked out over the bay and found a great portion of it free of ice having a great sea of open water into which we had driven. Many are the risks taken by travelers in Alaska.

Home Again and Tired.

The rest of my journey home was uneventful. I kept thinking, as I neared home, of my warm office, regular meals and most of all of the good warm soft bed awaiting me. I had been sleeping on the ground and hard floors now for the most part of two months. I thought it would be heaven just to have the comforts of my home again. The work had been new and strange to me, and I was tired. I know that after I had reached home I would just want to sit down and rest for the remainder of the winter.

Recognized in Report.

On January 3rd the official government report states: "Dr. Gambell returned this evening from Cape Prince of Wales. He was eleven days traveling from here and seven days from Nome. This is the best time that has been made between Nome and here this winter, and is very fast for the trail as it is at present."

IF you will investigate, you will find that it will pay for you this year to invest in at least the smallest size of the many sizes AVERY TRACTORS. It's only $435.00 for the small one, and it will do more work than any five horses can do. Figure the horse feed bill, against the Avery, and you will be convinced that you ought to see your agent NOW, to make sure that you can get one for spring delivery.

To The American People

There is no foundation for the alleged violations of law attributed to our Company by agents of the Federal Trade Commission and I want to say emphatically that Swift & Company is not a party to any conspiracy to defraud the Government. Nor has Swift & Company been guilty of improperly storing foods or of making false entries or reports.

Conferences of packers, where prices have been discussed, have been held at the urgent request and in the presence of representatives of either the Food Administration or the Council of National Defense. And yet the packers have been accused of committing a felony by acting in collusion on Government bids!

We have done our best, with other packers, large and small, to comply with the directions of the United States Food Administration in all particulars, including the furnishing of food supplies for the U. S. Army and Navy and the Allies, now being handled through the Food Administration.

We will continue to do our utmost, under Government direction, to increase our production and assist the Food Administration. We consider that the opportunity to co-operate whole-heartedly and to our fullest powers with this branch of the Government is our plain and most pressing duty.

The Trade Commission Attorney has, by false inference and misplaced emphasis, given to disconnected portions of the correspondence taken from our private files and read into the Record, a false and sinister meaning with the plain purpose of creating antagonistic public opinion.

The services of the packers of the United States are most urgently needed, and I regret exceedingly that we should at this time have to spend our efforts in defending ourselves against unfounded, unproved, and unfair assertions such as are being daily made public.

ANOTHER DISTRICT BOARD IS CREATED

WILL PROBABLY BE LOCATED AT CROOKSTON—O'BRIEN AS CHAIRMAN.

A fifth federal district draft board is to be created, according to advises, as a result of a meeting held last week at the office of Adjutant General Rhinow at St. Paul and although not official, it is said that the board will make its headquarters in Crookston.

Martin O'Brien, of that city, will in all likelihood be named as chairman of the board, he now being a member of the fourth district board which is in session at Duluth. The new board will pass on all exemption claims from the ten counties comprising the Red River Valley and possibly several others.

The reason for creating a new board is that the district board at Duluth has been handling the cases from twenty-three counties, and as a result is badly overworked. Just when the board will be established has not been made known.

Pennington would be one of the counties in the new district, the creation of which will make it possible for the cases coming up in this section of the state to be heard and adjusted with much less delay.

Truman Stageberg left last Thursday for Dawson, Minn., to join a group of friends who expect to enlist in the mechanical department of the army.

HIGHER PRICES FOR WHEAT IS ARGUED

STEENERSON WOULD PLACE RATIO AT POINT PREVAILING BEFORE WAR.

Higher wheat prices were urged by H. N. Owen, a Minnesota agricultural publisher, and Representative Halvor Steenerson, of Minnesota, at a conference last week with Food Administrator Hoover.

Mr. Steenerson asked the administration to make a price for wheat in ratio to prices of corn, rye, barley and oats, the same as existed during the three years before the war.

RED CROSS NOTES

Our call last week for an ironing board was responded to immediately by Mrs. W. W. Prichard, Jr., who offered one. If we had another it would leave more room on the tables for other work.

The hospital committee has ordered 500 yards of gauze, 12 pounds of absorbant cotton, three dozen cut pajamas, two dozen cut hospital shirts and two dozen cut bed jackets, which cost $139.20. These materials come from the Red Cross Supply houses.

The cutting committee has just used 34 yards of sheeting for 24 hospital shirts and have a 50 yard piece that is being cut.

We have succeeded in getting 200 yards of tape from a firm in Minneapolis.

The normal girls have been missed at the work rooms this week. They are in the country.

Mrs. Willis Akre reports that most of the refugee garments that are cut have been called for and are being made. Others will be ready as soon as the patterns come.

Saturday evening there were 14 teachers present in the surgical dressing room. One supervisor, three cutters and 11 folders made 200 compresses in an hour and three quarters.

A class will be given instructions in surgical dressings next week. Anyone who would like to join the class will please call Mrs. Spink. The rules of the organization limit the number in a class to eight. The class work does not interfere with the regular work in the surgical dressing room.

Last Saturday a large number of teachers from the country visited the sewing-room to get more information on Red Cross work.

The attendance at the Red Cross work rooms shows an increased interest in the work done, but there is still room for more workers.

Less than a third of the school has as yet reported to the school committee for the Red Cross auxiliary work. However excellent organization work is going on throughout our schools.

The manual enrollment cards and enrollment blanks with other literature was sent out as late as Saturday last week. For this reason organization and enrollment has been retarded. The above named schools are given on rather indefinite reports in some cases.

The undersigned chairman of the school committee will respectfully ask that the report enrollment cards and enrollment blanks be returned to this office as soon as the auxiliary for the school is organized. This will give us a complete line-up of the auxiliaries organized. Being organized the school will then receive a certificate that can be displayed in the school. The button will be sent out to the schools organized as soon as received from the division headquarters at Minneapolis. As soon as an organization has been affected the auxiliary will begin the work of making things for the Red Cross.

What can the pupils do?

The Manual states on pages 12 and 13 a list of things that can be made by the various grades. Of this list the following articles have been suspended. The supply on hand is sufficent until further notice. Snippings and comfort pillows, knitted wash rags, handkerchiefs and table napkins.

The boys may be able to knit squares, size 5x5, made out of old yarn; also knitting needles 14 inches long and 3-16 inches thick. The boys as well as girls can do wonders when going to a thing with a will and determination. Just try and see, boys and girls, if you can not do as well as the next best one in your school or the neighboring school.

Material will be ordered through the chapter. Mrs. W. W. Prichard, Sr., Thief River Falls, will assist you in the selection. The materials must be paid for. Take a bill for the goods bought and get it receipted when paid for. The auxiliary school treasurer must keep a close tab on expenditures. Draw on T. L. Melgaard, Thief River Falls, for any money needed. If any school or auxiliary needs literature of any kind, please address this office.

Respectfully submitted,
E. A. MOSTUE.

The United States Food administration has just forwarded to A. D. Wilson, Minnesota Food Administrator, advance copy of a new reminder to be hung in homes where food conservation is being practiced. This reminder under the heading "Remember the Days" gives the following simple schedule of conservation meals and days:

Sunday—One meal wheatless; one meal meatless.

Monday—All meals wheatless; one meal meatless.

Tuesday—All meals meatless; one meal wheatless.

Wednesday—All meals wheatless; one meal meatless.

Thursday—One meal wheatless; one meal meatless.

Friday—One meal wheatless; one meal meatless.

Saturday—All meals porkless; one meal wheatless; one meal meatless.

The gravity of the situation is apparent from the fact that the card goes on to urge that on wheatless days no bread, crackers, pastry or breakfast foods containing wheat should be used and that no wheat flour should be used in cooking except the smallest amount necessary for thickening soups and gravies, or as a binder in corn or other cereal breads.

Seed Shortage May Prove Most Serious Matter

(By Ross P. White, County Agent.)

Notwithstanding an increased production of staple crops in the United States in 1917, there seems to be somewhat of a seed shortage. Corn, as we have already been informed, will be the hardest to get. After the first bookings have been exhausted it will be next to impossible to get a supply sufficient to plant any considerable acreage. Many of our largest seed houses have advertised that their seed corn is all sold and they are unable to secure any more this season. The Seed Reporter of March first states that there is not a county in the state that will be able to supply its own needs in the line of seed corn. In order to protect the local dealers, who have paid high prices for the corn which they are getting, and in order to insure that the farmer will have his needs supplied, it is necessary that the corn growers book their orders at once. A delay will probably mean a higher price and in many cases it will mean dissappointment if the purchase of seed is put off until planting time.

In deciding upon the corn acreage this year the farmers are urged to bear in mind the fact that cattle will have to be kept quite largely this winter on the coarser rough feeds. The grains will probably be used more and more for human consumption, thus decreasing the supply usually used in feeding livestock. Many farmers will therefore be increasing their corn acreage, but this will of itself require more labor. If enough labor is at hand to properly care for the corn ground a large acreage is highly desirable on every live stock farm because it produces one of the cheapest rough feeds which can be grown and leaves the ground in splendid shape for the crop which follows. Often the crop grown following a cultivated crop is nearly double that where grain follows grain. Many of the local farmers claim that a cultivated crop, properly cared for, is as good as summer fallowing.

There is also a serious need for seed wheat, oats, barley, and flax. Any farmer who has any of the above grains which would make good seed should so plan that his neighbor, who is short, can get in touch with him. All suitable seeds should be cleaned and tested for germination at once. The situation is so serious in the Northwest that the government has been purchasing seeds to be distributed among the farmers of North Dakota and Montana. Home grown seed should be used as much as possible for it is acclimated and stands a much better chance of maturing and producing a profitable return.

The man who gets his seed now will be sure to have his supply when the time to plant comes. The man who puts this off may have to take seed of inferior grade or he may have to delay planting several days, which is always more or less disasterous. Then also, this year they tell us that there is a possibility of the late comers having to go without or use an undesirable substitute. See your local dealers or your county agent and make arrangements for all your necessary seeds as soon as possible.

CHANGES MADE IN GUARD COMPANIES

BEMIDJI TRANSFERRED AND SPOONER AND ADA ADDED TO ELEVENTH.

H. Z. Mitchell, formerly captain of the home guard company in this city, now publisher of the Bemidji Sentinel, was in the city on business last week. He took the occasion to watch his old command at the weekly drill and complimented the members highly on their efficiency. Capt. Mitchell also stated that Bemidji was no longer in the 11th battallion, having been transferred to the 14th, along with Cass Lake, Park Rapids, Akeley and Nevis. In its place two companies have been added to the first-named unit which will hereafter be composed of Thief River Falls, Crookston, East Grand Forks, Baudette-Spooner and Ada.

Major Loring is busy making arrangements for the battallion encampment at Redby on July 4 to 7. It is the intention that both the 11th and the 14th shall go into encampment at the same time, which means that a total of about 800 men will report.

The transferring of the Bemidji company leaves the 11th battallion without a band and sanitary squad, deficiencies that will have to be remedied before the time of the encampment.

Every preparation is being made in Washington by Liberty Loan campaigners to get fifteen million subscribers to the third loan. Subscriptions to the second loan now are estimated at about 11,000,000, and to the first loan about four million. Sixteen million subscribers buttons for subscribers have been ordered for the third loan.

The system of honor rolls in each municipality, community or business organization, bearing the names of subscribers and of honor flags, to be given to each city exceeding its quota of subscribers. This method will disclose exactly who subscribes, and who refuses.

Helps the housewife to save butter, lard, suet; improves fried foods and salad dressings.

FOOD Administrator Hoover says that 375,000 tons of animal fats can be saved yearly if one-third ounce less is used per capita per day—and he asks every American to do his share.

He says use vegetable oils in cooking.

And thousands of housewives today are congratulating themselves that they have at last found—in Mazola—a vegetable oil which is even better than the old cooking mediums.

Mazola is a pure product from American corn.

It browns food quickly, preventing that greasiness and sogginess which used to be so prevalent in fried or sautéd dishes.

And since Mazola does not carry taste or odor from one food to another it can be used over and over again—a great force for economy.

If you want an especially delicious mayonnaise or French dressing use Mazola. There is no need to give up salads because of the uncertain supply or high prices of olive oil.

Get Mazola from your grocer in pint, quart, half-gallon or gallon tins. The large sizes are the most economical. Also ask for the free Mazola Book of Recipes—or write us direct.

Your money refunded if Mazola does not give entire satisfaction.

SEND NO FOOD TO THE CANTONMENTS

COUNCIL OF NATIONAL DEFENSE DISCOURAGES SENDING OF EDIBLES.

The sending of foodstuffs to the soldiers at the national cantonments is strongly discourgaed by the government. Very seldom do the articles sent reach their destination in any kind of shape and more often the men are not allowed to eat them even though it arrives in good order. Concerning this the following should prove of interest to those who are anxious to send something in the food line to the men:

"The Council of National Defense desires to inform the people of the country that abundant food is supplied to the soldiers and sailors in the camps and cantonments, and that the sending of food to these men by their friends and families is not in any respect necessary; that the aggregate of food thus privately sent is enormous, and that much of it, having been conveyed long distances in heated express or mail cars is more or less spoiled, and consequently injurious to the health of the men. Therefore, in the interest of the conservation of food and also the health of the men, the Council of National Defense requests the public to discontinue sending foodstuffs to the camps."

WHAT DID YOU?
(Douglass Malloch)

When the war has been won,
When our duty is done,
When our sailors come sailing the foam;
When our men of the air
And the guns over there
All the Nation is welcoming home;
They will come to your door,
The young winners of war,
They will look you up, over and thru,
And in word, or in thought,
They will ask, like as not:
"Well we did quite a lot—
What did you?

When the years have gone by,
And the pages are dry
That the story of struggle record;
With democracy sure,
When we're living secure
In the strength of our soul and our sword—
In that glorious time
To your knee there will climb
Then a boy, or a girl, or the two,
And will say, "Some were brave
On the land and the wave,
Some their ev'rything gave—
What did you?"

Or it may be at night
You will sit by the light
Of a fire in a home that is free.
You will sit all alone
'Neath a roof of your own
In some year of the future to be,
And a voice down inside
Will say, "Some of them died,
Or they suffered their duty to do,
And the ones who could not
Give their all gave a lot,
Gave their money—say, what,
What did you?"

WHISKEY BANISHED FROM CAMP DODGE

BOOZE PEDDLERS ARE SUMMARILY DEALT WITH AT ARMY POST.

That the government is trying in every way possible to keep liquors away from the soldiers in the training camps is certain and should prove a matter of much gratification to relatives and friends of the men. A recent report from Camp Dodge, for instance, contains the following:

"There isn't a boot-legger working inside the Eighty-eighth division cantonment here today. Colonel J. P. Harbeson, commander of the Military Police division, has driven out the last one. He tried to work the camp but was labeled for the federal "pen." Having got away before he was arrested, he hasn't come back."

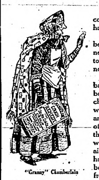
Colonel Harbeson doesn't deny that some of the soldiers have bought liquor downtown in Des Moines but he's giving the "Snake-oil" vender a merry time.

"When the military police began operating, the municipal authorities announced there wasn't enough bootlegging to make mention worth while. They were mistaken, for Colonel Harbeson's men gathered in a regular flock. They are doing their "bit" now—not with the military forces, but in the federal penitentiary.

"Bootleggers all look alike to Harbeson. Those who were operating almost unmolested were picked up as quickly as the "little fellow."

"If a bootlegger gets within five miles of Camp Dodge, he's through with civil life for a while at least. The government takes care of him for a spell of months."

I Am "Granny" Chamberlain



"Granny" Chamberlain

Everybody's friend when they have coughs and colds and their children have croup and whooping cough.

Most everyone knows me. I have been going from home to home for nearly fifty years—always welcome, too, for I never fail in their hour of need.

I have helped young mothers whose babies were choking with croup, and been the comfort of parents whose children tramp to school through the wet winter weather. Many a cold and attack of bronchitis I have warded off, and thousands I have helped through the anxious moments of whooping cough. I have come to the aid of mothers and fathers when they had colds and influenza, and have been a relief to old folks suffering from bronchitis and asthma.

I have had a most varied experience; I go everywhere—among the rich and the poor, in cities and the country.

Now don't forget "Granny" Chamberlain! You will see me often now, for I am going to tell you of my experience and what can be done in your home with

A GOOD FRIEND.

A good friend stands by you when in need. Thief River Falls people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. Mrs. Geo. Williams of 412 Main Ave. N., Thief River Falls endorsed Doan's seven years ago and again confirms the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

"I used many remedies for kidney trouble and backache but had no permanent relief until I bought Doan's Kidney Pills at Curtis' Drug Store," says Mrs. Williams. "This remedy not only cured my back but made me feel better in every way. I am only sorry that Doan's didn't come to my attention sooner." (Statement given September 29, 1910.)

On November 30, 1917, Mrs. Williams said: "During the past seven years Doan's Kidney Pills have done fine work whenever I have used them for kidney weakness. I hold Doan's in the same high estimation, as when I first endorsed them."

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

ONE THING WAR IS TEACHING US

COMMERCIAL AND WOMAN'S CLUB MEMBERS TO DISCUSS VALUE OF CO-OPERATION.

TRY PLAN IN CIVIC WORK

THIS WILL BE GENERAL TENOR OF ALL ADDRESSES ON MONDAY EVENING.

"If co-operation is proving such a success in military matters, why would not closer team work bring about similar conditions when applied to civic affairs?"

This question will be asked and answered at the joint meeting of members of the Woman's club and the Commercial club to be held at the rooms of the latter organization on Monday evening, April 1.

The Pull-Together Spirit.

The success of the different war activities carried on by practically every community in the United States since the country entered the war is evidence of what can be accomplished when the people all pull in one direction, and if this can be done when there is a war raging there would seem to be nothing in the way of its being continued in peace times. If we can get together for the purpose of fighting, why can we not also get together for the purpose of boosting? The different speakers on the program for Monday evening will try to show that we can and should do just this.

The Program.

In order to start the session out with everyone feeling at their best, a supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock and will be for members of the two clubs, their wives and husbands. In order that no one may stay away because of the cost, the price per plate has been placed at 25 cents. The menu will be as follows:

Baked Beans Potato Salad
Meat Loaf
Sandwiches Dill Pickles
Cake Coffee

Immediately after the supper the program of the evening will begin. President C. R. Crandall, on behalf of the Commercial club, will state the purpose of the meeting, being followed along the same general lines by Mrs. H. W. Froehlich, president of the Woman's club.

The Speakers.

The theme of co-operation will then be taken up, the speakers and subjects assigned being as follows: "The Railroads," W. A. Barnard; "The Farmer," Peter Engelstad; "The Churches," Rev. R. L. Barackman; "The Schools, From the Standpoint of the Parent," Mrs. Andrew Bottleson. Prof. J. H. Hay will give a short address on the work of the schools generally.

The program will also include readings by Misses Una Nelson, Dorothy Miller and Laura Stopple. There will be vocal music by a quartet of lady teachers and a piano duet by Miss Blanche Johnson and F. G. Wells.

CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN WILL SOON START

CIVIC CLUBS EXPECTED TO TAKE HOLD OF MATTERS AS USUAL.

Spring clean-up time is not going to wait for the calendar this year. The proper time to begin the agitation for a cleaner and consequently a healthier city has generally been regarded as about the first of May, but this year it will have to be advanced a month.

The members of the Woman's club, collaborating with the Commercial club and city officials, will probably take over the general supervision of the work. The same organization looked after the matter last year and did very well. The fact that the city did not remain as clean as when they finished their contract cannot be charged up to them.

At the next regular meeting of the Commercial club the matter will undoubtedly receive the proper attention. Last year the city furnished the teams for hauling away the rubbish and the boy scouts did most of the raking. The work did not take long and the improvement was very noticeable.

A Premature Jubilation.

There was great rejoicing in all sections of the Northwest on Monday when word was received from Winnipeg to the effect that something like 180,000 Germans had been captured and that the crown prince was among those in the hands of the British, who had also administered a severe beating to the Huns on the west front. The report had every indication of authenticity. Supt. W. A. Barnard of the Soo railroad received the message direct, as did railroad officials in other localities. It gradually began to dawn upon the people that the reports were untrue, however, and a telephone message sent by The Times to the Free Press at Winnipeg confirmed the suspicion that the entire story was a fake. But the rumor would not down, and at about 9:30 in the evening Agent W. E. Baker of the Great Northern received word over the wires of the company that the twin city newspapers had extras on the street confirming the report.

Just what anyone wants to start an idiotic story of that nature for is a mystery. The people are in no mood to be trifled with by yarns of that kind at this particular time.

OFFICIAL WOULD SWITCH POSITIONS

COUNTY TREASURER THEO. J. LIDEN FILES FOR REGISTER OF DEEDS.

Something of a surprise was sprung in the local political situation this week when it was announced that County Treasurer Theodore J. Liden had filed as a candidate for register of deeds. It was generally supposed that he was ambitious to succeed himself in his present position and his action rather upset the calculations.

Mr. Liden's entry into the race for this position leaves three avowed candidates who have thus far announced themselves, with promises of more to follow. The other two are Lars Backe, who filed last week and N. J. Anderson, who has not yet announced himself but who states that he will be a candidate for re-election.

A few hours after Mr. Liden's announcement that he would not be a candidate for treasurer, an aspirant for the place appeared in the person of Bernhard Knutson.

More than two months still remain before the primary elections are held and there seems to be no particular rush on the part of candidates to begin the campaign. Besides those seeking the position of register of deeds, the only ones thus far to get their names before the public are O. E. Berge for sheriff; G. M. Gunderson for superintendent of schools and John Gullingsrud for treasurer.

A Remarkable Sale.

The announcement that the large merchandise stock in the A. H. Pitkin store at St. Hilaire would be sold at a great reduction in order that the business might be closed up, brought buyers fromo long distances. Friday was the opening day of the sale and people who were present say it was impossible to accommodate the crowds who wished to be waited on. The store had always been a popular trading point for residents in the southern end of the county and the exceptional bargains offered attracted them in large crowds. As will be seen by the big double page advertisement in this issue, the sale will be continued until the stock has been disposed of—which will not take long at the rate it is going. Mr. Sternberg, who is in charge, says that he has never conducted a more successful sale.

Police Court Record.

Matt Urschitz of Cloverleaf township was on Friday brought before Judge N. W. Tarrant on a charge of assault, the complaining witness being Jacob Kohler. During an altercation over some road work it is alleged that Urschitz threatened Kohler with a rifle. Accused was bound over to the grand jury and placed under $200 bonds for his appearance.

Troubles originating at a Red Cross meeting held in Bray township on March 10th were aired in police court on Saturday. Mike Ault made complaint that on the above date, while a meeting was being held at what is known as the Ridge school house, Ed. Osgood, Forest Hedrick and John Nelson threw him out of the building. The trouble seems to have started over whether or not a dance should follow the meeting. The defendants were fined $5 and costs. They gave notice of appeal to the district court.

But Two Days Remain

By paying your subscription to The Times before Saturday night you will get the paper at the old rate of $1.50. After that the price will be $2.00 per year to everyone.

MONEY ARRIVES JUST IN TIME TO RELIEVE SITUATION IN MANY DISTRICTS.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson has this week sent to the various city, township and village treasurers in the county the amount of their share of the March 1918 general tax apportionment. FIRE CAUSES LOSS OF ABOUT $5,000

TWO DWELLING HOUSES OWNED BY H. M. HICKS ARE TOTALLY DESTROYED

A fire supposed to have started from an overheated stove totally destroyed two dwelling houses owned by H. M. Hicks at the corner of Seventh street and Dewey avenue about nine o'clock Tuesday evening. The blaze started in the house occupied by the family of H. N. Roisum and so rapidly did the flames spread that it was impossible to save any of the furniture. Before the fire department could get into action the flames had spread to the another building on the north, also owned by Mr. Hicks.

The buildings were valued at about $3,800, partly insured. Mr. Roisum lost everything in the building occupied by him and has only a small amount of insurance. Among the articles destroyed was a valuable piano which had been installed less than two weeks ago.

LAST OPPORTUNITY TO SAVE 50 CENTS

AFTER SATURDAY THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE OF THE TIMES GOES TO $2.00

Out of The Times' list of more than 4,000 subscribers, comparatively few will have to pay $2.00 for the paper during the first year that this price prevails. April first is the date set for advancing the subscription price of the paper fifty cents per year and during the past week more than 300 subscribers have renewed in order to get in under the old rate.

Saturday is the last day on which this is possible. After Monday morning the paper will cost $2.00 per year, to old and new subscribers alike. By paying before Saturday night anyone can still get The Times at the old rate of $1.50.

In case your subscription runs out in the near future you cannot save 50 cents any easier than by renewing now.

Practically all newspapers of any importance in this section have been forced to raise their subscription rates in order to keep pace with the rising cost of labor and materials. Most of these publications are smaller than The Times and the cost of producing them correspondingly less, but even these could not longer hold out against the constantly increasing cost.

In order to give everyone a chance, two months were allowed to elapse after the first notice before the new rate went into effect. This time will have elapsed on Saturday night.

First Robins Numerous.

There are so many reports of the first robin having been seen that there can hardly be a doubt but that the bird is in our midst. George Doland says that he has seen a number of the harbingers of spring and others bear out his statement. Judge Tarrant says he has not happened across any robins, but that crows have been numerou in his section of town. He does not claim to know what their appearance may portend.

Back to Former Quarters.

Lazarus Gill, the clothier, will begin moving into his former quarters adjoining the First National bank on Third street the first of the week. Mr. Gill has been occupying the Union block since the work of remodeling the banking house was started last spring.

The re-arranged building will provide one of the best store rooms in the city. Instead of the former "L" shape which provided for an entrance on LaBree avenue as well as on Third street, only the latter will be used hereafter.

New shelving and furniture have been installed throughout and a skylight put in to supplement the front and rear windows, making the store one of the brightest and most attractive in the city.

HUN OFFENSIVE IS WEAKENING

TERRIBLE PUNISHMENT INFLICTED ON GERMANS BY ALLIED FORCES.

RETAKE LOST POSITIONS

AMERICANS FIGHTING BY SIDE OF BRITISH AND FRENCH ON WEST FRONT.

The latest news of the war situation on the western front is to the effect that the British delivered a counter attack between the angle of the Ancre and Somme and recaptured Morlancourt and Sailly-le-Sec. Allied attack pushing forward steadily with reinforcements coming up rapidly.

German Loss 400,000.

Washington publishes the following as an estimate of the number of men engaged and the casualties in the "greatest battle of the greatest war," based on the best obtainable information but not officially confirmed.

Germans—Total men engaged in the past six days, 1,250,000. Total number engaged daily, 850,000. Total casualties, 400,000.

British—Total number men engaged in past six days, 600,000. Total number engaged daily, 500,000. Total casualties, 150,000. (Including German claimed 45,000 prisoners.)

The estimated casulties include killed, wounded and missing.

The Offensive Fails.

Germany's supreme effort to break the Allied front in the West apparently is no nearer accomplished than on the day the drive started, and she is estimbated to have lost 400,000 men during less than a week's fighting.

And further than that, at the beginning of the seventh day of the great struggle her forces, the pick of all her troops, are held at every point along the entire front, according to early advices from Paris.

Allied Front Still Unbroken.

The Entente line, as it now runs, with British, French and Americans standing together presents an unbroken front throughout the battle area.

There has been a slowing down in the German pressure north of the Soomme, except prossibly in the vicinity of Albert, where the British are holding doggedly.

On this front, Field Marshal Haig reports, American troops are now aiding the French and British.

The identity and size of the American units have not been disclosed, but it is probable they form a part of the Franco-American reserves on the Aisne and Champagne fronts.

Germans Now Unable to Gain.

Again and again, where, since on Thursday morning the Germans have been held up by the stiffened English and French lines and the murderous artillery and small gun fire.

She has not given up the attempt, however. Advices from the front indicate her forces are massed for a drive in the region of Roye and Noyon in an effort to break through there, as a preliminary to a rolling up process either to the north or to the south.

As against the chances of her accomplishing this purpose may be counted the factor of forewarning for Allies. There seems no doubt now as to where the heaviest stroke is to fall and the opportunity is offered of disposing the vast allied reserve forces to meet it—an opportunity lacking in the earlier stages of the drive.

Russians Again Active.

The Germans are apparently finding their position in the east insecure. Odessa, the Black sea port upon which they relied for shipment of sorely needed grain from the Ukraine, has been recaptured by the Bolshevik and Ukrainian troops, the Russian semiofficial news agency reports.

OUTLINE VALLEY FARM PROGRAM

COUNTY AGENTS MEET—FORMULATE GENERAL WORKING PROGRAM.

SEED TESTING IMPORTANT

TWELVE SEED PLOTS WILL BE STARTED IN PENNINGTON COUNTY THIS FALL.

County Agents and Farm Bureau members from the thirteen counties comprising the Red River Valley held an important conference in Crookston on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. All the counties except Norman were officially represented. It was a busy two days session and many important matters were brought up for action.

Recommends New District Board.

Among other things recommended by the agents and their supporters was the establishment of a fifth district selective service board, which should be located in the northwestern corner of the state so as to give the young men of the Red River Valley a better chance to appear before the board in person when making their appeals and also in order that a board familiar with the farming operation of the valley could act on claims with a more sympathetic understanding of the real needs of the section.

Program of Work.

A general program of work was adopted and will be followed by all agents in the valley. This included co-operation with the government in all work incident to the war; the improvement of the livestock industry with special reference to the introduction of cattle and sheep, and the testing of cattle for tuberculosis and butter fat production, improvement of crops with special emphasis laid upon the production of pure seed and the standardizing of all crops.

For Pure Seed.

Pennington county has secured pure seed enough for twelve plots and with this start it should not be long until a large majority of the farmers can have pure seed for their own use and some to sell on the market.

Better Potatoes.

Potato seed selecting and treating demonstrations will play an important part in the program of every county agent in the valley. About forty such plots have been arranged for in this county.

Livestock Sale.

The proposition of an annual livestock sale was indorsed by the agents, and committees were appointed to take the matter up with those interested in each local community. It is thought that such a sale would mean a great deal toward the introduction of more and better stock. A show may also be held in connection with the sale.

The Labor Problem.

The labor situation received considerable attention and a plan was developed which, if accepted by the war department will supply all necessary labor on the Red River valley farms at the time when it is needed. This involves the utilization of all home labor and does not consider the introduction of labor from outside sources in any considerable numbers.

SENIOR PLAY IS A ROLLICKING COMEDY

"IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE" TO BE PRESENTED BY CLASS ON APRIL 12.

Rehearsals for the senior class play to be given at the Auditorium on the evening of Friday, April 12, are going forward with much enthusiasm and every promise of final success. The medium chosen as the vehicle for displaying the thespian ability of the class members is "It Pays to Advertise," and while few will be found to attempt a denial of the assertion contained in the title, yet the fact is brought home in a manner both forcible and amusing in the production. This comedy was for a long time one of the greatest comedy successes of the legitimate stage and is rather an ambitious undertaking for amateurs, but as the material at hand this year at the high school is said to possess unusual ability there is no question but that the piece will be carried off in a highly satisfactory manner. Following is the cast of characters.

Mary Grayson—Lois Wold.
Johnson—Albert Crown.
Comtesse De Beaurien—Alice Lee.
Rodney Martin—Alf. Krohn.
Cyrus Martin—Olaf Thuraldson.
Ambrose Peale—Charles Prichard.
Marie—Hertha Chynka.
William Smith—Wilbur Roth.
Miss Burke—Dorothy Loen.
George McChesney—Elmer Smith.
Charles Bronson—Ray Hanson.
Ellery—Rufus Barackman.
Act I—Library at Cyrus Martin's.
Act II—Rodney Martin's office.
Act III—Same as Act. I.

Mrs. B. J. Horne left yesterday for her home at Shaunavan, Sask., Canada, after a visit of four months duration with relatives and friends in this city.

A Significant Inquiry.

County Auditor Anderson who is also chairman of the county registration board, yesterday received notice from the adjutant general of the state to send at once the number of men in his jurisdiction who were included in Class 1 of the draft regulations but have not yet been called. No information was given as to what this order might portend but it is probable that it means that a call will be made in the near future.

New Bank Opened.

The new Farmers' and Merchants' State bank kept open house all day Saturday and a large number of people visited the handsome new quarters in the McGinn building. They all seemed highly satisfied with the place, which provides a home of which any institution might well be proud. The rich quartered oak wainscoting and furniture shows up to excellent advantage in the large, well-lighted room, while every department is most conveniently arranged for the transaction of business.

THIEF RIVER BOYS ARE IN BIG BATTLE

FOUR OF THEM ARE KNOWN TO BE AMONG FORCES FIGHTING ON WEST FRONT

News from the battle front in France is being watched by the people of this city by more than the usual amount of interest these days. There are at least four Thief River Falls men right in the thick of the fight, and one member of the unit to which they belong has already been reported killed and the captain, Arthur F. Gow of Minneapolis, their battery commander, has been wounded. The Thief River Falls boys are Hardy Bothun, Martin Langseth, Fred Scanlon and Harold Provencher. They are members of Battery F, 151st Field Artillery, and this is one of the units now desperately holding the front against the attacking Huns. Private Ewart G. Nelson of Minneapolis is the only member of the battery thus far reported killed.

SLIGHT DECLINE IN FOOD PRICES

RYE, FLUR AND BUTTER ARE AMONG COMMODITIES REPORTED LOWER

Reference to the table of fair prices for food as suggested by the committee this week will bring to light few changes since the last list was issued two weeks ago.

Rye flour is off 5 cents per sack of ten pounds, otherwise flour and its substitutes are the same except that rolled oats has again been inserted due to the arrival of a supply last week. This substitute now retails at a price not to exceed 9½ cents a pound.

The egg market is still hanging around the 30 cent price, while butter has dropped a few cents, dairy butter retailing at 32 cents and creamery at 45 cents, maximum.

The bottom seems to have completely dropped out of the potato market, due to the fact that seventeen million bushels are still on hand in Minnesota alone, and have to be moved at once so as not to spoil, for if this is permitted the owners are liable to a severe punishment. Several sales have been made as low as 40 cents per bushel, wholesale, for shipment, while the stores have been buying them for as low as a cent a pound. Retailers thus have been able in some instances to offer their trade spuds at less than a dollar per bushel. Indications are that the dollar price will be the maximum retail price from now on, and even that may be lowered within another week.

Salvationists' Tag Day.

"Tag Day" is set for Wednesday, April 3, by the Salvation Army for war service work in France. Mayor Penney gave his hearty consent to this measure taking place in this city. Pres. Wilson, Sec. Baker, Gov. Burnquist and the Minnesota State Board of Defense have endorsed the War Service activities of the Salvation Army. Buy a tag and help the soldiers at the front.

DAYLIGHT SAVING IN EFFECT APRIL 1

The daylight saving was signed last week by President Wilson. It puts all clocks forward an hour on the last Sunday in March and turns them back again the last Sunday in October.

This bill simply means that there will be an extra hour of daylight at the end of the day and has the endorsement of people in all sections of the country. It has been tried in several of the states with marked satisfaction, the change working no inconvenience whatever. The saving in fuel for lighting purposes alone will foot up an enormous sum when applied to the entire country. It will also give laboring people a better opportunity for recreation during the long summer evenings.

ALL READY FOR BIG BOND DRIVE

CHAIRMAN ANNOUNCES LIST OF HELPERS IN NEW CAMPAIGN.

OPENS WITH BIG MEETING

CHIEF JUSTICE ANDREW BRUCE OF NORTH DAKOTA WILL SPEAK ON APRIL 4.

When the big drive for the third Liberty Loan is opened, Chairman George G. Johnson will have everything in readiness as far as Pennington county is concerned. In order to get the campaign started right there will be a big public meeting at the Auditorium on Thursday evening, April 4, at which Chief Justice Andrew Bruce of the Supreme court of North Dakota, will be the principal speaker. Justice Bruce is a man of national reputation as an orator and his appearance here is a high compliment to the people of the county. While the topic chosen by this eminent jurist will deal particularly with the necessity for purchasing Liberty Bonds, his remarks will have reference to the position of the country at this time in general. It is safe to say that this address will be the greatest of the many dealing with patriotic subjects heard thus far in this city.

Justice Bruce will also make addresses at St. Hilaire, Goodridge and Red Lake Falls while in this section, but the exact date and hour for these meetings will have to be regulated somewhat by the convenience of the speaker.

Ready To Start Out.

Chairman Johnson has completed the selection of the district chairmen and their assistants and these are ready to begin the work of soliciting as soon as notification shall have been received that the drive is on. They are all good men and will give their best attention to the work in hand. Following will be the line-up of hustlers:

First District—W. B. Fuller, Chairman.

Town of Norden—John Funnesdahl, John Sjosvold, G. J. Nordhagen, Martin Rust, solicitors.

Town of North—Gilbert Haavi, chairman; T. K. Rynnestad, R. Johnson, east side; Martin Bothun, F. B. Conklin, west side, solicitors.

North half Rocksbury—S. O. Lee, chairman; O. C. Langseth, east side; F. T. Satre and Henry Koop, west side, solicitors.

Town of Silverton—Henry M. Hanson, chairman; Harry C. Wool-

VISITS RED CROSS ASSEMBLING ROOMS

THIEF RIVER FALLS MAN IS ASTOUNDED AT WHAT HE FINDS THERE.

Julien Provencher returned Saturday from a visit to Minneapolis where he had been for the purpose of attending the meeting of the Minnesota Hotel Men's association. F. A. Wilson, food administrator for the state, was present and explained what he expected of the men engaged in the business and was assured that they would do everything in their power to meet the requirements of the government. Mr. Provencher was chosen chairman for Pennington county on the food supply board, which position carries with it considerable responsibility and much work. He must make an inspection of every hotel, restaurant and lunch counter in his jurisdiction at stated intervals and see to it that all are complying with all the regulations.

What interested him most, however, was what he found in making a visit to the state headquarters of the Red Cross. He was just in time to see a part of the results of the drive made for clothing for the Belgians. The goods were being sorted in a large room, 14 women being at work on the task of separating the different classes of garments into piles. After the sorting had been attended to, the material was tied up in bales by men.

The superintendent in charge told Mr. Provencher that the quota for the Minneapolis district as announced by national headquarters, was eight tons, but that more than double this supply had been received. Of shoes, for instance, there had already been shipped 17,000 dozen pairs, or enough to supply over 200,000 people. In a corner of the room were 1,500 dozen more ready for shipment. Piles of clothing were to be seen in every direction, the garments ranging from men's fur overcoats to baby's stockings. The visitor was informed that very little stuff that could not be used had been sent in, and what there was had been sold for rags and the proceeds converted to the use of the association.

Mr. Provencher says that anyone who can visit these rooms will come away greatly impressed with the magnitude of the task assumed and with the spirit in which it is being tackled.

WHEAT THE SAFEST CROP.

So much has been said and written concerning the secondary position occupied by wheat in the price column of cereals that many will this spring seed this crop with the full expectation of taking a loss, when the price is compared with that received for other grains. They will sow wheat as a patriotic duty, and are entitled to a vast amount of credit for so doing.

It is more than probable, however, that in seeding their land to wheat they will be doing a better stroke of business than they think, particularly if the season proves a good one for this particular crop. The subject has been carefully gone over by Prof. Andrew Boss of the University of Minnesota, and he is of the opinion that wheat is the one safe crop for the Northwestern farmer this year. In the University Press News, the official publication of the agricultural department of that institution, he reviews the subject as follows:

"Wheat looks like the most surely profitable grain crop this year.

"The high price of oats and barley at the present time, however, may bring an increased acreage of those crops at the expense of the wheat crop.

"Farmers, therefore, will do well to consider the possibilities of profit from these crops before changing the acreage materially.

"The average yield of wheat in Minnesota for the last ten-year period was 13½ bushels an acre. At $2 a bushel, which is about the price that the average Minnesota farmer can expect for next year's crop, this would bring a return of $27 an acre.

"The average yield of oats for the same period was 30.8 bushels. To bring $27 an acre oats would need to sell at 87.6 cents a bushel next year. The average yield of barley for the ten-year period was 23.6 bushels. To bring $27 an acre barley would need to sell at $1.14 a bushel. While oats are bringing something over 80 cents now, and barley is much higher than $1.14, it is not probable that these prices will be maintained if a normal crop of the small grains is secured, especially if corn should prove to be a good crop. That is why wheat looks like the most surely profitable grain crop.

"Barley and oats must compete with corn as a feed crop. Farmers will prefer to feed corn if it is available. The consequences will be that barley and oats will shrink in price more quickly than wheat, since the price of wheat is fixed at $2.20 in Chicago. Corn probably would be a keener competitor for wheat than the small grains were it not for the seed shortage. If this is overcome corn may yet crowd wheat for the increased acreage. The average state yield of corn for the ten-year period is 32.3 bushels per acre. To bring as much as an acre of wheat, corn must sell at 83.6 cents a bushel. With livestock at present prices it is likely that it will sell for as much as that, even though a normal crop is secured."

OPTIMISM OF THIRD LIBERTY LOAN.

(Pioneer Pres.)

Now for the third Liberty loan, America's next and most valuable contribution to the speedy and victorious termination of the war!

Until Congress shall have agreed upon the plan, the precise terms of the loan are undecided, but the outline announced by Secretary McAdoo will be followed in the main, beyond doubt, and it carries all of the important features.

That the interest rate will be 4½ as expected is the expression of the confidence of the Treasury department, reflecting the financial condition of the country, that the necessary funds will be subscribed without the necessity of adding to the cost to the people by any considerable interest increase. Both of the previous loans were heavily oversubscribed, at a lower rate; that a still more attractive propoition, with a heightened patriotic appeal, will rapidly be taken up is past all doubt.

The first and second loans, under their contracts, will be convertable into the new issue and this, with a wise provision for a sinking fund for the immediate purchase of 4½ bonds will have a powerful effect in keeping the entire war issue at par. But the new issue ends the convertible contract, though there is small prospective necessity, in view of the present situation, of a higher interest rate for bonds of the future.

Expectation was for a larger issue than is announced; but the fact is that the expenditures of the government are less than was contemplated simply because the production has not yet been speeded up to the desired point and the loans to Allies have been below the estimates—conditions which offset each other in the matter of optimism.

The American people will take up the next loan with renewed and confident patriotism. It is the best security on earth and has a still higher value. It is the strongest war support by those who must stay at home to fight. It represents, more than anything else, the unanimity of the country behind the fighting in France. It is America's most potent answer to the threat of the Hun. Every reserve district will do its duty, and the Ninth, as usual, will make a record oversubscription.

IMPORTANCE OF CORN.

While what will continue to be the food article of the greatest importance to the world for some time to come and the cereal upon which victory in the war may even depend, the farmer should not overlook the importance of corn. Not only is corn in itself second alone to wheat in its importance as a food crop, but the use of more corn at home means the ability to ship a greater amount of wheat abroad. C. P. Hartley of the government bureau of plant industry, has sent out a circular dealing with the corn situation in this country at present and our farmers will do well to heed his advice.

"Let us avoid unnecessary risks and delays by now testing an abundance of seed, testing the planter, repairing implements and thus be ready to start the field work early," says Mr. Hartley. "Being ahead with the work gives great advantages over the many difficulties to be overcome this year. In the Northern states farmers with silos should now import strong germinating seed from farther south. With unusually early planting and early cultivation to dry and warm the soil surface such seed is likely to give a better ensilage crop than home grown seed. A good corn crop is too much needed this year to permit even the most reckless to plant untested seed.

"Talk this over with your neghbors and if you wish county agents, state experiment stations, or members of this department to assist in testing seed corn, getting enilage seed, or to make suggestions about planting, cultivating, etc., please explain your difficulties, conditions and desires early."

Not that it makes a great deal of difference either one way or the other, but just for the sake of correcting an error The Times wishes to call the attention of the Middle River Pioneer to the fact that Marshall county does not stand at the head of the list of northern Minnesota communities in the sale of War Certificates and Stamps. The report issued by the state chairman on the first of March shows Pennington county credited with a per capita investment of 76 cents in these securities as compared with 37 cents for Marshall county. This places Pennington 26th on the list while Marshall stands in 57th position. At that Red Lake county has both its neghbors beaten, the average there being $1.26 for every man, woman and child.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

About a dozen business men of Warren and Fergus Falls were interesting themselves in the culture of cranberries on a large swamp near the first named town.

Ira C. Richardson received a letter from Congressman Frank M. Eddy informing him that the free homestead bill stood a fair chance of becoming a law.

The statement issued by the auditor and treasurer of Red Lake County showed that the cash in the treasury amounted to $13,843.82. The county revenue fund contained $77.74 and the school fund $39.60.

A fine boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Stebbins.

Herbert Fuller was making some improvement on his farm residence and was being twitted because all the preparations seemed rather elaborate for bachelor quarters.

Misses Theresa Bourque, Lizzie Brown, Nellie Curran and Alice Carey were successful in passing the teachers' examination held at Red Lake Falls and expected to teach in the village the following term.

The Meehans were experiencing trouble in getting permission to place piles in the river for the purpose of holding their log booms and the citizens sent a long petition to Washington requesting that the permission be granted.

TEN YEARS AGO.

Sam Clark, a former Thief River Falls newspaper man, announced himself as a candidate for mayor of Minot, N. D., to which city he moved from here.

The statement of the Thief River Falls creamery for the month of February showed that 21,391 pounds of cream were received and that the total butter shipped amounted to $1,946.25. The patrons were paid $1,918.91. The "big check men" were Peter Engelstad, who received $185.14 and Fred Copp, whose check was for $53.18.

It was announced that funds for the construction of a railroad from Thief River Falls to Roosevelt had been assured and that the work would start in a short time.

The county had appropriated money for the building of a plank road across the worst portions of the main traveled route between the city and Grygla and the inhabitants of the latter village were very much pleased thereat.

Dr. P. L. Vistaunet and John Anderson were delegates to the district Socialist convention held at Crookston on Tuesday. T. T. Braatland of Ada, was nominated.

Martin Bothun purchased the property of A. Clements in the northwestern section of town and announced that he would continue the business.

Capt. Peter Eberhart and a crew of men put the finishing touches on the new launch "Ponemah" during the week. The boat was 24 feet long with a beam of six feet and equipped with gasoline power. She was intended for use on the Red Lakes for the purpose of carrying supplies to the "Mud Hen."

WAR GARDEN TOMATOES
By F. G. Wells
Agricultural Instructor, Thief River Falls High School.

You will want a few tomato plants in your war garden. Ten plants should produce all that is needed for the average family table, as well as a generous supply for canning and pickling. The tomato is a tropical plant, and requires a longer season for growth than the common vegetables. For this reason it should be started indoors in "flats" or shallow boxes. It may also be sown in hot beds.

Do not experiment with untried or new varities. While they may produce well and are always interesting to the older gardener, they are more or less uncertain and this year of all years, uncertainties are to be avoided. The Minnesota State Horticultural society recommends the Earliana, Bonny Best and John Baer as being the best and most successful varities of early tomatoes. For a late tomato, plant the Stone variety.

Sow the seeds in a shallow box and do not put it off any longer. The soil for this purpose should be fine, black and not sticky. Placing an inch or so of coarse gravel or cinders in the bottom of the box is a good practice. It insures good drainage. Cover this with about two inches of fine soil. See that the soil is level and fairly compact. A short stick may be used in leveling and firming the soil, pressing it down at the sides and ends a little more firmly than elsewhere. Sprinkle on the seeds and cover them with a quarter inch of fine soil. An old sifter, or a small frame covered on one side with wire netting, is excellent for this purpose. Wet the soil carefully so as not to wash out the seeds. A whisk broom will answer very well if you have no prinkler.

Some say to set the box over the stove, or some other place where it is quite warm. This will cause the seeds to germinate in shorter time, but if left too long it will bring about a rapid and slender growth which with tomato is undesirable. A slower, steadier growth under cooler conditions will produce a shorter, more stalky plant much better suited for transplanting and production. It is better to set them in a window where the sun will supply all the heat that is good for them. A piece of glass placed over the box will keep in both heat and moisture, and render frequent watering unnecessary. An excess of water shuts out the air and retards or stops germination.

When the seedlings appear above ground, turn the box around frequently so that the plants will not grow all to one side. On warm, sunshiny days, the boxes may well be set outside, and taken in at night until they are older.

When the plants are about three inches high, and have developed their first pair of true leaves in good shape, they should be transplanted. If you will melt the tops and bottoms from a few tin cans you will have some inexpensive and desirable containers for your plants. Retain as much soil as possible about the roots in making the transfer. Set the plants a little deeper in the can than they were in the box. Press the soil firmly about the roots. These cans may then be set on a board or shingle and kept in the sunlight or open air whenever the weather will permit.

The cut worm is often responsible for much damage in the garden. They work just beneath the surface, feeding on the tender young stalks of various plants, including the tomato. When your plants are ready to be set out in the garden, simply slip the tin can up away from the soil, set your plant some two or three inches deeper than it was in the can, and leave the can as a collar, extending into the soil a little over an inch. This will effectually protect the tomato from cut worms. Before setting out the plants in the garden, they should be hardened off. Gradually subject them to out door conditions, and water them less frequently.

Cabbage may be handled in much the same way as the tomato. The Wakefield and Copenhagen are recommended early varities, while the All Season, Danish Ball or Holland varieties hold first place among the late varieties.

The high school department of agrinculture is growing a limited number of tomatoes and cabbages. These plants will be available for war gardens without charge upon proper application. If you cannot grow your own plants, send in your name and the number you will need, but do it immediately as the number of plants available for such distribution is necessarily limited.

Sergt. Johnson on Furlough.

Sergt. Albert I. Johnson, last year science instructor and athletic coach at the Thief River Falls high school, was in the city a few hours on Tuesday enroute to his home in Dakota, where he will be permitted to spend a few days with his parents before again joining his company at Allentown, Pa. Sergt. Johnson has been putting in the winter at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., as a member of the hopital corps and looks fit as a fiddle. As Allentown is an assembling point for troops before debarkation he expects that his outfit will soon be ordered across.

Going Out of Business.

Val Yager, who has an announcement in another section of this paper, states that he will dispose of his stock of confectionery and kindred lines at once because of the merchandising conditions brought about by the war. Mr. Yager, who is one of our pioneer residents, has not yet decided upon his future course but finds that between the rather unsettled conditions and the difficulty in securing the kind of help required finds conducting a store rather a hard proposition. The place has been enjoying an excellent business and offers a good opportunity for anyone contemplating engaging in this line.

WHEAT AT $2.50 IN SENATE BILL

WOULD ALSO MAKE NO. 2 NORTHERN THE BASIS FOR GRADING.

HOLDS GOOD UNTIL MAY 1

PRICE TO BE PAID AT LOCAL MARKETS INSTEAD OF AT TERMINAL POINTS.

The agricultural appropriation bill, with the Gore amendment increasing the 1918 government guaranteed wheat price to $2.50 was passed last Thursday by the Senate. It now goes to conference between the two houses where there will be another fight over the wheat price.

The wheat price amendment was adopted, 49 to 18, after five days' discussion.

Makes No. 2 Basis.

Besides increasing the Federal guarantee, the Gore amendment also provides that the guaranteed prices for the 1918 crop shall be based on No. 2 Northern wheat, or its equivalent, instead of the No. 1 variety, as under existing law, and shall be payable to local elevators or railway markets, instead of at the principal primary markets, as is done now. These provisions are designed to further increase the farmers' returns.

Another provision is that the guaranty shall not be dependent upon action of the President, but "is hereby made absolute and binding until May 1, 1919."

Will Be Opposed.

Acceptance of the amendment by the House is hoped for by its champions. But despite the overwhelming vote by which the Senate wrote the price increase into the bill, administration leaders do not believe it could prevail finally if, as has been reported, the opposition of the food administration would cause a presidential veto.

Senators Nelson and Kellogg of Minnesota both voted for the bill.

Prairie Fires Raging.

Word reached the city last evening that prairie fires had caused considerable damage to the property of farmers living west of the Pembina trail, just over the line in Polk county. Ole Moreau lost his barn, four calves and considerable other property, while the barn of John Johnson was also destroyed. The latter was not at home at the time. William Tripp lost a carload of hay which he had just completed baling the day previous. The fire is said to have started along the Jefferson highway at a point some miles south of the junction of that thoroughfare with the road leading from Thief River Falls. At last reports the fire was still burning, being driven northward by the prevailing winds.

COUNTY WILL PAY NO WOLF BOUNTIES

NO FUNDS AVAILABLE BECAUSE OF STATE'S FAILURE TO APPROPRIATE.

Owing to the lack of appropriation by the state the bounty of $7.50 which the county has been paying on wolves will be temporarily discontinued. Two years ago the state failed to make the necessary appropriation to cover this amount but the attorney general held that the county must pay this amount anyway and wait for their money from the state until the necessary appropriation is made. Under this order bounties amounting to about $[illegible] have been paid by the county which amount the state is now owing.

Some time ago Roseau county refused to pay the wolf bounties on the grounds that as the state had failed to make the necessary appropriation they were compelled to pay them out of the county funds and wait until the state was willing to repay them. The case was first carried to the district court which ruled with the attorney general that they must be paid. The case then went to the supreme court which reversed both previous rulings and ruled that the counties could not be compelled to pay these bounties as long as there were no state appropriation to cover them. In accordance with this ruling Pennington county will no longer be able to pay these bounties. It is thought that the proper appropriation will be made at the next session of the legislature in which case the paying of wolf bounties will be recontinued.

Recognition For Workers.

The Northern Division, in an effort to reward the services of those women who have given generously of their time for Red Cross purposes, has decided to adopt the following rules regulating the use of the Red Cross emblem and the service stripe.

It has been decided that at the end of 32 hours spent in service in the Red Cross work-room a woman may wear upon her apron the Red Cross emblem, and at the end of 72 hours she may add a red cross to the front of her cap, and at the end of 128 hours she may wear a service stripe about two inches long and one-half inch wide on the pocket of her apron, this stripe to be made of some red material.

These regulations govern all hours of service spent in surgical dressings workrooms, in hospital garment workrooms and all other workrooms under the supervision and government of Red Cross organizations.

Realizing also that knitters deserve recognition of their services, the following schedule has been adopted to govern work: For each sweater that is turned in a woman shall receive credit for 16 hours of work; for each pair of socks, 14 hours; for each pair of wristlets, 7 hours; for each helmet, 14 hours; and for each scarf, 8 hours. If the chapters in the division, as a whole, will adopt this schedule it will aid in maintaining uniformity throughout the entire division and will eliminate to some extent the friction caused when one chapter gives the same reward for less work than another.

A NEW CREAMERY COMPANY FORMED

OLD CORPORATION AT GOODRIDGE DISSOLVED AND ANOTHER ORGANIZED.

Business men in the village of Goodridge and farmers of the surrounding section met last week and formed a creamery association, the stockholders of the old association first holding a meeting for the purpose of dissolving that corporation. The creamery building now located at Torgerson will be moved to Goodridge, G. C. Gulrud having been awarded the contract. The Goodridge Co-operative Creamery association will be the title of the new organization.

The following were elected as officers: Louis Poppenhagen, president; G. M. Gunderson, vice president; M. J. Stephenson, secretary; Nick Bundhund, treasurer. The above with the addition of A. C. Feragan, will also constitute the board of directors. As a committee to solicit subscriptions for stock in the new enterprise the following were appointed: G. M. Gunderson, G. C. Gulrud, M. G. Thoreson, L. P. Poppenhagen, A. O. Feragan and G. T. Helle.

The eastern end of the county is one of the finest natural dairying sections in the Northwest and while there are many farmers in the neighborhood who believe that the milk and cream of the district could be disposed of to the best advantage at Thief River Falls for the present, yet all realized that it is only a short time until a plant at Goodridge is advisable.

SEEDING GENERAL; CONDITIONS IDEAL

FARMERS ARE TAKING ADVANTAGE OF UNUSUALLY EARLY SPRING.

It is many years since the farmers of Northwestern Minnesota were able to get under way with their spring work as favorably as at present. Seeding has been general for a week and the end of the month will see this work farther advanced than for many years past at this time. In fact, old-timers have hard work remembering back to when it was possible to begin seeding as early as the 20th of March, at any rate during the past score of years. Rasmus Oen says that 29 years ago, while he was a resident of North Dakota, the greater part of the seeding was done by the end of March, and a similar season was experienced here twenty-four years ago.

Men who have made a life study of wheat growing say that the farmer who hesitates now is making the greatest possible mistake. There are some who refuse to begin seeding before the middle of April, fearing more cold weather, but they are greatly in the minority. Experience has shown that much of the moisture available in the early spring has evaporated by that time and the rains cannot be depended on until later. For this reason the seed is slow in starting and will not regain the lost momentum later in the season. The best advice procurable is to sow as much as possible and as early as possible.

Cafetaria Lunch.

The Presbyterian Ladies will serve a cafeteria lunch in the basement of the church Saturday, March 30, from 4 to 8 p. m. The lunch will consist of meat loaf, potato salad, deviled eggs, fruit salad, sandwiches, pickles, coffee, cake.

SCHOOL NOTES

Good Friday is a legal school holiday in Minnesota, consequently there will be no session of the schools on that date.

The grammar grades wrote the state high school board examinations last Thursday and Friday. These do not close the work in the common subjects for the year, but are presented at this time particularly for the convenience of the rural schools, many of which close early in the spring.

State diplomas, for excellence in bread baking, were issued this week to the following members of the bread baking club: Evelyn Tessum, Johanna Jacobson, Luella Pederson, Clara Sorenson, Mollie Hermanson, Dorothy Lane, Mayme A. Hance, Christine Newton, Lutrella Paulson, Anna M. Kilan, Ellin Fellman and Wihlma Sund.

The state department of education has notified the schools that pupils ought to be urged to remain in school until the close of the school year. Parents, who take them out, this month or next, with the hope that the children can "make up" the lost work in the fall, are not granting their offspring a reasonable chance to acquire a sound common school training. It is a handicap few overcome; in fact, it is the greatest cause of school failures.

Albert Johnson, former high school teacher and coach, favored the school with a visit last Tuesday. He is now located at Camp Crane, Pennsylvania, where he has charge of X-ray work in the medical department. His visits to the school are always the occasion for some demonstration on the part of the students, by whom he was always held in high esteem.

Mr. Wells' campaign for home gardens is getting well under way. The civic clubs could well afford to get back of this effort and thus aid materially in the accomplishment of a patriotic, as well as an economic, duty.

The senior class play will be presented at the Auditorium on April 12th. Class Day exercises will occur at the same place on Thursday, May 16th and graduation on May 17th. Steps are being taken to secure some outstanding speaker for the closing evening, a person whose position and ability will add character to the commencement event.

Miss Elizabeth Rankin of Warren, Marshall county, visited the normal assistant county superintendent of training departments last Friday.

Next Monday a small class of beginners will be organized at the Washington by the normal training department. The first fifteen to register will constitute the class. The names ought to be reported this week to the high school office or to the superintendent.

Children from homes where some member thereof is known to have some suspicious eruption of the skin cannot be permitted to attend school until some physician has stated there is no danger in their doing so. Neither can pupils remain in school if they have skin ailments. The teachers cannot determine the nature of these troubles and as a matter of safety are instructed to send them home.

Editor, Thief River Falls Times,
Dear Sir:—There is an old saying: Find out what your enemy wants you to do and do the other thing. I don't mean that the elevator man and others who deal with the farmer are his enemies. They would like to see him raise big crops and all that, still I'm sure they don't want to see him follow their example and join an organization.

I notice that they do all they can to keep the farmer from joining the Nonpartisan league. They want to keep him as he is so they can continue doing business with him on their own terms. But if the farmer is wise he will see that if organization is good for millers and packers and others that deal with him it's good for him also.

As every farmer knows mill interests are so well organized he hasn't a word to say about his price of wheat. When he comes to sell his stock it's the same story; the packers stand together and make the prices and all he can do is grumble and take what he gets.

Every move a farmer makes he bumps up against an organization and now that he is taking a tumble to himself and joining the Nonpartisan League so that he can get some of the protection that he needs the word is passed along that the league can't do anything for him except take his money.

I know that no intelligent farmer will be fooled by such stories but at the same time I want to advise my brother farmers that the league is their organization, organized by farmers for farmers, to protect the interests of the farmers. Then the thing to do is to get into the league at once and help build up a power that will put the farmers on their feet.

In North Dakota the Nonpartisan league has elected farmers to fill the legislature and state offices, and those farmers have made laws in the interests of the farmers. Now the farmers are getting fair treatment and would not go back to the old order of things for any price. And mind you, they have only just started to get things for the farmer in North Dakota.

Is there any good reason why the farmers of this state should not get together and build up the league and send farmers to make laws and run the state in the interest of the people? Is there any reason why the farmers of this state should not control the prices of their grain and stock instead of the millers and packers?

The farmers will do all this and much more if they will organize.

Thanking you for the space you have given me in your valuable paper, I am Very sincerely yours, T. H. Bjerke.

Swift & Company's 1918 Year Book

shows that Swift & Company sells the meat from a steer for less money than the live steer cost!

Proceeds from the sale of the hide, fat, and other by-products covered all expense of dressing, refrigeration, freight, selling expense and the profit of $1.29 per steer as shown by Swift & Company's 1917 figures as follows:

Average price paid for live cattle per steer	$84.45
Average price received for meat	68.97
Average price received for by-products	24.09

The Public Forum

Readers of The Times are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas on topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences as well as personalities are barred. All communications must be signed, not necessarily for publication, but in order to show the good faith of the writer. In thus throwing open its columns to the public, The Times assumes no responsibility for the opinions expressed, nor is it to be assumed that their tenor necessarily corresponds with the policy of the paper.

Editor, Thief River Falls Times,
Dear Sir:—There is an old saying: Find out what your enemy wants you to do and do the other thing. I don't mean that the elevator man and others who deal with the farmer are his enemies. They would like to see him raise big crops and all that, still I'm sure they don't want to see him follow their example and join an organization.

I notice that they do all they can to keep the farmer from joining the Nonpartisan league. They want to keep him as he is so they can continue doing business with him on their own terms. But if the farmer is wise he will see that if organization is good for millers and packers and others that deal with him it's good for him also.

As every farmer knows mill interests are so well organized he hasn't a word to say about his price of wheat. When he comes to sell his stock it's the same story; the packers stand together and make the prices and all he can do is grumble and take what he gets.

Every move a farmer makes he bumps up against an organization and now that he is taking a tumble to himself and joining the Nonpartisan League so that he can get some of the protection that he needs the word is passed along that the league can't do anything for him except take his money.

I know that no intelligent farmer will be fooled by such stories but at the same time I want to advise my brother farmers that the league is their organization, organized by farmers for farmers, to protect the interests of the farmers. Then the thing to do is to get into the league at once and help build up a power that, will put the farmers on their feet.

In North Dakota the Nonpartisan league has elected farmers to fill the legislature and state offices, and those farmers have made laws in the interests of the farmers. Now the farmers are getting fair treatment and would not go back to the old order of things for any price. And mind you, they have only just started to get things for the farmer in North Dakota.

Is there any good reason why the farmers of this state should not get together and build up the league and send farmers to make laws and run the state in the interest of the people? Is there any reason why the farmers of this state should not control the prices of their grain and stock instead of the millers and packers?

The farmers will do all this and much more if they will organize.

Thanking you for the space you have given me in your valuable paper, I am Very sincerely yours, T. H. Bjerke.

The Public Forum

Readers of The Times are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas on topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences as well as personalities are barred. All communications must be signed, not necessarily for publication, but in order to show the good faith of the writer. In thus throwing open its columns to the public, The Times assumes no responsibility for the opinions expressed, nor is it to be assumed that their tenor necessarily corresponds with the policy of the paper.

Editor, Thief River Falls Times, Dear Sir:—There is an old saying: Find out what your enemy wants you to do and do the other thing. I don't mean that the elevator man and others who deal with the farmer are his enemies. They would like to see him raise big crops and all that, still I'm sure they don't want to see him follow their example and join an organization.

I notice that they do all they can to keep the farmer from joining the Nonpartisan league. They want to keep him as he is so they can continue doing business with him on their own terms. But if the farmer is wise he will see that if organization is good for millers and packers and others that deal with him it's good for him also.

As every farmer knows mill interests are so well organized he hasn't a word to say about his price of wheat. When he comes to sell his stock it's the same story; the packers stand together and make the prices and all he can do is grumble and take what he gets.

Every move a farmer makes he bumps up against an organization and now that he is taking a tumble to himself and joining the Nonpartisan League so that he can get some of the protection that he needs the word is passed along that the league can't do anything for him except take his money.

I know that no intelligent farmer will be fooled by such stories but at the same time I want to advise my brother farmers that the league is their organization, organized by farmers for farmers, to protect the interests of the farmers. Then the thing to do is to get into the league at once and help build up a power that will put the farmers on their feet.

In North Dakota the Nonpartisan league has elected farmers to fill the legislature and state offices, and those farmers have made laws in the interests of the farmers. Now the farmers are getting fair treatment and would not go back to the old order of things for any price. And mind you, they have only just started to get things for the farmer in North Dakota.

Is there any good reason why the farmers of this state should not get together and build up the league and send farmers to make laws and run the state in the interest of the people? Is there any reason why the farmers of this state should not control the prices of their grain and stock instead of the millers and packers?

The farmers will do all this and much more if they will organize.

Thanking you for the space you have given me in your valuable paper, I am Very sincerely yours, T. H. Bjerke.

LUMBER

Mr. Farmer:

In line with the Government's request for larger crops, you have loyally cultivated every foot of soil you could find. Will harvest time find you prepared to take care of a bumper yield?

Better look over your barns and sheds now; see whether you need more of them or can build additions to the ones you already have. The proper buildings for your stock and storage of crops will materially increase your profits.

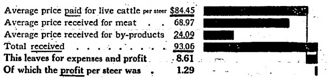
Swift & Company's 1918 Year Book

shows that Swift & Company sells the meat from a steer for less money than the live steer cost!

Proceeds from the sale of the hide, fat, and other by-products covered all expense of dressing, refrigeration, freight, selling expense and the profit of $1.29 per steer as shown by Swift & Company's 1917 figures as follows:



Average price paid for live cattle per steer	$84.45
Average price received for meat	68.97
Average price received for by-products	24.09
Total received	93.06
This leaves for expenses and profit	8.61
Of which the profit per steer was	1.29

There are many other interesting and instructive facts and figures in the Year Book.

We want to send our 1918 Year Book, to anyone, anywhere—free for the asking. Address Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago.

GREAT SIRE HEADS LOCAL DAIRY HERD

HANS ANTON FINDS HE OWNS ANIMAL OF EXCEPTIONAL BREEDING

Hans Anton has just received word that the dam of his Holstein herd bull is among the leading ten cows of the breed, having made a state record which puts her in a class by herself. In a recent issue Hoard's Dairyman had the following to say in regard to this great cow:

"The dam, Johnston Hazeldine Mercedes, freshened at three years six months, and made 21.82 pounds of fat in seven days, and 22,000 pounds of milk, 802.4 pounds of fat in a year, which makes her state champion and gives her a place among the leading ten cows of the breed for her age."

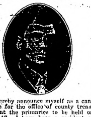
Mr. Anton bought his present sire as a calf from the famous herd of T. H. Skel. The Thief River Falls man is also looking for a number of pure bred females of as good pedigree as his sire and hopes to make the breeding of pure Holsteins an important part of his farming operations in the future.

Word was received this morning from Morlan Bishop, who is at Camp Dodge, stating that he would arrive for a short visit with his parents the latter part of the week. Mr. Bishop is connected with Y. M. C. A. work at the camp.

Mrs. W. B. Faller returned Monday from St. Paul, where she has been for the past sixteen weeks at St. Luke's hospital under the care of Dr. Chas. L. Greene, the heart specialist.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Richards, Frank Richards and Miss Josephine Richards of Red Lake Falls, and Sergt. J. D. Richards, of Camp Dodge, were guests Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Richards in this city.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS
For County Treasurer.



I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of county treasurer at the primaries to be held on June 17. I have been a resident of Pennington county for the past 22 years and solicit the support of my fellow citizens at the primaries.

JOHN T. GULLINGSRUD.

Lyceum Opens Sunday.

After having been closed since early last fall the Lyceum theatre will be opened to the public on Sunday evening under the management of A. J. Lawrence of the Princess, who holds the lease on the place. The opening offering will be Madge Kennedy in "Nearly Married," a comedy of the highest order. With the warmer weather coming on the theatre attendance is increasing rapidly and the Princess is taxed to capacity, particularly on Sunday nights. Later in the season the Lyceum may be used as the special attraction and vaudeville house, but for the present will only be open on Sunday nights with the very highest grade of pictures.

City Council Meets.

But little business outside of the routine was transacted by the city council at the regular meeting on Tuesday evening. The librarian and assistant librarian were each granted an increase of $5.00 per month in salary.

The matter of appointing a garbage collector was easy. The job was let on bids and August Carlson offered to do the work for $48 per month during the eight months of the year and $44 for the remaining time. Martin Anderson's bid was for $75 per month and that of John Meyers for $65. The successful bidder was asked to furnish a bond in the sum of $250 for the faithful performance of his duties.

Louis Provencher Dead.

Louis Provencher, 79 years of age, father of Julien Provencher and Mrs. Jacob Biederman, died at the home of his son in this city at an early hour this morning as the result of an appoplectic stroke sustained last Saturday. He was stricken suddenly, but retained consciousness until this morning, when he simply seemed to fall asleep and passed away.

Deceased was born in Canada and moved with his family to Michigan 43 years ago, coming west nineteen years ago he settled in Minneapolis, where he remained until he came to this city, where he has made his home with his son for the past 11 years.

Besides the son and daughter residing here, he is survived by one daughter residing at Rose Lake, Idaho; one at Wahpeton, N. D., and another in Seattle. One son is a resident of Minneapolis.

The old gentleman was a familiar figure to Hotel Evelyn guests, and had many friends among the traveling men who made that place their headquarters as well as among the people of the city generally. He was a blacksmith by trade during the years he was in active work and retained to the last the rugged physique generally associated with men of this calling.

Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

Are Buying Tractors.

As an indication of the manner in which the farmers of Pennington county are going to meet the government's request for greater acreage and more food products might be quoted the number of tractors that are being purchased. On Tuesday C. Gustafson & Son sold their nineteenth machine of this kind since the first of the year and inquiries indicate that many more would be disposed of before the season closes.

C. D. Gustafson states that he is in hopes that these machines will arrive at about the same time so that a regular display will be possible. This would prove rather an impressive exhibition.

Church Meetings Next Week.

A series of meetings will be held at Trinity Norwegian Lutheran church beginning on the forenoon of Thursday, April 4, and continuing until the evening of Sunday, April 7. Besides the pastor, Rev. A. N. Skogerboe, there will be a number of clergymen from out of the city present, including Rev. J. H. Johanson of Horace, N. D., and Rev. Berger Olson of Greenbush. The pastors of the Norwegian Lutheran churches in the immediate neighborhood are also expected to take part and a meeting of much interest is looked forward to.

Caught Stealing Sacks.

Chief of Police E. O. Erickson on Monday arrested a lad still in his teens for stealing grain sacks from wagons in the rear of the Oen Mercantile company's store. There had been complaint of depredations of this kind having been committed before and the police were on the lookout. The boy was caught red-handed and taken to jail but was released on a promise of good behavior in the future and also because of the unwillingness of the owner of the sacks to prosecute him.

FOR PROTECTION OF COAL USERS

FUEL ADMINISTRATOR URGES BUYING SUPPLY NOW FOR NEXT WINTER.

MUST FURNISH STATEMENT

NO COAL WILL BE DELIVERED EXCEPT ON PRESENTATION OF PROPER BLANK.

Chairman Daniel Shaw of the Pennington County Fuel commission, has received the latest ruling concerning the supplying of coal to consumers. The instructions are supplemental to those sent out by the national fuel administrator and urge that people secure their supplies during the summer months in order to insure delivery and also to assist the transportation companies in keeping their lines clear for other traffic later in the year. The recommendations of the administration are in part as follows:

Order by April 1.

Every consumer should be urged on or before April 1, 1918, to place with his regular dealer his order for his reasonable normal requirements for the year ending March 31, 1919. Such orders must be made in writing and must state substantially the information called for in Regulation c hereinafter set forth. When such orders have been entered, the dealers shall proceed to make deliveries thereon, until each consumer, willing to accept same, has received two-thirds of his normal annual requirements, provided that orders of six tons or under may be filled in full. When all consumers, who are willing to accept it, have received two-thirds of their normal annual requirements, the dealers may proceed to fill the balance of such orders up to normal annual requirements of each consumer. (The provision for two-thirds delivery should apply only to anthracite. With respect to bituminous for domestic use, the dealer may proceed to deliver the consumer's normal annual requirements.) If a consumer already has a quantity on hand, he shall receive only such additional amount as shall make up his normal annual requirements.

Must File Statement.

On and after April 1, 1918, no person, firm, association or corporation shall sell or deliver coal to a domestic consumer who does not first furnish to the person selling or delivering such coal, a statement which the consumer declares in writing to be true, and which specifies (1) the amount of coal the consumer has on hand, (2) the amount of coal he has on order and the name of the person from whom ordered, (3) the amount of coal used by him in the twelve months ending March 31, 1918, and (4) the amount of coal needed to meet his actual and necessary requirements prior to March 31, 1919; provided, however, that this regulation may be modified by any state fuel administrator within his own state under such circumstances and conditions as he may deem proper.

A Limit on Anthracite.

On and after April 1, 1918, and until further notice, no retail dealer shall, unless authorized by the state fuel administrator, deliver or cause to be delivered to any domestic consumer more than two-thirds of his normal annual requirements of anthracite coal until each domestic consumer who has placed his order with said dealer and is willing to receive delivery of the same, has received two-thirds of his normal annual requirements for the year ending March 31, 1919; provided, however, that orders of six tons or less may be filled in full.

Must File Report.

Dealers shall file, with the local fuel administrator, on the first of each month, a statement containing the names and addresses of consumers to whom deliveries have been made during the previous month and the quantity delivered to each.

AUXILIARIES NOW COVER THE COUNTY

HAVE RED CROSS ORGANIZATIONS IN ALL BUT ONE TOWNSHIP.

Every township in Pennington county, with the exception of Cloverleaf, now has a busy Red Cross auxiliary, and the last neighborhood will be organized before the week is out. The rural schools have also responded generally to the request that Junior auxiliaries be formed, although a number of these have not yet officially reported to Supt. E. A. Mostue. It is probable that Pennington county is right now more thoroughly organized for Red Cross work than any of its neighbors and in every instance the units are enthusiastic and doing good work.

German Lady Joins.

When the committee went to the school house in District No. 69, Bray township, to perfect a branch organization of the Red Cross there was found present one who had been born in Germany—Mrs. Henry Luttmer. She has been an ardent supporter of the Red Cross in her neighborhood, having just completed 15 pairs of socks.

Although the Luttmers are the only Germans in the immediate neighborhood, yet they are well thought of by the Scandinavians, who are their friends. It was noted that in signing the petition Mrs. Luttmer had used German writing and was recorded as Frau Luttmer. She can neither read nor write English, yet is only too willing to do her part in the Red Cross work.

The officers chosen at the meeting Friday evening are: Chairman, Joe Glacken; vice chairman, Emil Larson; secretary, J. O. Nyberg; treasurer, Miss Edith Scholin; chairman finance committee, Mrs. H. Luttmer.

Following the organization refreshments were served, this being preceded by the auctioning off of five hats filled with things good to eat, the hats being sold for a total of $10. This money, together with a similar sum raised by charging 25 cents per plate for the supper, went to the Junior Red Cross.

The meeting was in charge of Scott Laird, secretary of the Pennington County Red Cross, who explained the work of the society, nationally and locally. Mrs. H. H. Spink, in charge of the surgical dressings work, exhibited and explained the work being done by the women of the chapter, including knitting, hospital supplies, and surgical dressings. The trip was made in the car of A. S. Sapero, Mrs. Sapero and Mrs. Laird accompanying the others named.

O. A. NAPLIN FOR STATE SENATOR

GRANDBOIS AND DUNCAN NON-PARTY ENDORSEMENTS FOR REPRESENTATIVES.

MATTER WILL PROBABLY NOT BE DECIDED UNTIL AFTER PRIMARIES.

Oscar A. Naplin of Thief River Falls, will be a candidate for the state senate in the 65th district, composed of Pennington, Red Lake and Clearwater counties, going into the primaries with the endorsement of the National Non-Partisan league. The nomination was made at the party's primary in this city on March 12, but was not announced until after the state meeting in St. Paul last week.

At the same meeting Felix Grandbois of Red Lake county and A. M. Duncan of Clearwater county, were endorsed as candidates for representatives.

Well Known in District.

Mr. Naplin will bring to bear in his campaign a wide acquaintance among all classes of people in the district. The members of the Naplin family were among the pioneer settlers of Polk Center township in Pennington county, where a considerable number of them still reside. Mr. Naplin has been a candidate for office but once before, being defeated for county attorney four years ago by less than a score of votes. He early became recognized as a supporter of the Non-Partisan movement in this section.

Both Are School Masters.

The candidates endorsed for the house are both school teachers and farmers. Mr. Duncan is a resident of Bagley, where he is superintendent of schools and also owns a farm. Mr. Grandbois also has farming interests in the northern part of Red Lake county besides his occupation as school teacher.

OSCAR A. NAPLIN.

Congressmen Later.

No congressional nominations or endorsements were made at the St. Paul convention. This matter will be left to the people of the different districts to decide and it is probable that no action of any kind will be taken on this matter until after the primaries in June. This will leave the people of the different districts free to endorse any candidate who may be acceptable, even though he is on the ticket of another party. In cases where the Non-Partisans find it impossible to endorse any other candidate they will still have the opportunity of getting a man acceptable to them on the final ticket by petition.

KROMER LOSES ON APPEAL OF CASE

JUDGMENT REVERSED BY SUPREME COURT IN PERSONAL INJURY ACTION.

The supreme court of Minnesota on Thursday handed down a decision reversing the judgment of a jury in the district court of Pennington county in the case of R. A. Kromer against the Soo railway. The action was brought to recover damages for injuries alleged to have been received while Kromer was an employe at the company's round house in this city. The amount demanded was $15,000 and the jury found for the plaintiff in the sum of $1,000. The company appealed.

In reversing the judgment the higher court holds:

1. The rule that no duty rests upon an employer to inspect simple and common tools to discover defects which arise from the ordinary use of such instruments followed.

2. The rule applies to a steel wrench furnished by the master, which was in good condition when furnished to the employe, and which had been used by the plaintiff, a skilled machinist, in a roundhouse for over two years.

Attorney E. M. Stanton of this city represented the Soo Railway company.

Jones-Zappka.

The marriage of Edward B. Jones of Hennepin county, Minn., and Helen O. Zappka of Alphena county, Mich., occurred at the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. R. L. Barackman on Monday, March 25. The newly married pair expect to make their residence in North Dakota.

WHO'LL LOAN THEIR AUTO FOR RED CROSS PURPOSES?

From time to time there will be occasion to call on owners of autos for errands and other work in connection with Red Cross activities and the officers of the chapter would like to have the names of auto owners who are willing to furnish machines as occasion may require.

Thos. A. Way, chairman, phone 443; T. L. Melgaard, treasurer, phone 1; Scott Laird, secretary, phone 349.

MONTHLY MEETING ON TUESDAY NIGHT

PUBLIC INVITED TO COME AND HEAR REPORTS ON RED CROSS WORK.

Considerable interest attaches to the next meeting of the Pennington County Red Cross Chapter on Tuesday evening, April 2. The regular monthly meeting for Monday night was postponed on account of the combined meeting of the Woman's club and Commercial club members on April fool's day.

Rev. I. T. Aastad will give a talk, and those who have heard him heretofore know that he will again give a good account of himself. Mr. Aastad is patriotic from the ground up and every one knows where he stands. Therefore, anything that he will have to say along the lines of the Red Cross or similar matter will be worthy of attention.

There will be the usual reports of the committees, officers and branches, so that the meeting will be one well worth going to. The public is cordially invited to be present Tuesday night.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following is a list of the unclaimed letters at the post office of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, for the week ending March 23, 1918. If not called for in two weeks from the above date they will be sent to the Dead Letter Branch, at Chicago, Ill.:

Tales of the Far North

Being an Account of My Experiences During the Three Years I Was Employed by the Government in Alaska.

By Dr. F. H. Gambell, Thief River Falls.

A Pleasing Change.

It was delightfully pleasant to get up in a warm room in the morning and to go to a warm bed at night. It was fine to sit down to a table and to have knives and forks and a white plate from which to eat. There was no cold wind blowing and it was not necessary to be eating with the hands clothed in mittens.

A Pleasant Companion.

I had a most delightful partner—a young man from St. Louis who had come into Alaska in quest of gold—Mr. S. Newman Sherzer. I had employed him as my assistant and he proved to be a most companionable young man. While we were at home we took week about cooking. We would surprise one another by getting up new dishes and I can assure you that our surprises were most complete at times. One of Mr. Sherzer's surprises was a new kind of dessert. I knew nothing of it till he brought it to the table and dished it out. It was tapioca pudding and so gummy that he got it from the pan to the dish with great difficulty. We ate it—why, we would eat anything in those days.

Somewhat Mucilageous.

My, how long that dessert lasted! He had poured hot water on the tapioca when he put it in the oven to cook and it was like a dish of gum drops with many little hard centres scattered through every bite we took, only worse. In the first place it was a difficult procedure to disengage with the spoon a portion suitable for ingestion without lifting the pudding, the saucer and all high up into the air. In the second place, after separating a quantity sufficiently large to be called a decent bite, it clung so to the spoon that we employed not only our lips and tongues but also our teeth to disengage it. Even then long strings would cling to the spoon and be in evidence as we withdrew that article from our mouths.

Poor fellow! He had done the best he could do to bring me a surprise, and I was doing the best I could not to discourage him; depending on my active digestive organs to safely carry me through.

Then Came My Turn.

I aroused his curiosity during his cooking week by telling him of the new kind of bread I was to bake when my week came. I had found a recipe in a paper describing the process of making this new bread and I thought with my experience as a cook, extending over more than year and a half, and also as it seemed so simple to make—judging from the directions—I would surely gain his life-long admiration and he would forever after bow down to me as his superior in the culinary department. I could not wait with patience for my turn to come to go into the kitchen—I wanted so to surprise him.

We had had pancakes and biscuits and baking powder bread so much, along with the pilot bread to help out when we were short, that I knew he would hail with delight a change. Anything just a little out of the ordinary in this country, where we soon became accustomed to the few things there were, was worthy of notice and attention.

Very Simple Matter.

My week came. I hurriedly finished my work in the afternoon. I sought the kitchen one hour earlier than was customary and carefully opened up the paper containing the recipe. There it was: mix part of the flour with soda and the other part with an acid. It was all plain as day to me. The two chemicals coming together in the presence of heat would liberate a gas which would undoubtedly produce a light fluffy bread.

The ingredients along with the soda were prepared in one part, while the other mixture with the acid was in the other. The fire was burning fine and the oven was just right. Now came the mixing of the two separate portions. That with the acid was turned into that with the soda with a few turns of the long iron spoon I held in my hand and the mixture was complete. Nothing was said about mixing the two parts thoroughly. I opened the oven door and pushed the pan in to bake. I had to keep looking in once in a while to see it rise. It surely was meeting my expectations.

I called Mr. Sherzer in after I had placed the loaf of "My new kind of bread" on the table. The fact that he had made such a failure of his tapioca pudding had made him very meek for he had said nothing about his cooking for most a week. But now, to see that beautiful loaf of bread waiting there to be cut, and all made by me! If he felt his meekness before he surely showed it now. How I lorded it over him! I kept him waiting for a piece of it as long as I could, hoping that he would ask me to cut it. At last after all the desiccated potatoes were eaten and he had half way finished his fish he said, "Didn't you make the bread to eat?" "Why, yes," I said, and reaching for the knife I placed the loaf in such a position that as the first slice fell the whole of the inside of it would be exposed to his view. How I myself have admired beautiful white bread with the delicate brown crust surrounding it and the little crumbs as they are, broken loose by the knife hanging to the cut surface, making whiter the bread underneath.

Not Quite a Success.

I wanted the bread to have its full effect upon him. I was not disappointed if that was what I really wanted for of all the laughs, he sure broke out with the most uproarous one I have ever heard in my life. He laughed so he could not talk, tears ran down his cheeks. I looked at my bread to see if the cause lay there and I did not need to be told. Of all the looking bread on the inside, that was the worst. Yellow streaks were running through it in all directions. It was more mottled than marble cake and not half so good looking. It was solid in streaks and then there would be stretches where the holes would be so large one could punch one's finger through them. I did not know whether to laugh or cry but his laugh was contagious and we laughed together. Were we to meet today we would laugh over our experiences as cooks.

Mail Day An Event.

It was a great event in our lives when the mail would come. We waited from one mail day to another hoping that this winter the mail from the states would eventually reach us. It was coming in from all the way along the Yukon but it was not till the middle of February that any mail from the states arrived, then came September, October and November mail. What a joy it was to get such late word from home.

Given New Job.

On the first of March I received instructions from Washington to use the deer in transporting the mail from Eaton to Nome. Mr. Sherzer, with a Laplander, carried the first mail going with three deer. On the evening of the 12th of March, the mail reached the station loaded on two long dog sleds. I had my driver and deer all ready to start as soon as the mail was distributed. There were 223 pounds of letter mail and it took us all night to assort it as we had to go over every letter.

Meet in a Storm.

My driver and I left early in the morning, not having had any sleep. We traveled all day in a storm and stopped at an Eskimo house for the night. The next day we were crossing Norton Bay in a terrible blizzard. All at once on that great trackless expanse of ice we peered through the storm and saw Mr. Sherzer coming, heading toward home. What a pleasure we experienced in the few minutes we spent in conversation regarding our trip. We hurried on, he homeward and I away from home.

The storm grew so intense that we traveled by the compass. After dark we reached the opposite shore where we put our deer to moss. We found an old deserted underground house into which we crawled and drew our sleeping sacks in with us. We ate a cold supper, then went to sleep.

A Very Disagreeable Trip.

Early in the morning we were off again, traveling all day and resting at night. It was a terrible strain to keep going through the cold and the storms day after day, having no comfortable place in which to sleep. I had lost my watch so we had no time piece. We would guess in the morning as to the time as we usually started before daylight.

An Early Start.

One night just before reaching Nome, we had gone to bed about nine o'clock. We had a very uncomfortable place to sleep and I awakened and concluded it was about morning. I called to the Lapp and finally got him awake. He went for the deer while I prepared breakfast. After eating we started on and traveled and traveled in the dark. It took so long for morning to come that I concluded that we must have gotten up about eleven o'clock and started on a new days run.

All Nome was delighted on our arrival. The people flocked to the postoffice for their mail.

Finished on Foot.

When I was leaving Nome on my return trip a man came running to me with a letter and asked me to take it. He insisted that I accept a dollar for my trouble, so anxious was he that the letter should get out on that trip. We had crowded the deer so that when I was within thirty miles of home one of them became exhausted and absolutely refused to go farther. I put a bite of food in my pocket, put the mail on my back and tramped the last thirty miles that the Laplander might stay and rest the deer a few days and also that I might reach the station in time to catch the out-going mail.

Deer Proving Worth.

It was the 25th of March that found me home. I had traveled something like four hundred miles over all kinds of roads and during very stormy weather and the whole time consumed was thirteen days. That was considered good and the deer were proving their worth to the government.

Because I gathered the mail from the sled and carried it home, I was able to reach the station in time for the out-going mail, and it was taken by the dog sleds on toward the Yukon where it would pass Dawson, then go on to Skagway, then by boat to Seattle where it would be easily distributed.

A Busy Postmaster.

My duties at the station included the work of caring for the mail. I was the postmaster. The government made my pay the cancelled stamps of the letters received. They were very very few. But my office was the distributing point for all the mail in Northwestern Alaska and my work was hard. When a large load of mail would come in, I would be at work all night and would receive but a few cents for my labor. There was not very much complaint as we were glad to get our mail at any cost.

Mr. Sherzer made two or three more trips to Nome with the mail. He traveled on the ocean ice near the shore on his last trip when the ice in the rivers had long been broken up. Then it was all night traveling and sleeping in the sun in the daytime on the open sleds. The trails would be soft and the sun too warm for the deer to travel.

Gets Mail Contract.

I had made an application to carry the mail to Kotzebue Sound the following winter. This was a point above the Arctic Circle where the boats come in in the spring. I received a notice from the postoffice department at Washington stating that the contract for carrying the mail twice during the next winter to this far distant point had been awarded to me.

My duties were multiple, already, and to add this work to them did not lessen them in the least. Nevertheless I was willing to be doing something and was anxious to see this new country.

FINE OPENINGS FOR MEN ON DRAFT LIST

MINNESOTA TO SUPPLY 1809 RECRUITS FOR SPECIAL MECHANICAL TRAINING.

Minnesota must entrain 1,809 drafted men in the five-day period beginning April 8 under a special induction call issued by Provost Marshal General E. H. Crowder.

The men are to be sent to training schools, including the University of Minnesota, to be instructed for duty as mechanicians in aero squadrons. Voluntary inductions will be permitted until March 20. Only intelligent white men with grammar school education will be accepted. Men engaged in crop production are not eligible.

The order calls for one per cent of the gross original quota, which would leave six men to go from Pennington county. County Auditor T. P. Anderson of the local registration board, says there are not many Class 1 men left and he doubts if he would be able to supply the required number having the educational qualifications needed. If men in the deferred classes can be accepted there is no doubt but that any number could be found to fill the bill and who would be only too anxious to go as the opportunity is exceptional for getting into one of the big paying and most desirable branches of the service. To find the required number of men meeting the educational qualifications and having also the mechanical experience necessary in Class 1 will be an impossibility.

Will Stick By Steenerson.

Red Lake Falls Gazette: It is stated that State Senator R. T. Buckler of Polk county may be the Nonpartisan League candidate for Congress from this district. The Gazette will support Cong. Steenerson for reelection as he has filled the bill and delivered the goods. The farmers of this district will do well to indorse him as he has been their consistent friend at Washington and has worked untiringly for their interests. In the matter of the revision of the grain grades Congressman Steenerson has taken the lead and it is largely due to his insistance that the federal authorities have recently revised the rulings in the interest of the farmer. The Gazette urges the support of Congressman Steenerson not only because he has served the district well at Washington but because he has been right on national issues. He has been a help instead of a hindrance in the prosecution of the war and he has been not only a sayer of patriotic things but what is more important, a doer of patriotic things. His vote on all the big questions of the day has been right and this district may well feel proud of its congressman. We trust that the voters of this district will return him.

Minister Invents Tire.

Rev. I. L. Lassesson, formerly pastor of Trinity Norwegian Lutheran church in this city, now a resident of Hastings, N. D., is the inventor of what is called an "inner metallic armor for tires."

This is a new protection for the inner tube of an auto tire against punctures and blowouts, and is composed of several steel bars, each having 4 sections fastened together in a hingelike manner. These bars are fastened by means of rivets on a ¼-inch thick lining composed of two parts; an outer layer of rubber and an inner layer of canvas, same as in the outer casing. The metal bars are placed crosswise and extend on either side down to the rim, but the lining on which they are fastened extends all around the inner tube, protecting it from contact the metal bars. This metallic armor casing is placed between the outer casing and inner tube.

MORE WHEAT IS GOOD BUSINESS

STATE FOOD ADMINISTRATION URGES LARGER ACREAGE BOTH FOR PROFIT AND PATRIOTISM.

WHEAT PRICE SURE THING

BIG CROP MEANS BACKING THE BOYS WHO HAVE BEEN SENT TO FIGHT.

The Pennington county farmer who this spring plants other grains to the exclusion of wheat will be making a grievious mistake. Wheat is the one product on which the price is fixed, and while coarser grains now look as if they may be the most profitable, a little consideration should convince him that this condition is not likely to hold good at next harvest time.

An Expert's Opinion.

It is the opinion of Andrew Boss, Vice Director of the Minnesota Experiment Station, that wheat looks like the most surely profitable grain crop this year. He states: "The high price of oats and barley at the present time, however, is likely to bring an increased acreage of these crops at the expense of the wheat crop. Farmers will do well to consider the possibilities of profit from these crops before changing the acreage materially. The average yield of wheat in Minnesota for the last 10 year period was 13.5 bushels an acre. At $2.00 a bushel, which is about the price that the average Minnesota farmer can expect to net for this year's crop, this would bring a return of $27.00 an acre. The average yield of oats for the same period was 30.8 bushels. To bring $27.00 an acre, oats would need to sell at 87.9 cents a bushel this year. The average yield of barley for the same 10 year period was 23.6 bushels. To bring $27.00 an acre, barley would need to sell at $1.14 a bushel. While oats are bringing something over 80 cents now, and barley is much higher than $1.14, it is not probable that present prices will be maintained if a normal crop of the small grains is secured, especially if corn should prove to be a good crop. That is why wheat looks like the most surely profitable grain crop.

Barley and Oats Will Shrink.

"Barley and oats must compete with corn as a field crop. Farmers will prefer to feed corn if it is available. The consequence will be that barley and oats will shrink in price more quickly than wheat. Corn probably would be a keener competitor for wheat than the small grains were it not for the seed shortage. If this is overcome corn may yet crowd wheat for the increased acreage. The average state yield of corn for the last 10 year period was 32.3 bushels per acre. To bring as much as an acre of wheat, corn must sell at 83.6 cents per bushel. With live stock at present prices, it is likely that it will sell for that, even though a normal crop is secured."

Prizes For War Gardens.

Three prizes of $10, $8 and $5 each have been offered by the Thief River Grocery Co., for the best war gardens this year raised by employees of that company.

Already several of the employees have taken to using the spade, rake and hoe, and no doubt there will soon be a spirited contest on between the men and women of that institution.

DE LAVAL CREAM SEPARATOR

No matter what anyone may tell you, there is only one speed at which you can turn a separator crank and get all the cream and cream of uniform thickness, and that's the speed indicated on the crank.

Every hand-operated cream separator has the correct number of turns of the crank handle per minute plainly indicated upon the crank handle. Every separator, of whatever make, will do better work at the proper and indicated speed than at any other.

Every one of the NEW De Lavals has a Bell Speed-Indicator. When you slow down, the bell rings. It warns you every time the handle goes around too slowly. You can't be mistaken about it.

That New Ditch Project.

A map of the proposed new judicial ditch traversing the northern boundary of Silverton and North townships shows that with the exception of two dips at the beginning and end it will follow the county line the entire distance. Beginning at the southwest corner of the southwest quarter of section 11 in Silverton township, it runs in a northwesterly direction across the southeast quarter of the same section to the county line and thence westward to the center line of section 12. From this point the route is straight west along the county line to the center of section 12 in the town of North, from which point it follows a cooly in a southwesterly direction to the river.

ADMITS ATTEMPT TO WRECK TRAIN

ANDREW LAGERQUIST OF KARLSTAD SIGNS SWORN STATEMENT IN JAIL.

GIVES NO REASON FOR ACT

BROKE INTO OIL HOUSE AND OPENED ALL VALVES AND FILLING PIPES.

The Lagerquists, father and son, are still in the Kittson county jail at Hallock awaiting a hearing on the charge of having attempted to wreck a passenger train on the Soo about two weeks ago. Another son, charged with being a deserter from the army, has also given himself up and is awaiting action by the military authorities.

Admits His Guilt.

Andrew Lagerquist, the youngest of the boys and the one accused of having attempted the derailment at Karlstad, has confessed to the authorities his version of the affair tallying closely with the account published in The Times. The confession, which does not refer in any way to his having mutilated his hand purposely by blowing the fingers off with a gun in order to escape military duty, is as follows:

Used Iron Spike.

"I, Andrew Lagerquist, being first duly sworn, do say that I am about 25 years old, a single man, and that I live with my father and mother about one and one-half mile northeast of the village of Karlstad, Minn., on their farm. That on March 3rd, about p. m. I left home and came to Karlstad about 4:30 p. m. on the same day. After arriving in said town I went to Andrew Nordin's pool hall, where I remained practically all the time after my arrival until about 1:30 a. m. Monday morning, March 4th, 1918. At about 1:30 a. m. of that day I left the pool hall and walked in a southeasterly direction toward the Soo line tracks near the station platform. I followed the tracks towards the south and when near the stockyards I picked up and carried with me a half inch boat spike about 10 inches long. About 100 feet further south I found and picked up a grab-iron which had been used on a box car. I took this iron and also the boat spike with me for the purpose of breaking the pad-lock on the east main line passing-track switch on the north side of the main line.

Blew Out Switch Light.

"When I came to the said switch, I broke the lock on same with the aforesaid boat spike and grab-iron. I state that the lock which I then broke is the same as I have now examined. After breaking and taking out the lock from the switch stand, I threw the switch for the side-track. After throwing the switch I lifted the top cover of the switch-light and blew out the light. I knew, at the time of doing so, that train No. 109 on the Soo line was due to arrive at Karlstad at 4:10 a. m. The reason that I blew out the switch-light was because I knew that the engineer on the coming train could not tell that the switch had been turned when the light was out. I can give no reason or excuse for turning the switch. I further state, that I threw the switch clear over as far as it would go and knew that it was properly set for the siding.

Opened All Oil Tanks.

"Before leaving the switch I threw the lock towards the south into the old gravel pit near the switch, the two irons I carried up the bank on the north side of the switch and laid them on top of the bank. I then walked back towards town along the side track and at the loading platform I picked up a three-eighths inch iron rod about 18 inches long which I carried with me and stopped at the Standard Oil station. I walked up to the oil house and with the aforesaid iron rod I broke the pad-lock on the door and went inside the building. I then opened all the kerosene valves, after which I went outside to the big tanks near by and opened all the valves attached to the pipes on said tanks. I then went back inside the building and pulled down one of the filling pipes. I saw that the kerosene was flowing out of the pipe. I then walked north along the side track to where it intersects the state road and from there I went home at once.

"I make the above statement of my own free will and without compulsion of any person or persons and do solemnly swear that the above facts are true."

EIGHT MILLIONS TO BE SPENT ON ROADS

THIS IS ESTIMATE FOR MINNESOTA DURING THE YEAR 1918.

The B. F. Goodrich Rubber company of Akron, Ohio, has been attempting for months to get a line on the probable amount of road work to be done in the country this year. Reports from the best sources to be found places the actual cash expenditure for highways at $263,096,610 as compared with $144,298,860 during 1917. The Goodrich estimate places the expenditure, roughly speaking, at $2.35 per capita.

The report places Minnesota's probable expenditure at $7,700,000, as compared with $3,884,926 last year. The national necessity brought about by the war is in a great measure responsible for this great increase in road money appropriations. The railroads are swamped with traffic and the auto truck is being requisitioned to help out. This means that roads must be in shape for travel during all seasons of the year. Government calculations are to the effect that with improved roads motor trucks will be in position to carry practically 200 per cent more freight than the railroads.

EVERY HOUSEHOLD MUST SAVE SUGAR

ONE TEASPOONFUL LESS EACH DAY MEANS TREMENDOUS TOTAL IN YEAR.

Despite the fact that a car of sugar was received in this city last week by the Thief River Grocery company, there still is urgent need for everyone to save sugar—and this will be true as long as the war lasts. The government, thru the Food Administrators, has promised sufficient sugar for the canning season, but only if the people are careful at other times. In this connection the recent bulletin sent the hotels and restaurants on sugar is interesting enough to warrant space and it is given for the benefit of the general public. It says:

Take the sugar bowls off the table.

Three pounds of sugar per month per person is the limit. This allowance covers sugar in cooking and otherwise.

Three pounds per person per month equals 48 ounces.

Forty-eight ounces per month equals 1½ ounces per day.

One and one half ounces per day equals 6 teaspoonfuls.

Six teaspoonfuls per day equals 2 teaspoonfuls per meal.

Teaspoonful Per Meal.

This means one teaspoonful per meal for a cup of coffee or tea. Or one teaspoonful for grapefruit and berries. Or two teaspoonfuls for cereals.

Have the waiter ask the patron if they wish sugar when taking the order.

Do not serve sugar with sliced bananas or oranges. Most hotels are discontinuing serving sliced bananas and oranges.

Cut down the sugar in pastries, pies, puddings, etc., to half or less.

Remember, if you do not save sugar you will not be able to get any sugar at all.

One teaspoonful of sugar wasted by each person in the United States every day means 770 tons wasted a day, or 281,050 tons wasted a year, at ten cents a pound this waste would amount to $56,210,000, enough to buy a fleet of aeroplanes numbering 4,000—and the French say that with about 12,000 aeroplanes the Allies can win the war.

It is time to use wheat flour substitutes with the greatest care. It is time to watch for those who avoid the rules intentionally and deliberately, and report them. It is time to save as never before—the meats, and fat, and sugar.

WIDE ASSORTMENT OF BOOKS SENT IN MOST OF READING MATTER SENT IN IS ACCEPTABLE, HOWEVER.

The gamut of literary taste is run by the contributions that have been made thus far to the Public Library's collection of books for soldiers and sailors. The variegated assortment of more than three hundred books in the library basement now awaiting shipment to training camps, includes Laura Jean Libby's "He Loved But Was Lured Away" and ranges thru such classics as "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and "Robinson Crusoe," all the way to heavy theological works.

In spite of the Library Board's injunction that only such books be given as would appeal to man's taste, ill-advised donors supplied many juvenile stories and pieces of trashy fiction. All such works will be weeded out before shipment is made. The larger share of the donations, however, comprise standard works of fiction of the kind that fighting men will welcome.

Telephonic requests by members of the library board to persons living in all parts of the city brought forth promises of generous contributions by the end of the week. Appeals made thru the public schools also are bringing in a steady stream of books.

Those in charge of the work expect to be able by the end of the week to place from five hundred to one thousand pieces of high grade reading matter at the disposal of the men in training or now at the front.

All persons wishing to donate books are asked to wrap them and bring them to the public library not later than Saturday of this week.

Plugged Hole in Dam.

The electric light plant is again being operated by water power after having depended the greater part of the winter on the oil engines. The dam is now serving its purpose in good shape, very little water escaping. There was a considerable leak at a point where the new construction joins the old dam, but this was fixed by tying together a number of sacks of cement and sinking them over the opening.

The dam has furnished but little power during the past winter, but the conditions were unusual. Water powers all over the northwest proved inadequate, many of them for the first time since their installation. The big dam in the Ottertail river has only given half service, and the power generated there is ordinarily sufficient to meet the lighting requirements of 20 cities. The same trouble was experienced nearly everywhere, so that Thief River Falls is no exception.

Croup

"I don't think there is a more anxious time for parents than when their children have croup. Without they are prepared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they must wait for the doctor and listen to the choking, metallic cough and watch their little one gasping for breath.

You know the great danger of croup is the formation of a false membrane in the larynx, and until this is expelled relief cannot be obtained, and the spasmodic choking continues. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in frequent doses. It will loosen this membrane and cause the child to expel it by vomiting.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

How Uncle Sam runs the Nation's Wheat Business

DOUBLING the farmer's share of the wheat dollar is one of the wartime jobs Uncle Sam has done since food control became possible. After five months of grappling with the problem, Uncle Sam is now translating into the pockets of both producers and consumers benefits derived by the Nation. He has shut off speculation, produced a free market and movement of all grades of wheat, cut expenses and induced a normal flow of wheat in natural directions, and effected a thousand other economies.

The Food Administration Grain Corporation, which supervises the sale, or itself buys every bushel of wheat produced in the Nation in its progress from country elevator to foreign buyers or domestic consumers, marks a new step toward national efficiency. How in four short months it has been done is told in the following episodes wherein two bushels of wheat traveled to market.

One fine fall afternoon, Col. Bill Jenkins, who farms somewhere in Missouri, loaded his wheat into a wagon and drove along the black road that led across the prairie to town. When he reached the co-operative elevator of which he was a stockholder, he pulled up on the scales, checked his gross weights carefully, and began to unload. The manager came out and asked:

"When you want to sell this wheat?"

"I dunno," he answered. "One time's about as good as another—these days. 'T won't weigh any more later," he added, with a dry smile.

"Wheat shrinks a lot," admitted the manager. "I hear the Government wants as much wheat as it can get just now—understand the Allies do eat a terrible lot of it since the war."

"What's wheat to-day?" asked Col. Jenkins, getting interested.

"Well, let me see," parleyed the manager. "I guess this wheat'd be a good No. 2 under the new grades."

"Grades? What about grades? That Food Administration seems to mix into mighty nigh everything from rabbits to axle grease."

"Hold on, Colonel," said the elevator man, good-naturedly. "The Food Administration is not to blame. Congress passed the act and told the Department of Agriculture to fix the grades. They became effective last July. I sent out a letter on it."

"Well, I guess you better sell for the best you can," said the farmer. "I am needed at home." And he drove away.

A New Order in the Grain World.

CONVERSATIONS of this kind might have taken place in almost every town in the great grain belt of the Nation after August 10; for revolution in grain marketing was taking place. Uncle Sam had started on this remarkable experiment; he was going to see whether wheat could be marketed minus rake-offs to the speculators. This necessitated complete control by the Government of storage facilities, transportation and distributive agencies, and the marketing machinery for wheat and rye.

Everybody was troubled; most of all, the officials of the Food Administration Grain Corporation who had undertaken, without salary, and at the sacrifice of their personal connection with the grain trade, to whip into shape the forces that would drive forward the big business machine for marketing American wheat. A single control; and a $50,000,000 nonprofit-making corporation to do the work.

This work is a necessary arm of the Food Administration, allowing the Government to do business quickly and without red-tape. Its stock is held in trust by the President of the United States. For the time of the war it will supervise the rate or purchase the part commercially available of the [illegible]0,000,000 bushels of wheat and the [illegible]0,000,000 surplus of rye grown in America in 1917. Its job is to find a market for every bushel, irrespective of class and grade. Under its patronage, wheat screenings are moving just as easily as No. 1 Northern. It must also work out satisfactorily the local prices for wheat at each of almost 20,000 country elevator points, adjust thousands of complaints, organize the gathering and analysis of date, inspect concerns reported as dealing unfairly, solve vexatious disagreements among the trade, and deal effectively with the allies' purchasing agent and the neutrals who may desire to purchase.

In the early days, following the determination of prices for 1917 wheat by the President's Fair Price Commission, confusion existed in every part of the wheat-producing regions. This was intensified by the inauguration of the new grain grades, as promulgated by the Department of Agriculture, which took place about the same time, and led to diverse complaints and a feeling among farmers that the Grain Corporation of the Food Administration was responsible for both the price as determined and stricter observance of grain grades. But the corporation was responsible for neither act. It is purely an administrative arm of the Government formed to buy grain or supervise its sale at the prices determined by the commission, and it must do its work on the basis of the new grades. But to return to our farmer and his expectations of price.

Introducing Two Bushels of Wheat.

Lying side by side in his wagon had been 2 bushels of wheat that fate had marked for strangely different ends. They were very much alike, those bushels of wheat, and to look at them you would not have suspected the strange and wonderful adventures in store for them. Yet one was destined to travel abroad for consumption in France; the other to find its way into Georgia, where it was milled and its flour finally reached a New York baker on the East Side. But in the sum of the travels made by the two, as we shall follow them, will be unfolded the international panorama of wheat marketing in time of war.

Finding a Price at a Country Point.

High war costs of production gave our Missouri farmer much concern as to his returns and accounted for his depression over the prospects of his wheat "grading down"; for that meant a reduction of 3 cents per bushel under the No. 1 grade. But it graded No. 2.

The elevator would also deduct an additional 5 cents a bushel to cover the fixed charge made in this locality for handling and selling. The 5-cent charge included the commission of 1 cent per bushel customary in 1917 among commission men for selling the wheat to domestic millers or foreign buyers.

The elevator man was none too sure as to how to get at the price which this wheat should bring. He knew considerably more about human nature than freight rates and decided to "check up" the problem to the nearest zone agent of the Grain Corporation. So he wrote a letter to the representative stationed at St. Louis. That letter was referred to the traffic expert in the New York office, who transmitted the following rule for determining the price of wheat at any country point:

There is only one price for wheat at a country point. That price is always to be arrived at by taking as a basis the price at the most advantageous primary market where we have fixed a price and deducting the freight to that market and a fair handling profit. That is the price to be paid for wheat at any station, regardless of the point to which it may be shipped.

Working out the price which should be paid for wheat at your station is a fine occupation for an off day. If you cannot find the answer, write to the Food Administration Grain Corporation in New York City and its traffic expert will give you aid.

Finding the Price of No. 2 Wheat at Sikeston.

TAKE an actual example: An elevator man in Sikeston, Mo., wanted to know what price No. 2 wheat should bring at his station when No. 1 wheat at New York City was $2.28 per bushel. Here is how he went about it:

The freight rate from Sikeston to New York being 16.98 cents per bushel, he deducted that from $2.28 per bushel and found the price at Sikeston to be $2.1102. From this he deducted 1 per cent per bushel for the commission firm's charges, which put the net price f. o. b. Sikeston at $2.1002.

He next compared this price with what he could get if he sold at St. Louis, his nearest primary market. At St. Louis the basic price is $2.18 per bushel, and the freight rate from Sikeston to St. Louis 6 cents per bushel. This would make the Sikeston price $2.12, less 1 cent per bushel for selling charges, or $2.11 net. The St. Louis price would therefore govern, being advantageous to the Sikeston seller.

If our imaginary 2 bushels of wheat had started from Sikeston, since it was a No. 2 grade, we must deduct 3 cents per bushel, which would bring the price f. o. b. the elevator point to $2.0802 per bushel. As our imaginary elevator man is charging 5 cents per bushel for handling, which includes the commission fee just mentioned, we deduct an additional 4 cents to arrive at the price the farmer received. This price would be $2.0402 at the elevator. Some of that 4 cents will return to our farmer if the elevator prospers; for it is owned co-operatively.

When Farmer and Elevator Man Disagree.

Had this elevator been owned by private firm or person, or had it been a "line" plant, Col. Jenkins would not have been so bland and trustful.

He might have refused to sell at all and arranged to store his wheat or he might have taken it over to a competitive concern which offered a higher price; for the Food Administration has not yet attempted to regulate the prices paid farmers for wheat at country points. It does, however, offer to sell for any farmer or farmers' organization wheat offered at terminal points, but makes a commission charge of 1 per cent for its services.

Milling Canadian Wheat.

WHILE our bushel was being milled a carlot of wheat reached this mill from Canada. Importation of Canadian wheat without special consent being forbidden, the mill operatives became curious and made inquiries. This wheat was part of a large supply which the Grain Corporation had brought into the United States to aid in keeping the American mills running.

There was another reason. Domestic wheat was not moving from the farms as freely as the millers needed it, and shortage forced the mills to operate at a great disadvantage and, according to them, at higher costs.

The last journey stage of our first bushel, although considerably changed in its form, was to go as flour to port under rush orders. It now had right of way over all other classes of freight except other munitions of war. Consent of the War Trade Board being obtained, it was loaded on a ship and passed safely through the submarine field to France, where it succored the hungry.

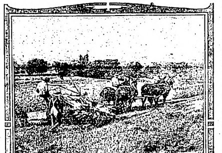
We started out to follow the travels of two bushels of wheat from the farm to their points of consumption under war condition with the U. S. Food Administration in control of the marketing. I have previously discussed the journeys of these two bushels from the farm to the elevator at the country point. Here they parted and one of them passed on to a terminal, and from the terminal to a mill and from the mill to seaboard. There it went to France for consumption.

The Other Bushel of Wheat Starts Traveling.

NOW as to the other bushel of wheat. A certain Georgia miller, in need of supplies, notified the Grain Corporation and received permission to buy on the open market. About the same time our co-operative elevator manager had listed a shipment with his terminal representative—a highly reputable commission firm, also under Grain Corporation license. This firm caught wind of the Georgia order and secured permission to sell the Missouri wheat. The second bushel was among those poured into a car and hustled along to its destination. This shipment did not pass through any terminal market. It moved straight to Atlanta, where it went between the rollers of the mill.

Controlling the Jobber by License.

Now, the flour which came from our second bushel of wheat was rolling serenely along in another direction, but the car was diverted by special order of the U. S. Food Administrator and received by a large wholesale jobber in New York City. This jobber also does business under a Food Administration license, but administered by the distribution divison. Under license terms the jobbers must sell at a fair profit only, although the exact amount of this profit is not determined, the Food Administration reserving the right in each case to call a halt when a licensee has gone "the limit."



Success In This War Depends Largely on America's Next Wheat Crop.

The New York jobber took for his own, in this case, a profit of 50 cents per barrel. He sold part of this shipment to a retail merchant.

This merchant did a small business and was not licensed, but even here was another social check. For the retail merchants of the large cities and those of many small cities and towns find each morning and afternoon in the daily papers a price list for flour and other commodities which are considered fair by the Federal Food Administrator for their State. These prices are usually arrived at through the machinery of the wholesalers' and the retailers' organizations.

The retailer also discovered that the jobber who sold him this flour was keenly interested in the prices paid by the consumer. For the Food Administration has discovered an indirect means of control of the retailer by making the jobber a voluntary policeman to his customer. The jobber is licensed to sell only to traders who deal fairly, and if it should turn out that a jobber persists in doing business with retailers guilty of profiteering in staples under control the Food Administration has and may exercise the right to revoke the license of the jobber.

The other part of this shipment contained our second bushel of wheat and went over to the East Side into a small bakery, which quickly made it into creamy loaves. These loaves were placed in groceries and delicatessens and the next day were eaten by hungry little boys and girls with dark eyes and big noses and quaint ways.

Brings Out Startling Truths.

Government control has brought out these startling truths:

More people unnecessarily make their living out of wheat distribution than was suspected. Thousands and thousands of little speculators have had to turn elsewhere for a livelihood. A number of commission men have had to close shop. There are places where elevators should be built and other places where there are too many elevators. The Government, dominating the wheat market, carries its own marine insurance. Wheat handlers at terminals have had their activities restricted.

But most of all it is interesting to see how the price of flour per barrel tumbled from the time Uncle Sam took a positive hand in the matter. The Food Administration has recently completed an interesting chart on the prices of wheat and bulk flour at Minneapolis. In a statement of November 26, the Food Administration says:

> The farmer received for the 1916 harvest between $1.45 and $1.50 per bushel for the harvest, taking the country by large and * * *. Last year he received under 20 per cent of the price of the loaf. Today he is receiving over 40 per cent of the money paid for the cash loaf, this being the result of the stabilization of prices and the total elimination of hoarding and speculation in this industry.

The statement reports that farmers on November 26 were receiving with freight charges included from the territory represented to Minneapolis, approximately $9.50 for 4½ bushels of wheat. The price of bulk flour at the Minneapolis mill is about $10.25 per barrel, showing that the miller is now receiving about 75 cents per barrel, which must include both his operating expenses and profit.

DURING last July and August, while Congress was wrestling with itself to produce a food administration, and there was no Grain Corporation, flour production in the principal centers was 75 per cent under the same period in 1916. In September, October and November, under the supervision of the Food Administration, flour production was 114 per cent of the same period in 1916. What this means in the great national situation, with depleted domestic flour reserves and clamoring foreign buyers, can hardly be overemphasized, when movement of wheat into primary markets has been hardly half that of a year ago, or 100,000,000 bushels less. It was nothing short of master strategy.

The total number of bushels purchased by the Grain Corporation from the time it commenced activities to February 1 is 97,270,145.50. Arranged by months, the purchases in bushels were: September, 7,841,209.20; October, 19,359,646.50; November, 30,020,074.26; December, 21,456,240.06, and January, 17,698,966.08.

During July and August our flour exports were about the same as in the same two months of 1916; but in September, October, and November, the exportation was 50 per cent larger than a year ago. So the Grain Corporation has discharged our obligations to the allies, and restored our flour reserves, which is the larger aspect of the question.

A SERVICE OF VALUE FREE TO OUR FARMERS

Signs of spring are with us, and it will only be a short time until farmers will be putting in their season's crops.

The selection of crops best suited to their soil and climate, how to conserve moisture, how and when to prepare a seed bed, how to sow the crop and how to harvest it, what crop to use to renovate the soil, how to conserve fertility, are questions that arise.

The Times is now enabled to assist you in such matters and will gladly have your questions answered if you will write us. We have made arrangements through the Thief River Grocery Co., to have the agronomist of the Albert Dickinson Seed Co., handle the matter.

Just a suggestion by an experienced authority may forestall a poor crop. Without obligation on your part, Mr. Producer, this paper will gladly assist you in solving the problems you have. Replies will be made promptly and direct to you.

Bigger crops mean larger financial returns which in turn mean higher buying power on the part of the farmer—and incidentally it will help win the war.

WHEN in need of Printing see what we can do before you go elsewhere.

Letters from the BOYS

McCully in France.

Clarence T. McCully, formerly proprietor of Mac's Sweet Shop in this city, is one of Uncle Sam's boys now in France. Following are excerpts from a letter, dated Beb. 17, received the other day from him by Mrs. McCully:

"Well, we are in France and it surely is a lovely country—if you do not stop to think of the awful things that are happening here. The grass is green and people have hot beds planted and it is quite like the summer time. Today the boys played a game of foot ball and also base ball and all are feeling fine.

"Our trip over was very fine. It was interesting to watch the water at night. Where the boat traveled there was a trail of fire or rather of sparks made by the waves coming in contact with the ship. This is caused by phospherus. Sometimes it would last quite a long time.

"During the day when it was fine we saw a number of porpoise. These are a large fish with a big fin on their backs. They are from eight to twelve feet long. Then there is another fish—the dolphin. These leap out of the water and generally go in large schools. When they jump you can see the whole fish.

"Our trip was on the whole very enjoyable. I fared pretty well—was not sick a single day and had the best of meals. I ate in the sergeant's mess and the meal was prepared in the officers' dining room a short time before the officers came in. I would, however, rather be eating at our own table at home.

"Well, we have one thing to do, and that is to do the best we can and help the Allies win this war, for then I want to go home to you and our little boy for my reward. It is you I am fighting for and for my country. And don't worry. We are going to win. The people here are all optimistic over the outcome of the war.

"Should anyone come around with a subscription for the Y. M. C. A., don't be araid to give them a chance, for they are furnishing the only pleasures and entertainments we have. They provide for our pleasure in the evenings and give us opportunities for letter writing and many other things.

"Please don't forget to send me some candy, for that is a scarce article here and I have a sweet tooth. If you get time have some papers, especially The Times sent here as I would like to learn all about the old berg."

Correct address: Serg. Clarence T. McCully, Co. C, 5th Batt., 20th Eng., A. E. F., via New York.

Are Now in England.

Two letters have lately been received from George Borden, who with Harry Rogers is now in England. These lads are Tuscania survivors and enclose a program of an entertainment given for their benefit at the Palace hotel in Southampton on the evening of Wednesday, Feb. 20. All the dramatic and operatic stars in the city at the time donated their services and the affair was widely commented upon.

In the letter to his folks George says: We are just getting our outfits again, having lost all when the ship went down. Yesterday we went on a sightseeing tour of a few miles on the railroad, after which we marched for two hours and then went to a show that was given specially for us. It sure was fine, but I never was so hungry in my life. When we got back, however, we had a good supper.

"I just had by picture taken. One of the Y. M. C. A. men was the photographer and I am sending you one with this letter.

"The crows are as thick here now as in the fall at home, so you will know there are lots of them.

"We are not allowed to leave camp unless accompanied by an officer, so Henry and I do not get out very often.

In the Medical Corps.

Herbert M. Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hanson of this city, who is a member of the medical officers' training camp, Ft. Riley, Kas., seems to like the part assigned to him first-rate. In a letter written on March 18, he says:

"I have just finished reading the last issue of The Times which I received this morning, and it seemed as if it was just full of news. Then I remembered that although in the service since last fall I have not yet written to tell the home folks of my *experience and work. I was sure de*lighted to find that so many other boys from Thief River Falls had enlisted and the only way I can keep posted on this kind of thing is thru The Times.

"When I left home I was sent to Duluth, thence to Jefferson Barracks, where I stayed about three weeks, after which I was sent here where I am now in the officers' training camp.

"I had been here about a month when I was assigned to Field Hospital No. 18. Our drilling is nearly the same as the other divisions of the army, but we also have medical training. We are taught first aid work, bandaging and caring for the wounded. The work is all very interesting and I like it fine.

"When we are sent across we will be stationed about a mile back of the firing line and some of us will be taking care of the wounded in the trenches.

"We have orders now to move before May 15, but do not know whether we will be "sent across" or farther south.

"Army life agrees with me first-rate and I have enjoyed good health ever since I left home. Uncle Sam sure does feed his boys first-rate and our sleeping quarters would be hard to beat."

Correct address: M. O. T. C., F. H. Co. 18, Fort Riley, Kas.

A letter recently received by Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Rogers from their son, Henry, who was one of the Pennington county soldiers aboard the torpedoed transport Tuscania, gives further details of that rather exciting experience. The letter is dated "Somewhere in Ireland," and is in part as follows:

"Dear Folks at Home: I wrote you a line last night and also sent a cable message in care of the Bordens. You will probably hear thru the papers of our ship being torpedoed. It was the Tuscania. Luckily we were not very far from port at the time.

"The torpedo boat destroyers that were conveying our fleet took off most of the men. I can't say just how many were saved but I think it must have been at least 90 per cent.

"George (Borden) was lowering boats and got away in the fourth one sent out, being picked up by a trawler at midnight. As near as he is able to tell he was on the water about three hours.

"The torpedo struck about at 5:50 o'clock in the afternoon. I was taken off by a destroyer at 8:20. The ship stayed up longer than anyone supposed it would. The lifeboat I was assigned to came down full of men so I was left on the ship until the destroyers came back.

"George and I were separated three days, neither of us knowing that the other was saved, but we are together again. About 180 men of our company are safe so far and of course more stragglers will come in.

"The soldiers and civilians here have certainly treated us fine, sharing with us both the food and clothing that they needed themselves.

"We are feeling fine and not a bit discouraged or sorry we enlisted."

TOWNLEY REPLY TO BURNQUIST

SAYS GOVERNOR'S NOTE IS DISAPPOINTING TO FARMER AND LABORER.

CHARGES ARE RIDICULOUS

SUCH IS TERM APPLIED TO DISLOYALTY ALLEGATIONS IN CRITICISM.

Last week The Times published the criticism of the Non-Partisan league voiced by Gov. J. A. A. Burnquist, in which the executive arraigned the organization and its leader on various grounds, principal among which was that of disloyalty. President A. C. Townley of the league, has replied to the governor's letter with a general denial of all the charges made, most of which he refers to as "ridiculous." In accordance with The Times' policy of giving both sides in this controversy an impartial hearing, Mr. Townley's answer is herewith reprinted in full, as was the case with the governor's letter last week.

"Disappointing," is Claim.

The only part of Gov. Burnquist's communication to which Mr. Townley deems a reply necessary is apparently that section dealing with the loyalty of the league and its members. He says:

"Statements made by Governor Burnquist in reply to an invitation of the Non-partisan league to address its convention in St. Paul this month must be disappointing to thousands of his friends and to the farmers and organized labor of the state. Governor Burnquist has lowered the dignity of his office by stooping to the tactics of the ordinary politician. His letter to the league is a slap in the face and direct insult to over 100,000 organized farmers and their friends in Minnesota and 50,000 members of organized labor in the cities of the state.

"Such an attack and such an attitude would be much more becoming on the part of a czar or king than from the chief executive of the state of Minnesota, who was elected by the people.

Says Charges Are Ridiculous.

"Charges of disloyalty hurled at the organized farmers and workers of this state are too ridiculous to demand denial. Their subscriptions to the Liberty Loan, the Red Cross and other war relief agencies are well known. The farmers, short handed as they are, now are preparing to work harder than ever and raise greater crops to feed the United States and its allies and support their own sons who have gone 'over there.'

"A large part of Governor Burnquist's letter dealt with matters familiar to North Dakota farmers who have asserted their voice in the government of that state. Attacks by politicians are an old story to the farmers who are becoming acquainted with attacks in this state also.

Invited For Harmony's Sake.

"The invitation to Governor Burnquist to address the league convention was sent in the interests of harmony. While the Nonpartisan league may differ politically with Governor Burnquist, the differences are only political, and the governor was invited with the idea of developing a harmonious spirit in support of the government in the prosecution of the war, which is our chief concern now. I regret that the governor utterly refuses to co-operate."

RURAL SCHOOL NOTES

May the County Superintendent be favored with a report from those school districts not already reported, upon the organization of the Junior Red Cross Auxiliary? A number of schools have not reported. State for what reason. Some of the schools, I know are planning sociables for raising the money. Some of the schools have already closed for the year. I am sorry that the state aid application blanks have not been distributed. The blanks are promised us by the Department of Education this week. They will then be sent our.

State aid has at last arrived. It will be paid in full for the school year 1916-17, less 2 per cent. We cannot tell what it will be for the present school year as yet.

Let me ask the school boards now to engage their teachers for next school year, 1918-19, for the teachers will be exceedingly scarce.

Miss Jane R. Tuff, teacher in Dist. No. 33, is a live wire in her educational work. I cannot deny myself the pleasure to have the following communication from one of our boys published in these notes.

Respectfully submitted,
E. A. MOSTUE.

The Enclosure.

"Camp Dodge, Iowa, March 15, 1918. To the children of Dist. No. 33. I want to begin my letter by saying that I received all your letters, and enjoyed every one of them. Each one had a little memory in it that was well worth while and that is what counts after all. I also more than appreciate the fact that you people are all with us, and that we are not forgotten by the home folks.

"There is really so much to write about that I don't know where to start and what will be of most interest to you. However, I will relate to you a few things about camp life and the soldiers.

"I suppose that while we are passing thru one of the greatest crisis the world has ever known, the thing that absorbs you the most is, what is a soldier boy, and how is he taken care of? What is he really doing? Evidently most of you think that a soldier is a person who does nothing but fight, and is always trying to kill the other fellow. To my mind such is not the case at all. A soldier is very much like the rest of the boys at home. He is the one who has had special training in the art of warfare and is ready to go to the front, and fight, and kill if necessary to promote a just cause. He is a person who has been chosen to serve his country in just a little different way from what all you people are doing at home. He is peace-loving.

"The camp or the place where we live is really a big city. When you stop to reflect we have forty-five thousand men here, you can see that it is quite a place. You compare it with some of the towns you study about in geography, and you will see it more clearly. We have paved streets, electric lights, and running water all through our camp. We live in what is called the barracks. This is a two-story wooden building which is not painted. The men all sleep upstairs. Every man has his own bed and he must keep it well made and nice and clean all the while. Then down stairs we have our dining room and kitchen. We never say dining room or dinner, or supper in the army. Our dining room we call mess hall and all the meals are spoken of as messes. In our mess halls we have wooden tables with seats fatened on them. We use no table cloths. We place our dishes on the bare boards, but this is very well as everything is kept sanitary in our barracks.

"We get our good things to eat here the same as we did at home. Of course, the boys here have to do all the cooking and wash all the dishes and work the same as your mothers do at home. It is quite a bit of pleasure to cook and learn what good things can really be made. I have done quite a bit of cooking.

"The barracks accommodate about a hundred and fifty soldiers. We all have to retire at ten o'clock and arise in the morning at six o'clock. This makes it early to bed and early to rise which is well.

"On Sunday we never do anything except what is absolutely necessary. The boys are all encouraged to go to church as often as possible. We all try to do so. We have our Y. M. C. A., here the same as you people back home, and they are doing a wonderful work here to be sure. These are places where everyone is welcome and where we can go and get paper and stamps to write home, and to friends. We do not know how soon we will leave for France, but expect it will not be long.

"All we want to know is that the folks at home are all with us and we will have nothing to fear. I wish to thank you all again for your very enjoyable letters, and in closing I wish you all God-speed, and all the good things this life has in store for you.

"Trusting you are all well, happy and enjoying your shool work, I am,
Your soldier boy

CORN FLAKES ARE NOT SUBSTITUTES

TAPIOCA ALSO BARRED AS SIDE ISSUE IN PURCHASE OF FLOUR.

People of Thief River Falls and vicinity may have noticed an advertisement which appeared several days ago in various papers, and which conveyed the impression that corn flakes and tapioca were substitutes for wheat flour. The Thief River Grocery Co., took the matter up with A. D. Wilson, federal food administrator for Minnesota, as did several other dealers in substitutes and flour, and the following statement was issued last Thursday covering the matter:

"Recently the Pillsbury Milling Co., advertised widely their brand of wheat flour and the list of substitutes that might be sold with it. They, by mistake, included in this list tapioca and corn flakes. This is absolutely wrong.

"May we not ask you thru your salesmen to convey this message to all retailers that package breakfast foods, including cornflakes, grapenuts, etc., are not substitutes for wheat flour? The following is the list of allowable substitutes. No others may be included: Corn meal, corn starch, corn flour, corn grits, buckwheat flour, hominy, rice, oat meal, rolled oats, rice flour, barley flour, potato flour, sweet potato flour, soya bean flour, feterita flour and meals.

All states are now on a 50-50 basis. People should not pay any attention to reports to the contrary unless they wish to report any violation of this rule. The Food Administration Department intends to prosecute every violation that they can get hold of, and the local Safety Commision stands ready to assist in the matter.

FILE INCOME BY APRIL 1 IS ORDER

SEVERE PENALTY FOR FAILING TO PAY INCOME TAX BEFORE THAT TIME.

If you are an unmarried person and had a net income of $1,000 or over for the year 1917, you must make a return.

If you are a married person, living with your wife or husband on December 31, 1917, and had a net income of $2,000 or over, you must make a return.

You come under the classification of "an unmarried person" if you were not married December 31, 1917, or not living with your husband or wife on that date. A widow or widower is classified as an unmarried person. While an unmarried person may be the head of a family and entitled to the $2,000 specific exemption, it will, however, be necessary to file a return of his or her net income, if the same amounts to $1,000 per year or over, although there would be no tax due.

All returns are due in the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue, St. Paul, Minnesota, on or before April 1, 1918. The law provides severe penalties for failure to file returns on or before that date. You may procure proper blanks by making application to your banker, or by writing E. J. Lynch, Collector of Internal Revenue, St. Paul, Minnesota. If you are in doubt as to whether or not you should make a return, consult your banker, or take the matter up direct with the collector.

Remember—that your government asks you to file a return on or before April 1. After that date the government will compel you to make a return. In a short time deputies will start canvassing the state to ascertain who should have made a return and failed to do so. If you are a SLACKER you should not complain when the severe penalties provided by law are inflicted.

THE MAIN IDEA

By Harry E. Sloan

Impressions, of course, are gained by contact. I have, as you know, been in Washington and New York, and I might say, most of the time "on my way" on account of delayed train service, for the past ten days.

We went to New York to attend a meeting called by Mr. Geo. M. Rolph, the head of the Sugar Department of the Food Administration, for the purpose of discussing the present plans of freight rates as applied to the delivered price. In this meeting there were present representatives from all the Eastern sugar refiners in connection with jobbers representing Chicago, St. Louis, New York, New England, Pittsburg and other markets.

Mr. Ralph, in his opening remarks, stated first, that the sole object of all these meetings was first, foremost and primarily, to "win the war." In fact, Mr. Rolph was eager to have all the cards laid on the table, all animosities buried, all differences harmonized and all factions, interests, and enterprises co-ordinated to the single end of "winning the war."

I started out by saying that impressions, of course, are gained by contact.

Well, one of the impressions I gained was that Mr. G. M. Rolph is the right man in the right place, and a great big man, too.

Another impression which I received in Washington carried with it the same intensity of purpose held by Mr. Rolph. The Food Administration occupy a building there of huge dimensions. It is cut up into small offices of many hundreds. In each office is a volunteer. These men impress you. Some of them have grown wan in the service. They are fighting day and night for food conservation here in order to feed our soldiers and our allies across the water. And let me tell you something: I think they sometimes feel, that with all the rules, the regulations and the appeals they issue from day to day that they do not get the quick and intelligent support they are entitled to. They are rapidly reaching the point where they will no longer ask "Will you?" but say "You must." They are struggling to the death with the item of WHEAT—which means flour. They say to the licensee that he must buy and sell on a pound for pound basis the substitutes they prescribe. They implore the people to use these subsitutes. They haven't the time to tell you how or when or where to get these subsitutes. They only say that in defense of our country, in the love you bear our flag, in your patriotism and loyalty to our Government—you must use your own initiative and your own ingenuity, and if you are a good soldier you must obey orders. They do not object to broad and well-balanced criticism but they want no querulous objections. The man who thinks he can do it better than they are doing the job in Washington can get a position there by telegraph. My impression was that the hardest thing they have to contend with is to make the people understand. This is no parlor game we are engaged in. It's WAR—on the most stupendous scale the world has ever known or ever will know, waged against the greatest war machine ever built up by calculating design born of trained scientific minds—backed by a government of 87 million people.

And the great propaganda in Washington today is to pound these facts home—to impress upon every man who visits there that it is his duty to return to his own baliwick—stay there—and lend his service to see that the desires of the Government are carried out to the minutest detail.

I received a letter some time ago calling attentin to car shortage, fuel shortage and every other possible contingency that is delaying the customary movement of goods. It says that we must expect when our country is striving to support our armies and when we are plunged in war that conditions are going to be bad and probably get worse, and there is no use putting out discouraging reports, but, on the contrary, we should make the best of things, put an end to dicouraging reports, be optimistic, use the rule of reason, smile, and take things as they come; and be only sorry we have so little to do for the great cause. And that's just the spirit which impressed me they desired in Washington, to prevail throughout the country. And so, your mail is filled with Rules, Revised Rules, Bulletins, and Regulations, telling you what you may do and what you must not do and stripped to the naked meaning the idea is to simply DO YOUR DUTY.

And your duty only begins with the regulation of your own business. You must understand that the Food Administration has no control by law over the consumer. Unless the consumer elects to follow the edicts of the Administration, he can defy them with impunity, therefore, it is your further and greater duty, through your salesmen, your organization, your standing in your community and, your constant personal efforts, to educate the people, the farmers, the laboring men, and, ABOVE ALL, THE WEALTHY and ULTRA RICH, to save, conserve and practise self-denial. "Control," "restrictions," "edicts" and proclamations are emanating from Washington daily. They are brought about by the exigencies of war. They are prompted by the necessity of governmental operations, which many of our people fail to grasp. A transport is sunk. Two hundred of our soldiers sacrifice their lives. Too many of our people simply thank God that they were not touched.

The flame of patriotism which followed the sinking of the Maine in the harbor of Havana burns with a dimmer light today. Perhaps it is because we are taught that greater than all munitions, greater than guns, than cannon, bullets, shrapnel or bombs, greater indeed than airships, destroyers or submarines, the homely article of food alone is the last and controlling element of final victory. It is not quite so inspiring to rally 'round a barrel of flour as it is to rally 'round the flag, but if we win this war we must wrap our flour with the flag.

AMERICAN SUGAR SENT TO FRANCE

American Price Rigidly Regulated by United States Food Administration.

CONSUMERS HERE PAY 9c.

Sugar Cost 35 Cents a Pound During Civil War—Refiners' Profits Now Curtailed.

Sugar is selling today throughout America at from 8½ to 9 cents a pound to the consumer, even though there is a world shortage which has reduced this nation's sugar allotment to 70 per cent. of normal.

Through the efforts of the United States food administration the sugar market has been regulated as far as the producer, refiner and wholesaler is concerned. The food administration has no power to regulate retail prices except by public opinion. Even though more than 85,000 tons of sugar have been shipped to France in the last four months the retail grocer's sugar price is around 8 to 8¼ cents. He should sell this sugar at 8½ to 9 cents, the food administration believes, and asks the American housewife to pay no more than this amount.

Last August when the food administration was organized the price of sugar rose suddenly to 11 cents a pound. During the Civil War sugar cost the consumer 35 cents a pound. By regulation of the sugar market and reducing the price to 8½ and 9 cents and keeping it from advancing to 20 cents the food administration has saved the American public at least $180,000,000 in four months, according to a statement made by Herbert Hoover the other day.

"It is our stern duty to feed the allies, to maintain their health and strength at any cost to ourselves," Mr. Hoover declared. "There has not been, nor will be as we see it, enough sugar for even their present meagre and depressing ration unless they send ships to remote markets for it. If we in our greed and gluttony force them either to further reduce their ration or to send these ships we will have done damage to our abilities to win this war.

"If we send the ships to Java for 250,000 tons of sugar next year we will have necessitated the employment of eleven extra ships for one year. These ships—if used in transporting troops—would take 150,000 to 200,000 men to France."

Reason for World Shortage.

As Mr. Hoover pointed out, the United States, Canada and England were sugar importing countries before the war, while France and Italy were very nearly self supporting. The main sources of the world's sugar supply was Germany and neighboring powers, the West Indies and the East Indies.

German sugar is no longer available, as it is used entirely in Germany, which also absorbs sugar of surrounding countries.

England can no longer buy 1,400,000 long tons of sugar each year from Germany. The French sugar production has dropped from 750,000 to 210,000 tons. The Italian production has fallen from 210,000 tons to 75,000 tons. Thus three countries were thrown upon East and West Indian sources for 1,925,000 tons annually to maintain their normal consumption.

Because of the world's shipping shortage the allied nations started drawing on the West Indies for sugar; East Indian sugar took three times the number of ships, since the distance was three times as great. Suddenly the west was called on to furnish and did furnish 1,420,000 tons of sugar to Europe when 300,000 tons a year was the pre-war demand. The allies had drawn from Java 400,000 tons before the shipping situation became acute.

"In spite of these shipments," Mr. Hoover stated the other day, "the English government in August reduced the household sugar ration to a basis of 24 pounds per annum per capita. And in September the French government reduced their household ration to 13 2-10 pounds a year, or a bit over 1 pound of sugar a month. Even this meagre ration could not be filled by the French government it was found early in the fall. America was then asked for 100,000 tons of sugar and succeeded in sending 85,000 tons by December 1. The French request was granted because the American household consumption was then at least 55 pounds per person, and it was considered the duty of maintaining the French morale made our course clear."

Today the sugar situation may be summarized by stating that if America will reduce its sugar consumption 10 to 15 per cent. this nation will be able to send 200,000 more soldiers to France.

Sugar today sells at seaboard refineries at $7.25 a hundred pounds. The wholesale grocer has agreed to limit his profit to 25 cents a hundred plus freight, and the retail grocer is supposed to take no more than 50 cents a hundred pounds profit. This regulation was made by the food administration, which now asks the housewife to reduce sugar consumption as much as possible, using other sweeteners, and also reminds her that she should pay no more than 9 cents a pound for sugar.

Control of Cane Refiners' Profits.

"Immediately upon the establishment of the food administration," Mr. Hoover said, "an examination was made of the costs and profits of refining and it was finally determined that the spread between the cost of raw and the sale of refined cane sugar should be limited to $1.30 per hundred pounds. The pre-war differential had averaged about 85 cents and increased costs were found to have been imposed by the war in increased cost of refining, losses, cost of bags, labor, insurance, interest and other things, rather more than cover the difference. After prolonged negotiations the refiners were placed under agreement establishing these limits on October 1, and anything over this amount to be agreed extortionate under the law.

"In the course of these investigations it was found by canvass of the Cuban producers that their sugar had, during the first nine months of the past year, sold for an average of about $4.24 per hundred f. o. b. Cuba, to which duty and freight added to the refiners' cost amount to about $5.66 per hundred. The average sale price of granulated by various refineries, according to our investigation, was about $7.50 per hundred, or a differential of $1.84.

"In reducing the differential to $1.30 there was a saving to the public of 54 cents per hundred. Had such a differential been in use from the 1st of January, 1917, the public would have saved in the first nine months of the year about $24,800,000."

Next Year.

With a view to more efficient organization of the trade in imported sugars next year two committees have been formed by the food administration:

1. A committee comprising representatives of all of the elements of American cane refining groups. The principal duty of this committee is to divide the sugar imports pro rata to their various capacities and see that absolute justice is done to every refiner.

2. A committee comprising three representatives of the English, French and Italian governments; two representatives of the American refiners, with a member of the food administration. Only two of the committee have arrived from Europe, but they represent the allied governments. The duties of this committee are to determine the most economical sources from a transport point of view of all the allies to arrange transport at uniform rates, to distribute the foreign sugar between the United States and allies, subject to the approval of the American, English, French and Italian governments.

This committee, while holding strong views as to the price to be paid for Cuban sugar, has not had the final voice. This voice has rested in the governments concerned, together with the Cuban government, and I wish to state emphatically that all of the gentlemen concerned as good commercial men have endeavored with the utmost patience and skill to secure a lower price, and their persistence has reduced Cuban demands by 15 cents per hundred. The price agreed upon is about $4.60 per hundred pounds, f. o. b. Cuba, or equal to about $6 duty paid New York.

"This price should eventuate," Mr. Hoover said, "to about $7.30 per hundred for refined sugar from the refiners at seaboard points or should place sugar in the hands of the consumer at from 8½ to 9 cents per pound, depending upon locality and conditions of trade, or at from 1 to 2 cents below the prices of August last and from one-half to a cent per pound cheaper than today.

"There is now an elimination of speculation, extortionate profits, and in the refining alone the American people will save over $25,000,000 of the refining charges last year. A part of these savings goes to the Cuban, Hawaiian, Porto Rican and Louisianan producer and part to the consumer.

"Appeals to prejudice against the food administration have been made because the Cuban price is 34 cents above that of 1917. It is said in effect that the Cubans are at our mercy; that we could get sugar a cent lower. We made exhaustive study of the cost of producing sugar in Cuba last year through our own agents in Cuba, and we find it averages $3.39, while many producers are at a higher level. We found that an average profit of at least a cent per pound was necessary in order to maintain and stimulate production or that a minimum price of $4.37 was necessary, and even this would stifle some producers.

"The price ultimately agreed was 23 cents above these figures, or about one-fifth of a cent per pound to the American consumer, and more than this amount has been saved by our reduction in refiners' profits. If we wish to stifle production in Cuba we could take that course just at the time of all times in our history when we want production for ourselves and the allies. Further than that, the state department will assure you that such a course would produce disturbances in Cuba and destroy even our present supplies, but beyond all these material reasons is one of human justice. This great country has no right, by the might of its position to strangle Cuba.

"Therefore there is no imposition upon the American public. Charges have been made before this committee that Mr. Rolph endeavored to benefit the California refinery of which he was manager by this 34 cent increase in Cuban price. Mr. Rolph did not fix the price. It does raise the price to the Hawaiian farmer about that amount. It does not raise the profit of the California refinery, because their charge for refining is, like all other refiners, limited to $1.30 per hundred pounds, plus the freight differential on the established custom of the trade.

"Mr. Rolph has not one penny of interest in that refinery."

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Eggs to Be Bought and Sold at Creamery

At a special meeting of stockholders of the Creamery Association, Feb. 9th, it was decided to engage in the handling of eggs from April 1st, 1918.

Many farmers' creameries have been handling eggs for a number of years with good success. It has been found that the creamery is the most convenient place to dispose of eggs.

The University of Minnesota in a letter to us gives some substantial reasons why farmers' creameries should handle eggs. The letter reads as follows:

THE UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA
University Extension Service
University Farm, St. Paul

WHY THE CREAMERIES AND CHEESE FACTORIES SHOULD HANDLE THE EGGS OF THEIR PATRONS

BECAUSE they are organized to manufacture and market one daily food product of the farm, and can handle the other additional equipment.

BECAUSE they have better facilities for storage to maintain quality, hasten shipments and save loss than any other marketing agency.

BECAUSE they can save their patrons time in marketing, and pay a higher cash price for graded eggs by check or due bill.

BECAUSE they have an opportunity to develop the poultry business in their locality as they have the dairy industry, and thus put the community on a cash basis.

BECAUSE they can cooperate in purchasing supplies, as: Cartons, cases and fillers in large quantities at minimum cost and can cooperate in carload shipment with refrigeration service.

BECAUSE buyers of butter and cheese in the markets of state and nation also buy eggs, and these dairy products may be shipped in the same car.

BECAUSE they can use the revenue derived from handling eggs for general maintainance, enabling them to pay better salaries, thus procuring more skillful workers.

BECAUSE they can aid in the conservation of one of the most popular daily foods, saving the value of two eggs out of each dozen.

BECAUSE they can render an economic service to state and nation in reforming the marketing of eggs from producer to consumer.

BECAUSE they are the best agencies to help the Dairy and Food Commission to maintain the excellence of dairy products, butter and eggs.

$185,000 NAMED AS LOAN QUOTA

THIS IS AMOUNT PENNINGTON COUNTY IS EXPECTED TO RAISE.

DRIVE TO START APRIL 12

APPORTIONMENTS CAREFULLY FIGURED OUT FOR EACH SECTION AND INDIVIDUAL.

The preparations are all made for the most energetic and intense Liberty Loan drive thus far attempted in this or any other county in the state. When the solicitors start out on Friday morning, April 12, they will have a list of every man and woman in the county who it is thought may be able to subscribe for a bond as well as the exact amount expected from each person. Chairman George G. Johnson has been coaching his chairmen and solicitors and each man knows just what is wanted of him. They are all enthusiastic and there will be a spirited rivalry as to who will finish his task first as well as who will make the best showing.

Quota is Cut Down.

Upon the presentation by Chairman Johnson that the quotas in the first two loans were not based upon a fair consideration of the conditions in the county, the amount for the present loan was cut from $240,000 to $185,000, which places Pennington about on an equality with its neighbors. Mr. Johnson is absolutely certain that his district is going over the top this time, although the allotments have been placed so as to just cover the figure named.

Each District's Share.

By far the largest share of the loan has been assessed against the First district, in which is situated the City of Thief River Falls. In the same district, of which W. B. Fuller is the chairman, has been placed the following townships or fractions of townships: North, Numedal, Norden, Silverton, the north half of Smiley and the north half of Rocksbury. Amount to be raised, $119,000.

Second district, K. O. Gigstad, chairman; amount, $30,000—Village of St. Hilaire, southwest quarter of Rocksbury, south half of Sanders, towns of Bray, Polk Center, Black River and the west half of River Falls.

Third district, Paul Borgie, chairman; amount, $12,000—Southeast quarter of Rocksbury township, south half of Smiley, east half of River Falls; Wyandotte, Mayfield, Deer Park and Hickory.

Fourth district, Thomas H. Smith, chairman; amount, $13,000—Townships of Cloverleaf and Kratka.

Fifth district, J. P. Jensen, chairman; amount, $12,000—Village and township of Goodridge, townships of Star, Reiner and Highlanding.

Some of the Assessments.

The allotments for all the subdivisions in the above districts have not yet been figured out exactly, but the following are available: Village of St. Hilaire, $7,300; south half of Sanders township, $2,750; Polk Center, $4,050; south half of Rocksbury, north of the river, $4,900; Black River, $2,300; west half of River Falls, $4,750; Bray, $3,900. Before the drive starts The Times will have the list of assessments complete so that every person in the county will be able to see just how much their section is expected to contribute and thus be able to figure out their approximate share for themselves.

ANOTHER SOLDIER ANSWERS THE CALL

JOSEPH MYERS, WHO DIED OF PNEUMONIA AT CAMP DODGE LAST WEEK.

Joseph Myers, one of the young men who left with the 1st increment from Pennington county to join the army at Camp Dodge, died there last week of pneumonia and the body was shipped here for burial. It arrived on Monday morning and the funeral was held in the afternoon from the Larson undertaking parlors, Company C, Minnesota Home Guard, having charge of the arrangements. The burial service at the grave was read by Rev. Dr. R. L. Barackman of the Presbyterian church, who also delivered a short address on the lesson to be gathered from the life of the young man. Dr. Barackman spoke of the sacrifice made by the deceased as being as great as if he had met his death while facing the cannon of the enemy on the field of battle and maintained that he gave all he had for the most noble cause in which a man could engage.

A particularly sad circumstance in connection with the death of this young man is the fact that his grandfather, the only living relative so far as known here, was a short time ago taken to the hospital for the insane at Fergus Falls. It has also come to light that upon joining the army deceased had insured his life for $10,000 in his grand-father's favor. This sum will now likely prove of no value to the parent.

A PROCLAMATION.

Conforming to the wishes of the Federal Food Administration in its program for saving wastes and to increase food production, especially those calculated to save red meats for our soldiers and our associates in the War, I hereby call upon the citizens of Thief River Falls to assist in carrying out this program by keeping a small flock of laying hens in the back lot to convert the wastes of the kitchen and table into valuable food products. It is authoratively stated that from two to three hens to each member of the family, well cared for in the back yard, will supply the household with fresh eggs and materially reduce the cost of living. Where conveniences permit, a limited number of chicks may also be raised to further supply the best of meats and to replace the flock at end of the season.

In time of peace, poultry keeping in cities may be regarded as a profitable recreation. In time of war, a patriotic necessity.

G. A. PENNEY,
Mayor.

THE BIG LOYALTY MEETING TONIGHT

JUSTICE ANDREW BRUCE OF NORTH DAKOTA SUPREME COURT SPEAKER.

The people of this section will be accorded a rare treat this evening when Chief Justice Andrew Bruce appears at the Auditorium to speak on the subject of "Patriotism." Justice Bruce is one of the most eloquent orators in the West and is stirring his audiences to an unusual degree wherever he has appeared. The admission is free and everyone is advised to be on hand early in order to secure a seat. Following is a newspaper comment on one of the recent meetings held:

"Two big loyalty meetings were held in Glen Ullin last Tuesday afternoon and evening. In the afternoon Judge Bruce of the North Dakota Supreme Court spoke in the Princess Theatre to a large and enthusiastic audience. Judge Bruce is one of North Dakota's most loyal citizens and is an excellent speaker. In his address here he brought out many points why every citizen of the United States should be an out and out American, whether he be foreign born or native born. He told of the great sacrifices our soldiers are making over there and pleaded that those here at home conduct themselves so that those who give up their lives for democracy will not have died in vain.

"How any American citizen could listen to the address of Judge Bruce without showing some signs of patriotism is almost inconceivable. A man or woman who could sit with clinched teeth through an address such as Judge Bruce delivered here last Tuesday is not a good citizen and the sooner the government finds it out the better."

A Hebron the judge's address brought forth this tribute:

"Monday was a lively day in patriotic annals in Hebron as we were favored by the visit of four prominent speakers. Among the speakers was Chief Justice Andrew A. Bruce of Bismarck and the message this man delivered was an eye opener, what he had to say sank deep into the minds and conscience of the hearers and it is the remark of many that such speakers should have been heard long ago, and should, as they no doubt will, be frequent visitors hereafter."

Send No Parcels Overseas.

Postmaster John Morgan has been notified that after April 1, no more parcels will be accepted for mailing to the soldiers in France unless they contain such articles as have been specially requested by the soldiers themselves and approved by regimental or higher officer commanding the unit to which such soldier is attached. Well-meaning persons in this country have ben sending articles to the soldiers and the government has exerted every effort to have these delivered. So enormous has the weight of such matter become, however that it is necessary to stop it altogether. One ship arriving in France recently contained 19 carloads of stuff that the soldiers can secure just as cheap or cheaper right in France. Letters from soldiers are to the effect that the sending of even such articles as candy is unwise, as sweets can be secured in France without difficulty and at moderate prices. It is suggested that the money be sent instead as this does not bulk so large.

Will Remodel Building.

Work on the remodeling of the Rolland building on LaBree avenue wa started on Monday morning. The structure, which is now occupied by the Nielsen meat market, will be moved forward so as to bring the front in line with the other business houses on the same street. A new front will be put in, new cement floors laid and numerous other changes for the better made. While the alterations are going on, Mr. Nielsen will occupy the building on Second street next door to the postoffice.

FOR MECHANICS, AVIATION CORPS

FOURTEEN YOUNG MEN ARE SELECTED FOR THIS PREFERRED SERVICE.

GENERAL CALL IS PENDING

LOCAL BOARD INSTRUCTED TO BE READY TO ACT AT ONCE ON INSTRUCTIONS.

Fourteen of the young men in the registration list of Pennington county will on Monday afternoon entrain for state headquarters, from which point they will be sent to Pittsburg university to receive instructions as mechanics in the aviation corps. Most of these men are from Class 1 of the draft list, but two or three belong in one of the deferred classes.

Must Meet Requirements.

Instructions in the mechanics of aeroplanes has been offered to a limited number of young men in the country who will be distributed among universities specializing in technical instruction. The candidates must all have at least passed the eighth grade of our common schools and possess other qualifications that places them somewhat apart from the ordinary registrant. The local board did not have quite the sufficient number of men in Class 1 and two or three have been taken from the top of Class 2 list. These are all in a measure voluntary enlistments as those who have offered to go might have waited for the next call before going.

Those Who Will Go.

The fourteen men who have signified their willingness to go and have been accepted as meeting the requirements are: Carl Gulrud, Edwin C. Karwand, Alfred Adolphs, Peter G. Peterson and Arthur Liden, city; Leroy Tolland, Miles H. Jackson and Annund O. Brevik, St. Hilaire; Fred S. Bullman, Owatonna; Hjalmar H. Halstrom, Wylie; Gilbert Riersgaard, Rhoda; Berginius Servig, Erskine; Lars Heckne and Edwin Christianson, Goodridge.

Another Call Coming.

A new national and state call is impending, according to instructions received by County Auditor T. P. Anderson. The final instructions as to this has not yet been received but the preliminary notice states that 90,000 men will be required. If this refers to the number to be secured in the entire country it would effect Pennington county but slightly as it would only mean the sending of one or two men.

BURGLARS FOILED; DOOR HELD FAST

ATTEMPT TO BREAK INTO NEWELL DRUG STORE PROVES UNSUCCESSFUL.

For the first time in many months an attempted burglary has been reported in the city. One night last week some person visited the Newell drug store on LaBree avenue with the evident intention or robbery, but had only his trouble for his pains. A window to the outer store room had been opened by prying off one of the bars used as a protection and the place entered, but the door to the store proper was secured by a bolt as well as a yale lock and this obstacle proved more than the intruder was able to negotiate. For this reason it is thought, that the job was the work of an amateur as a professional would not have given up so easily after getting into the building. Entrance had been gained by the use of a bar, the marks showing plainly where the attempt to open the inner door had been made. A pile of boxes in front of the rear window had been knocked over, otherwise there would have been but little evidence to show that the place had been visited.

Road Patrolmen Appointed.

The board of county commissioners has appointed the men who will have charge of the maintenance of state roads in the county during the season of 1918. Their appointment dates from April 1 and holds good till Nov. 1. They will receive a salary of $150 per month for this period and theirs will be the duty to see that the state highways are at all time kept up in the best possible condition. All dragging and necessary repair work will be a part of their contract.

Following are the men appointed: State Road No. 1—Albert Seaversen, St. Hilaire. State Road No. 2—West end, William Herron, city; East end, J. H. Kohler, Goodridge; State Road No. 3—East end, O. A. Holmes, city; West end, Halvor Olson.

Pioneer Called.

A. V. Satterstrom of Middle River died Wednesday morning at 7:30, after a long and painful illness. He had been in the butcher business in Middle River for two or three years up to about a year ago when he was obliged to lease his shop on account of ill health. He was a man of upright character, highly respected in Middle River and his death is a shock to the community.

Wounded in Action.

Alfred J. Bergeron, a cousin of the Provencher boys of this city and the bunkie of Harold Provencher with the First Minnesota Artillery, has been wounded in action in France, according to reports appearing in the daily papers. The young men enlisted together at Minneapolis and have been companions throughout. This proves conclusively that the Gopher gunners are on the battle line in France and that the other Thief River Falls boys are also in the fray. These are Martin Langseth, Hardy Bothun and Fred Scanlon.

A letter from Will Provencher, who has been at Fort Sill, Okla., with the First Missouri artillery, is to the effect that they expect soon to sail for France. The advance overseas detail has already gone and the rest of the regiment will without doubt soon follow.

On Wedding Trip.

S. L. Haynes of Mason City, Iowa, brother of F. F. Haynes of this city, surprised the latter by dropping in on him the other day, accompanied by his bride. The young couple were married on the 28th. Mr. Haynes has passed the examination for the aviation service and is expecting his call at any time.

SANATORIUM NURSE CALLED TO FRANCE

MISS KAREN KNUTSON SUCCEEDS MISS FLETCHER AT LOCAL HOSPITAL.

Miss Lydia Fletcher, who has been superintendent of the Tri-County Sanitarium since the opening of that institution this spring, has been ordered by the government to report at the Minneapolis base hospital for duty with the troops. She left to assume her duties on Tuesday evening.

The board of managers of the sanitarium regret exceedingly the necessity which deprives them of Miss Fletcher's services but realize that nurses with her experience are sorely needed at the front. She expects to remain at the base hospital but a short time, the understanding being that the unit to which she will be attached is to sail for France almost at once.

The new superintendent will be Miss Karen Knutson, formerly with the Pettinger hospital, San Francisco, and later head nurse at the McVille, N. D., hospital. She is said to be a woman with both the training and ability necessary to fill this important position.

More Room Needed.

Chairman O. F. Mellby of the Sanitarium board, states that the new hospital is already proving too small. The capacity of the institution is now taxed and there are about 20 patients on the waiting list. Dr. Robinson Bosworth, executive secretary of the state board of control, who was here on a tour of inspection last week, stated that the matter of enlarging the hospital would be taken up at the next meeting of the board.

Miss Kulseth is the new matron recently taking up her duties at the institution.

Win Athletic Honors.

At the Northwestern gymnastic meeting held in the armory of the University of Minnesota on March 23, three Thief River Falls young men brought considerable distinction to themselves and their home town. Roy Barzen won first honors in tumbling and was in sixth place as all-round athlete in Class B, while his brother, Bernard, won ninth place in the same class. Reuben Aga was in 17th place in the all-round scoring in Class C.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY IS GREAT COMEDY

"IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE" MOST AMUSING PRODUCTION OF A DECADE.

On April 12, when the senior class of the Thief River Falls high school presents the annual class play the people hereabouts will be given a chance to see one of the greatest stage successes of recent years. The press agent of the class says so for one thing, and the history of the production bears out the statement. Following is the advance notice submitted by the publicity promoter for the class:

"This play should need no introduction to lovers of the stage as it has been played with tremendous success in all the principal towns of Minnesota, and its run in New York was excelled only by that famous film, "The Birth of a Nation." Not only is the drama a scream from start to finish, but it is educational as well. Every fact presented in the play is real—every statistic an honest one—and for this reason the play should appeal to every wide awake business man. Let the sleepy ones come, too, and have their eyes opened to one of the biggest truths of our day.

"The story deals with an old millionaire soap king who does not believe in advertising; his dashing young son, who does not believe in work; his stenographer, who is the woman in the case and who serves to complicate matters for father and son, and a live advertising agent who stands firm in his belief that it is advertising which makes the world go round."

PARISH RESIGNS AS PASTOR HERE

METHODIST MINISTER WILL ENGAGE IN TEMPERANCE WORK IN STATE.

SUCCESSOR IS APPOINTED

REV. JAMES A. ORRECK, FORMERLY OF FRAZEE, WILL ASSUME CHARGE HERE.

Rev. George O. Parish, for two and one-half years pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in this city, will preach his farewell sermon next Sunday and will leave the first of the week for St. Paul. He has accepted an offer to go on the temperance platform for the Minnesota Dry Federation and will begin his duties at once. His brother, Rev. Herbert H. Parish, at present pastor at Fosston, will be associated with him in his new work and they will have practical charge of the temperance campaign in the northern half of the state.

Successor is Named.

Rev. James A. Orreck, now pastor of the church at Frazee, has been appointed to the position made vacant by the resignation of Rev. Parish and will preach his first sermon here on Sunday, April 14. The services next Sunday morning and evening will be held by Rev. Parish and his addresses at that time will be in the nature of farewell sermons.

Here Two and a Half Years.

He has been pastor of the local church for the past two and one-half years and during that time the congregation has grown both in membership and influence. He is a pulpit orator of more than usual ability, while to his reputation as a platform speaker is undoubtedly due his appointment as one of those who is to present the temperance argument to the people of the state this fall. He is broad-minded in his views, a fact that has made him very popular with people of all classes and all denominatons. He enjoys to an unusual degree the regard and confidence of the citizens of this community and the regret at his going is general. Rev. Parish will prove a powerful pleader for the cause in which he is to engage and will make a success of the undertaking.

His Farewell Message.

In bidding farewell to his congregation in this city, Rev. Parish does so with a great deal of regret. His new work will keep him employed until fall at least, and it is not likely that he will be re-appointed to this charge should he again take up his ministerial duties. In leaving he submits the following as his farewell message to the people here:

"I wish to take this opportunity of publicly expressing to the members and friends of our church and the people of the entire community my sincerest appreciation of the splendid treatment they have accorded my family and myself during my two and one-half years of service as pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in this city.

"We shall always cherish the memory of our pleasant pastorate here, and that of our many friends both within and outside of the church.

Praises His Successor.

"My successor is the Rev. James A. Orrock. He has been in the ministry of our church for many years and is a man of wide experience. He has been and is a successful pastor fitted not only to succeed as pastor of a church but broad enough to enter into the community life and to be a friend to all.

"I am well pleased that so good a man is to take up the work of the church here where I lay it down."

Reception This Evening.

There will be a farewell reception given in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Parish in the church parlors this evening and all members and friends of the church are invited to be present. This will be the last opportunity our people will have for paying their respects to this popular couple as Mrs. Parish leaves tomorrow and Rev. Parish on Monday.

CLUB GATHERING A DECIDED SUCCESS

MEN AND WOMEN DISCUSS CIVIC TOPICS AFTER AN EXCELLENT LUNCH.

The joint meeting of the Woman's club and the Commercial club at the rooms of the latter organization last Monday evening was the first occasion of the kind to be recorded for this city, but to judge by its success it will not be the last. The largest crowd ever seen in the club rooms sat down to the excellent supper provided by the ladies, after which a program of varied entertainment was presented. Mrs. H. W. Froehlich, president of the Woman's club, presided and briefly stated the purpose of the meeting. She believed that much could be done to further work of a civic character even in war time and urged the members of the two clubs not to forget these matters entirely even though the war must remain the most important matter for the present. President C. R. Crandall followed along the same lines, welcoming the gathering on behalf of the organization of which he is the head. Short addresses by Supt. W. A. Barnard of the Soo, Rev. R. L. Barackman, Mrs. Andrew Bottleson, Prof. J. H. Hay, Morlan Bishop and a friend of the latter, Mr. James, an instructor in the university of Minnesota; Daniel Shaw and others. Several selections by the ladies quartet of the Lincoln high school were highly appreciated, as was a reading by Miss Miller. Miss Blanche Johnson and F. G. Wells rendered a piano duet in a manner that fairly captivated their audience.

The affair was a decided success from every point of view and the ladies who originated the plan are justified in considering their efforts as having received unqualified approval.

Do not neglect to hear Judge Andrew Bruce of the Supreme Court of North Dakota at the Auditorium tonight. He conveys a message of importance to us all.

MEN REACHING 21 SUBJECT TO DRAFT

THOSE COMING OF AGE SINCE JUNE 5 ARE AUTOMATICALLY INCLUDED.

The resolution extending the selective draft to men reaching the age of 21 years since June 5, 1917—the first registration day—has been passed by the senate after a futile attempt to add to it a provision for training youths from 19 to 21 years old.

It is estimated that about 700,000 men will be added to the registration this year by the resolution, which is one of the pieces of legislation on which the war department is waiting before announcing complete plans for the next draft.

It now goes to the house with the bill to base draft quotas on the number of registrants in Class one instead of on population, another administration measure already passed by the senate.

It is estimated that seven per cent of the number between the ages of 21 and 31 as indicated by the original registration will become 21 years old each year. This will mean that about 75 will be automatically added to the available list in Pennington county on the 5th of every June.

LOAN PROGRAM IS CHANGED SLIGHTLY

DRIVE WILL COMMENCE ON MORNING OF APRIL 12 INSTEAD OF TOMORROW.

The opening day for the Third Liberty Loan drive, which was originally announced as April 6, has been postponed until Friday, April 12, at least as far as Pennington county is concerned. It was found impossible to get things in readiness for the earlier date as there is a vast amount of preliminary work to be done. For this reason the numerous advertisements ordere by Thief River Falls business institutions, civic organizations and individuals for publication in this week's issue of The Times have been laid over for one week. It is believed that the effect of this publicity matter will be more striking if it appears just before the drive is launched.

Business men in the city are going to do their full share to see that this drive is a success. Realizing that a newspaper should not be required to stand all the cost of presenting to the public the necessity for buying bonds they have ordered large advertisements inserted at their own expense. They are a patriotic, public spirited lot and determined that the Third Loan shall go over the top. They are not only prepared to subscribe liberally themselves but will spend considerable money in a campaign to teach others the necessity for participating in this issue.

Superior Goes Dry.

At the city election held in Superior on Tuesday the city voted out the saloons, the dry majority being about 70. The city voted for licensed saloons a year ago after one year of no license and has again reversed its decision of that time. State Senator Fred A. Baxter was elected mayor by a majority of over 3,000. He is pledged to clamp the lid down tight. Irvin L. Lenroot, present congressman and Republican candidate for United States senator to succeed Senator Husting, who died in office, was elected by a majority of about 9,000 over Joseph E. Davies, Democrat. Victor Berger, Socialist, was a poor third in the race.

Press Chairman.

Mrs. Chas. Pitkin has been appointed press chairman of the 9th District of the Federated Clubs of Minnesota by Mrs. George J. Allen, president of the federation.

BABY BOND SALE IS $300 PER DAY

SPLENDID RECORD FOR MARCH AT THIEF RIVER FALLS POSTOFFICE.

OUTSIDE DISTRICTS SLOW

POSTMASTER MORGAN IS ENTITLED TO MUCH CREDIT FOR SHOWING.

Last Saturday was "bumper" day for the sale of War Savings Stamps and Certificates at the Thief River Falls postoffice. The purchases on that day amounted to about $1,600, or practically one tenth of the output for the three months during which the sales have been carried on. It is a remarkable showing and reflects much credit upon the hustling abilities of everyone who has anything to do with the matter. Postmaster John Morgan has stimulated interest in the sales among the members of his force by giving a substantial cash prize at the end of each month to the carrier or clerk returning the largest amounts and this has helped wonderfully in stimulating interest. The schools are now organized in the most effective shape and the children are among the most enthusiastic stamp collectors in the city. The amount secured from this source is $998.55. Banks and other business houses are also contributing their share.

March the Banner Month.

During the month of March the sales totalled $7,016.55. This is nearly twice as much as for the previous month and about half of the total collected up to date. It means that practically $300 was collected during every working day of the month, or $37.50 for each of the eight working hours of the day. If any community in this section can show a better record than this the people there are entitled to brag somewhat over the achievement.

The total subscribed since the campaign started on the first of December is $16,007.84, distributed as follows: December, $872.85; January, $3,441.89; February, $4,677.05; March, $7,016.84. These sales have all been made through agencies connected with the local postoffice, the district offices having contributed but little so far.

Climbing Towards the Top.

Pennington county last month moved into 16th place in the list of counties in the state in the baby bond sale competition. We are credited with a per capita investment of $1.28, this being an increase of 52 cents for each man, woman and child in the county over the previous month. Red Lake is the only county in northern Minnesota making a better showing, these neighbors leading all others in the northern half of the state.

Show Respect For Flag.

On weekly drill nights hereafter Company C, Minnesota Home Guard, will observe the ceremony of retreat before being dismissed. This is the beautiful ceremony connected with the lowering of the flag at sundown, and while the actual dismissal will no doubt occur at a somewhat late hour than this, the observance will nevertheless be exacted as an act of honor to the flag. The band will play the national anthem at the same time and everyone within hearing is expected to halt and stand uncovered until the music stops.

Safely Overseas.

Alfred Holmgren yesterday morning received word that his son, Floyd, had arrived safely on the other side. The notification came by postal card which was mailed by the war department at Washington after it became known that the transport on which the young man sailed had made the journey safely. It would appear that these cards are filled out by the soldier before he leaves this country and are then mailed as soon as it becomes known that he has arrived on the other side. The card contains but the one printed line, "I have arrived safely overseas," besides the signature and address.

A Surprised Bachelor.

They took his "bachelor quarters" by storm and Herb, thinking the end at hand, was about to seek refuge in the root cellar, when he got a whiff of real eats which escaped from the well filled baskets of the invaders. Thereupon he gave himself up to the authority of greater numbers and unbarred the door.

Herb. is one of the few "batching it" who is always ready for company. This fact the fairer members of the party were not slow in noting and his bachelor days will no doubt be greatly shortened as a result of this revelation. Everybody had a good time.

G. C. Pierce of Selby, S. D., was in the city Monday, the guest of F. F. Haynes. Mr. Pierce is an officer of the Walworth County State bank Selby and an old friend of Mr. Haynes.
